Hold Conference

Drake University Black Law Students Press Demands

Continuing their complaint that the Drake University Law School has failed to correct injustices complained of last spring, a press conference was held by the Black Law Students Asso. on the lawn of the Drake University Law School in which they reiterated their problems.

Quoting from the prepared statement issued by the students:

This press conference is called to focus public concern on the difficulties we, as black law students, have encountered in attempting to work out the very serious problems of racism in the Drake University Law School and to charge the Law School administration with gross malfeasance in carrying out its commitment against discrimination in the Law School, as well as in implementing the goals of affirmative action as prescribed by Drake University.

"We presented a resolution to the administration of the Law School some time ago to which we have yet to receive any response. In it we raised many serious issues that relate to the discriminatory treatment afforded to black law students in the Law School. Some of the specific incidents we questioned were:

1. The practice of revealing confidential information about the black law students to unauthorized persons by the Associate Dean of the Law School;

2. The irregular admissions and recruitment procedures employed by the Law School whereby blacks are admitted on the basis of how well they are liked by the Dean of the Law School and his subordinates;

3. The lack of any affirmative action as mandated by the federal government which has resulted in the lack of any black personnel in the Law School;

4. The utilization of racial slurs, epithets and sexist remarks by certain faculty members in the law classes, and the attempt to malign certain black students to other students and prospective employers.

"The Black American Law Students Association (BALSA) has sought in every manner possible to co-operate with the administration of the Law School in reaching viable and concrete solutions to these and other problems.

"We realize that we cannot speak for each and every black student in the Law School. We know also that there will be those black students who will align themselves with the Law School administration in the perpetuation of the practices we are standing up against. We will not concern ourselves with this kind of selfishness.

"As stated previously, we have explored every legitimate avenue open in the Law School to reach a common understanding and commitment from the administration thereof, but to no avail. Therefore, we are now calling for a meeting with the President of Drake University to be held within the month. We have also contacted the appropriate agencies for investigation into our charges of discrimination in the Law School. We have also learned that a Justice Department official will be here next week to conduct an investigation into the situation."

They sought a meeting with the Dean of the law school before classes commenced but were unsuccessful. They stated that an effort would be made to secure a conference with the President of the school to the end that their demands are met.

Drake Municipal Observatory

Starting with Friday of the first full week of Drake University classes in the fall, the Observatory is open free to the public (individuals, families, and adult parties of not over 20 people - no children's organizations of any size, please) from 7:45 to 9:30 P.M. each clear Friday of the College year, except during Drake University recesses (Thanksgiving, Christmas, etc.). Views through the 8-inch telescope are provided after a short lecture at 8:00 on the objects scheduled for observation. These public nights are CANCELLED AUTOMATICALLY IN CASE OF WEATHER WHICH PREVENTS OBSERVING - cloudy or mostly cloudy sky, very high wind, or temperature below 10 degrees F.

United Nations Proclamations

The Universal Declaration on Human Rights was drawn up in 1947 and 1948 by the Commission on Human Rights, headed by Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, widow of President Franklin D. Roosevelt. It was adopted at the Paris session of the UN General Assembly on December 10, 1948 without a dissenting vote, although there were eight abstentions. At the time of its adoption, it was widely regarded as a definitive statement of the basic rights and fundamental freedoms to which all men are entitled.

The United States, which has frequently declared its adherence to the principles of human rights, has not ratified certain specific conventions embodying those human rights binding international agreements, such as the Genocide Convention.

Genocide means "race-killing" that is, the intentional destruction of human groups.

While the first two and the last three of the Declarations' 30 articles are general in character; the main body of the document covers personal, civil and political rights (Articles 3-21) as well as economic, social and cultural rights (Articles 22-27).

Preamble

Whereas recognition of the inherent dignity and of the equal and inalienable rights of all members of the human family is the foundation of freedom, justice and peace in the world.

Whereas disregard and contempt for human rights have resulted in barbarous acts which have outraged the conscience of mankind, and the advent of a world in which human beings shall enjoy freedom of speech and belief and freedom from fear and want has been proclaimed as the highest aspiration of the common people.

Whereas it is essential, if man is not to be compelled to have recourse, as a last resort, to rebellion against tyranny and oppression, that human rights should be protected by the rule of law.

Whereas it is essential to promote the development of friendly relations between nations.

Whereas the peoples of the United Nations have in the Charter reaffirmed their faith in fundamental human rights, in the dignity and worth of the human person and in the equal rights of men and women and have determined to promote social progress and better standards of life in larger freedom,

Whereas Member States have pledged themselves to achieve, in co-operation with the United Nations, the promotion of universal respect for and observance of human rights and fundamental freedoms.

Whereas a common understanding of these rights and freedoms is of the greatest importance for the full realization of this pledge, Now therefore

THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY proclaims This Universal Declaration of Human Rights as a common standard of achievement for all peoples and all nations, to the end that every individual and every organ of society, keeping this Declaration constantly in mind, shall strive by teaching and education to

"Here Comes Da Law"!

The new anti-drug law passed by the New York State legislature at its last session, the toughest such law in the nation, goes into effect this weekend (September 1).

It is widely advertised as a law affecting, not only drug addicts and pushers, but everyone, because it provides criminal penalties for anyone possessing a "controlled substance" without a valid prescription, and "controlled substances" include many common prescription medicines, in addition to the most dangerous substances, like heroin.

However, to be realistic, those who will be most affected and disoriented by the law will be drug addicts, addict-pushers, and drug "dabblers." These are the ones who are likely to be least informed of the big risks which they suddenly face.

The main thrust of the new law (which is still far from the one Governor Rockefeller originally proposed) is to apply much tougher criminal penalties to the possession and sale of far smaller amounts of drugs than under the old law.

Narcotic Violators

Take, for instance, heroin. Under the old statute, the possession of one pound (or more) could lead to a sentence of life in prison. Now the possession of only 2 ounces (or more) of heroin can result in that same sentence. And the transfer of 1 ounce or more is subject to the same penalty.

If a person who is serving time for the above crime were to be paroled, he would thereafter be on life probation, which is one of the most unusual aspects of the new law. This means that he must continue to report to a probation officer the rest of his life, and if he gets in trouble with the law again he could be forced to serve out his term. There are other restrictions in probation, such as not moving out of state, etc.

This highest degree of punishment has been the most publicized because of the stiff penalty. It goes with an A-1 felony and covers any narcotic drug, which includes heroin, methadone (illegally possessed), cocaine, morphine, and any other kind of opiate.

The penalty (2 ounces possessed, 1 ounce transferred) is 15 years to life. According to Murray Kravitz, assistant counsel to the state's drug abuse agency (called Drug Abuse Control Commission after September 1), this means a person must spend a minimum of 15 years in prison and cannot be paroled before. However, some "plea bargaining" is possible from an A-1 felony category to an A-2 or A-3 category, which carry lesser sentences. But no plea bargaining is possible to a "B" felony or below. Again, life parole is mandatory when and if the person is released.

For possession and sale of lesser amounts of narcotics, the penalties decrease with the amounts, but they are still stiff. For instance, class A-2 felonies (1 to 2 oz. possession, 1/8 oz. sale) bring 6 years to life, plus life parole. Class A-3 felonies (up to 1 oz. possession with intent to sell, up to 1/8 oz. sale) result in one year to life, plus life parole, etc. (Many of the other non-narcotic drug violations are also included in the A-2 and A-3 categories, carrying the same penalties.)

In certain limited instances of narcotic offenses, the law allows for the possibility of a person turning state's evidence, or drug informer, which could result in life probation instead of imprisonment. But Mr. Kravitz told The Voice that this would not apply to the average case.

There is also provision for criminal commitment to drug abuse programs in some cases (explained later).

VETERANS ADMINISTRATION QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
 Q — As a service-disabled veteran, I have Veterans Administration Mortgage Life Insurance coverage on my specially-adapted home. How long will this coverage last?
 A — Until the mortgage has been paid off, the home is sold, or until you reach age 70, unless you die earlier.

Q — Are World War II veterans eligible for Veterans Administration pensions at age 65?
 A — VA pensions are based on need. If, at age 65, a single veteran's income does not exceed $2,600 a year, or $3,800 for a veteran with dependents, a pension may be granted regardless of disability.

Q — My August compensation check from the Veterans Administration for a 30-percent peacetime service - connected disability was for the same amount as my buddy's for a 30-percent wartime service - connected disability. In the past, his checks were always larger. Why did we receive the same amount in August?

 A — In 1972, Public Law 92-328 increased peacetime rates to levels of wartime rates, effective with checks VA mailed in August 1973.

Q — As the 18-year-old son of a veteran who has a 60-percent service - connected disability, am I eligible for Veterans Administration educational benefits?
 A — No. Only children of veterans who suffered permanent, total disabilities or deaths from service-connected causes, or children of servicemen missing in action or prisoners of war for more than 90 days are eligible for VA educational benefits.

Food Prices-Going Up

A prominent bread company executive predicted last week that bread would rise to $1.00 a loaf unless the Nixon Administration curbed wheat exports.

An aged Milwaukee supermarket shopper, short 18c for her food order, asked the check-out clerk to remove a can of cat food from the order. The clerk offered to pay for the cat food because she didn't want to see the cat go hungry. "I'm the cat," replied the saddened shopper.

A growing black market for beef has caused cattle ranchers to use guards to protect their valuable herds.

School children across the country returning to school in September will find that school lunches will cost more, be skimpier, and feature peanut butter and beans as a substitute for meat.

Park rangers in California are on the lookout for silent crossbow hunting poachers, who are illegally killing elk, deer and bear. Goods purchased for $13.27 in July 1973, cost $10.00 in 1967 and $12.55 in 1972. The major cause for this rise was due to the increase in food prices.

Unfortunately, every American in this country is being affected by this rampant, out-of-control inflation, and even the experts are unable to tell us where, when and how it will all end.

Help Revitalize Downtown

Today, renewal developments are being carried on not only in the run down residential areas but in business areas in cities that have deteriorated.

In recent years, commercial centers on the edge of cities have drawn buyers away from the downtown facilities such as exist in Des Moines today.

The last few months a group of Des Moines businessmen have undertaken to do something about this. In their plans, they propose to raze the old buildings in the area and replace them with a center which would stimulate new business and commercial activity. And while a theatre is a part of the proposed center there is serious question in view of the facilities offered by Veterans Auditorium.

Part of the project will be financed by private capital and the balance by issuing $22,000,000 in bonds to be retired by additional taxes collected as a result of the improvement.

On Tuesday, September 11, voters will have an opportunity to approve the issuance of bonds with 60 percent of the vote required to pass.

I am interested in improving Des Moines and this includes the downtown section which too long has been neglected. The measure should pass.

Cheatom's Visit and Visitors

Ty and Tony Smith of Sioux City, Iowa visited the home of their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Cheatom and their aunts, Ina Clayborne, Alice and Renee Cheatom. While in Des Moines, the boys attended the Iowa State Fair and went swimming. They returned home on Aug. 20th.

Mr. Raymond Clayborne of Sioux City, Iowa visited his mother and father, sisters and sons over the weekend of Aug. 16th.

Mrs. Carolyn Ary Goes To Mexico

Mrs. Carolyn Ary of 1737 Walker, and a member of Union Baptist Church, was blessed to go on a mission to Mexico with Elder D.L. Browning and members of Kingsway Cathedral here in Des Moines. She visited in Victoria, Mexico and villages. She had the privilege to see the Bible College which is being opened and the Kingsway Pntecastal Mission and Orphanage. She resided in San Tonio Motel, saw the Gulf of Mexico. On route home she came through Dallas, Texas and saw the site of the Kennedy assassination. She also came through San Antonio, Texas. She went swimming which is her second interest to music.

Mrs. Ary commented: I enjoyed being in the country of Mexico. They have wonderful cooks which cook delicious food and the people are beautiful and friendly.

First Meeting of The Fall

First meeting of the fall of the Delapante Club will meet with Mrs. Eunice Bates, at 699-28th, on Tuesday evening, Sept. 11, 1973 at 8:00 p.m. All members are urged to be present to help the new year program.

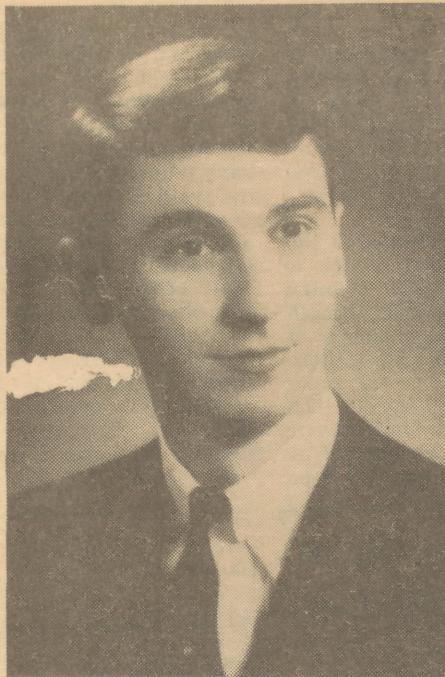

Offensive Officers Insecure

Most people don't realize that half of our state laws provide that a public officer may be recalled by the same process that he was elected. Iowa has such a law, and so does California.

The city of Berkeley, California recently held a recall election involving D'Army Bailey, a member of the city council.

Bailey was born in Memphis, Tenn., attended Southern and Clark University, from neither of which he graduated, and completed a course in law at Yale University. Soon after arriving in Berkeley he was elected to the city council, where in the course of his service, he created ill will among the voters by his boisterous conduct. He received Rumford, Jr. a Negro, received 18,569 votes. According to an interview in Jet Magazine, Bailey said that there was more apathy in the black community than he thought.

This same Bailey appealed before the delegates to the National Bar Association at a meeting in San Francisco, August 4th and succeeded in securing a contribution to his campaign fund of $1,000. This was an unfortunate place to raise his campaign funds and a sure way to weaken the organization. It's another case of trying to force an incompetent candidate on the people simply because he is Black.

Round the City

By Ken Warren

There are times when in the process of meditation my mind enters into a word comparison exercise. As I mulled over topics for the article this week the above phenomenon occurred. The two worlds that seemed to grab at my attention were HONOR and INTEGRITY. For clarification and definition of these words I called upon my trusty and knowledgeable companion "the Webster Dictionary". To my surprise I found these words are interrelated yet have separate meanings that are quite unique. To bring them into the era in which we live they seem to be outdated, useless and nonexistent. HONOR is defined as having high regard or respect, good reputation adherence to principles considered right, integrity and chasity. In this day to have regard and respect for someone or something is considered square and immediatly subjects you to ridicule. If you try to maintain a good reputation you are most likely referred to as a oddball character or a stuck up jerk. As for the part dealing with the adherence to principles that is the ultimate joke, just think of the state of our internal affairs as a prime example of the lack of consideration for this particular item. Since I intend to elaborate on INTEGRITY a bit further in this article let's turn our attention to chasity which means decency. We all know this is a moral judgement at this time and will depend on what group you are a member of as to what you consider decent. Now for the word INTEGRITY which is defined as completeness, wholeness, soundness, honesty and sincerity. These terms are completely archaic for it is fashionable to be phony, slick, devious and devoid of honesty and sincerity. It is a badge of honor to be able to belong to the brotherhood of the non-productive unemployed who live by their wits and other talents.

To be gainfully employed at the art of physical labor which is the criteria that our country gained it's wealth and strength is considered being a square of the greatest degree. Somewhere in the attainment of our great sophistication our society has definitely strayed from the basic concepts that made us unique as a nation and as a people. I hope if you don't find this article too maudlant that a thought process will occur that may bring about a reversal of this dangerous trend we are rapidly adopting; that I feel is detrimental to the development of a society based on the principles that created the founding of our nation. I have found that in my pursuit of the truth it is quite evident that a great number of our citizens are willing to go along with the crowd because it is too much of an effort to fight for individuality. They also think if you strive to be a different person you will not be accepted by their friends. If you are not allowed the courtesy of being yourself then those persons denying you that right are not your friends.

Free Lunch Program Policy Is Set

FREE LUNCH PROGRAM
Des Moines Independent Community School District today announced a free meal policy for school children unable to pay the full price of meals served in schools participating in federal child nutrition programs.

Children from families whose income is at or below those shown (below) are eligible for free meals. In addition, families not meeting this criteria but with other unusual expenses due to unusually high medical expenses, shelter costs in excess of 30 percent of income, special education expenses due to the mental or physical condition of a child, and disaster or casualty losses are urged to apply.

They may do so by filling in the application forms sent home in a letter to parents. Additional copies are available at the principal's office in each school. The information provided on the application will be confidential and will be used only for the purpose of determining eligibility. Applications may be submitted any time during the school year.

The policy of being able to automatically serve free meals to children who receive categorical aids (ADC, etc.) without a report of income from the family is no longer permissible.

In certain cases foster children are also eligible for these benefits. If a family has such children living with them and wishes to apply for such meals for them, they should contact the school.

In the operation of child nutrition programs, no child will be discriminated against because of his race, sex, color, or national origin.

Under the provision of the policy the school social worker will review applications and determine eligibility.

Local school officials have adopted the following family-size income criteria for use in determining eligibility:

FAMILY SIZE - INCOME SCALE FOR FREE MEALS

This is the income scale used by Des Moines Public Schools to determine eligibility for free meals in the 1973-74 school year:

Family Size	Income
One	$2,740
Two	3,600
Three	4,460
Four	5,310
Five	6,100
Six	6,890
Seven	7,600
Eight	8,310
Nine	8,960
Ten	9,600
Eleven	10,240
Twelve	10,880
Each additional family member	640

sports retrospect

by Allen Ashby

While we are waiting for the football season to really get going, and the baseball year to end, I had a debate with a fellow. It seems that a while back a couple of wrestlers said that they felt that they were the victims of some prejudice in their matches, that they had to win big in order to get a decision. Some people promptly disputed that and recently a fellow asked me if I thought that was true. I replied that I wouldn't exactly call it prejudice, but I felt it was more a matter of conditioned ideas. I believe that there are people in both races, white and non white races, who just don't believe that a member of the other race can out do one of their race. And if one of those people is judging a contest such as wrestling or any other one where the result is a judgement call, the member of the opposite race is going to have to really demonstrate his superiority if he gets a decision. I can recall boxing matches in the days when boxing wasn't legal in Iowa. There were several other states in which you couldn't have a so called prize fight. So the decisions were always left up to the news writers around the ring, and were called newspaper decisions. You would be surprised how many times the fellow who was on the wrong side of the press lost. It got so bad that some boxing raters, when ranking their fighters didn't recognize newspaper decisions.

Well, this is how it is in the case of the black wrestlers in school now. Not that the folks don't want to be fair, but they have always been taught that blacks can't wrestle. When I was coming along, it was said that we had bad feet, and couldn't stand toe holds. So I used to invite opponents to get the hold on me, so I could demonstrate that my feet were all right. After each match I was usually asked if that hold hurt me, and when I said no people were surprised. So, a fellow who hasn't had much contact with blacks and believed the ideas advanced about their inferiority just can't believe that this black boy is really beating this white boy unless he gets a pin. And I think that if the situation were reversed, with blacks dominating the officiating and the game, they might feel the same way about whites. That is, some of them would. A fellow told me that white ball carriers weren't as good as blacks because he said they didn't have the power in their legs. I had to bust out laughing. What would he do with such men as Jim Taylor, Paul Hornung, Walt Garrison, not to mention Sonka and Kliek of the Miami Dolphins? If they didn't have power, I bet their opponents are glad they don't or they would literally run through people instead of over or around them. I would have to say that strong running isn't confined to any one group of people, and I told my arguer so. But that is the type of thinking that goes on whenever people are contesting and the result is left up to the judgement of some people. It might be the hometown boy against the outsider. Nobody in that town is going to believe that Billy can't handle this stranger, and if Billy is in there at the finish, he won in the eyes of his fellow townsmen. So the black matmen who said they felt that they weren't getting the benefit of close decisions have more of a beef than they believe.

I was going out to watch Drake play last weekend, but I figured that I didn't want to sit out in the rain, so I forgot about it. But a fellow who was there told me that he thinks the Bulldogs have a long way to go

Zeid Temple No. 90 Sponsored Golf Tournament

The first Shrine Charity Golf Tournament sponsored by Zeid Temple No. 90 was held at Woodside Golf Course Saturday and Sunday Sept. 1st and 2nd, with Golfers from Minnesota, Illinois and Iowa participating.

There was a Cocktail Party for the golfers at the Black Playboy Club sponsored by Zeid Temple no. 90. The food was prepared by the owner of the Club Mr. John Haskins; it was beautifully arranged on the tables and very delicious. The golfers were over whelmed and truly enjoyed the affair.

Said that he didn't mind seeing the mark broken, because records were made to be broken, but he didn't think the fellow who was doing it could carry Bright's shoes. Big and strong, but he made his mark against lesser competition that Bright faced and in his estimation, didn't have the speed or all around ability that was Johnny's. And

Settles in apprentice program here

Ironworkers erect, assemble, or install fabricated metal products mainly in industrial, commercial, and large residential buildings. They also rig heavy construction machinery and deliver the machinery to new sites. In addition ironworkers do alteration work, such as installing steel stairs or adding window guards to existing buildings, and repair or remodel existing structures, such as replacing metal bridge parts.

One young man who was accepted on a temporary trial basis as an ironworker is Edward E. Settles. Edward, along with several others, has been given a chance to perform some of the tasks of an iron worker in an effort to see if he really likes this particular occupation. The Ironworkers Local Union No. 67 here in Des Moines figures that a good way to determine if a person has the necessary aptitude and desire to make a good ironworker apprentice is by letting him actually work on the job. If Edward proves himself during this initial stage of training, then he will be indentured into the union as a first year apprentice.

The apprenticeship program for ironworkers usually consists of 6,000 hours (3 years) of on-the-job training, given either by the foreman or an experienced journeyman. The apprenticeship program generally includes a minimum of 144 hours a year of related classroom instruction in subjects such as drafting, blueprint reading, and mathematics applicable to layout work.

SATURDAYS

This fall, Saturday night television is definitely not Black-oriented. It is however, varied, and you should find something to suit your mood. Channel 8 (CBS) concentrates on comedy. From 7:30 pm to 10:30 pm, you can laugh with abandon. If glee isn't your thing try Channel 5 (ABC) for the "Suspense Movie", Channel 13 (NBC), will also feature a movie - this is for folks who love any kind of movie - take your chances people. Not much new on Saturday nights except fresh episodes with some returning comedy shows.

SUNDAYS

Not much new, not much Black, nothing funny on Sunday nights. It's basically a crime-fighting night except for Channel 13's returning "Wonderful World of Disney" and Channel 5's "ABC Sunday Night Movie". Otherwise it's bang-bang and baited breath from last year's supermen. What's new is courtroom action, "The New Perry Mason" on Channel 8. So much for Sunday the day of rest.

MONDAYS

It's football season, and Monday nights are for football fans. Channel 5 is responsible for bringing you the action until January when movies will replace the touchdowns. There will be two new comedies on Channel 13, followed by a movie. "Gunsmoke", "Here's Lucy" and "Medical Center" will be offered by Channel 8. Monday is a good night to get some extra sleep unless, of course, you like football and brothers. They're one and the same on Monday nights.

TUESDAYS

Things are looking up! Cleavon Little of "Temperatures Rising" will be brought to you by Channel 5. Every third Tuesday, "Shaft" will be seen on Channel 8, unless you'd rather watch "Marcus Welby" or something tear-jerking and creatively titled "Police Story". In my house Richard Roundtree will be the event of the television evening - the re-runs too!

WEDNESDAYS

Something for everyone on Wednesday nights, from good old "Adam 12" to righteous "Owen Marshall". "Sonny and Cher" will return on Channel 8; Channel 13 has something called "Love Story" and Channel 5 brings you "Bob, Carol, Ted & Alice", at which you're supposed to laugh. The best thing about Wednesday night only appears once a month; "Tenafly", a black middle class detective who would be dull if he were white. Television being what it is makes "Tenafly" enjoyable to some degree - at least he'll have a few lines that Mannix couldn't utter!

THURSDAYS

Keep the dial on Channel 13 if Flip Wilson does it to you, otherwise try "Toma". He's another crime-fighter in plain clothes, another good guy.

"Kung Fu" is back, so is "Ironside," so are the "Waltons". What's new is Channel 13's "NBC Follies", a weekly display of vaudeville, 1973 style. Sammy Davis, Jr. will host the folly's - follies most of the time, which might not over excite you until you discover that Mickey Rooney will be there when Sammy isn't. Things could be worse.

FRIDAYS

Look forward to "Roll Out!" a M A S H type comedy starring three brothers, Stu Gilliam, Hilly Hicks and Mel Stewart. It looks promising and we thank CBS for producing a show to keep John Q. Shaft company on Channel 8. Fred and Lamont are back on Channel 13's "Sanford and Son", and rightfully so. Anyone who still thinks of Fred Sanford as an evil ol' dude deserves the "Brady Bunch".

That's it for fall. Not too bad, not too good; but then that was evidenced by the content of the various commercials you've been seeing. They really seem to reflect the programming. One or two good commercials mean one or two terrific programs. Am I right?

legendary ladder, but a well-thought-out plan—with specific goals—has been known to work wonders.

Here are a few suggested guidelines:

First, believe in what you are doing and then set out to do it, going about it systematically.

Don't indulge in the luxury of excuses. Don't do "the best I can." Do your best, period.

When you get an idea, do something about it. It is worthless until it is used.

Have definite objectives and a set schedule. Stick to them.

Take one day at a time. If you give your complete attention to today's work, tomorrow will take care of itself.

Have the business or profession in you—not just the opposite.

Avoid the innervating emotions of greed and jealousy. They serve only to keep you back, not get you ahead.

Be loyal. Give all those you encounter respect and honest endeavor.

Guinier Backs Black Reparations, Says No Equality

"There never has been equality in America, there is no equality now, and there will never be equality without remedial action."

Dr. Ewart Guinier makes these claims in the July issue of the Yale Law Journal as he reviews "The Case for Black Reparations", by Professor Boris I. Bittker. Dr. Guinier is Professor and Chairman of the Afro-American Studies Department at Harvard University.

Dr. Guinier supports Professor Bittker's stand which he calls a "scholarly legal analysis" in support of the black reparations demand made by James Forman at Riverside Church in New York City in 1969. Mr. Forman's "Manifesto" was adopted by the National Black Economic Development Conference in 1969.

"Reparations," as Professor Bittker uses the term, "are an attempt to redress injuries caused by legally imposed segregation" says Dr. Guinier. "The goal of reparations is equality. In seeking a remedy for the injuries of segregation, Professor Bittker turns to the legal system which once supported the wrong. He finds adequate precedent for damage actions founded on official misconduct which violates constitutional rights."

But Dr. Guinier discloses that Professor Bittker is not offering a litigation guide for reparations suits, but he is presenting a case to open national debate on the subject.

"The book's real value — and indeed its self-confessed purpose — is to rationalize the reparations issue and to initiate a national debate on the subject," Dr. Guinier points out. Professor Bittker only hints at solutions to the problems he investigates. Nonetheless, he may be the first white lawyer to address the subject since Lincoln spoke of "the bondsman's two hundred and fifty years of unrequited toil."

The World of Money

Mr. Harris, an official of the Pioneer Western Corporation, discusses the world of money and finances.

Is not life itself a matter of attempting to achieve success? Today, more than ever before, we all seek to better our life style and improve our economic standing for ourselves and our families.

But, a successful person is not simply born—he is made. It takes great concentrated effort, planning and dedication to be truly successful.

BLACK FOLKS IN BRITAIN? YES INDEED!

Black Britannia is a fascinating history of Black people in Britain. From Luce Morgan, a sister who is said to have charmed Shakespeare, to Michael X, a leader in the Black Power movement today, this book introduces a history and culture virtually unknown to most Black Americans. Britain's Black heroes are alive and well here; they are vividly portrayed and hard to leave. Be sure to give yourself plenty of quiet time to read this. Although it is not an overly scholarly book, it is definitely not light reading and it deserves your complete attention. Acknowledging the fact that it presents previously unknown persons who are exciting, I can't overlook the author's talent. It is he who brings history to life, and he who is ultimately responsible for the pleasure gained from reading Black Britannia. It is a rare author who can informatively present 500 years of history in a manner that satisfies both intellect and imagination. Complimenting the author's talent are drawings and photographs as well as excellent bibliographies should you wish to pursue Britain's Black History.

Black Britannia is highly recommended and that is an understatement!

Actually our new plastic gallon jug is the next best thing to the cow herself for keeping Flynn Milk fresh. The re-sealable screw on cap insures complete freshness. The built-in handle makes it easy to carry and easy to pour from. The plastic is translucent so you can always see how much milk is left. I PHONED MRS. ALBERTA HUNT (Mrs. James) for a chat and to my astonishment received an invitation to come and meet her new granddaughter, just arrived from Nigeria! Her name is Edith Amusu, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A.A. Amusu, of 8 Esughayi Street, G.R.A. Ikeja, Lagos. She graduated from Queens School, Ibadan, Nigeria in 1971. She has been working in Lagos State Ministry of Finance, Nigeria, and is now ready for college and has entered Clark College, Dubuque, Iowa. She will major in computer science.

EDITH'S HOBBY IS NET BALL. She plans to learn to swim. She is very anxious to learn. Miss Amusu's father is a close friend of Mrs. James Hunter's son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Kola Ban-Kola. In talking with Mr. Bankola about her school plans, Edith was referred to the American Embassy where a woman counselor gave her the names of five schools. She wrote to each and heard first from Clark College, so the 'early bird' was chosen. Mrs. Hunter is joyfully serving as her grandmother. I guess I'd better fill in as a relative, too. She is a delightful young girl and out-going.

EDITH ENJOYED A BIG SURPRISE immediately after our introduction. Mrs. Charlene Owens, a Tiny Tots' employee, introduced me to a new Boy Scout official. He was Nsibide Ikpe, a native of Nigeria. He is new with the Boy Scouts and in reality is eager to begin working on his doctorate in medicine. He has completed his premedical requirements already. He is a young man in a hurry, having come to this country in 1970 and already is on his way toward his doctorate! Edith was next introduced and you can imagine the surprise of the two young people at meeting someone from home! It was beautiful to see. Nsibide was stunned to see a girl just arrived from Nigeria.

WHEN I WAS IN ESTES PARK I DESCRIBED A marvelous, meatless recipe and promised to bring it to my readers. Here it is: Denver's Archbishop's Rice-Olive Cheese Casserole —

1 pkg. (6 oz.) long grain wild rice
1 cup sliced ripe olives
1 cup grated Cheddar Cheese
2 cans (3 oz. each) whole mushrooms drained
2 medium, fresh tomatoes peeled and cut in small pieces
Salt and pepper to taste
¾ cup boiling water
¼ teas. onion salt
Prepare rice according to pkg. directions but use only 2 cups water. Add olives, cheese, etc. - put mixture in 2 quart casserole. Pour boiling water over top. Bake, covered in oven preheated to 350 degrees 45 minutes. Uncover and continue to bake 15 minutes.

Have a delightful meal!

Moore-Becton Wedding

Union Baptist Church was the setting for the African wedding on Saturday, August 18, of Miss Norma Becton, daughter of Mrs. Berta Hicks, and Mr. Melvin Moore, son of Mrs. Margaret Moore.

Rev. Henry Thomas officiated. The couple chose to write their own vows and repeated them during the service. They exchanged necklaces rather than rings. Carrying necklaces to the altar were Sherry Davis and Marcus Lewis. When Pastor Thomas asked the question "Who gives this woman?" All members of the bride's family stood and said "We do".

The color scheme were the liberation colors, red, black and green. Members of both families wore African dress. The bride wore a long white, off the shoulder African outfit with matching turban and sandals. The five bridesmaids, carrying six feet long, colorful feathers representing luck to the couple, were Misses Dorothy Gunn, Carmen Hall, Muriel Thomas, Linda Crawford, and Marguerite Pope. Matron of honor was Beverly Lewis. Best man was John Gunn, Jr.

The groom was attired in a black, green and red dashiki suit. Rev. Henry Thomas wore a black and white dashiki. Ushers were Eddie Davis, Eddie Collier and Bobby Lewis.

Mother of the bride wore a long green, black and red dashiki dress. The groom's mother chose a long, floral gown. Both outfits had matching turbans.

Carrying long candles were Danny Watson, Antonio Moore, Rabin Lewis and Ondra Brown. In this service no flowers were used. Instead fruit was used, and used lavishly, making the affair uncommonly beautiful. Fruit girls carrying baskets of fruit to the altar were Carolyn Pope and Carla Brown.

The wedding music consisted of Steven Wade, playing the flute; Larry Davis on bongo drums and Rose Marie Webster, pianist.

The groom presented a large, white handkerchief to the bride's mother, representing payment for the bride.

The reception was held at Gateway Opportunity Center. Hostesses were Jo Anne Deering, Bonita Brown, JoEllen Spriggs, Diane McKay, DeeDee Griffin, Patsy Griffin, Antoinette Rutledge and Bonnie Brown.

The reception table was spectacularly laden with a huge tier of fresh fruit. The wedding guests dined on fruit, punch and wine.

Attending from out-of-town were Mrs. Margaret Moore, Mr. Moore's mother, from Philadelphia, Pennsylvania; the groom's sisters, Mrs. Connie Pope and two daughters, Margarite and Carolyn; Mrs. Sylvia Greer and daughter, Pam; Mrs. Marian Watson and

Cedar Rapids News

Charles Ligos

1820 Grande

Cedar Rapids, Iowa

The Iowa Bystander is our paper. In it we can express our views, said the way that we say it. C.L.

The Larry Baker Story.

Larry Baker the son of Lawrence T. Baker upper middle class black american. Married and father of two children, height 6.6 age 24, of sound mind, and excellent character.

Larry Baker was fired from his job as records room clerk. A serious charge that may effect his future for many years. We haven't as yet been able to determine the nature of the offense that led to such drastic consequences.

(Being drunk, and disorderly, and resisting arrest by a fifteen year veteran, and an experienced detective brought only a 60 day suspension of certain benefits.) (The Millsap case) What did Larry do that was so much worse than this act of an experienced officer.

Here is Larry's story.

In September of 1970, I took a course in Law Enforcement at Kirkwood College. The same course which regular Police Officers go through. Most of the instructors were Police Officers. Our classes were 8 hours per day, 5 days per week, of regular reading writing, spelling, the humanities, and Law Enforcement classes in the afternoon. The Law Enforcement classes taught us the proper way to shoot various types of weapons, handcuffing methods, and making out reports, as well as other types of necessary paperwork.

At the conclusion of the schooling we were given what we learned later was a promotional test for regular policeman. I passed this test third highest in the class 95 out of a possible 100.

I wanted to be a Police Officer in Cedar Rapids, but I knew that I would have a difficult time, for there were no black officers in Cedar Rapids. I would be the first officer having contact with the general public, a notable achievement for a black in Cedar Rapids.

I was advised by Detective Steinbeck, the Head instructor at Kirkwood to file my application with the Police Department, and I did. After about a month I was told that I could not be accepted as a uniformed officer, because I was too tall, but I could have a job in the records room. So I accepted that, and was assigned to the 4 to midnight shift. I worked for Captain Enger until his transfer a year later. He was replaced by Captain Stephanek, and immediately things began to change. Attitudes underwent a drastic change, and everything seemed to fall apart. The men themselves viewed each suspiciously, and many files, and reports were made on officers by officers. In my particular case Stepanek told me that he had a book full of bad reports about me. Yet I was given no opportunity to question the reports, see the reports or learn what it was that he was referring to.

I talked to Chief George Matias, and after getting no favorable response. I went to the Mayor, and gave him a letter, asking the City Council to look into the matter. Still no response.

After I was fired I talked to the Director of the Human Rights Commission. I also called Alvin Hayes in Des Moines, but all of the Rights Commissions are understaffed, and it will be some time before my case can come up for review.

I would like to see the black people in Cedar Rapids wake up, because our schooling, and our qualifications mean nothing to people without a soul, or conscience. As long as nothing is done they will keep on. But it seems to me that the root of the problem is the officials in City Hall.

There are some things that I cannot say that are vital to my case and the case is not settled yet. But someday I may be able to explain why it is so important that a great change be made in City Hall, and in the Police Dept.

I would like to say to any young black male wanting to go into Law Enforcement in Cedar Rapids to think it over very carefully. It will not be easy. L.B.

Stay in there Larry, and keep cool. Help is on the way. C.L.

City Money or Your Money

In 1973 of every tax dollar collected the schools received .5230 the County received .1434, and the City received .3336. Don't you think that it is time for you to have a say in how your tax money is spent.

Its crazy, but its true.

There are so many people brainwashed in this country. That they would rather have a white idiot lead them to poverty, and to the gallows, than endorse a black man for political office. Blacks also voted for Maddox, and Wallace, Bull Conner.

Jesse Jackson said a few months ago that, one reason I dress the way I do, and have some non-conformist habits is that I want to reject the notion that my leadership is dependent on a white approved style. I'm not anti-academic because there are some people who will only listen to people with degrees. Dr. King wasn't dismissed as only another nigger - preacher because he had this Ph.D., but we must get away from the notion to accept only white leaders, or white approved black leaders. In the past we looked down our noses at leaders like, Robeson, Garvey, and DuBois, but these were the days when men were men. A sensible, reasonable man, black or white is the best chance that this nation has for survival.

Whats the difference?

The white man gets rich he moves away from other whites.

The black man gets rich he moves away from other blacks.

The white man gets rich he hires other whites.

The black man gets rich he hires other whites..

It makes me want to cry

A young black man said to me the other day. "Why don't you stop fooling around with these black people, don't you know that they are no good. They're ignorant, lazy, and won't work, and you can't tell them anything. They won't teach their children, clean up their property or even act like decent human beings, and besides its been proven that blacks are inferior beings." I was dumbfounded. The child had been so completely brainwashed he had forgotten that his mother, father, sisters and brothers were all black. He had forgotten that his grandfather, grandmother, etc., etc., etc., were all black, and that his face also was black.

If this young man is right than the racist is also right when he says genocide is the only answer. If we are inferior, so inferior that we cannot be helped.

Son take my advice, and go to a black college. Meet some of your own people, mix with them. It may not be to late. I love black people, my wife, and children are black also.

Your reporter has been invited to speak to the Human Relations Advisory Board, on Sept 27, at 7:30 P.M. This might be a good opportunity for the Cedar Rapids Citizens to get together. I don't mind being merged, but I don't want to be submerged.

I met a brother crying.

He said, "That so and so Preacher done stole my wife." You mean that preacher that told you, "ain't nobody perfect, and we all sin, and had you shouting amen so much. "Yea thats the one." Well brother he told you he was a sinner. He said he wasn't perfect so I don't see what you crying about.

Welcome visitors;

Its hard brother;

Its hard to hold your peace, when men are supposed to represent your interest, but end up representing the other side. But what can you expect, paying less than laborers wages, for investigators.

Finally, the Black Experience is the perplexity you face when trying to answer the asinine question, "What is it the black man wants?"
