National News Briefs

Arlington, Tex. — A black professor who said a justice of the peace refused to marry him to a white woman has filed a federal complaint hoping to prompt charges of civil rights violations against the judge.

Dr. Daniel Georges, 26, a University of Texas-Arlington urban studies professor, said the complaint, filed jointly with his wife, involved three possible violations of civil rights statutes. An FBI agent said further action could occur within two weeks.

Greensboro — A legislator from Alamance County, North Carolina last week suggested that A & T State University should be merged with the University of North Carolina at Greensboro and North Carolina State University in Raleigh.

Davenport, Ia. — Over $8,000 has been raised in the Quad-Cities for the United Negro College Fund.

Washington, D.C. — Senator Walter F. Mondale (D-Minn.) introduced legislation today expressing Congress' desire to erect a statue of the late Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. in the United States Capitol.

Washington, D.C. — The U.S. Commission on Civil Rights will sponsor a conference for State, and local human rights officials from eleven Southern States April 16-18 in Atlanta.

Conferees from agencies in the fields of civil rights, women's rights, and human relations will participate in workshops based on the theme "Making the Constitution Work for All Americans." The conference will be held at the Atlanta Internationale Hotel.

Detroit, Mich. — "Legislation Is The Key to Womens' Equality" is the theme of the First Annual National Legislative Conference, sponsored by the National Black Womens' Political Leadership Caucus on Saturday, April 25, in the Caucus room of the Cannon House Office Building (Capitol Hill), according to Dr. Nelis James Saunders, Detroit, Founder-National Chairperson.

Josephine Baker, 68, the American actress from St. Louis, Missouri who starred on stage and screen in France and in America, died in Paris last week.

She began her career at the age of 8 in night clubs and went on to star in such places as Carnegie Hall in New York and Parisienne Night clubs.

Miss Baker became a French Citizen in 1937, earned the Legion of Honor and was an ambulance driver during WW II.

Iowa Republicans

Des Moines — Iowa Republican leaders have announced plans to conduct a statewide fundraising drive next month.

In a joint statement, State Chairman John C. McDonald of Dallas Center and State Finance Chairman W. H. Goodrich of Gilmore City said the 11th annual Republican Buck Night has been scheduled for May 6 to encourage support of a strong two-party system.

Must Grant New Trial or Release Says Lower Court

Undoubtedly by two adverse decisions, first by Judge William C. Hanson of the U.S. District Court and later by the Eight Circuit Court of Appeals, the State of Iowa, acting through Warden Lou V. Brewer at Ft. Madison, has asked the U.S. Supreme Court to review the conviction and life sentence of Robert Anthony Williams.

Williams was tried for the slaying of Pamela Kay Powers age 10 at the YMCA on December 24, 1968. At the time Williams roomed at the YMCA. Pamela, with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Merlin Powers had gone to the YMCA to see her brother wrestle. Later she went to the restroom and also to get a candy bar but never returned. Williams was identified by some onlookers as having been seen leaving the building with a bundle in his arm. He told some people that he was carrying a mannequin.

Two days later after Pamela was missing, Williams called the late Henry T. McKnight who was a member of Maple Street Baptist Church of which Williams had served temporarily as an assistant pastor, from Rock Island and asked for advice. As suggested, Williams gave himself up to the police.

Des Moines Captain Charles Leaming went to Davenport to return Williams to Des Moines. McKnight had cautioned police who had promised that Williams would not be questioned without the presence of an attorney. However, Leaming was said to have suggested that Williams inform him as to the whereabouts of the girl because the weather was extremely cold and if alive she would suffer.

Williams was indicted, tried and convicted and sentenced for life in the Polk County District Court. McKnight served as his attorney and later appealed the conviction to the Iowa Supreme Court which upheld the conviction by 5 to 4 decision.

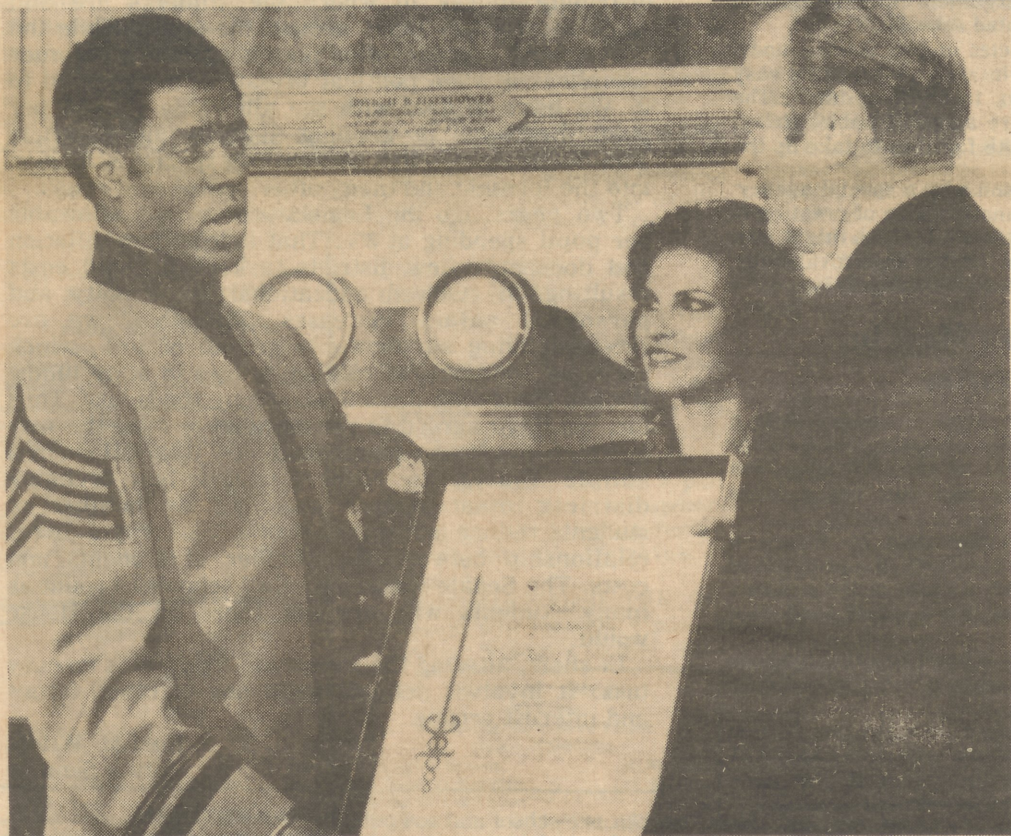

To Federal Court

Later an action was commenced in the U.S. District Court for the Southern District of Iowa, alleging that Williams rights had been violated. The case was heard by District Judge William C. Hanson and he held that the trial and conviction were illegal.

The State appealed the decision to the Eighth Circuit Court which upheld the decision of Judge Hanson on December 31, 1974. The U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals decided that Polk County must give Williams a new trial or he should be released. In the meantime Williams is being held in Fort Madison pending the outcome of the legal maneuvers.

Institution

Williams has been a patient in the mental hospital at Fulton, Missouri and had been arrested previously for other sex offenses.

The White House, March 26, 1975 ... President Ford today awarded the American Cancer Society's "Courage Award" to West Point Cadet Robert E. Johnson, citing "his bravery in his battle against cancer and the hope and inspiration he has given all Americans in the fight for life and health." Also present at the ceremony was the Society's national Crusade Chairman, actress Raquel Welch. Cadet Johnson is captain of the Army Varsity football team, the first black captain in the 84-year history of West Point.

Society Cancer/Award Given West Point Cadet

Washington, D.C. — President Ford has awarded the American Cancer Society's Courage Award to West Point Cadet Robert E. Johnson, captain of the Army football team, who waged a personal campaign against cancer.

The President presented a plaque to Johnson in a White House ceremony launching the Society's 1975 educational and fund raising Crusade. Mrs. Gerald Ford is Honorary Chairman of the Crusade. She has been an American Cancer Society volunteer for some years. Also present at the ceremony was the Society's national Crusade Chairman, actress Raquel Welch.

Cadet Johnson was the first black captain of the Army Varsity football team in its 84-year history. He was unable to play during the 1974 season due to surgery and treatment for cancer, but he continued to lead the team as its non-playing captain. Johnson also lettered for two years with the wrestling team. On graduation, he will be commissioned a 2nd lieutenant in the infantry.

The American Cancer Society is seeking to top the $100 million mark in the 1975 Crusade, and about two million volunteers are expected to visit 40 million homes with lifesaving leaflets this April.

The text of the plaque presented by the President to Cadet Johnson states: "The American Cancer Society salutes a courageous young man, Cadet Robert E. Johnson, for his bravery in his battle against cancer; and for the hope and inspiration he has given all Americans in the fight for life and health." It was signed by the President and Mrs. Ford, ACS President Dr. George P. Rosemond and ACS Board Chairman W. Armin Willig.

"Black Enterprise" Tells a Great Story

Black Enterprise, a magazine published in New York City by the Ed Graves Publishing Co., Inc. is devoted to the decimation of news about black business.

Possibly as well put together in both mechanical and journalistic style of any magazine in the country it is a credit to its producers. Fortunately advertisers are using the Negro media far greater than ever before but this magazine is second to none in the class of advertising it carries.

The March issue contains an article setting forth the contributions made by the large corporations in America to black schools, education in every respect, business, recreation; also the amount on deposit by these companies in black banks.

Over the years I have been acquainted with the generosity of many big companies but I was shocked and elated to read the list and the amount of the contributions these companies have made. Of course lesser corporations are doing their bit.

It is unfortunate that this information does not reach every black family and white ones as well. It is a lesson showing that in spite of the struggles blacks have had a lot of friends have been on their side with money and support which have gone a long way in supplementing what government agencies offer.

Black Segregationists Get Good Publicity

It always happens that when a Negro champions segregation he gets a lot of publicity. This is vividly illustrated in an article which appeared in the Des Moines Tribune on April 14th in which Jay Chunn, dean of the College of Social Work at Howard University stated that white families should not adopt Negro babies; that there was a sufficient number of Negro families available to adopt Negro babies; that separate projects, manned by Negro workers for the purpose of seeing that Negro babies are adopted by Negro families, should be set up.

Maybe he was shooting at the adoption of Vietnamese children by white families in America. However, it is ridiculous to make a large issue out of the adoption of Negro babies by white people when in fact it is so seldom done. Those I know are successful. But the position here opposes the argument that integrated schools are more desirable than segregated schools.

I have talked with the adoption agencies in Des Moines, and I think it is true in many communities, who state that it is not easy to find Negro families who are willing to adopt children. The local agency said that more Negroes are adopting babies today, but that it was necessary to rely on white families to take up the slack in the past.

And if any so desires, there is no reason why a special agency should be set up for this purpose. It is another idea of creating a separate program in order to give a Negro a job which might just as well be handled through regular agencies that are provided for this purpose and which are hiring Negroes as employees.

Des Moines Business Men in Downtown Offer

Des Moines, like a number of other cities, is saddled with a blighted area in its business section. One shopping center after another has been built on the perimeter of the city which has drawn traffic from the downtown area and thus left a large portion barren.

An attempt was made several months ago to secure a favorable vote to enable the city to use tax funds in a program to renovate the area. The campaign failed because of the jealousy among the people of the different areas and a poorly conducted campaign.

Recently, a number of business men offered to raise funds to add to that portion of a downtown upgrading which is opposed by many people.

Naturally, everybody will not be pleased with any one portion of any construction but anybody can see that something has to be done to place the city in a position comparable to that of other communities and of which its citizens can be proud.

We have had elections when practically most organizations endorsed it but the proposal sought was turned down. Should there be an election in the near future to enable authorities to use some tax funds to renovate downtown, selfishness should be laid aside and an intelligent campaign conducted among citizens in every area to get the job done.

Federal grants for Joint Co. -AEA programs approved

Federal grants totalling $234,925 have been approved for use next year by the new Heartland Education Agency (AEA 11), according to letters received recently from the Iowa State Department of Public Instruction.

The grants were made on applications submitted by the Joint County School System of Polk and Story Counties on behalf of Heartland and are intended for use in the areas of educational media and hearing testing of pre-school and non-public school students.

The Heartland agency will replace the Polk-Story system and all other county and joint county school systems on July 1. Applications were made through the Polk-Story system for the agency because both hearing testing and educational media services were made available through Polk-Story last year and in previous years.

The media grant totals $232,425. The money will be used to purchase and replace educational media materials and equipment including books, films, filmstrips, audio tapes and production material for distribution and use in Area 11's 63 local school districts and 41 non-public school buildings.

The grant for hearing testing totals $2,500 and will be used to

Senate Report

Much of the publicity concerning the Legislature relates to floor debate. But most of the work is behind the scenes in committees. These are all open to the public, of course, but little press attention is focused on these meetings.

Two key committee areas I have been working in are revision of the gambling laws and the state foundation aid plan for schools.

Two years ago Iowa legalized "social gambling." However, the controls on this are very loose and some rather large casino-type operations have sprung up. Our aim is to crack down on these operations while at the same time allowing ordinary citizens to gamble privately. I think a total ban on gambling is unrealistic and makes criminals out of ordinary citizens.

Our subcommittee initially recommended a fairly simple bill which would outlaw black jack and craps, reduce the allowable limit from $500 to $100 for gambling losses or winnings, and require licensed organizations to report their receipts and the distribution of them. There has been a problem with some questionable charitable organizations running bingo operations and keeping the receipts. The Judiciary Committee rejected this approach and instructed our subcommittee to come back with a more extensive bill. At present we are working on a bill which would include the above three items and increase the bingo licenses from $10 to $100. It would also require a gambling license for any type of gambling on the premises of liquor licensee. This would encourage bar owners to insure no illegal gambling occurred and would also help reduce violence associated with gambling. Further, we proposed to outlaw "pickles," punch boards and similar devices. The pay out of these is very small and they are easily abused.

As you can see, we are wrestling with difficult problems. The best we can hope to do is improve the situation for I fear it is impossible to solve the problem.

The school foundation plan is a little like trying to understand higher calculus. It is an attempt to distribute money to where the students are and equalize property taxes around the state. While the idea behind the foundation plan is simple it becomes complicated when political pressures are applied to it. We have to deal with the allowable growth per pupil, problems of growing districts and districts with declining enrollments, writing special education into the formula and many other complicated areas.

Two years ago the Legislature set the allowable per pupil spending at 8%. That is less than inflation and does not allow districts to keep up with costs resulting in reduced educational opportunity and personnel salary increases. Therefore, we are recommending an allowable growth of 10%, which costs an additional 10 million dollars in state funds. We are reviewing the bill passed by the House. Thus far, we have agreed to recommend to alter the way in which the House counts students. It would seem a simple matter to count students but declining districts must reduce spending as number of students reduce and there is not necessarily a direct relationship between the number of students and costs. The Senate would not allow schools to count as many students who are not there as the House would.

In short, altering the school aid formula is no easy task. It involves delicate balancing of many issues and interest groups.

screen pre-school and non-public school students to determine hearing loss or impairment.

Funds received through the grants are over and above budgeted funds Heartland will receive next year from state and local sources, according to Heartland Chief Administrative Officer K. W. Miller.

Mr. Miller said funds from the grants will be put into immediate use after July 1, by the agency.

Letter To The Editor

LETTER TO THE EDITOR:

On behalf of the Advisory Board and staff personnel of the Des Moines Area Apprenticeship Outreach Program, I wish to take this opportunity to thank you for your cooperation in printing articles in your newspaper about the growing number of minorities who are making good in the local construction industry.

As you are probably aware, the criteria by which most programs or organizations like ours are judged is usually based on statistics. We have felt for a long time that if we could have a short article and a picture of a person printed each week that it would be much more realistic. We have had many comments on these human interest stories from people in the construction industry, Department of Labor officials and just individuals who read your newspaper. So far all comments have been good. Everyone is surprised that there are so many minorities either in construction apprenticeship or journeyman status. We can keep on turning out the articles as long as you print them.

We had a young man in our office last week who said, "when do I get my picture in the paper?" We told him he was on the list but would have to wait his turn. This is not the first time we have had this type of request. Most of these young men are proud of their achievements and we are happy to help let others know of them.

Sincerely,
Ernest Comito

MESSIAH TEMPLE CHURCH NEWS

Messiah Temple was blessed to hear a special lesson from Reverend Jacob Reed last Sunday. His lesson, "Praising the Lord," taught us that there are many ways to praise the Lord. It is important to praise the Lord with our daily lives and to have the faith to praise Him even in troubled times. Above all, tho, we must open our services and our selves to praise instead of to form and fashion. It is the Spirit that gives life, not tradition.

Messiah Temple fellowshiped with Our Saviour Baptist Church last Sunday evening in their anniversary celebration. Reverend Reed spoke on the importance of faith in our lives.

We welcomed Mrs. Gwen Russian as our guest last Sunday.

Sunday school begins at 10:30 and is taught by very qualified teachers. There are classes for all ages. Worship services begin at 11:30. The Life of Christ is taught every Sunday evening at 7:00. Prayer meeting is every Friday at 7:30 p.m. Come and share with us the spiritual blessings each time we meet.

Metcalf Fights Grand Jury Supboena Move

Rep. Ralph Metcalfe's lawyer Thursday asked federal Judge Edwin Robson to quash a group of subpoenas issued by a special grand jury last month and seeking detailed information on Metcalfe's activities since 1967. Atty. R. Eugene Pincham argued that the grand jury is on "a fishing expedition" and said the material sought is "too broad."

Among the records demanded were financial statements, cancelled checks, ledgers, correspondence, computer tapes and printouts from the Ralph Metcalfe Youth Foundation, the 3d Ward Democratic Organization, and the 3d Ward Democratic Club.

It is believed the jury is zeroing in on Metcalfe's finances of 1968 and 1969 when he was chairman of the City Council's powerful zoning committee. It has already obtained reams of financial records from banks and businesses with which the Congressman has been associated. The current batch of subpoenas sought the new material by March 31, but none of the information has been turned over.

Don't get caught with your insulation down

With costs of fuel what they are today, it just doesn't make sense to pay for a lot of wasted heat. And that's what's happening if your home isn't properly insulated.

A well insulated home helps you save money on both winter heating and summer cooling. As a matter of fact, the savings on heating and cooling costs pay for the insulation in just a few years.

Call an Iowa Power Registered Insulation Contractor and ask him how you can finance re-insulation on your utility bill.

Big/Little Sister Program

HELP! The Big/Little Sister program is needing black women volunteers, over 18 years of age to be big sisters for black girls.

If you have the time to ride bikes, take a walk, bake cookies, go window shopping or just sit down for a long talk then the Big/Little Sister program wants you, and a young girl really needs you. Please call Janet Calmer at 284-6458.

The Big/Little Sister program is a cooperative project between the YWCA and Polk County Social Services. The program is for young girls between 7 and 17 who are wanting a one to one relationship with a young woman. The big sister is to be a friend and role model for the girl and should help to strengthen her relationship with her family.

A match is made after an interview with the girl and her parent/guardian and with the woman wanting to be a big sister. They are paired on the basis of interests, personality, expectations and location.

Teachers, social workers, ministers, friends and concerned parents may refer girls to the program after exploring the idea with the girl and her family. For more information contact Janet Calmer, 284-6458.

Heritage Day at DM Library

Three branches of the Public Library in Des Moines are participating in a statewide "Iowa Library Celebration of Our Heritage" on Friday, April 18th, a day set aside by Iowa libraries for honoring older Iowans and to locate valuable historic documents.

April 18th was chosen because it is the anniversary of Paul Revere's famed ride and hence a symbol of our heritage. It is hoped that older Iowans and their friends will gather in libraries that day and bring treasured mementoes such as old books and pictures of state and local interest; family, official or business records; letters, diaries; old style, ethnic or military clothing; interesting old recipe books or recipes.

Persons having such items as well as those who are able and willing to demonstrate skills or handicrafts such as corn husking, making soap, quilting, etc. are asked to come to one of the participating libraries and, if possible, to let that library know in advance what they will be bringing.

The Model Cities Library at 920 Washington (282-2124) will hold Open House for older Iowans and other interested persons from one to two-thirty p.m. on the 18th of April with time for sharing treasured items and will also show some film strips of old-time crafts.

The East Side Branch Library at 2559 Hubbell (283-4942) will conduct an Open House from two to four p.m. and will show films ("The Eighth Day" and "Song of the Wildwood") and slides ("Iowa State Capitol" and "Terrance Hill Mansion") and will also have Iowa History Cassette tapes available.

West Side Branch Library at 5000 Franklin (283-4271) will have Open House from one to four p.m., with the following schedule of events: 1:00 p.m., film, "Visiting the Indians with George Catlin"; 1:30 p.m., Spinning Demonstration by Mrs. R. J. Rost; 2:00 p.m., coffee break; 2:30 p.m., Demonstration of Walnut Dying by Ruth Davidson; 3:00 p.m., Weaving Demonstration by Connie Forneris; 3:30 p.m., a sharing and chat session.

At all the libraries, a list will be compiled of persons willing to be interviewed about their careers in Iowa or to have valuable materials copied on microfilm for projects of the Heritage Committee or to lend items for displays in libraries and museums.

"Paul Revere", portrayed by Scott Linn, a student at Iowa State University at Ames, will ride in Des Moines (on a dark horse) to some retirement homes with a special invitation to residents to attend the Library event. All other older Iowans as well as the general public are urged to attend with no special invitation necessary.

MANHATTANS READING NEW "DISCO" SINGLE

Popular Columbia recording artists the Manhattans are currently finishing off a "disco remix in Sigma Sound Studios in Philadelphia of their new single "That's How Much I Love You" with producers Bobby Martin and Mickey Eichner. The single, which is the title tune of their current Lp, will be released this spring.

The Manhattans have been enjoying tremendous success with their Lp and past singles off the Lp like "Summertime in the City" and "Don't Take Your Love From Me."

The Manhattans are currently touring Europe on a massive Columbia Records International Promotional tour, with dates in most major cities in the U.S. this summer.

Little Known Facts "The Magnificent Yankee"

One way to stimulate recreation is provided by the State of Oregon. According to the April Reader's Digest, the state allocates one percent of its highway budget to build bike paths. Thus far 112 miles of them, costing $4 million, have been completed.

For the superstitious at heart, 1975 should be a better year than most. The April Reader's Digest reports there'll be only one Friday the 13th, in June.

The oldest continuous network radio program in the United States is the Mormon Tabernacle Choir program, "Music and the Spoken Word," broadcast by CBS. Notes an April Reader's Digest article, the program reaches countless millions over 560 U.S. radio and TV stations, plus nearly as many more overseas. Its repertoire includes nearly 1100 songs of faith, inspiration and patriotism.

Teen-age drinking is a growing menace, the April Reader's Digest warns. According to the National Institute on Alcohol Abuse and Alcoholism, 1.3 million Americans between the ages 12 and 17 have serious drinking problems, and about one third of our high-school students get drunk at least once a month. Moreover, 60 percent of the people killed in drunken-driving accidents now are in their teens.

The national 55 mile-per-hour speed limit imposed in the wake of the energy crisis last year is not only saving fuel, it's saving lives.

Ted Kehoe, managing director of the Des Moines Community Playhouse, will play the part of Supreme Court Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes in "The Magnificent Yankee", which opens April 18 and plays through May 3rd at the theatre.

The play is a love story, in reality, about Justice Holmes and his wife, Fanny, but it is also a quiet story of patriotism.

To quote Holmes: "It takes a heap of live and let live to put a republic together and keep it going," but this play weaves a story about democracy and love of country in the finest sense.

Season memberships will be honored, and tickets can also be obtained at the Playhouse box-office, 831 Forty-second St., Des Moines or by calling 277-6261.

Seek volunteers for D.M. zoo

The Zoo is now accepting applications from persons who would like to volunteer as Docents.

"Docent" is derived from the Greek word meaning "teacher" or "Guide". A Docent serves as a guide for school children and special groups. Members of the Docents also visit with the children in the schools. The Docent organization is the educational wing of the zoo.

To be a Zoo Docent, you need to be 18 or over, interested in learning all about animals, and enjoy talking with children. You must serve two hours a week during the touring season.

If you are interested in training to be a Docent, call the Zoo office, and someone will contact you for an interview. Phone: 283-4249 or 283-4250.

Also among plans is an Iowa Lung Research drive in Des Moines to raise additional support exclusively for lung research in Iowa.

Other Polk County residents who will be serving on the committee include: F.W. Capper, George W. Glann, D.D.S., Louis Prock, Mrs. Wayne Makeef, Henry B. Wallace, Robert Lambuth, Ralph Tapscott, Jeff McLaughlin, Mrs. Richard Kiel, Ms. Nancy Adams, Joe Seward, Kirk Brill, James E. Fredregill, Charles Colgrove and Mrs. Lionel Potts, Jr.

HEALTH NATURALLY

LAYMEN FOR HEALTH

The field of healing sciences has always been for "doctors only". This excluded the general public, keeping them ignorant of the procedures and progresses made by healing professions. This attitude has allowed the healing practitioner to practice, prescribe, and charge what ever the financial traffic would bear. Unfortunately the patient many times has no choice in the decisions and therefore becomes the nonconsenting receiver. This "total control concept" has produced much of the arrogance and impersonal attitude found in many physicians offices. Latin terminology and technical vocabulary has left the lay patient in the dark thereby leaving the patient to pray to the decision-making mystics of the health providers.

Fortunately, a new trend in health consciousness has surfaced. Demands exerted by lay patients have forced the healing arts to include non-professionals in all decision-making which will effect the patient directly. Locally, organizations have been formed to show patient strength and concern pertaining to these decisions.

One such organization is known as the AMERICAN PATIENT ASSOCIATION, a Des Moines based group concerned with assuring that the patients voice is heard in all health care decisions. This group is attempting to insert lay persons into decision making boards in each specific health care regimen. These include licensing, health planning, federal funding, and fee schedules, just to name a few. The APA's influence has already been felt in the Des Moines area.

The American Patient Association should be commended for their efforts and accomplishments toward orienting both the patient and the physician on the practicality of health care delivery. It is a well known fact that most of the positive changes made in health care standards were instituted by patients. The APA is one organization already established within the community of health care delivery systems. It is mandatory that we support the APA to assure the most economically sound and most comprehensive health care possible.

It is no secret that the financial and political side of health care has many darkened corners controlled by the monopoly of political health providers. Consider that we spend more money than any other nation on health care and yet rank low on the list of the healthiest nations. It is even more ironical that with all the technical genius and sophisticated preparation our mortality rate is still shockingly high. It is time to back organizations, both financially and membership wise, such as the APA, to assure that some investigation of the present day health care systems will take place.

If it concerns you that health care costs have soared, research is collecting more than ever, and less health care is available then support the APA. Your contribution and membership is vitally needed.

Only recently did anyone dare to investigate the government proceedings at the level of the White House. Now the term Watergate refers to the daring few who demanded answers and reasons instead of arrogance and impersonal attitude. It is time to investigate and probe modern day health care systems. To do so in a organized fashion support the AMERICAN PATIENT ASSOCIATION a non-profit organization.

No energy crises on the Little League circuit with a lunch like this. Meat and vegetable stew, milk, an apple and Onion/Bacon Bread and butter — will help the batter-up put zing in the bat.

Batter Breads Are Time Savers

Batter breads have special appeal to anyone short on time. And they are an easy way for the novice bread baker to get acquainted with yeast baking. Batter breads eliminate kneading and usually mean only one rising time. The batter is just mixed, allowed to rise — and then baked.

The texture of batter bread is slightly coarser and the top of the bread is not as smooth and symmetrical as kneaded bread. But don't think they're poor cousins to kneaded dough. Such classics as Sally Lun and Brioche are batter breads.

The Bacon and Onion Batter Bread shown here is packed with good nutrition. Minced onion and crumbled bacon give it a tasty down-home flavor. But whether bread has extra ingredients — such as bacon and onion — added or not, it is an essential part of a balanced diet. The Test Kitchens of Fleischmann's Yeast tell us that "Bread and Cereals" are one of the four basic food groups that everybody should eat every day to stay healthy.

Whether you're feeding growing children or adults, four or more servings of whole grain, enriched or restored breads or cereals are recommended — along with the Milk, Meat and Vegetable-Fruit groups.

Enriched breads and cereals give us carbohydrates for energy; protein for growth and repair of body tissues; iron to help build rich red blood cells; thiamin (Vitamin B1), for normal appetite and digestion, a healthy nervous system and to help change sugar and starches into energy; riboflavin (Vitamin B2) which helps us use oxygen, and is important for a healthy skin; and niacin — another B vitamin — helps us use the energy in food.

BACON AND ONION BATTER BREAD

Makes 1 loaf

3 tablespoons instant minced onion
 1/4 cup warm water
 4 1/4 to 4 3/4 cups unsifted flour
 3 tablespoons sugar
 2 1/4 teaspoons salt
 2 packages Fleischmann's Active Dry Yeast
 1 cup milk
 3/4 cup water
 2 tablespoons bacon fat
 1/4 cup (about 8 strips) finely chopped cooked bacon

Combine minced onion and 1/4 cup warm water. Let stand 5 minutes.

In a large bowl thoroughly mix rehydrated onion, 2 cups flour, sugar, salt and undissolved active dry yeast.

Combine milk, 3/4 cup water and bacon fat. Heat over low heat until liquids are warm. Gradually add to dry ingredients and beat 2 minutes at medium speed of electric mixer, scraping bowl occasionally. Add 1/2 cup flour, or enough flour to make a thick batter. Beat at high speed 2 minutes, scraping bowl occasionally. Stir in bacon and enough additional flour to make a stiff batter. Beat until well blended. Cover; let rise in warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk, about 40 minutes.

Stir batter down. Beat vigorously, about 1/2 minute. Turn into a greased 9x5x3-inch loaf pan. Smooth out top of loaf by flouring hand and patting into shape.

Bake at 375 degrees F. about 50 minutes, or until done. Remove from pan and cool on wire rack. Cut into thin slices.

Comparing new assessments

The 1975 Real Estate Assessment rolls in Polk County are now being sent out, according to Jack E. Newell, Polk County Assessor. Beginning this year all property is assessed at 100 per cent of its value, says Newell.

To assist taxpayers in comparing their 1975 assessment with previous assessments, Newell offers the following procedures.

Residential Property - Polk County

STEP 1 - $20,000 - 100% value - 27% = $5400 taxable value on 1973 tax statement for taxes payable in 74 and 1st half 1975. Tax statement would indicate a $4900 taxable value if taxpayer had received military military $4900 + 500 = 5400. $750 if World War I.

STEP 2 - To determine increase, if any, multiply 5400x15%. The result would be the current or 1974 taxable value for the taxes payable beginning July 1, 1975 and ending June 30, 1976. The amount being in this case 5400x15% = 810 + 5400 = 6210. The 15% reflects the State ordered increase effective in 1974.

STEP 3 - The total value on the 1975 assessment roll is $25,380. Multiply this figure by 27%. The result would be 6855.

TO COMPARE: 6855 - 27% - 1975; 6210 - 27% - 1974; + 645 - 27% increase 75/74 + 10.39% increase in value.

PONY EXPRESS RAISE $119,300

To date, the volunteers of the Pony Express Riders of Iowa, Inc., have raised and contributed over $119,300 to Easter Seals' Camp Sunnyside as a result of their 1975 "Ride That Crippled Children Can Walk."

The figures were released by Rolfe Karlsson, executive director of the Easter Seal Society of Iowa, after the money collected in hundreds of milkcans, boots and Western hats on March 28 and 29 was officially tallied by employees of the Iowa Des Moines National Bank.

"Iowa's annual Pony Express ride is an unusual demonstration of personal concern and involvement," Karlsson said. "Despite gloomy economic forecasts, an ice storm and cold weather, thousands of volunteers participated to achieve this year's recordbreaking total. We have $119,382 now and expect funds to continue to come in for several more weeks."

Karlsson said that all of the money will be used to aid Iowans with physical and multiple handicaps through Easter Seal programs originating at Camp Sunnyside.

Divorce at 52

Dear Margaret Brookfield:

My husband has been confined to a mental institution for many years, and doctors say that he'll never come home again. Six months ago, I met a widower. We have talked about marriage. But, while there are no religious barriers to getting a divorce, I feel a moral obligation to stick by my husband "till death do us part," as I promised to do when we took our vows. I'm 52 and my two children are both married. Is there something wrong with me?

A.W.

Dear A.W.:

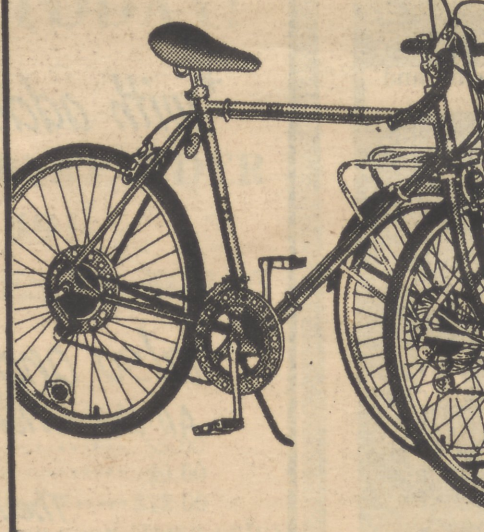

Unless scruples have suddenly gone out of style, there's nothing wrong with your reluctance to remarry under the circumstances. But your uncertainties may be due not only to guilt feelings about deserting your husband, but also to doubts about your prospective mate. Seek some counseling to help clarify the root of your problem before you make a decision.

Girls At Dowling, Really?

Are you tired yet? Are you tired of listening about the men in sports at Dowling? One would think that Dowling was still an all male school, but let me open your eyes. There are women here and they do, very actively may I add, participate in sports.

Martha Florence, Senior, is a good example of this. She has been participating in the women's basketball program for the past three years now and also is a two year letter person. At the present, Martha is an active participant on the women's track team. Might I add she is the only Black, female student at Dowling really into the sports curriculum.

Martha usually runs the 440 yard dash, the mile relay, and/or distance medly. Martha stated, "I went out for track simply because I enjoy the 'Thrill of Victory.' So far I had proved to be simply a member of the team so I went out this year with a new attitude, a feeling of wanting to accomplish something great, like going to state, and this is what I plan to set as my goal for this season. This year I'm working for myself to prove it to myself that I can exert some effort into something and come out with something to show for it."

All I can say is keep pushing Martha, and good luck for many relay to come.

North Central Provincial Meeting of Kappa Alpha Psi Held in Des Moines

Hubert McCatthen

The 1975 North Central Provincial Meeting of Kappa Alpha Psi Social Fraternity was held on Friday, April 4, 1975 and Saturday, April 5, 1975 at the Fort Des Moines Hotel which is located in Des Moines, Iowa. Despite the inclement weather which made travel extremely difficult approximately two hundred Kappas from Iowa, Illinois, Indiana, Minnesota and Wisconsin attended. The total number of persons in Des Moines for the Provincial was increased by the attendance of many Kappa spouses and sweethearts as well as children. Provincial activities were centered around fraternity business, the twenty-fifth anniversary of the Des Moines Alumni Chapter, and "Kappa - The Economic Crisis - Affirmative Action."

Fraternity business was highlighted by the election of provincial officers and the selection of the "Distinguished Kappa." The officers who were elected are: Westley Chapman, Senior Vice Polemarch, Des Moines Alumni Chapter; Harold Polk, Junior Vice Polemarch, Evansville Alumni Chapter; Charles Green, Keeper of Records and Exchequer, Fort Wayne Alumni Chapter; Winfrey Pierce, Strategus Beta Omicron, Du Val Bailey, Lt. Strategus, Delta Phi; Lawrence Braughton, Historian, Waukegan Alumni Chapter; Leroy Walker, Reporter, East St. Louis Alumni Chapter. The Graduate Board Members who were elected were: Dr. Fred Kimbrough, East St. Louis Alumni Chapter; Arnold Miller, Peoria Alumni Chapter; William Miller, Evansville Alumni Chapter; and Robert Williams, Indianapolis Alumni Chapter. The Undergraduate Board members who were elected were: James Bolden, Beta Omicron and Albert Chessar, Theta. The chairperson of the Nominating Committee for the Distinguished Kappa award was Brother John Magma of the Provincial Polemarch Dr. Floyd Campbell. In background is Kappa Alpha Psi Founder Edward Irving.

East St. Louis Alumni Chapter and the nominees for the award were: Westley Chapman, Des Moines Alumni Chapter; Charles Green, Ft. Wayne Alumni Chapter; Charles Bellups, East St. Louis Alumni Chapter; Dr. Charles Pentecosta, Chicago Heights Alumni Chapter; and Fredrick Green, Indianapolis Alumni Chapter. The Distinguished Kappa Award was made to Westley Chapman. East of the above-mentioned brothers were presented to the body at the closed banquet and appropriate recognition was given by Fraternity Founder Edward Irving.

The twenty-fifth anniversary of the Des Moines Alumni Chapter was commemorated at the closed banquet with recognition of this achievement by Dr. Floyd Campbell and the presentation of plaques to the four remaining chapter founders by Brother Irving. The four remaining founders of the Des Moines Alumni Chapter are: Brother James B. Morris, Jr., Brother Lawrence Oliver, Brother Jim Thompson, and Brother Frank Holbert. The current members of the Des Moines Alumni Chapter are: James E. Bowman; Leslie J. Boyd; Udell Cason, Jr.; Westley S. Chapman; Albert E. Collier; Monroe J. Colston; Dr. Julius S. Conner; William N. White; and Robert A. Wright, Sr.

The provincial theme of "Kappa - The Economic Crisis - Affirmative Action" was developed and expanded upon through the speech at the Undergraduate Luncheon, the speech at the Closed Banquet and the Kappa Placement Center. The speech at the Undergraduate Luncheon by Brother Westley Chapman emphasized the role of the Kappa undergraduate and an everchanging society. Brother Chapman emphasized mental and physical preparation, task dedication, and perseverance. The closed banquet keynote speaker who was Brother James Bowman stressed black social, political and intellectual awareness as well as active black involvement in solving the highly complex problems of the black community. The Kappa Placement Center featured the recruitment activities of the following companies: Syntex Agri Business, Inc.; American Republic Insurance Company; Iowa Power and Light Company; Northwestern Bell Telephone Company; Ruan Transport Company; I.B.M.; the Des Moines Public School System; Equitable of Iowa; Blue Cross-Blue Shield Insurance Company; the Action and Peace Corps; and Executive Opportunities, Inc. of Los Angeles, California.

Equal Rights Amendment

(This column is presented by Forest Hospital in Des Plaines, Illinois, one of the foremost hospitals devoted to the care of the mentally ill. Forest Hospital is a fully-accredited 150-bed psychiatric hospital widely known for its intensive programs in psychiatric treatment, research, education and community service.)

"Neither the United States or any of the states shall abridge the rights of citizens because of sex."

The rest of the Equal Rights Amendment (ERA) states that Congress shall have the power to enforce this, and that the amendment will go into effect within two years after its ratification by 38 states.

"More and more women in particular and people in general have come to see that we do have legitimate complaints," said Dr.
Pauline Bart, Associate Professor with the Department of Psychiatry, Abraham Lincoln School of Medicine at the University of Illinois, Professor in the Department of Sociology and a staunch supporter of ERA.
"These complaints can be met by certain changes that we think will benefit the entire society."

"In some areas, it looks from the outside like changes are already being made without passage of the amendment," she said. "For instance, in the education setting, one gets the impression that the universities are hiring more women. Actually, they have let women go first and merely replaced them with new women, so there's not really a general increase.
However, where we have made a lot of progress is in the increasing growth and popularity of the courses on sex roles and on women's studies. In my own case, I think I'm taken a lot more seriously now, and I've even been appointed to certain local and state committees."

"One thing that disturbs me about the opponents of the amendment," said Dr.
Ann Seiden, Director of Research for the Institute for Juvenile Research at the University of Illinois and Assistant Professor and Coordinator of Research Education for the Department of Psychiatry at the Abraham Lincoln School of Medicine, "is that they have used mental health grounds to speak against it, grounds quite unsubstantiated. For instance, it's been claimed by some opponents that one of the effects will be to destroy the structure of the family. I think the opposite is true. I believe that, in several very important ways, the passage of ERA will be strongly supportive of the structure of the family and mental health in general."

"The oppositions' alternative to ERA is that women are better off now because women are protected by certain kinds of protective legislation that would be illegal under ERA.
That legislation isn't very effectively protective, if at all. By and large, it's only protective of middle class women, who are also restricted by it. These are laws restricting working overtime, whether one wants to or not, enforcing maternity leave, whether one wants it or not, restricting lifting heavy weights, whether one is able to or not. They work to the disadvantage of the freedom of women to get particular jobs that they want," said

Dr. Seiden.

"Of course, with ERA," said Dr. Seiden, "women would be subject to the draft if it returns. If women want equal rights, that should mean they would be willing to make equal contributions.
And, certainly, Congress would still have the right to make exemptions to the draft for physical or parental—for both sexes—
reasons."

"One good thing about our modern society," said Dr.
Bart, "is that the men are now getting in contact with their own nurturance needs, their own needs for gentleness, for kindness, for what were considered traditional female traits."

"Yes," said Dr. Seiden,
"we've all been victims of sex roles that have cut both males and females out of many pleasures, such as the care of children, as well as responsibilities. I'd like to see 50 percent of the kindergarten teachers be men. Of course, I'd also like to see 50 percent of the physicians, lawyers and Supreme Court justices be women."

"One thing women can do for themselves," said Dr.
Bart, "is learn to be tough
when it comes to, say, job discrimination. I was refused a job because I was the mother of small children,
even though my husband, who shared equally in their upbringing, would never be refused for being the father of small children."

"I've since decided I would handle such situations by coming back in a tough sort of way. I'd say, incredulously, 'Would you repeat that! Are you serious? Do you ask that kind of question of men?' I'd cite my previous job record as proof of my ability. I'd come across as confident, as someone who had a right to be there asking for that job that I was well qualified for.
We women too often suffer from a slightly apologetic feeling, like 'Gee, it's nice of you to even be considering me.' We have to be tough to make the world what we want it to be for us."

By Allen Ashby

So Lee Elder didn't last too long in the Masters. I admired the way he insisted that he was just another golfer, and that there really wasn't any pressure on him because he was the first black in the thing. But you know he had to be cognizant of that after all the ink he got as just that. I recall a long time ago when a young black wrestler was the first to enter in a state wrestling meet. I think that if there had been much of a fuss about that, the fellow would have fallen flat on his face. But he had the element of surprise going for him. When he entered the meet, nobody gave a thought to his color, since all wrestlers were white. So when he walked out for his first match, his opponent nearly had a heart attack. Well, the guy won the title in his class, but I wonder what he would have done if he had been announced. Too bad Elder couldn't have slipped into the thing unheralded.

The visit of former heavyweight boxing champ Joe Louis here set people to wondering how he would have fared with Muhammad Ali. Well, I always figured that one of Ali's best weapons is his ability to make his opponent so mad he can't fight his best. I don't think that would have worked on Joe. The Mouth might have won, or he may not have, but he would have had to fight all the way, no matter who won. I don't think that Marciano could have beaten the guy because he has the knack of preparing for his foe's best act and countering it. I am sure he would have been ready for Rocky's barrage of punches on the arms. Conn would have had tough luck, because the big one is an excellent boxer when he wants to do it, and he would have held his own with Billy and probably kayoed him late in the fight. The way Marciano could be cut, Ali would have sliced him like a tomato, and maybe got the fight stopped. For that matter, I don't think Marciano would have had a chance with the Joe Louis of the middle thirties.

Next week, The Relays.

Do you know, the Drake Relays are just around the corner? This year they are installing Clyde Duncan in the Relays Hall of Fame. I don't think he would have ever thought this would happen to him, and because he was always so unassuming, I am glad for him. If I get to this one, it ought to be at least the fiftieth one I have watched. The track is a far cry from the old cinder path that used to be the running surface, and the sawdust jumping pits. Times do change. There are so many black athletes in the thing now, that it would take a whole column just to list the names, and then you might miss a few.

The High Schools Are Off

The Valley Relays always sets off the local and maybe the central part of the state Track season. And the boys from Tech High seem to have a fine team this year. They are sure to be one of the leading contenders for state honors. And there is another Duncan to take up for the family that seems to spell runners. Ricardo Duncan can run. Anybody who runs a nine-eight hundred can fly. And according to reports, the Engineers didn't have their best relay combination in there because they wanted to split up their guys to win the meet. So it looks as if we will be seeing the Tech boys coming home in front at the Relays this year. North and East ought to be coming along too, although I hear that East's best bet is cross country meets. Now I have to wonder who the tennis players besides North's Tindrell are. Maybe that is all. This should be the year Reggie Morrow makes his move to break into the top ranking around here. Maybe he might do it.

More Tennis

And while we are on the subject of tennis, there is this big meet on a downtown parking lot the last week end in May. Players have to qualify to get to play in the thing, since there will be only sixteen teams of mixed doubles. So they plan to have sixteen qualifying meets with the winners meeting on the lot. In the meet I expect to have, I shall have the contestants furnish their own balls, since the thing has no entry fee or any other expense. Maybe I will get my blanks so I can get them out pretty quick. I can't think of any black mixed doubles teams around here who would have much of a chance, but it will probably be fun.

One Week Late. Last week Pat Marshall informed me that Maple Street Baptist girls had whopped the day lights out of their opponents and moved one step nearer to the league championship. Keep it up, kids, and let me know how you come out. They did. Last week it was 45 to 30 over Central Christian, and this week it was 53 to 30 over University Place. Pat says they have one game left, but he thinks they have the title wrapped up. Congrats, Kids, and coaches.

Manego Basketball Coach At Suno.

Dr. Emmett W. Bashful, vice president of Southern University in New Orleans, announces the appointment of Cirilo Manego as head basketball coach at SUNO, effective July 1, 1975.

In announcing the appointment, Dr. Bashful noted that "Coach Manego understands the philosophy of athletics at Southern University. He represents the type of character that we want to see our coach possess. It is the university's desire that the proper blend will exist between athletics and scholarship. We feel that Coach Manego is the right person to support this philosophy."

Manego will bring to the job 14 years of coaching experience at St. Augustine's High School in New Orleans, with four years spent as head basketball coach. Before assuming the head coaching position, he had served two years as junior varsity basketball coach, 7 years as assistant basketball coach, and eight years as baseball coach.

Manego feels that a "winning attitude" is critical to developing a winning team and that a winning team is necessary for high student and player morale.

The coach believes that attitude is extremely important, suggesting that "so-called small colleges can beat the large institutions if they have the right attitude. But it is necessary to think big and think success."

In assessing prospects for the future for the Black Knights, Manego stated that SUNO has a good academic program, and he wishes to help the school improve its athletic program. "I know the boys with talent on the local scene. The key is for us to get our share of the local talent."

Save gas on vacation trips

The AAA Motor Club of Iowa states that advance trip planning can be a vital tool in helping to conserve millions of gallons of gasoline. Pleasure rides, visits to friends, relatives and other social and recreational trips, along with vacations, consume 382 million gallons of gasoline nationally each week. Trips of this kind are not luxuries, but the Motor Club believes they are of a nature which allows for some easy savings in fuel consumption, without depriving anyone of the leisure activities so important to physical and psychological well-being.

You can begin to save gasoline in this category by first taking a good look at your vacation plans. This might be a good year to vacation in an area where you won't need a car as much to get around at your destination - a large metropolitan area, a beach or mountain resort, for example. Also, if you will be driving to your vacation location, look into sight-seeing services offered locally for your transportation needs while there.

The AAA Club also suggests combining a motoring vacation, if you know some friends who are planning a trip to the same area at the same time. Your mileage budget could be adjusted upward to include longer trips if you are able to decrease the use of gasoline proportionally by combining your trip with friends.

For social driving, think twice before setting out on those spur-of-the-moment local pleasure rides to see friends and relatives.

Ironworker Apprentice

Ernest Martin

Ernest D. Martin, of 1126 Twenty-fifth Street pictured above, is a third year Ironworker apprentice who works for Northwest Erection Services, Inc. of 818 Southwest Ninth Street. Dwayne Van Ort, Northwest President said, "Ernest has been working for us for about a year and a half and has the potential to become a foreman after he gets his journeyman book."

He graduated from Ames High School in 1964 and after working on several jobs, including building construction, decided to become an ironworker apprentice in 1973. In addition to working on the job Monday through Friday, he attends six hours of related classroom training each Saturday where among other things he has learned welding and blueprint reading.

Ernest said he is glad he entered into a trade apprenticeship since it has enabled him to experience a degree of independence and also affords him the means to make a good living. As a member of Ironworkers Local No. 67, he is also learning about labor unions and what their role is.

Ernest Martin is a good example of the growing number of minorities who are working in various crafts in the Des Moines area construction industry.

Bike Marathon Opens D. Relays

The Drake University Relays Committee will open the 1975 campus Relays activities with a bike marathon Saturday, April 19. The 25-mile course will be a 1.7-mile route in the campus area.

Registration will begin at noon at the south entrance of Meredith Hall, 28th Street and Carpenter Avenue, according to Frank Spurny of Chicago, senior in Drake's College of Liberal Arts and this year's marathon chairman.

Des Moines television personality Bill Riley, president of the Iowa Bike Trail Association, will ride in the marathon, Spurny said.

Any interested bike rider may enter the 15-lap marathon, and each rider, according to Spurny, will invite sponsors to make contributions for the construction of bike trails in the greater Des Moines area. Plaques will be awarded to the two who raise the most money. Last year, more than $1,000 was collected by Relays' marathon riders.

Further information about the marathon is available by calling Spurny, 271-3461 or 271-3711.
