Black Iowans Seek Alabama Strategy

The Name Of The Game: "Politics"

Caucus Banquet A Success

by Habiba

The Polk County Black Women's Political Caucus kicked off their first year of organization with a banquet last Friday evening, May 10th.

The banquet, catered by John Haskins, was held at Sugar Hill on Forest Ave. and can be deemed a success in terms of participation and the reception of the featured speaker, Dr. John Cashin, founder of the National Democratic Party of Alabama.

In addition to members of the Black community, several political hopefuls attended the banquet. Among them were Chuck Dick, candidate for U.S. Congress, and Richard D. Hermann, candidate for Attorney General.

John Cashin

The evening began with a social hour, designed to relax all who attended, and create an exchange of ideas and attitudes. Formal activities began after a delicious dinner, with Evelyn Davis taking charge of the introductions. Joseph Tate, Director of the Iowa Civil Rights Commission delivered the invocation. Maxine McNair led the group in singing the Black national anthem. Linda White, Co-chairwoman of the Black Women's Political Caucus spoke briefly as to the importance of the organization and its goals. June Franklin, former member of the Iowa House of Representatives had the honor of introducing Dr. Cashin, and supplied a bit of background on the man and his involvement in the political arena.

John Cashin was a candidate for Governor of Alabama in 1970, opposing George Wallace. He founded the National Democratic Party of Alabama after attempts to work within other political parties were unsatisfactory. The N.D.P.A. is a party of the people, offering political equality for Blacks and whites. It is important to note that Cashin is a graduate of Black colleges: Fisk, Tennessee A & I, and Meharry Medical College.

Cashin introduced his audience to a "new saint", St. Frederick. He spoke of Frederick Douglass, and brought the man to life for the listeners, most of whom had such great men "educated out" of their lives by a racist school system.

Black women received adamant praise from Cashin. He spoke of their unique strength and pointed out their not-so-enviable position of being the conscience of the United States.

In recounting his own experiences in political organization, Cashin stressed a quote from St. Frederick, two simple sentences applicable to the struggle for freedom no matter where one wages the battle. He quoted Douglass, saying, "No struggle means no progress, for power concedes nothing without a demand. The limit of tyrants is prescribed by the endurance of the oppressed." The atrocities Black Americans have endured at the hands of the white man for 400 years documents Cashin's belief that "Black Americans are the best the world has to offer."

A standing ovation greeted the conclusion of Cashin's speech, an honor well-deserved. Linda White closed the banquet, thanking Mr. Cashin for his efforts on behalf of the Black Women's Political Caucus.

It was the hope of all who attended that Black Iowa might soon stand out as a politically effective community, despite the fact that the Black population is so small. If the sincerity and effort exhibited by the Black women who organized this occasion is an indication of future involvement, Iowa will be together in a very short time.

Priorities & Goals Discussed At Conference

Joan Cashin

Last Saturday's politically oriented community conference was highlighted by a luncheon featuring Joan Cashin, Co-founder of Alabama's National Democratic Party, as speaker.

Mrs. Cashin is presently Deputy Director of the Huntsville-Madison County Community Action Committee in Alabama. Her address to the luncheon audience did not concern herself, however, but rather dealt with the importance of cooperating with other organizations, while keeping to the fore one's own priorities.

Joan Cashin believes that a successful format requires an objective outlook. One is often forced to interact with persons not of one's choosing, but something good may come of this, providing an understanding is involved. Emotional and subjective attitudes hinder efforts for progress, while uncluttered thinking aids in problem solving.

In addressing herself to the question of Black and white women's political organizations and the problems they encounter in communication, Mrs. Cashin mentioned that she works closely with both Black and white women when she knows their concerted efforts may bring about a change favorable to both groups, or to all women. In working in this manner, however, she doesn't lose sight of her priorities, freedom for Black people.

The responsibilities that accompany political clout are real and of utmost importance. No time exists for subjective quarrels when an individual or organization has gained the minds of a community. Strength lies in unity, and strength lies in the ability to use any and all effective tools at one's disposal. Mrs. Cashin preaches what she has learned through practice, the hard way.

HOUSTON'S IMPERIAL WIZARD (KKK) ENDORSES BLACK CANDIDATE

by Habiba

Stranger things have happened, but Jack Terry, a Black Houston, Texas candidate for Justice of the Peace is hard put to name one. Mr. Terry's candidacy has just been endorsed by the Ku Klux Klan, a fact that captured the interest of the entire country, and put Terry's campaign on the map.

Terry's only opponent is 24 year old Richard Vara, a Chicano. The Justice of the Peace seat is in a primarily Chicano district, noted for its traditionally apathetic voting record, so Terry's victory hinges upon a heavy Black voter turnout, and continued apathy on the part of the Chicanos.

Terry spent last Sunday visiting Black churches, explaining that he had not sought the Klan endorsement, and wished they would rescind it. The endorsement was explained by the Imperial Wizard quite simply, "I just think Mr. Terry is the right man for the job."

Jack Terry may well be the right man for the job, as he is expected to win the election. Meanwhile, the proverbial split, usually a two-way Black vs. white conflict, emerges as a three-way race for control between Blacks, Chicanos and whites. Houston's Third World peoples seem to be moving towards a house divided. The important question is this: can Blacks and Chicanos successfully alter the status quo (White domination) while battling one another? And, is Mr. Terry being endorsed by the Klan because he might be easily deposed should the Klan regain its former strength?

VIEWS and REVIEWS by James B. Morris

Brown vs Board of Education

May 17th marks the 20th anniversary of the famous decree of the U.S. Supreme Court, Brown vs. Board of Education, which held that segregation in the public schools had no place in America. The decision was unanimous but received division reception from several groups and state and public officials, even though the decision reaffirmed the law of the land.

The law was aimed almost primarily at the South at the time when segregation was a part of the law of many of these states.

The decision was the ultimate in the fight for equal education for Negroes and even though the decision of Plessey vs. Ferguson called for separate but equal education, that law had not been enforced.

Unfortunately, enforcement of the decision almost hung in the air because the responsibility for it rested on the shoulders of various U.S. District Courts. Then too, there were those who looked upon the decision as a law which they did not need to obey such as has been the case of other rights granted by the 14th amendment.

The decision has not broken down segregation completely but it has brought about much progress. It served as an opening wedge to various decisions and laws which brought about numerous changes in the field of equal rights.

It was a new experience for youngsters, both white and black. Great changes in the learning habits of many of the students naturally did not follow the decision as learning habits must originate from the kindergarten and up.

Yes, Brown vs. Board of Education has made a great change in the habits of racial understanding, not only in the area of education but also industry and other doings of daily life. Negroes would not be as far along as they are without it.

The Practice is Old

The conduct of those who ran the national organization of the Committee to Re-Elect the President in 1972 has brought to light in a big way what politics have been over the years.

For instance, large contributors who have received jobs or other considerations have excited some people and the news media. But those who have worked in politics over the years know that every candidate from President down to township office has had some understanding about who would receive jobs or have some influence in what goes on in his administration. It is just a natural part of the game.

A person works in politics, because he is interested in a job for himself, or help his friend make the grade or he believes his candidate is best suited for the job or to influence legislation in which he is interested. The average voter simply goes along looking to the candidate and his supporters to carry out the pledges of the campaign.

It is only that the expenditure of millions for political favor excites the public now which after all is the same principle as the one who gave $25.00 or $1000 to the candidate in years gone by.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Sir:

I am a prisoner in the Connecticut Penal System. I would like very much to correspond with any ladies in the free world. It is impossible to over-emphasize the immense need humans have to really be listened to, to be taken seriously, to be understood; this need cannot be satisfied within this modern day concentration camp mad house. Communication is impossible between inmates because of the games and roles we force each other to play. So I am in need of help only ladies from the free world can give to lighten this burden I must bear. If it is not too much to ask, a photo of yourself would be very much appreciated. I shall answer all letters from sincere open-minded ladies. I am Black, 25 years old, I love music and most other small things most people take for granted. If you find it in your heart to write, write to

Dear Sir:

It is a hard and lonely life here when you don't receive any mail at all. Loneliness can eat at your heart until you wonder if anyone cares anymore. So, if you and your paper can squeeze my name in somewhere, it would make me very happy to know someone really does care about another person. I am in prison here at Lucasville, and I'm a lonely man.

Thanking you in advance for your time and consideration.

Respectfully,

Dear Sir:

I feel that we as a minority group are complaining rather than trying. Let us use; B-better conditions, L-leadership, A-accomplishment, C-control over emotions, and K-kindness to any of our neighbors. And especially help and togetherness within ourselves. With most of our leaders intermarrying, how can the majority keep from thinking that is our only aim?

Thank you
Mrs. Nellie Elder

Two Teen-Agers Held For Mitchell Attack

BALTIMORE — Following an attempted robbery in which he received gunshot wounds in his hand, Clarence Mitchell said, "I'm so happy for myself and so happy for them because, if anything worse had happened, they might have been charged with murder and they were so young."

Mr. Mitchell, director of the Washington Bureau of the NAACP, was shot and wounded on Thursday night, May 2, when he resisted an attempted robbery on the front steps of his Baltimore home. Mr. Mitchell has just gotten out of his car shortly after 10 p.m. when one of the two young men who approached him said, "Hold it, give me your wallet." Mr. Mitchell, in typical fighting style, quickly grabbed the gun. A struggle developed and the weapon went off wounding him in the fingers on his right hand.

Mr. Mitchell was returning home after, ironically, working on legislation to improve elementary and secondary education so that it would be more attractive; to keep young men like the attacking thugs off the street.

Subsequently, two youths were caught and charged with the crime. One was 19 years old, and the other a 17-year-old high school senior.

After he was wounded, Mr. Mitchell frightened the two youths off by threatening "to blow" their heads off even though he did not have a gun. He was then taken to the Greater Baltimore Medical Center, where he underwent surgery under the supervision of his son, Dr. Keiffer Mitchell.

A week later, Mr. Mitchell began returning to his office for a few hours of work each day. As to why he resisted the holdup, Mr. Mitchell said, "You have to stand up to certain action. It wasn't the wallet, there was not much money in it anyway. But they did it on my doorstep."

"Hello, Battle Creek? Kellogg calling."

In 1960 it cost 70¢ to make a 3-minute evening call between these two Iowa cities. Today you can make that same call for only 55¢ after 5 p.m. or on the weekend if you dial direct without operator assistance.* A little money still goes a long way on the telephone.

*Dial-it-yourself rates apply on calls (excluding Hawaii and Alaska) completed from a residence or business phone without operator assistance and on station calls placed with an operator where direct dialing facilities are not available. Dial-direct rates do not apply to person-to-person, coin, hotel-guest, credit card, or collect calls or to calls charged to another number, because an operator must assist on such calls.

About Your Social Security

People planning to get summer jobs should apply soon for a Social Security number if they don't have one.

Students and other people planning to get summer jobs should apply soon for a social security number if they don't have one, according to Howard

J. Sladek, social security district manager in Des Moines.

"Applications from people who don't recall having had a social security number before generally are screened against central files in Baltimore to make sure a second number isn't issued to the same person," Sladek said.

"Screening takes time," Sladek said, "so you should apply for your number several weeks before you need it for a job covered by social security."

People can get information about applying for a social security number by calling, writing, or visiting any social security office. More than nine out of 10 jobs are covered by social security.

"Your social security number is yours alone and remains the same for life," Sladek said. "A worker builds retirement, disability, survivors, and Medicare protection by work and earnings credited to his social security number. So when you get a job covered by social security, be sure your employer copies your name and number correctly from your social security card to his records."

People applying for a social security number for the first time may be asked to prove their age, identity, and citizenship, according to Sladek.

"If you've lost your social security card, you can get a duplicate by contacting any social security office," Sladek said. "You can get a duplicate faster if you've kept the stub that came with your social security card."

The Des Moines social security office is at 210 Walnut. The phone number is 284-4500.

THIS WEEK WE SHARE EVELYN RITCHIE'S trip to Las Vegas, Nevada! Mrs. Ritchie arrived in Las Vegas Sunday, April 14 in less than three hours. Her son, Donald, and wife, her cousin, Melvin Jackson, Sr. had her 1700 feet up washing her face in snow. She swears it was beautiful.

WHILE IN LAS VEGAS, Mrs. Ritchie was entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Jackson with dinner after dinner. They took her to the "Hilton" where she met and got Kitty Smith's autograph, Louis Prima, Sweet Inspirations and many more; had her picture taken in front of Wayne Newton's home, saw Elvin Presley. Visited MGM, Caesar's Palace, Circus, Silver Nugget, Golden Nugget; Don took her to beautiful Lake Mead, Valley of Fins, Mount Charleston. She saw so many, many beautiful sights like Elephant Mountains, 7 sisters. She drove down Casino Center and The Strip.

MR. AND MRS. PHILLIP JACKSON and Mrs. Gwyn Hardiman came from Los Angeles to see Mrs. Ritchie. While there the Jacksons had a lovely wedding — their son, Melvin Jr. was married April 19.

MR. AND MRS. RITCHIE had their mother on the go until the last minute rush to the McCarrann Airport which is beautiful.

MRS. RITCHIE SAID HER NECK STILL HURTS from looking at beautiful mountains and such beautiful scenery. She adds "I may never see another million dollars but I have a picture standing beside it."

Resegregation

Suit Filed

The Department of Justice filed a civil suit today charging seven major real estate companies in Hartford, Connecticut, with promoting resegregation of racially integrated neighborhoods.

Attorney General William B. Saxbe said the housing discrimination suit was filed in U.S. District Court in Hartford.

Defendants are Barrows & Wallace Co., T. R. Preston Company, The Heritage Group, Inc., Richard C. Buckley Associates, Hurwit and Simons Real Estate, Inc., J. Watson Beach Real Estate Co., and Colli-Wagner Realty Co.

The suit and a motion for a preliminary injunction charged that the companies have promoted the resegregation of racially integrated communities in the Hartford area, particularly Bloomfield and Blue Hills.

More than 30 sales agents have repeatedly warned white prospects not to inspect or buy homes in Bloomfield or Blue Hills because of the presence of black residents, the motion said.

At the same time, the motion added, black and Puerto Rican prospects have been steered into those areas, and homes in predominantly white communities have not been made available to them.

NAACP Membership Drive

Underway Across Nation

NEW YORK — In a message to all units of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, Director of Branches Gloster B. Current sought to rally supporters of the civil rights organization to the "$100,000 More in '74" membership campaign by informing them of the recent successful fight in San Francisco to protect the basic human rights of black Americans.

In that city, the NAACP recently won a court injunction barring the almost indiscriminate stop and search procedures that the San Francisco police were using against black men fitting rough descriptions of the so-called "Zebra killers." They were allegedly responsible for the senseless murders of 12 white persons.

violated Fourteenth Amendment due process rights of the black community. The NAACP's victory in this case, Mr. Current informed the branches, was the best example to date that the "Association is still in the forefront of the fight for civil rights on many battlefronts."

A progress report on the membership campaign included the following:

The Galesburg, Ill., Branch kicked off its 1974 membership campaign with a Membership Banquet, Saturday, April 27, with more than 200 present. The price of a ticket to the affair included a $4.00 membership.

The Interdenominational Ministers' Alliance of New Rochelle, N.Y., voted overwhelmingly to support the current NAACP campaign at its regular meeting on Saturday, April 27. The Alliance represents most of the black and white churches in New Rochelle and other parts of Westchester County in New York. Reverend Herman Cannaday of New Rochelle is president of the Alliance.

On Sunday, May 19, the Corona-East Elmhurst, N.Y., Branch will have Judge Simeon Goliar as guest speaker at its annual public meeting. This event is held annually as close as possible to the anniversary of the May 17, 1954, Supreme Court decision and highlights the branch's membership drive.

In Cleveland, Ohio, the branch held its annual Freedom Fund dinner on Sunday, April 28. Mrs. C. Delores Tucker, Pennsylvania Secretary of State, was the principal speaker. More than 1,450 members and friends of the branch were in attendance.

NIGHT DRIVING PERILS

Night driving requires special precautions.

Most of the accidents that occur at night—and there are three times as many of them as during the day—are due to careless driving.

Reduced visibility is obviously the reason night driving is so hazardous. Artificial lighting, the lack of color contrast, and the decreased efficiency of the human eye at night must be compensated for with a change in your driving methods at night.

Distance is deceptive at night, and it is easy to out-drive your headlights. Average headlights will only illuminate 300 feet ahead, so you must be able to stop in less than that distance. Dirty headlights can cut that visibility down, so keep them clean and properly aligned. The windshield should be clean both inside and out, and if you smoke remember that smoke forms a fine film over the glass, which increases glare.

Drive slower and give all cars extra space at night.

You should always dim headlights for an approaching car on a two-way road, but it may not be advisable on a turnpike. Be aware, though, that high beams could blind an oncoming driver on a curve even if the median is fairly wide.

Sojourner Truth, A Self-Made Woman was written for young adult readers, but I found it excellent, easy reading for adults. So little is written of Black American history for those of us who aren't scholars, historians, or Europeans, that this book is of special importance. Somehow, adult readers aren't supposed to expect photographs and illustrations in their reading material, this book is great because it provides them.

The reader travels through childhood, slavery and death with Sojourner. Having no children is no reason to be without this book. Yes, it was written for young adults, no, it is not therefore unworthy of your time. Good literature about black people is at a premium, so it goes for women, too. This book, about a strong, serious, and important Black woman is required reading.

Then Ali rattled off a long and impressive list of boxing awards that he has earned, drawing the applause and massive agreement from the audience of about five hundred people.

NO, THE MAN IS NOT TAKING HIM AWAY. When Columbia Records recording artist, Ronnie Dyson, appeared in a held-over engagement at Los Angeles' famed Blackowned night club, The Total Experience, many of his fans rushed backstage to wish the young singer well. Among them was the security guard, Duane Smith, who was there to protect him. But things turned out well and The Man received his autograph. Dyson is also doing well on the popular charts with his new single "We Can Make It Last Forever."

First Black Owned TV Station

CAMDEN, J.J. — WGPR-TV, a new black-owned UHF station slated for Detroit, Mich., has ordered RCA studio and transmitting systems valued at approximately $1.1 million, it was announced today.

Dr. William V. Banks, WGPR, Inc.'s President, and General Manager, said the station will be the first black-owned and operated TV station in the nation, and is scheduled to begin broadcasting late this year.

The order from WGPR, Inc., the station's owner, includes a complete transmitting facility, color TV cameras, and tape, film and cartridge tape systems, according to Neil Vander Dussen, Division Vice President, RCA Broadcast Systems.

WGPR-TV, which will operate on Channel 62, will install an RCA TTU-60C UHF television transmitter and a TPU-25G pylon antenna.

George White, WGPR-TV's vice president and program director, said that most of the station's programming will be locally produced. "We plan to create at least 85 percent of our own programs," he said.

Mr. White noted that the station plans a full range of popular programming, including the "dance party," quiz and game shows and black "soap operas," much of which will be broadcast "live."

SANDRA FEAR, a k a SANDRA SILK, Defendants.

TO THE ABOVE NAMED DEFENDANT:

You are hereby notified that the Petition of the Plaintiff in the above-entitled action is now on file in the Office of the Clerk of the District Court of Iowa in and for Polk County claiming personal judgment against Sandra FEAR, a k a Sandra Silk, and judgment in rem against the property hereinafter described in the sum of $18,043.75, with interest at the rate of 7 1/2%, from and after November 1, 1973, on the promissory note of Sandra FEAR, a k a Sandra Silk, executed and delivered to the Plaintiff's assignor, assigned to the Plaintiff, who is the absolute owner thereof, and said note and mortgage given to secure said note are due and payable by reason of the failure of the Defendant to pay the installments of principal and interest when due. The Petition further asks for foreclosure of said mortgage of even date and the note of April 21, 1971, on the following described real estate, to-wit:

Lot 2 in La Mar-Crittenden Place, an Official Plat, now included in and forming a part of the City of Des Moines, Iowa, and also asking that said mortgage be declared a prior and paramount lien to that of each and all Defendants and further praying for the appointment of a receiver, and for the amount paid by the Plaintiff for legal attorney fees, abstract expenses and all accruing costs of this action, and for such other relief as may be just and equitable in the premises.

You are further notified that the mortgage herein provides that in the event of foreclosure and sale of the property by Sheriff's sale, the time of one year redemption shall be reduced to six months provided that the mortgage waives any right to take a deficiency judgment. Plaintiff reserves the right to waive all rights to a deficiency judgment prior to Sheriff's sale.

You are further notified that the mortgage herein provides that in the event the Court finds in the Decree that the title-holders who are personally liable on the mortgage have abandoned the premises and the mortgagee has waived any right to a deficiency judgment, the redemption period shall be reduced from one year to sixty (60) days.

The foreclosure Petition of the Plaintiff prays for a writ of possession in the event that any part of the mortgaged premises be sold under foreclosure decree and not redeemed from Sheriff's sale as provided by law without any other additional proceedings.

You are further notified to appear before said Court at Des Moines, in Polk County, Iowa, on or before the 15th day of June, 1974, and that unless you do so appear, your default will be entered and judgment or decree rendered against you for the relief demanded in the Petition.

A Sign of the Times

by Allen Ashby

This has been quite a week-end. First, Ivory Crockett, who ran at the Drake Relays becomes the world's fastest human. Crockett ran the hundred in nine seconds flat. That just about tops all of them and takes care of the argument that people can run only so fast because they will do some damage to their leg muscles. I recall Howard Drew, the second man and the first black to do the distance in nine and six tenths, altho they did it in fifths of a second then, and it was nine and three fifths. Drew often said that he felt as if he were running much faster than nine three, but the one time he did nine and two fifths, the timers wouldn't believe their watches. Said no man could run that fast. With the condition equal, track, shoes and such, maybe those old fellows might have run as fast as they do now. But those guys wore heavy shoes with long spikes, and ran on cinder tracks or dirt ones that were sometimes muddy, so they never really got a chance to do their best at all times. Then there was the matter of timing. Timers had to watch for the puff of smoke from the starter's gun before they started their watches. Every so often a fellow waited for the flash of fire and this cost his runner a tenth of a second. Now they have these electric timers, and they aren't ever supposed to go wrong. People have said that the big difference is in the size of the runners. Then most of the sprinters were rather small men, and now they are rather tall, but Crockett is much smaller than the other fast human, John Carlos, whom he beat twice, so that might be true in a race like the two-hundred or four-hundred, but not in the short dash, where starting is everything. Now, who will do the thing in eight and nine tenths? I hope I can see it, maybe at the Drake Relays, do you think?

Getting back to my tennis hall of fame, I didn't leave him out, but just ran out of space. This would be Rozentag (I think) Hardaway. He was a strong Hilltop Club president, and a leading advocate of making our meet the present Hilltop Open that it is now. Then he came up with the first traveling trophy for the men's singles, the Langston Hardaway trophy for his son, Langston, who won a junior championship in our old meet. Don't go away, I might come up with a couple of more names. But all of those I have mentioned did some part in developing young black players. Bill and Chet worked hard at trying to come up with some players, and they did have some promising ones if they had stayed with the game. Esther Myers is still searching for a winner, and has come up with a couple of near misses, largely because the players got sidetracked, for they had enough potential ability.

As I write this, I haven't seen him yet, but I heard that Ozzie Lewis was in town. Ozzie was one of the toughest amateur fighters to roam the ring in the late thirties and early forties. The guy was a master boxer and could knock a mule down with his right hand. I would say that his biggest fault was that he liked to play around in the ring and then fight like hell in the last round, and sometimes that wasn't quite enough to get him home, as in the quarterfinals of the Chicago Golden Glove bouts in the forties. That is, if you didn't hit him too hard and make him mad. If you wanted to beat him your best bet was to just poke him lightly and politely, and not make him mad, for if you stung him, you would promptly wish you hadn't. I can still recall what I think was the greatest amateur fight I ever saw. Ozzie was boxing a southpaw from Oskaloosa, Burrell Smith. They were boxing right along, when suddenly Smith cut loose with a left hook from the ceiling, or maybe left field. Ozzie's head and feet changed ends, and that was the second time I ever heard a crowd yell so loud that you couldn't hear the person right next to you, even if you put your mouth right up to his ear and yelled at the top of your voice. Well, sir, Ozzie jumped right up, mainly by instinct, and you knew he was hurt. Just then the bell rang, and George Bourland ran out and grabbed the guy and took him to his corner, and spit a whole mouthful of water into his face. By the time they got the go for the last round, Ozzie was himself, and boxed his way to a win, after flooring the Osky slugger twice in that final round. I don't think the fellow remembers this, but he told George, "If you ever spit a mouthful of water in my face like the guys say you did, the people are going to see a fight in my corner that will make the one in the ring look like a patty cake game." George about cracked up laughing, and so did I. But I hope I get to see the fellow before he gets away. It will be good to talk over old times with him.
