Gov. Ray Signing Proclamation Designating Jan. 15 Martin Luther King Day in Iowa

Last week was the designated Birthday of Martin Luther King, Jr. This week the Bystander would like to speak for itself regarding the man.

We do not mourn the death of King, for death is promised to us all. The mark of a man is how deeply he is able to make a mark on the sands of life. You and I are the judge of that depth. You and I are the judge of how long a man lives.

To erect a statue in honor of a man is to sooth a troubled conscience and continue to pursue that which is profitable for self alone. Statues speak of the ultimate death, the death of the mind. Statues stand sedentary, and command no respect, not even from birds flying overhead.

That the Black community of this country chose to erect active, working institutions to honor Martin Luther King, Jr. speaks well for our future. It would have been so easy to plant concrete statues throughout the country and mourn his passing one day each year. Instead we have built living memorials, peopled by individuals dedicated to Martin Luther King's dream.

Des Moines may be proud of its Martin Luther King Center for Human Development, just as Atlanta continues the quest for brotherhood and humanity through their Martin Luther King Center for Social Change. Both Centers offer human testimony to a dream not yet deferred.

Cesar Chavez of the United Farm Workers carries King's message of human dignity to the rural, Spanish-Speaking population. Chavez, like Dr. King, recognizes the value of brotherhood, and has dedicated his life to the realization of that goal.

Mrs. Coretta King carries on her husband's work, she is another kind of monument to a man-she is the best legacy one can hope to leave, a dedicated advocate of the peaceful society of man.

Although you mourn the physical death of Dr. King, it is important that your life be a furtherance of his dream. In working to eliminate racism and poverty you are promoting peace and brotherhood. Let next January 15th be a celebration of your efforts to "Keep the Dream Alive". As Dr. King said, "The quality, not the longevity, of one's life is what is important. If you are cut down in a movement that is meant to save the soul of a nation, then nothing could be more redemptive. We've got some difficult days ahead, but it doesn't really matter with me now, because I've been to the mountain top. I won't mind".

It doesn't make a damn bit of difference if a man goes to the mountain top or not if there is no one there except him.

Mid-Winter Workshop Group To Hear Speeches On Growth, Role and Challenge Of Black Press

MIAMI BEACH (NNPA) — Growth, role and challenge of the Black Press will be discussed in two major addresses at the Mid-Winter Workshop of the National Newspaper Publishers Association here, Jan. 24 and 25 at the Playboy Plaza Hotel.

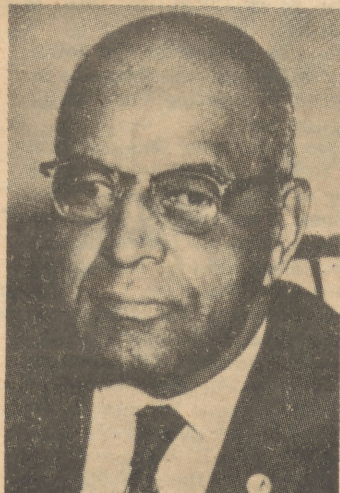

Delivering these addresses will be William O. Walker, dean of the Black Press and editor-publisher of the Cleveland Call and Post; and NNPA President Carlton B. Goodlett, editor-publisher of the San Francisco Sun-Reporter Newspapers. Goodlett speaks Thursday evening, Jan. 24, and Walker at the closing banquet on Friday evening, Jan. 25.

Other Workshop speakers will be Berkeley G. Burrell, president of the National Business League; George Bush, chairman of the Republican National Committee; Dr. Michael R. Winston, director of the Moorland-Spingarn Research Center, Howard University; Miss Vera Gunn, president of the National Association of Marketing Developers; Stanley S. Scott, special assistant to President Nixon; and Col. Wallace W. Price of Pan American Airways.

Panelists, who will discuss improved business management, readership of black newspapers, circulation building, and advertising salesman: Mrs. Ruth Washington, Los Angeles Sentinel; Moses Newson and John Oliver, Afro-American Newspapers; Mrs. Lenora Carter, Houston Forward Times; Longworth M. Quinn, Michigan Chronicle; Robert H. Fentress, Johnson Publishing Company; Chester Washington, Central News-Wave Newspapers; George Jackson,

Carlton B. Goodlett

William O. Walker

American Airlines; and Norman W. Powell, Amalgamated Publishers, Inc.

Following the Jan. 23-26 Workshop, the group will fly to the Bahamas for an overnight stay on Saturday, Jan. 26.

In discussing the growth, role, and challenge of the Black Press, Walker will review historically the growth, going back in his own experience over a 55 year period during which he worked for the Pittsburgh Courier, founded the WashingtonTribune, and took over the now 61-year-old Cleveland Call and Post in 1932 and developed it into the third largest black paper in the midwest.

In addition, Walker who recently returned from conferences in Tanzania and Ethiopia, will discuss joining hands with African publishers to help improve conditions there, as well as in America.

Goodlett, a physician who holds a Ph.D. in psychology, will emphasize the role of the Black Press in acquainting its readers with the limitations of political power in the absence of accompanying economic power and the importance of getting into the economic mainstream.

Manpower Programs In Iowa Get $2.4 Million From U.S. Labor Dept.

Three major manpower programs in Iowa have received additional funding totaling $2.3 million, and two new skill training projects have been established, it was announced today by the U.S. Department of Labor in Kansas City.

Neal B. Hadsell, regional head of the Manpower Administration, said the largest grant — $1,039,802 — went to the Concentrated Employment Program (CEP) sponsored by the City of Des Moines. It provides basic education, skill training, placement assistance and other manpower services to residents of low-income, high-unemployment areas of the city.

The Iowa Employment Security Commission was the recipient of two additional fund allotments. One, in the amount of $692,802, went into an on-the-job training project which places trainees with private employers throughout the state. The Work Incentive (WIN) program received $608,344 to continue its operations through August. WIN registers employable welfare recipients and provides the manpower services they need to get jobs and become self-supporting.

Hadsell said that the two new skill training projects were funded with Manpower Development and Training Act money and will be administered by the Iowa State Department of Public Instruction, Vocational Education Branch. An $89,198 grant will finance individual referral and training costs for 15 CEP enrollees at institutions in the Des Moines area.

And 15 enrollees will be trained as nurse's aides at Scott Community College in Davenport. A $4,500 grant will cover the costs of the program.

VIEWS and REVIEWS

by James B. Morris

The Globetrotters

The Globetrotters, famous basketball team, were guests on the Kup Show. KDIN Sunday evening.

In earlier years, even though great performers, I dislike their entertainment because of their ignorant manner of doing things.

As individual members spoke on the television show, I was impressed that they are not the same Globetrotters. Their English and decorum were perfect.

Kup asked about the charges leveled against them that they were putting on "Uncle Tom Shows." Their response was that this was somewhat true but the present group is different from those of years gone by. They have learned that it is no longer necessary to be clowns but that their ball handling and teamwork were appreciated to the extent that their popularity continues.

They have a great show; the public likes it; their deportment could well be looked upon by youngsters as a way to succeed in their individual fields.

Wrong Way

Negro students at Roosevelt High School (there are 50 out of 1400) have formed the Black Student Organization. They announced that their first objective is to eliminate "tokenism and tomism."

Just what they mean by these terms is obvious: They don't wish to compete in school affairs and look with disfavor on those who do.

I find that this is not being done thus robbing themselves of an opportunity to show that Negro students can do other things than athletics. I further believe that it would be well for them to emphasize the necessity of obeying rules and regulations and not attempt to be the boss of the school.

During the past two years some Negro boys have dropped from some school teams for disobeying the rules. This they should not do for it only hurts their future should they wish to go on to be professional athletes. No coach can have a successful team if the members are allowed to go and come as they please. However if there are grievances they can take them to the proper authorities and if no redress is obtainable there are those who are willing to help adjust the situation. This does not mean that all coaches adhere to the rule that the best players should be used at all times.

To these youngsters I would suggest that they take a cue from the late Jackie Robinson who, in spite of jeers and sneers, played his game, won the respect of the fans and became one of the greats. This rule may well be followed in any line of endeavor they chose to follow whether as professional people or common laborers.

I still believe that school officials must do a better job in fostering good relationships among the races and not wait until trouble breaks out before they do something about it.

Equal Opportunity Demonstrated

There are companies that are practicing equal opportunity employment. Some don't.

At it's annual meeting last week, the Des Moines Savings and Loan Association elected Robert Parks as one of the Assistant Secretaries of the company.

Parks has been customer service officer and is now a loan officer - a very responsible position.

I have observed young minority men and women serving in better positions in Des Moines in recent months. Most of them started at the bottom, proved their worth and earn promotions.

It is a demonstration that some companies that advertise "An Equal Opportunity Employer" mean it.

The Police Chief Should Investigate

Letter to the Editor

On Thursday, January 10, 1974, my brother Van Quilla Smith was badly beaten by seven Des Moines Policemen. I have the names of each one of these officers. This bloody incident took place at 16th & Center St. here in Des Moines. My brother was visiting his 4 year old daughter (who watched the whole bloody incident). His little girl lived at the 16th & Center Street address. When his visit was over, he attempted to leave the residence but paused momentarily in the yard where he was playing with the child's mother and two other friends. A policeman in a lone car approached the scene. The officer thought that a fight was in process. He then radioed for 4 other police cars for re-enforcements that he thought that he would need. He asked the four people to move into the alley if they were going to fight. My brother informed him that this was not a fight but a playfull act going on and everything was under control. The officer apparently did not like his smartness. By this time the re-enforcement officers arrived on the scene. They jumped out of the patrol cars and started to beat my brother as if he were an animal. They handcuffed him first and then beat him while he was handcuffed. He was thrown down in the snow and beat about the head, stomach, back and legs. His wrist was swollen from the handcuffs. He had lumps on his head from the night sticks that they used. He was maced while still handcuffed. He had injuries to the head, neck, back, stomach, legs and ankles. This can be proved by treatment records where they took him to have his head and stomach x-rayed immediately following the incident at Broadlawn Polk County Hospital at 18th & Hickman.

He was kicked in the lower back by a lone patrolman as he entered the police car to be taken to jail.

This is the kind of abuse that my three brothers and a cousin have suffered since being in Des Moines. I have never seen such barbaric type people on a police force in all my life. This kind of abuse must stop.

I am making one last appeal. Please stop these insane men! I am demanding that each of these seven patrolmen be examined by a psychiatrist to see if they are mentally fit to do police work. If they are not, each one of them should be committed for adequate mental treatment and dismissed from the police force. If they are mentally sick, they should be dismissed immediately from all police duties. I will personally see to it that my brother file a damage suit against the City of Des Moines and also file a suit against each one of these patrolmen that were involved.

Letters To The Editor

My brother served his country ably as the Captain of a supply boat in the heat of the Viet Nam war. He was a nervous individual following his duty there. He is presently undergoing treatment for ulcers, nerves and kidneys at the Veterans Administration Hospital. He has had surgery on his feet for jungle rot. He fought for these barbarians only to return for them to beat him up. They also abused him by questioning his prescription medication for his ulcers and nerves with their feet as they beat him. He tried to tell them that he was seriously ill, and no one listened. Also, they threatened towards further bad treatment in proceeding to the police station by telling him that in their words, "You think that you have been beaten. Just wait until we get you downtown."

What kind of a society and law enforcement unit would let this kind of thing take place? Who would hire such insane men? I am demanding a full investigation and public revelation of this police brutality and this inhumane action. I will expect to hear from someone this week. I can be contacted at 281-3366 during the day. After 5:00 p.m. I can be contacted at 243-0080. My address is 1408 Chautauqua Parkway, Des Moines, Iowa 50314. My brother can be contacted at 288-4562. His address is 1405 Harrison, Des Moines, Iowa. This police brutality toward my black brothers must stop! Now! I am making one last appeal. Crying out from the walls of a barbaric society.

From a sister crying out in a wild, savage, barbaric land.

Yours truly,
Ora McQueen

We owe Mrs. Evelyn Holt a vote of thanks for organizing her recent trip to California that we might share the fun she had while there. She went to California to visit her son and sister and, of course, found herself surrounded by former Iowans who now reside on the Coast.

Evelyn is secretary to the Director of the Urban Center. She greets all who enter and does a superb job of extending friendship and welcoming all who stop there.

Mrs. Holt left Des Moines via United Airlines December 21 and returned home January 5, following a two week stay in Berkeley, California visiting her son Edward Holt, and sister, Mrs. Geraldine Burks, nieces and nephews and friends.

On Sunday, Dec. 23rd, she attended the famous Glide Memorial Church with Bill Cosby as guest speaker. She enjoyed dinner at the home of her niece, Mrs. Phyllis Williams, cocktails at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Jackson. Mrs. Jackson is the former Mamie Simmons of Des Moines. Also on this date she attended a party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Wollery of Oakland, California. Also at this party was Milford Fonz, who left the City recently.

On Dec. 25th, Mrs. Burks had a family Christmas dinner, which was very lovely. She enjoyed a gumbo dinner at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Ralph Melton, December 26th. The couple are friends of her son, Edward.

On Dec. 29th attended the Circle Star Theatre with Mr. Fred McCracken, Jr. as host to see the Temptations and Staples Singers.

Dec. 30th attended a brunch at the lovely home of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Baker. Mrs. Baker is the former Janie Madison. Dinner followed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester Hardiman. He is the brother of Mrs. Leola Davis here.

December 31st attended a New Year's Eve party in San Francisco, given by Mr. and Mrs. Julian Burks, nephew of Mrs. Holt and a resident of Oakland, California.

On January 1st she attended another family dinner given by Mr. and Mrs. Leon Jackson. Mrs. Jackson is Evelyn's niece. The dinner was enjoyed by approximately 35 people.

In Oakland, California, on Wednesday, January 2nd, she went to the famous Finocchio's Club with Mrs. Mable Williams, of Oakland, as hostess.

On January 2nd, Mrs. Holt went on a shopping tour with her son, Edward.

On January 3rd, she had lunch with Mr. Fred McCracken, Jr. at the Hyatt Regency, an exclusive restaurant and cocktails at the Fairmont Hotel.

On January 4th she had dinner with Mr. Archibald Johnson and Mrs. Burks as host and hostess.

On January 5th, she brought her tired and exhausted self home. She was so very, very happy over the many hours she spent with her family and the host of friends.

We want to add two more events: on December 27th Evelyn went on a shopping tour with her son all over the Bay area, visited friends from Des Moines and went to the famous Telegraph and Shaddock streets where the hippies sold many items for Christmas, which were very, very interesting. She also enjoyed a tour of the shopping centers in the Bay area by her niece, Dachane Jackson and Evelyn Brisco.

SALES, SALES, SALES

Some of the best sales of the year come during the months of January and February. During these two months, look for sales on such items as: Baby Needs, Bedding, Drugs and Cosmetics, Fabrics and Notions, Floor Coverings, Furniture and Home Furnishings, Jewelry, Sleepwear, Luggage, Clothing, TV and Radios, White Goods and Stationery.

According to the Money Management Institute, Household Finance Corporation, the following are some points to remember when taking advantage of sales:

1. Know the store policies: What type of sale is being held — are the sale items returnable.
 2. Shop the first and last day of a big sale when possible. The first day offers the best selection and the last day may offer further price cuts.
 3. Examine merchandise carefully. Check sizes, colors, styles and condition of goods. Try on clothing. Sales items are usually not returnable.
 4. Know what you want and need. Aimless bargain hunting can result in useless buys and be a waste of time, money and energy.
 5. Consider costs for repairing sale items. When merchandise is damaged, price cuts may not offset the cost of repair.
 6. Consider shopping expenses. The cost of transportation, parking, meals, babysitters and the value of your time and energy may offset cash savings on sales.
 7. Inspect seconds or irregulars carefully. They may be good buys if items are serviceable but not if flaws affect use.
 8. Check guarantees on sale merchandise. Price reductions should not affect manufacturers' guarantees or servicing.
 9. Follow your normal spending habits. If your shoes normally cost $10 look for $10 shoes reduced or for more expensive shoes selling at $10.
- ABOVE ALL REMEMBER: Sales may offer an opportunity to buy items at reduced prices without sacrificing quality. They may also move you to buy things you do not really need. Be sure that you really want a product before buying it — at any price.

Round the City

Last week in my article I charged the city Administration with the responsibility of rectifying the deplorable situation at the local Concentrated Employment Program. This agency has been plagued with a multitude of serious problems that have been manifested by the complacency of the city administration structure. To go one step further in the responsibility chain and get at the heart of the problem, I must lay the ultimate blame at the feet of the monitoring agency. It is the Compliance Department of the U.S. Department of Labor who is supposed to see that these types of offenses do not occur, and if they do their J.O.B. they will immediately, if not sooner, take steps to change situations of this type. When it is found that any Administrator is not efficient at his job or can't adequately cope with the position he has been selected for, then the only recourse is to remove him from that particular position. But unfortunately this has not been done; in fact it seems that there is a mutual protection and admiration society being instituted at the expense of the very people that the Dept. of Labor has been charged with the responsibility of assisting. This type of action should not and cannot be condoned because for too long the uninformed have been the victims of the whims of the informed members of the society in which they must strive to survive. Here is one more example of the games the power structure plays. Much to my sorrow I can only point out these discrepancies, not solve the acute problems they bring. To all of you who are in the power structure who can either change or influence the solution to these problems, please from now on spare me and others who are really concerned the idle speeches on your concern and deep desire for involvement in our community. If you can idly stand by and watch the dignity of the people go down the drain while the federal government is lining your pockets, then you don't deserve your job or the trust of the taxpayers who bear this burden. You people (and I'm sure you know who I mean), are parasites who feed upon the miseries and misfortunes of others. Maybe you feel you are so protected and secure in your positions that you can't be reached but if it is humanly possible, I promise you the day of reckoning may be at hand. This I guarantee. This is not an idle threat but a solemn promise. To the victims of this funny but not humorous game I can only say that if I (as a private citizen), have to stir up the proverbial pot all the way to Washington D.C., I plan to see an end to this game.

There's A Brand New Language

Singer Billy Paul is back in the studio, only this time he is with producer Edward Windsor Wright recording a public service announcement on behalf of the government's Special Action Office For Drug Abuse Prevention. Paul's 30 second radio spot, part of the federal government's on-going National Drug Abuse Prevention Campaign, stresses the brand new language of love and family communication (as opposed to the scary language used in the past) to combat drug abuse.

SOUTHERN BLACK MAYORS MEET TOP ADMINISTRATION OFFICIALS

ATLANTA, GA. — More than 40 of the Black Mayors from across the South expressed their needs and concerns directly with top level officials within the Administration in a one-day White House briefing held here.

"We want to open communications lines with the small town mayors whose voice and needs often are not heard or understood by policymaking officials," according to Stanley S. Scott, Special Assistant to the President.

Scott's remarks were echoed by a number of Mayors in attendance in their discussion of pending legislation requiring local cities to produce 10 percent matching funds for Federal programs.

James Falk, Associate Director of the White House Domestic Council, told the Mayors that the Administration agrees with them and is attempting to have the matching funds provision deleted.

Four assistant secretaries, the Director of the Office of Economic Opportunity, the Administrator of the Rural Development Service, and four White House staff members conducted the briefing. The Regional Directors of agencies of the Federal Government in Atlanta were also in attendance at the conference. They met on a one-to-one basis with the Black Mayors and responded to direct questions.

Some of the basic needs outlined by the Mayors ran the spectrum from water and sewer projects, housing, jobs, to health, education, and welfare programs.

Mayor A. J. Cooper of Pritchard, Alabama, Chairman of the new Southern Conference of Black Mayors, called the meeting "historic." He said Black officials, particularly from small towns, have had trouble cutting through conventional red tape to get needed funds for their cities.

Mayor Cooper added, "A pledge has been made to redouble efforts to work with Black Mayors in the South, and we feel that positive efforts will be made to cut some of the red tape."

Cooper pointed out that "these men have already produced for our cities before, and we will have to judge them on future production."

Mayor Johnny Ford of Tuskegee, Alabama, urged the Black leaders to become competitive for all Federal funds. Ford said "black leaders must learn to play the game of politics with whatever Administration is in power."

Black Iowa History, Bits & Pieces

Keosauqua - In 1873, this town had a total population of 772. 102 of those were Black folks. The Black community boasted homes, a school, two churches and an Afro-Masonic organization. Some income was derived from entertaining at gatherings hosted by the other "side" of the town.

Mount Pleasant - In 1865, enough Black people lived in this town to support a church. Income was derived from working as domestics, stable hands, and shoe shine men.

Ft. Madison - In 1872, A. H. Watkins was admitted to the bar, and was found to be "much better posted than the average of law students when admitted to practice."

Sioux City - In the late 1800's, the first rug cleaning business to be opened in the city was established by a Black man. Blacks in Sioux City during that time owned barber shops, laundries, dance halls, gambling houses and restaurants.

Muscatine - In 1868, Alexander Clark, a Black barber, filed a suit against the Muscatine school system because they refused to allow his daughter to attend school with white children. The court ruled in favor of Mr. Clark.

Keokuk - In 1874, two young Black boys were refused admittance to white schools in Keokuk. Again, as in the case of Muscatine, the court ruled in favor of the boys.

Iowa City - In 1918, the Black population of Iowa City was just less than fifty, including the 26 Black students attending the University of Iowa. That small population managed to support an A.M.E. church, and perhaps the biggest news of the day was three inter-racial marriages said to have taken place.

Davenport - By 1880, Davenport Blacks owned a brick and stone contracting company, a cigar store, a saloon and the Kimball House, one of the city's leading hotels. Two churches and a Masonic Lodge were also present.

Population - According to the U.S. census, Black people numbered 188 in 1840, 9,516 in 1880, 19,005 in 1920 and 32,596 in 1970. Between the years of 1960 and 1970, Iowa's Black population grew by 7,242.

The cities of Waterloo, Cedar Rapids and Des Moines have extensive histories and are not easily capsulized. Hopefully, articles will follow dealing with these three cities and their Black histories.

AFRO-AMERICAN HISTORY - Preparations are well underway for this year's Afro-American History celebrations with great emphasis being placed on activities scheduled in the month of February. At a recent meeting in the Washington headquarters of the Association for the Study of Afro-American Life and History, plans were approved for three public service communication projects that Pepsi-Cola Company will produce in honor of the ASALH and its 1974 theme: Helping America Understand. Some of the participants in the meeting were, left to right, Sam Hall, Manager, Communications Programs, Pepsi-Cola Company; Miss Willie L. Miles, Associate for Program and Development, ASALH; Mrs. Nerissa L. Milton, Chief in Charge of Research, ASALH; and Dr. J. Rupert Picott, ASALH's Executive Director.

Black Experience '74

"The Black Experience, 1974 — helping America understand" is theme of 48th Annual Observance of African-American History Week set for February 10-16 — Association for the study of Afro-American life and history reports nationwide interest in project which was launched in 1926 by Carter G. Woodson, founder of the Washington D.C. — based historical association.

Washington, D.C. - "Greater interest is being expressed in the annual observance of African-American History Week this year than ever before in the 48 years of the celebration." Dr. J. Rupert Picott, executive director of the sponsoring Association for the Study of Afro-American Life and History, announced this week from the Association's headquarters in the Nation's Capital.

In his statement outlining the purposes and plans of the celebration, being held February 10-16, Dr. Picott pointed out that the week's theme, "The Black Experience, 1974: Helping America Understand," has been highly praised by state governors and city mayors in proclamations being issued by these chief executives throughout the United States.

The 1974 History Week Kit, which is available from the Association's headquarters, 1407 14th Street, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20005, at a cost of $10.00, includes a wide variety of materials which support the celebration's overall theme and sub-themes, which follow:

Sunday - "Helping America Understand: African Heritage;" Monday - "Helping America Understand: Afro-American Contribution to Socio-Political Life;" Tuesday - "Helping

America Understand: Afro-American Contribution through Inventions and Discovery;" Wednesday - "Helping America Understand: Afro-American Contribution through Economics;" Thursday - "Helping America Understand: Afro-American Contribution through Inventions and Discovery;" Wednesday - "Helping America Understand: Afro-American Contribution through Economics;" Thursday - "Helping America Understand: Afro-American Contribution through Education and Human Values;" Friday - "Helping America Understand: People and the Critical Issues of the Seventies;" and Saturday - "Helping America Understand: Brotherhood and the Better Way."

Holding The Umbrella For Action

Verdell Daniel came from a large urban family. She had always been active in community work, so it came as no surprise to those who knew her when she became a VISTA volunteer. From VISTA to the ACTION program, Verdell has recently moved to Des Moines to join a team of ACTION-PEACE CORPS -VISTA recruiters who are based in this city.

Verdell had worked as a consultant to the Washington, D. C. school system, and she decided to continue her work on a volunteer basis. She joined VISTA (Volunteers In Service To America) and was assigned to work with a Legal Aid Office. Her future plans include attending law school, a decision she made while working with Legal Aid and becoming aware of the problems poor people faced when dealing with the law. In asking Verdell about ACTION, she said it was an "umbrella" agency of the government that was the overseer of all federal volunteer programs including VISTA, the PEACE CORPS, R.S.V.P. (Retired Senior Volunteer Program), and SCORE (Service Corps of Retired Executives). Verdell favors VISTA, and says that it is a worthwhile program for both the volunteers and the people they help. She feels that she couldn't recruit for a program she had no faith in.

Recruiters based in Des Moines are responsible for the states of Iowa and Nebraska. The job requires a lot of travel, but Verdell doesn't mind that. If you're interested in becoming a volunteer in any of the federal volunteer programs, Verdell, along with the rest of the recruiting staff, may be contacted at the ACTION Office, 210 Walnut St., Des Moines.

NEW FIRST AID SKILL BOOK FOR YOUTH

It happens all the time. In the city and in the country. There's a car wreck. People are cut and bleeding. A crowd gathers. People just stand around -- silent. They don't know what to do.

Or, there's a fire--or an explosion. Falling buildings break bones. Flying glass cuts through soft skin. Again, a crowd gathers. People waste time waiting for help to come. All this time, hurt people are waiting for someone to help...help.

Every day, too many people, especially young ones, are seriously injured. Because they are not always treated correctly or in time many of them die.

To combat such tragic facts, the Boy Scouts of America has published a new, colorfully illustrated booklet called First Aid Skill Book that can help you learn what to do in case of an emergency.

This booklet details over 105 first aid topics from the care of simple cuts and bites to treatment for major burns and excessive bleeding. Special emphasis is placed in the booklet on first-aid problems common to the city. One of them--lead poisoning, its detection and six common symptoms--is discussed fully; another topic is bites of rats and other animals as well as spiders and insects.

First Aid Skill Book also explains the "why" and "dangers" of first aid. It's written for youngsters to understand. The booklet was developed as part of the continuing educational thrust of the BSA, and as a study guide for inner-city Scouts, to obtain BSA safety and first-aid skill awards and Merit Badges. But this particular booklet can also serve as an invaluable reference for parents, teachers, community health aides as well as Scoutmaster.

It's available, as Number 6588, from local Scout distributors or for 30 cents from the Supply Division of the Boy Scouts of America, North Brunswick, New Jersey 08902.

The more you learn about first aid, the better you will feel about taking care of yourself--and other people, too. That's being prepared!

Joe Payton and Ed Turner, Des Moines' disc jockeys.

Des Moines' Black DJ's

By Julie Williams

Serving as the only Black disc jockeys in Des Moines are Ed Turner and Joe Payton, both employed by KIOA-FM.

Before their present employment, both Payton and Turner worked with KYNA-FM, a local soul station. When KYNA was sold to, and absorbed by KIOA, Peter McClain, KIOA's program director asked both men to remain. Turner is a full-time dj, while Payton works part-time on Sundays.

Ed Turner is a native of Des Moines and a 1970 graduate of Tech High School. At 21, he's married and the father of two children. He said his goal was to get into television; ironically he wound up in radio. He received most of his training at KYNA.

Joe Payton, a former Cincinnati, Ohio resident, came to Des Moines because of his employment at Bankers Life; he's a management trainee in special premium collections.

Payton attended Coe College in Cedar Rapids, Iowa where he received a bachelor's degree in economics. While attending school he was the music and program director for the Coe College station, KCOE-FM. He also served as a summer replacement dj for KCRG radio, a commercial station in Cedar Rapids.

As far as radio and broadcasting goes, all of his experience was self-taught. He has been in radio on a part-time basis for the past seven years. Payton, 24, is single.

Both dj's commented on playing almost all "rock 'n roll" music. "I like all types of music," said Payton, "music is part of your job, whether you're playing rock and roll, country or soul."

Turner estimated that he likes about seventy percent of what he plays. "What I like about playing good music is the expression of the enjoyment you get out of playing it."

KIOA-FM plays primarily "oldies", music of the fifties, sixties, and a few more recent sounds of the seventies. Payton said however, whether it's the Drifters or Barry White, they probably play more soul than any other station in town.

"MFSB: Love Is The Message" by MFSB (Philadelphia International) is another excellent album you should have just "lyin' around". MFSB (Mother, Father, Sister, Brother) has, if you don't already know, a unique talent for re-arranging material from other artists; but their uniqueness comes when the finished product is out. You could say the song is improved to dimensions unthought of until it's gone through the MFSB-sound machine.

Although this release wasn't produced by Gamble and Huff (Hawes and Faith are the producers), two-thirds of the songs on the album were originally produced through the talents of these two men. The master re-arranger for the group is Bobby Martin. Songs re-done are: "Cheaper to Keep Her", "Touch Me In the Morning", and "My One and Only Love".

Throughout the disc the saxophone is the main attraction. Unfortunately, at the time of this writing, the names of the players have slipped my mind but take my word for it, your mind can't help but get the message.

Yes, the Temprees' "Love Maze" (Stax) is the record to have to make the night go on just that much better ... need I say more ..., not really.

Supreme Life Insurance Company of America, largest Blackowned and operated insurance company in the North, today reported a Net Gain for the year ended December 31, 1973 of $853,665, or $3.09 a share, up from $373,777, or $1.36 a share, a year earlier.

Ray Irby, CLU, President-Chief Operating Officer attributed the sharp gain to several factors, including a hefty increase in Earned Premium Income. Premium Income figures rose $1,875,669, or 21.7%, above that obtained in 1972. Other contributing factors were a significant increase in Net Investment Income and an

A NEW ALPHABET

Most of us learned the alphabet by associating a letter with a noun, with a thing, with a tangible something that wasn't very exciting. "A" is for Apple, "B" is for Ball; how dull and how totally unrelated to our lives. We're doing that same lesson with our children, we're assuming that associations must be made with tangibles, and we're assuming that children cannot associate with the abstract. A child's mind is the abstract, a child's mind creates images and environments far more creative and exciting than we remember. Give a child a definition and he or she creates his or her own picture of your definition. There doesn't seem to be a need to continue the "A" is for Apple syndrome when letters of the alphabet can come to represent ideas and ideals, concepts and attitudes. The following Black Alphabet may be too advanced for a child without some help from you, but with your definitions of words, a Black child can create his own Black-associated images while still learning the English alphabet.

The Black Alphabet

A is for Africa
B is for Black
C is for Children
D is for Dignity
E is for Equality
F is for Freedom
G is for Greatness
H is for Harmony
I is for Imagination
J is for Justice
K is for Knowledge
L is for Love
M is for Men
N is for Nationtime
O is for Opportunity
P is for Pride
Q is for Quality
R is for Responsibility
S is for Skill
T is for Truth
U is for Unity
V is for Victory
W is for Women
X is for Malcolm X
Y is for Youth
Z is for Zeal

Any variations on the them of a Black alphabet can be made. What is important is that children relate to concepts, and that apples and balls do nothing for the growing Black consciousness of children.

Seeking Painters For Black Arts Festival

Rust College, a predominantly Black college located in Holly Springs, Miss., is seeking Black Des Moines painters to participate in its Fine Arts Festival to be held in April, 1974.

Among the nationally known Black artists to appear in the festival will be poet and playwright Sonia Sanchez, also known as Sonia X, and musician Clark Terry.

Rust College, established in 1866, and which now has an enrollment of more than 700, is located about 40 miles south of Memphis, Tenn., in Mississippi.

In November, upon request of the college's humanities department, Eleanor E. Tate of Des Moines, a Black poet and professional freelance writer, presented her poetry there and also spoke during the college's regular convocation.

Des Moines Black painters and other persons participating in the arts are asked to contact Rochelle Holt, 311 Memphis St., Holly Springs, Miss., for more information before March 1, 1974.

Wilkins Ouster Story Is Totally Erroneous

NEW YORK. — A totally erroneous news story in a local newspaper which stated that NAACP Executive Director Roy Wilkins had been ousted at the quarterly meeting of the National Board of Directors sparked a crescendo of anxious telephone inquiries and statements of support for the veteran civil rights leader.

KICK-OFF OF THE CENTENNIAL CELEBRATION OF THE W.M.S.

The Women's Missionary Society of the African Methodist Episcopal Church will launch its 100th Anniversary Celebration during the winter session of the Bishops' Council being held February 16-21, 1974, in Kansas City.

Miss Mary Frizzell, Connectional President; Mrs. Artisha Jordan, Connectional First Vice President and Program Chairman; Mother Edith Bryant, Fifth District Supervisor and Mrs. Cleo Love, Fifth District President, have made plans for an exciting kick-off celebration.

The W.M.S. has chosen the theme, "OUR HERITAGE-OUR FUTURE" and the Creative Arts Committee led by Mrs. M. L. Carswell, Connectional Chairman; Mrs. Georgia Stewart, Fifth District Chairman, and Mrs. Dorothy Counts, chairman of the local committee have planned a Creative Arts Festival as a means to demonstrate this committee's purpose and function.

This Creative Arts Festival will feature workshops of unusual crafts, rare art displays, performing arts demonstrations and presentations, along with a luncheon at which time the women will wear clothing typical of 1874. Other highlights include a Performing Arts Marathon on Monday afternoon and Tuesday morning-February 18th and 19th, at which time district presentations (original skits, songs, poetry, etc.) will be judged; a unique Vesper Service to be presented Sunday at 5:30 P.M. at First A.M.E. Church, under the direction of Mrs. Marquita Pinkard and Mrs. Florence Hall, and as the grand finale, "All Committees' Night", Tuesday, February 19th promises to be most entertaining and its main attraction is being kept a secret under the title "Surprise Package".

Headquarters for the big event will be the Ramada Inn in Kansas City, Kansas. Room rates are: Single (1 person) $10.00 & (2 persons) $13.00. Double (2 persons) $16.00. Additional persons $3.00 each. Reservations should be sent to the Rev. H. Solomon Hill, First A.M.E. Church, 1111 North 8th Street, Kansas City, Kansas 66101.

The story which appeared in the New York Daily News on Tuesday, January 15, reported that the NAACP Board of Directors had "forced out Roy Wilkins as executive director because of alarm over a significant decrease in membership and Federal grants to the NAACP."

But the story was totally false. In a news conference called on the day that the Daily News article appeared and was given nationwide distribution, Mr. Wilkins issued the following statement:

"I attended the quarterly Board meeting all of yesterday afternoon and there was no action taken which could be called an ouster of anyone. Nor was there any action which could be called 'forcing out' of any staff member.

"As a finish of a pension plan, the first part of which was adopted at the September, 1973, meeting of the Board, the Board routinely voted, with no inquiries from the floor, a second part of the pension plan setting the retirement age. This is a customary part of any pension plan and contains the usual words found in most plans, including that for New York City employees and for most corporations.

"The story in the New York Daily News mentions as a cause of the so-called ouster 'alarm over a significant decrease in membership and Federal grants to the NAACP.'

"National membership decreased by 7,000 in 1973, the 1972 total was 412,000 and the 1973 total 405,000. This is less than 2%, even less than 1.6%. Whether this is 'significant' or not we are not able to say.

"As for Federal grants, the NAACP housing department received one in 1970 for $170,000 to do a survey of Negro contractors. We lost $8,000 on that one.

"Again in 1971 the NAACP housing department received $27,000 to publish a book.

"In 1972 the NAACP received from HEW $144,381.50 for the adoption program out of our Atlanta office.

"In 1973 our Atlanta office received $158,000 on the adoption program for black children.

"Also in 1973 the NAACP received $143,000 for the ROTC recruitment program."

MEETING MEAT PRICES

The price of beef has gone so high, it sometimes seems the cost of cows has jumped over the moon, but there are some down-to-earth ways for you to save.

Buy Quantity! Stock up on sale items, especially family favorites. Plan at least two meals ahead whenever you shop. Buy enough meat when prices are low so that one cut can last for several meals. For instance, a large boneless chuck roast, shoulder roast or cross cut chuck rolled roast can be divided and cubed for a beef stew one day; potted, in part, the next; and the rest sliced up for sandwiches. A big bit of beef can be divided and the unused part frozen for the future to save you money, time and effort, too.

Buy in Quality! Make sure you're buying meat that's all meat. You don't want to pay for fat, bones and gristle that will only go to waste.

You should be able to see what you'll be eating. Meats packed in solid bottom meat trays may have something to hide. The best meats are usually in the best packages—those that let you see your way to the meat from top to bottom, and protect the consumer as well as the meat.

Among the best packages for meat are the Super Vue® trays manufactured by Diamond International Corp. These packages suspend the meat on a see-through tray, away from outer wrappings. The tray back is a distinctive cross grid of molded fiber, with wide open windows. This design gives full visibility and lets oxygen circulate freely around and under the meat. The tray prevents shrinking, discoloring and pools of liquid, so the package stays neat and the food stays fresh.

Unlike most meat wrappings, they're not made of petroleum-based plastic, but of biodegradable wood fiber, a naturally renewable resource that biologically returns to the earth when discarded.

You are hereby notified that the petition of the plaintiff in the above entitled cause of action is now on file in the office of the Clerk of the District Court of the State of Iowa, in and for Polk County, asking judgment against the defendants named in the caption hereto, and against the mortgaged property hereinafter described, for:

(1) The sum of $13,208.06 with interest at 7% from January 1, 1974, being the amount due plus interest upon the promissory note in the principal sum of $13,300.00, dated February 16, 1970, which note was made and executed by the defendants, Daniel R. Daffron and Sandra L. Daffron payable to this plaintiff, which note this plaintiff has declared due and payable forthwith because of the default of the defendants in failing to make payment of monthly sums of principal and interest due. The said sum includes delinquent interest and advancements to and including January 1, 1974, and represents the total sum due after allowing defendants all just credits; also asking for judgment for any further or future advancements plaintiff may be required to make for continuing abstract of title or for any other purpose authorized by the terms of said note and mortgage and by Iowa law.

(2) Also asking judgment for costs including statutory attorney's fees.

(3) Also asking as against the defendants above named a decree of foreclosure of the mortgage made and given by the defendants, Daniel R. Daffron and Sandra L. Daffron, which mortgage is dated February 16, 1970, recorded in Book 4098, Page 275, of the office of the Recorder of Polk County, Iowa, said mortgage being given to secure the above mentioned note and other sums claimed, which mortgage covers the following described real estate, to-wit:

Lot 11 in Block 1 in PLEASANT VIEW, an Official Plat, now included in and forming a part of the City of Des Moines, Iowa.

Plaintiff waives its rights to a deficiency judgment and elects to have the period of redemption reduced to six months.

Plaintiff also asks for the appointment of a receiver to take charge of the mortgaged premises and to collect the rents, issues and profits arising or which may be had therefrom and to apply them as by court directed. No money judgment is asked except against such persons who executed said note and mortgage.

For further particulars see the petition now on file.

You are also hereby notified to appear before said court at the Polk County Court House, Des Moines, Iowa by February 15, 1974 and that unless you so appear before said court at the Polk County Court House, Des Moines, Polk County, Iowa, by February 15, 1974, your default will be entered against you and judgment and decree rendered therein as prayed.

Journeyman Johnson

John Johnson Jr. is a journeyman painter and a member of the Painters and Decorators Local Union No. 246 here in Des Moines. He is currently working for the Des Moines School Board at Phillips Elementary School where several of their classrooms are in the process of being repainted.

Painters must be skilled in handling brushes and other painting tools so that he can apply paint thoroughly, uniformly, and rapidly to any type of surface. He must be able to mix paints and match colors, using a knowledge of paint composition and color harmony. He also must know the characteristics of common types of paints and finishes from the standpoints of durability, suitability for different purposes, and ease of handling and application.

The apprenticeship for painters generally consists of 6,000 hours (3 years) of on-the-job training, in addition to 144 hours a year of related classroom instruction. In a typical 3-year training program, the apprentice learns, among other things, to use, care for, and handle safely the tools, machines, equipment, and materials commonly used in the trade. He must also learn how to prepare surfaces (including sizing, sandpapering, and patching walls); match and mix colors; and apply various types of interior and exterior materials (including stain, lacquer, enamel, oil and varnish). He must also learn how to erect scaffolding.

John states that not only does a career as a painter enable him to earn a good living for himself and his family, but also allows him full satisfaction of his creative urges.

Information on this trade as well as others in the building and construction industry is available through the Des Moines Area Outreach Program and the Apprenticeship Information Center, Iowa State Employment Service.

VETERANS ADMINISTRATION Questions and Answers

Q — I draw compensation for a service-connected disability suffered in Vietnam. If I am hospitalized for this disability, will the Veterans Administration increase my compensation?

A — Yes. If you're hospitalized 21 days or more, your disability rating will be increased to 100 per cent. You'll receive compensation at this rate until discharged from the hospital.

Q. I took out a Service Disabled Veterans Insurance (RH) life insurance policy following discharge after service in Vietnam. Does the Veterans Administration pay dividends on this type of policy?

A — RH is not a participating policy because the extra-risk costs are paid by the government.

Q — I know a veteran's widow who draws death pension from the Veterans Administration and lives in a nursing home. Is she eligible for additional benefits if she is in need of regular aid and attendance?

A — Yes. She would be entitled to an additional special monthly pension of $55 if she draws benefits under the current pension law, or an additional $50 monthly under the "old" law.

ARE YOUR WASHER & DRYER TAKING YOU TO THE CLEANERS?

Here are a few helpful tips that will save you time and money in the laundry room.

- Wash full loads. It saves time, hot water, and electricity. If you must wash a partial load, select the water level to fit the amount of clothes you are washing.
- Avoid over-washing clothes. It's just a waste. Use cold water detergents whenever they can do an adequate job.
- Clean the lint filter in your dryer after each load. A clogged filter will reduce the dryer's efficiency.
- Don't over-dry clothes. This wastes energy and wrinkles clothes.

I wish to know all the details about the flap at East High which resulted in two of the black players being suspended from the basketball team. In the daily paper we got only the official version, which may or may not be correct. The player's side of it isn't always given in detail. I know from experience that things one says to a reporter don't always get written down very batim. In the effort to conserve space, the guy will try to give the jist of what one fellow says, and often that isn't like it was at all. One fellow in discussing the incident said that it was simply a matter of who was running the team, the coach or the fellow. Well, I don't think it was that black and white. I guess you are familiar with the story that Tony Jones was heckled during the Valley-East game to the point where he began to answer the hecklers. Now, from experience, I would be tempted to say that that heckling wasn't altogether above the belt. So the young man got mad, as most of us would do. Not too many kids are able to wait until they get a chance to really lower the boom on people who give them a rough time, and Jones likely isn't one of them. So, while the boy is still seeing, the coach calls a team meeting, maybe for the purpose of discussing the incidents. I am not pretending to know what was on the coach's mind, but I would guess that he would have maybe told the fellow to calm down and not to mind the verbal brickbats. Now, this is strictly hindsight, which is never wrong, but, seeing how mad Jones was, why couldn't the coach have called a team meeting just a little while later, even the next day, when tempers had died down. I know there have been times when I as a young man would have told the team leader just where to go and what he could do with his meeting, and would have been sorry and maybe ashamed after I said it. But having said it, I would have stuck to it. There is a good chance that Tony and Kaiser would have liked to have had back the words they said. But words can't be recalled. And of course the principal had to back up the coach, so two basketball careers come to an end, at least at East High.

I have heard from several sources that there hasn't been any rapport between the blacks and whites at East for ten years, and also that the people who could insist on the two factions at last getting along with each other don't seem to get excited about it until some trouble pops up. Maybe just once, they could take the lead and tell the groups that they are going to get along or all go home. I wonder if that would work. I bet it would.

So the mighty UCLANs came a cropper at Notre Dame, where they saw their last winning streak end. I was pretty certain that someone would get them because they had those lapses during most of their games except the North Carolina State game. If they had had one in that game, they would likely have been run right out of the field house. But you have to admire their coach because he acted in defeat almost the same as he did after each win. But do you know, that if the Irish get fifteen points behind this week end, they can forget it. And Iowa nearly pulled an upset, but for a rash of free throws in the final stages of the game. They gave rated Indiana all they wanted, and if they can get another game like that one they may wind up with a pretty fair season after all. Iowa State and Drake came in with victories, the Cyclones winning their first at Colorado in umpteen years. Could be that all three of our major teams will win more than they lose. Someone wants to know why I don't get an interview with Coe College's black coach whose team is really mopping up. Well, first the coach isn't coaching or a success because he is black. Let him lose too many and he will go, no matter what color he is. He is doing his job, which is winning ball games, and when he stops doing that, that will be that. And besides, what could I ask him that the daily papers haven't asked?

Black College scores.

Alcorn could be number one on the small college polls this week. They won three games over the week end, beating Southern 95-93, Miss. Valley State 103-84, and Grambling 96-93. Tennessee State at five West Florida 76-74, Eastern Ill. 85-77, and Bethune-Cookman 89-76. Other Scores; Florida St. 92, Georgia Southern 89, Jacksonville 78, Shorter 67, Jackson State 89, Grambling 87, N Carolina A&T 66, Fayetteville 65, Tenn. St. 74, Central 52, S.W. Golden Gloves Times...

Once again the golden gloves are out. . . fresh leather. . . excited boys. . . and anticipating crowds. The 35th Annual Golden Gloves Tournament opens Thursday, January 24th at Veteran's Memorial Auditorium and ends Friday night, January 25th. Ten boys in the open division will represent Iowa in the nationals to be held in Denver starting March 25th. And once again the cry among the amateur ranks is . . . no Lamont Lovelady. He's now a pro. And no Doug Moyle. He's too old now for the golden gloves. So what do we have in Iowa? Who can bring home a national championship this year? With all due respect to every boy entered in this year's tournament it doesn't appear as if we can mark any one of them as a definite national champ. But then again we may be surprised. In any event. . . there are some good fighters in the tournament this year. Some exciting boxing will be seen both nights and the true spirit of the gloves will prevail as in years past. Once again tournament director Dave Fidler has extended himself to put on one of the finest shows held all year, and with a little luck, things could work out for Iowa regarding a national championship. A new entry this year in the tournament will be the Gateway Opportunity Center Boxing Club. It was formed less than a year ago at 1000 College Avenue and Center. Director Zuck Williams, along with Charles Greene and Edgar Young, has done an outstanding job with the boys in the community. Gateway is entering 3 fighters for it's first year. One in the open division and the other two in the novice class. A shot in the arm for Des Moines amateur boxing, with all the headaches handled by secretary Bertha Cassell. To sum it all up . . . one couldn't spend a better Thursday night or Friday night than at the 35th Annual Golden Gloves Tournament. A knockout of a show.

The Re-Match

This could be the last fight for either man. Monday night, January 28th in Madison Square Garden in New York, Muhamed Ali and Joe Frazier go at it again. Frazier says he's going for Ali's jaw. You'll remember Ken Norton broke Muhammed's jaw in their first encounter. And Ali says the fans will see the Ali of old. He says he'll be dancing lively and will be in top shape. There will be no home TV or radio account of the fight, but those interested can see it via closed - circuit showing at Veteran's Memorial Auditorium with the telecast beginning at 8:30 p.m. Tickets are on sale at the auditorium. . . 8 and 10 dollars. No matter who wins though, it promises to be one of the best fights of the year. The grudge match between Ali and Frazier.

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U.S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q. In June, my home was damaged by flood. I would have gotten a better tax advantage by deducting my casualty loss on the return I filed in April. Do I have to wait to claim this loss on my 1973 return?

A. If, in 1973, your area was declared a disaster area by the President, and, as a result of that disaster, you suffered a casualty loss, you have the option of deducting the loss on your 1972 Federal income tax return or waiting until next year. If you have already filed your return for the prior year, file Form 1040X, which is specifically designed to expedite your refund. For details on how to do it, see IRS Publication 547, "Tax Information on Disasters, Casualty Losses, and Thefts." Send a postcard to your local IRS office for a free copy.

Q. I've earned more than $10,000 so far this year. Shouldn't my employer stop withholding social security tax from my pay?

A. The maximum wage base for social security tax withholding in 1973 is $10,800. This equals $631.80 in social security tax. After this point, your employer should not be withholding social security tax. If he is still withholding this tax, see him to adjust this over-collection.

Any taxpayer who holds more than one job during the year and has more than $10,800 of his wages subject to social security tax can claim the excess tax withheld as a credit against his tax.

Q. I used money from my part-time job to buy new furniture for my bedroom. Will this have any effect on whether or not my parents can claim me as a dependent?

A. No. Capital expenditures for furniture and appliances are not included in total support. As long as your parents contribute more than one-half of your total support and meet all the other dependency tests, they can still claim you as a dependent.

Q. I increased the value of my home by installing central air conditioning. Can I get a deduction for what I spent?

A. No. This expense cannot be deducted, but it can be added to the cost basis of your home. This way, the cost of the air conditioning unit will be taken into account in the event you sell your home.
