Eight Schools Close To Further Minority Makeup

"Meet Your School Board Candidates"

An Open Forum will be held at Willkie House featuring the candidates for the Des Moines School Board on Tuesday evening, September 4 at 7:30.

This is your opportunity to tell the candidates what kind of education you desire your children to have. The candidates will discuss their ideas for improving the quality of education in our schools.

A question period will follow so that the public can have the opportunity of asking the candidate what their plans are for dealing with any specific issues concerning our schools.

The following candidates will be at Willkie House: Harry-Bert Wagoner Jr., Robert Stecker, Merle F. Schlamp, John McCaw, Francis E. Keith, William J. Kauzlarich, Betty Grundgerg, Nolden Gentry, Larry A. Forbes, Robert Ewurs, George G. Caudill, Shirley Brown and Charles H. Betts, Jr. Babysitting will be provided free. Please call Barbara Weisner, director of Willkie House at 243-7817 if you will be using this service so we can make adequate provisions. Everyone is invited to attend.

News Briefs

WASHINGTON, D.C. — On Wednesday, Sept. 3, the members of the first session of the 94th Congress are scheduled to reconvene after their summer recess. Money for education, new protections for consumers, food stamps, city preservation and voting rights are some of the issues that await them when they return.

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Clarence Mitchell, legislative chairman of the Leadership Conference on Civil Rights has been invested with a new national responsibility. He has been named one of the five U.S. Representatives to the United Nations. He assumes his new post September 1.

ANKENY, Ia. — Voters in the Des Moines Area Community College district will all be asked to vote Sept. 9 on the district-wide capital improvement tax. In addition, voters living within the local school districts that make up director districts 2, 6 and 9 within the college district will also elect a director to the college board.

Poses With Powells

WASHINGTON, D.C.

Geared to the theme "The Black Lawyer, His Past, and His Future," the National Bar Association, which was organized in Des Moines, Iowa celebrated its 50th anniversary in Washington, D.C. August 18-23.

On the cover of the official program was printed the photographs of each of the twelve organizers: G. R. Woodson, G. E. Rush, J. B. Morris, G. C. Adams, S. J. Brown, J. N. Baker, C. H. Calloway, W. Green, W. Haynes, C. P. Howard, Sr., L. A. Knox and C. F. Straford.

All are deceased except James B. Morris, Sr. who was a special guest of the convention and was honored with a permanent seat on the platform of each session.

Sessions

Sessions consisted of seminars covering international law, government lawyers, criminal law, taxation, domestic relations and other subjects which were chaired by distinguished lawyers, among whom were William T. Coleman, Jr., secretary of transportation, Harold Tyler, deputy U. S. attorney general and Charles B.

Rangel, U. S. Representative from New York City. On August 18, Hon. Walter E. Washington, mayor of the District of Columbia officially welcomed the Bar to the city.

In the course of his remarks, Tyler said, "I am painfully aware that progress in the federal government for the black lawyer is not what it should be."

Board policy limits minority enrollment

The administrative rules on assignment of pupils to schools under a Board of Education policy limiting minority enrollment to no more than 50 per cent were announced recently by the Des Moines Public School System.

The policy, adopted by the Board of Education at its August 5 meeting, set up several categories at which the upper limit of minority enrollment was to be maintained.

As a result of that policy, seven elementary and one junior high school were immediately closed to further minority enrollments except for kindergarten pupils. The schools are Casady, Dunlap, Edmunds, King, Logan, Longfellow and Moulton elementary and Irving junior high. Minority pupils living in the attendance areas of those schools will be assigned to other schools. Transportation will be provided to the receiving schools.

Check on Minority Enrollment

Wesley Chapman, director of Intercultural Affairs for the Des Moines Public Schools, said the minority makeup of schools will be checked again September 12 and at the start of each semester after that. When a school reaches the upper limits of minority enrollment in its category, it will be closed to additional minority pupils, except for kindergarten pupils.

Administrators of the Des Moines Public Schools will designate the attendance centers to which pupils will be assigned under the new rules. Applications for school assignments under the rules will be processed by the building principal in the home attendance area.

23 Receiving Schools

Receiving schools designated for the eight closed schools are: Casady — Monroe, Moore and Rice; Dunlap — Howe, Jackson and Watrous; Edmunds — Hanawalt and Windsor; King — Moore, Samuelson and Woodlawn; Logan — Adams, Douglas and Garton; Longfellow — Greenwood, Hillis and Hubbell; Moulton — Jefferson, Madison and Wright; Irving — Brody, Meredith and Merrill.

School officials said they will try to assign all children from the same family to the same receiving school.

A change also was made in the open enrollment policy and the voluntary transfer program.

Accident Reporting Changes

AMES, IOWA — The Iowa Department of Transportation reminds Iowa motorists that 2 changes in the accident reporting requirements relating to motor vehicle accidents became effective August 15, 1975.

In the past, motorists involved in a property damage accident with less than $100 damage were not required to file a report with the Office Drivers License. Under the new regulations, effective August 15, this limit increases to $250 before a report must be filed.

The second change to the reporting requirements extends the maximum time limit within which an accident report must be filed with the Office of Drivers License from the present 24 hours to 72 hours.

These changes were enacted by the last session of the Iowa Legislature and became effective August 15. Failure to comply with these liberalized requirements would result in suspension of an operator's license or, if a non-resident, suspension of privileges to operate a motor vehicle in Iowa.

"We Won't Be Chased Away"

All Glenda and Tony Spencer wanted to do was live a peaceful life in the suburbs. As Tony put it, "We haven't been in America long enough yet to make enemies." Yet their home in Rosedale, Long Island, New York has been bombed repeatedly, and they told September McCall's how they and their children are weathering the storm. In spite of it all, Glenda and Tony agree that "We Won't Be Chase Away." (McCall's Magazine)

Sorry, But Not Easy To Take

The administrators of the refugee program are finding it more difficult than formerly anticipated to locate refugees still waiting in the camps. Disappointed with this turn of events, President Ford has asked the states to take some of these refugees rather than work through the agency set up to administer the program.

Iowa was asked to take 1,000, but skeptical because of the unemployment situation, the understanding is that the goal will possibly be 500.

I have sympathy for these people, many of whom had no reason to leave their home in the first place. On the other hand, some of these refugees are faring better than blacks and are enjoying opportunities for which they have fought for 100 years. For instance a TV news item reported that refugee doctors, who are being settled in Nebraska, are housed in the dormitories of the University of Nebraska and yet Negro students only enjoyed these privileges after the second World War. It is true also in some employment areas.

Ironically, some Iowa towns, which heretofore practically excluded blacks from even stopping in them are welcoming some refugees with open arms. I take this position, not that these people who were brought to this country for safety, should be dealt other than as human beings but it does seem rather ludicrous that religion has now struck some of our communities.

I say all of this to emphasize that America, the great democracy it is, needs to clean up its dirty linen with regard to its citizens regardless of the color of their skin.

Blacks Should Participate

Last week, on the Today Show appeared a panel of three men who discussed "Should Blacks Participate in the Bicentennial Celebration." They were the senior editor of Ebony Magazine, a minister who had served 34 years as pastor of a New York Baptist Church and director of the Urban League. I was not surprised as the editor led off with a resounding blast at the treatment of blacks since the founding of the country, stating that they were not included in the Declaration of Independence or the early laws created governing the country. He said that blacks had nothing for which to be thankful.

The other panelists stated that there have been injustices but on the other hand cited instances of great progress blacks have made during the years and the existence of opportunities for them to further their position. They also stated that blacks should be on the inside of plans and celebrations so as to know what is going on and how to prepare to meet the issues as they come up rather than stand on the outside waiting to complain about situations as programs all being carried out.

I fully agree with the majority of the panel.

Disregard For The Law And The Public

Today, strikers no longer attempt to obey the injunctions forbidding strikes. They insist on no punishment for having ignored court orders as a condition for settlement of the strikes. It is just another type of disregard for law and order and no different from the man who steals from your pocket.

Miners in the West Virginia coal fields are on strike. They are demanding the court injunctions be done away with and no punishment dealt out for disobeying an order of the court.

The time has come when too many workers give no consideration but to themselves and courts have upheld them.

Financial difficulties that many of the large cities suffer are due, to a great extent, to the demands of pressure groups which add to the costs of the government without regard to whether the cities are financially able to afford the demands.

Unfortunately, when times were good the pinch was not heavy and these cities failed to make provisions for rainy days, like many families fail to do.

Maybe the day will come when people will not use their almost unlimited liberty to do what they please rather than settle differences at conferences over the table.

OIC Head presses Congress for jobs

Rev. Leon Sullivan has urged Congressmen to use the current recess to assess their grassroots constituency's opinions about the need for reform in CETA (Comprehensive Employment Training Act) legislation.

Founder-chairman of the Opportunities Industrialization Center (OIC) of America and a member of the President's National Manpower Policy Commission, Sullivan has recommended an amendment to Title VI of CETA, dealing with public service employment.

He also proposes that the bill be amended to provide for utilization of community based organizations such as OIC in job creation projects such as rehabilitation of the inner city housing, removal of urban blight, and revitalization of rural poverty areas.

Sullivan adds that a coalition of Democrat and Republican Congressmen is needed to help relieve the rising unemployment crisis. He praised the proposals of Congressman Marvin L. Esch, highest ranking Republican on the House Manpower Subcommittee, which includes "a plan to develop a more effective mechanism to fully utilize the community based organizations to meet the needs of the inner cities as well as concentrate on youth unemployment, unemployed teachers, and providing major incentives to private enterprise to hire and train disadvantaged and dislocated workers.

letter to the editor Absence of adult guidance affects youths

TO THE EDITOR:

One facet of this summer stands out in my mind: Black adults who bewail the actions of the younger brothers and sisters who frequent various Des Moines street corners are not upholding the need to be, committed and responsible to those young people.

And those who have taken the time to even think about our younger brothers and sisters have seen that youthful idleness and frustration result when adult guidance — on the Black side — is absent, when relevant activities, programs and meaningful recreation are absent, and when adults cannot or will not seek to rectify the conditions that make our own young brothers and sisters take to the streets.

To whom can the younger brothers and sisters turn for fruitful projects and activities? When adults turn their backs on younger brothers and sisters and retire to their own attempts at partying, what else can the younger brother and sister do

Goodlett Urges Crusades At SCLC, NATRA Meets

By Pricilla Hancock

BALTIMORE (NNPA) — In two major addresses last week, Dr. Carlton B. Goodlett, president of the National Newspaper Publishers Association (NNPA) — the Black Press of America — urges massive crusades for the development of a crisis-free economic system and the furtherance of black-owned radio and TV stations.

He was speaking before the 18th annual convention of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC) in Anniston, Ala., and later before the 20th annual convention of the National Association of Television and Radio Announcers (NATRA) meeting here.

Black Press Dominates

Goodlett, a medical doctor, who publishes the San Francisco Sun-Reporter/Metro-Reporter, told NATRA delegates that people who are struggling for freedom and dignity must have their own mass communications media. "Only the Black Press," he continued, "is solely black-owned with 220 to 250 newspapers in over 100 cities."

"How is it that black-owned newspapers and magazines have thrived, while there has been black ownership participation in radio of only 3 per cent — and no participation in television ownership?" Goodlett asked.

"It must be laid at the doorstep of the legislative and executive branches of the federal government: Congress has passed legislation and the FCC has interpreted it so as to favor the white radio broadcasters who serve the white majority. . . . Only 33 of the nation's 7,000-plus radio licenses are owned by blacks — and no blacks own any of the approximately 800 television stations," he said.

Must Mount Crusade

Blacks must mount a campaign to control the air space in the black ghettos. . . . If blacks fail to gain control of the ghetto airwaves and cannot determine the content of programming, better there be silence in the black ghettos! the NNPA head argued.

"Blacks must prepare now for a massive crusade, involving, if necessary, systematic jamming of all white-owned black-oriented stations! They must create such havoc until they bring to bear upon the except to get off on a crap game?

When adults who are members of organizations refuse or cannot set up modern — and popular — forms of stimulation that those organizations have been established to provide, what else can the young do except stand on the corner?

Some would say that these young people are troublemakers. But what do you have to offer as viable alternatives to rocks and bottles?

At least rocks and bottles provide excitement. But they also bring on the police. It is a sorry black Des Moines community that allows the police to provide entertainment for our future generations.

During the 1960s, the Black Panthers sponsored programs and plays, and during the early 1970s, we who called ourselves writers and artists also helped to produce cultural festivals in Good Park.

Many of us say we are committed to the struggle, but what are we doing to illustrate that commitment? Perhaps all our energies to the struggle dried up with the fires of the 1960s.

But that is no excuse. As black creators, have we forgotten that we should be committed to nurturing positivity, maturity and unity in our younger brothers and sisters?

That well seems to be the case.

Save Fuel and Dollars Be A Gas Watcher

The AAA Motor Club of Iowa suggests that you be a GAS WATCHER; it conserves your air, your fuel, and your dollars.

Motor Club of Iowa officials say that there are three important areas to concentrate upon in order to achieve the Gas Watchers goal of making 5 gallons of gasoline do the work of 6 gallons. And, AAA points out you'll be saving yourself money at the same time.

The three emphasis areas are your car, your driving and your on-the-road habits. The following driving tips will help you make five gallons do the work of six and will make you a successful GAS WATCHER:

Tips that affect your car:

- * Keep the engine in tune.
- Check plugs, points, fuel and air filters and emission control devices.

- * Keep tires inflated to the maximum recommended pressure.

- * Prevent gas-tank overflow by not filling it to the neck.

Tips that affect your driving:

- * The most economical speed varies from car to car. Therefore, find and maintain the moderate, legal speed that is best for your vehicle.

- * Accelerate smoothly and gradually - fast "getaways" eat gas.

- * Maintain a steady speed as traffic permits.

- * Anticipate traffic signals to minimize stop-and-go driving.

- * Build up speed before reaching an up-hill grade, not on it.

- * Turn off the engine if you must park for more than a minute.

- * Reduce long warm-ups by driving slowly rather than idling a cold engine.

Tips that affect your on-the-road planning:

- * Select the optimum route in terms of distance and type of highway.

- * Combine short trips, such as visits, errands and shopping.

- * Travel light and avoid using a car-top rack. The less weight and wind resistance the better the mileage.

- * Reduce the use of air conditioning.

The energy related economic crisis is here and will continue to be with us for a long time. Motor Club of Iowa officials urge Iowa drivers to adopt gas saving habits now and continue to practice them in the future. It is in the best interest of our country and our own pocketbook.

and sober remarks. Ali sat next to Morris, exchanged conversations and signed a personal note to Morris on his program.

To Maintain Headquarters

Charles P. Howard, Jr., retiring president of the Association, presided at the meetings and announced that grants totaling several thousand dollars had been made to the organization which would enable the maintenance of a permanent headquarters in the District of Columbia and publication of a brochure which will be sent to each of the members periodically.

James Jesse Deadmon, Jr. and William S. Thompson, both of the District of Columbia, were respectively chairman and honorary chairman of the convention.

Among the delegates to the convention were Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Welbican of Cincinnati, Ohio, the son-in-law and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Proctor of Des Moines, Mrs. Dora Drew of Washington, D. C., formerly of Des Moines and Mrs. Christopher Arnold formerly of West Des Moines, an attorney in the Defense Department were guests of Morris at the convention.

The 1976 convention will be held in Houston, Texas.

Wildfire Danger

With the extended dry conditions during the past 30 days, the wildfire danger in Iowa has increased considerably according to Roy Hatcher, protection forester for the Iowa Conservation Commission. Dry weather combined with the lush growth of vegetation this spring, makes it ideal for a potentially high wildfire hazard.

Campers and picnickers should be careful when using fire outdoors. Be sure that your cooking fires are placed where

ANGER, FRUSTRATION, HOPELESSNESS, IS THE PICTURE THAT EMERGES OVER THE LAST TWO MONTHS.

United Increases Purchases From Minority Firms

United Airlines spent $1.3 million for goods and services from minority business firms in the first half of 1975, compared to $377,000 during the same period last year.

Warren E. Alberts, vice president - system operating services, said United's minority purchases were made from some 185 firms of more than 400 contacted by the company and amounted to 87 per cent of the airline's full year goal of $1.5 million.

"The increased amount of business with minority firms results from expanded efforts to identify minority suppliers capable of providing goods and services at competitive prices," Alberts said. We are hopeful of reaching $2 million in purchases from minority companies by the end of the year.

The airline's effort to increase the amount of business with minority groups is conducted through the Minority Vendor Purchasing Program and the Minority Construction Program.

The purchasing program was established in early 1974 to help the airline meet its obligations for affirmative action in minority affairs by increasing its businesses with minority-owned firms.

Martin E. Innes, vice president - purchasing, defined such minority-owned companies as having at least 50 per cent ownership by minority groups, including black Americans, American Indians, Spanish Americans, Oriental Americans, Eskimos and Aleuts.

"The program began as a corporate effort including there is no chance of it spreading to surrounding vegetation. Never leave a fire unattended. Be sure the fire is completely out before leaving it. When using county or state areas, use only those designated for fire use. Smokers should be careful to use their ash trays when driving and to extinguish all smokes in the out-of-doors, before disposing of it.

Last year, over 1,000 acres of forest, grasslands and cropland were burned in Iowa due to the careless use of fire in the out-of-doors. Please remember—"Only You Can Prevent Wildfires."

nation's conscience the seriousness of their needs and demands and force her to deal with them," Goodlett said...

"True, there are risks; many will go to jail; but better to languish in jail than ignore the shackles of racism and passively acquiesce to a government in cahoots with a racist white industrial combine which denies to blacks the basic ingredient to survival: The control of their own communications media," he declared.

In closing, Goodlett called for closer cooperation between members of the black press and blacks in radio and television to "be the guardians of Black America and expose all forms and practices which exploit the black communities in the radio (black-oriented and white), television and the press."

SCLC Message

"The Search For a New Economy" was the theme of Goodlett's address before SCLC. "If we are to save ourselves from a cycle of recurring economic crisis which have exploded upon the capitalist world scene in the last 20 to 24 months," he said, many economists feel that the U.S. economic and political practices must move toward a social democracy comparable to the Scandinavian countries."

Continuing, Goodlett added, "...Abernathy has moved SCLC's frontiers across the seas into the world peace movement, and as chairman of the International Commission Against Racism, Neo-Colonialism and Apartheid, SCLC's leader is in the vanguard of millions who struggle against all economic, social and political manifestations of racism."

"When SCLC, in the embodiment of King, began to speak pragmatically of utilizing religious commitments in the destruction of economic and political racism, King fell victim to the greed of a society which worshipped economic rights more than it cherished human rights. Brethren, after 112 years of blight upon the black experience, does the truth not dawn upon us as it has upon the black masses — that the nation needs a change in its social, economic and political direction?" Goodlett asked.

"We must move this nation toward a democratic socialist society, a symbiosis between capitalism and socialism with democratic form of government where the people have the right to vote and change their government, to bring about public ownership of public utilities, transportation, banks, mass industries, and government control of minimum essentials required for equalizing the opportunities of all people to enjoy the benefits of democracy," he told the cheering crowd.

Happiness Through Health

PIPE SMOKING HARMFUL TO YOUR HEALTH?

Contrary to findings of some American studies, a new Swedish study has shown that pipe smoking is as "dangerous" as cigarette smoking and the risk of lung cancer for those who smoke both pipe and cigarettes is greater than for cigarette smokers only.

The study, covering 27,000 men and 27,000 women, is a follow-up to a nationwide Swedish study made in 1963. Conducted by Drs. Rune Cederlof and Lars Friberg of the department of environmental hygiene of the Karolinska Institute in Stockholm, the study includes data on Swedes between 18 and 69.

It showed that the risk of death from cardiovascular-related causes are somewhat lower for pipesmokers than for cigarette smokers. However, the risk of death from lung cancer was equally high for both groups.

Among people who smoke both pipes and cigarettes, the risk rate of lung cancer is 10.9; this compares with lung cancer risk rate of 7.0 for cigarette smokers. The highest risk of all—28.8—is found among those who smoke a pipe in combination with more than 15 cigarettes a day.

NEW VACCINE AGAINST GONORRHEA

For the first time, a vaccine has offered "substantial" protection against gonorrhea, a venereal disease that has reached epidemic proportions in the nation and around the world, according to Dr. Charles C. Brinton, Jr., a microbiologist at the University of Pittsburgh.

Brinton said that in its limited trial on humans, the new vaccine gave the two volunteers who took it 40 times more protection against gonorrhea than three volunteers had who were not given the vaccine but were also exposed to the disease. He estimated that without the vaccine a person who has sexual contact with a gonorrhea carrier runs a 1 in 3 risk of getting the disease; with the vaccine the risk is 1 in 100.

Brinton estimated that eight months to a year of further research is needed before the vaccine is ready for large-scale human trials. Nevertheless this is believed to be the most encouraging finding to date in the fight against gonorrhea, one of the most common infectious diseases.

There were an estimated 3 million cases in the United States last year and 35 million around the world. While it is easily treated with antibiotics, many people have gonorrhea without knowing it.

Dr. Brinton said that as many as half the men and 80 per cent of the women with gonorrhea do not show any symptoms of the disease. They can, however, pass it on through sexual contact and, if they don't treat it, suffer complications such as eye infections, arthritis and sterility.

INFECTIONS FROM PET BITES AND SCRATCHES

Dog and cat bites can cause serious infections in humans, according to a recent article in the Journal of the American Medical Association. The danger of rabies from animal bites is well known, as are the injuries from these bites. But infections caused by a bacterium called pasteurella multocida are rarely reported because they are apparently overlooked.

Some 600,000 domestic animal bites are reported but authorities estimate there may be as many as 2 million since not all are reported. Cats are responsible for 76 per cent of the inflicted wounds and dogs accounted for the rest of the patients studied by the researchers. Even healthy cats and dogs harbor the bacteria in their mouths. In almost all cases studied, the infection cleared up with antibiotic treatment.

Jackson Seeks Black Voters In The North

WASHINGTON (CNS)—Sen. Henry (Scoop) Jackson-D. Washington, will seek the office of president by campaigning among black voters, in the northern industrial cities and leaving the south to Gov. George Wallace of Alabama, if they want him, the senator told reporters forthrightly last week.

Speaking candidly to a no-hold barred session with Black reporters in his senate office, Jackson declared, "I am going to beat Wallace in the north, where the election is going to be won... I am not going down into his turf to campaign."

Jackson conceded that he may be gambling on a long shot with his strategy for the Black vote, but added, "look at the record... I've voted for every civil rights bill and major social legislation since I have been in the senate. No one can beat my record..."

He added "I am now where Jack Kennedy was in 1960... before he made that famous call to Martin Luther King. The black voters don't know me. But, when they do, I'll be alright."

Asked if his campaign for black voters may alienate white middle of the road voters, Jackson replied... "Now I don't think white voters are opposed to legislation which benefits blacks if they know it benefits them too."

We've got to stop thinking of issues as black and white, but as social and economic matters for the benefit of all people," Jackson said.

President Ford is not expressing the will of the people in vetoing social legislation, Jackson said. Congress has not been able to override the vetos because "we don't have a two-thirds Democratic Congress," the senator stated, "look at the Health Bill, 'he added referring to the senate overriding Ford's veto. 'The Republicans are beginning to understand what the people want and we will have more voters to override the vetos."

The senator and his aides emphasized that Jackson also favored the full employment bill, a youth conservation corps, voting rights legislation, civil rights enforcement for equal employment, more trade with African nations, boycotting of South African goods until apartheid is eliminated and joint

Vacations End, School Begins At New Times

An estimated 40,000 students will return to classrooms of the Des Moines Public Schools next Tuesday, September 2, ending a three-month summer vacation.

Elementary and junior high school students will start school at new times. The elementary starting time will be 9:10 a.m., some 20 minutes later than previously, and junior high school students will go to classes at 8:15 a.m., a half hour earlier than before. There will be no change in the starting time of 8:15 a.m. at all senior high schools except Tech which starts at 8 a.m.

Dr. Dwight Davis, school superintendent, said the time changes were made because the Des Moines Public School System has only two more buses this fall than a year ago to handle an increased transportation load. He said there will be more students being served, an increase from 450 to nearly 700 students in the Voluntary Transfer Program and because the MTA has dropped some of its special school routes.

Dismissal times also have been changed except at senior high schools. The new school ending time will be 3:20 p.m. at elementary schools and 2:30 p.m. at junior high schools.

Students will be dismissed a half hour early the first week of school.

School officials said the hot lunch program will start the first day of school.

Blacks and TV Ratings Game

Recently, the A.C. Nielsen Service made what it called a "pure" survey of a Black American TV audience, centering its focus in representative areas: the Nation's Capital which is 76 percent black, and in Chicago and Detroit, both of which have large black populations.

It was a first of its kind and some interesting revelations resulted from it. But more about that later.

For years blacks and other minorities asked "Nielsen who?" when the name of this electronics media sampling service was mentioned. In other words, Nielsen (and other such service) agents in minority communities were almost as plentiful as Eskimos in the Sahara Desert. It was, and indeed, is, hard if not impossible to find a Black or a Spanish-surnamed, or an Indian or an Oriental American who has been interviewed by this or any other sampling agency.

Given the fact that these agencies base their findings on such a small number of people—1,400 out of 200 million—one is hard put to discover anyone even in the majority community who has been included in such a survey.

Many people, and especially minorities, are skeptical of the ratings game that results from such samplings. And when I was queried by some members of the press after Nielsen announced its sampling results in Black Washington, D.C., I said it was my gut feeling that this random sampling was inaccurate because I felt it did not include enough people. But I hastened to say that I could not rationally analyze the situation because I lacked both skill and expertise as a mathematician or statistician to do so.

I felt, however, that even though the sampling of black households was probably not representative, the fact that the effort was finally made by Nielsen represented a significant shifting in power relationships between the hitherto ignored minority community and the audience measuring agency whose sampling findings can spell life or death to a television or radio program.

Nielsen's black audience survey covered an eight-week period from January 10 through March 6. I won't go into the numbers represented in the so-called "share rating", but suffice it to say that Nielsen found, as could have been predicted, that black audiences in D.C., Chicago and Detroit, tuned in heavily to Sanford and Son, starring comedian Redd Foxx, with slightly less viewing of Soul Train. Flip Wilson's variety show pulled well as did Fat Albert comedy cartoon on Saturday mornings. Blacks also tuned in heavily to weekend college basketball and pro NBA basketball shows. It is significant that both Sanford and Son and Soul Train took significant plunges (by more than 30 rating points) when Nielsen sampled mixed (black and white) communities.

For the information of those who may not know, the rating services are dominated largely by three agencies: the A.C. Nielsen, which uses a patented device inserted into a set to measure audience viewing; the American Research Bureau (ARB) which send a diary to its viewers to be filled in, and Pulse, Inc., which deals exclusively in radio and uses the personal interview to attain its sampling results.

There are others, but their share of the market is minimal. Because the FCC seems to have, at the very least, a tagential interest in the ratings game, it has been suggested that the public interest might best be served if it conducted the audience samplings, taking the services away from commercial agencies.

I am opposed to this plan, just as I am opposed to a companion suggestion that the U.S. Census Bureau with its built-in expertise of long standing in making national surveys, should take over the sampling. It is true the Census Bureau does have the experience, but like the FCC, it is a federal agency, and I think the heavy hand of government does not belong in this sensitive private area.

There are many flaws in the surveying techniques of the service agencies and one of the biggest heretofore, was its bland indifference to the inclusion of minority samplings in its conclusions. But a federal government take over won't be a cureall.

Black Journal's Tony Brown and other leading black communications figures have led the fight in this area, and they should be commended for it, because now Nielsen ratings service is beginning to respond.

EAST GERMAN MEMORIES are being preserved. At top, the entire delegations of black editors and publishers who visited the German Democratic Republic recently are gathered in the Potsdam palace where Truman, Churchill and Stalin signed the agreement after World War II. Bottom, William O. Walker, editor-publisher of the Cleveland Call & Post and author of the accompanying article, is at extreme left, on a tour of the Concentration Camp at Sachsenhausen where thousands of Jews were put to death by Hitler. With him are Mrs. Helga Scheibe, one of the interpreters: Dr. Carlton B.

Goodlett, president of the National Newspaper Publishers Association and editor-publisher of the San Francisco Sun-Reporter Metro-Reporter, other editors and publishers, guides and interpreters. Dr. Goodlett led the delegation.

Paige Monitors Programs For Handicapped

James Paige, a black Vietnam veteran, has been named to head programs in the four-state region to insure equal employment opportunity for handicapped persons by Federal contractors, a U. S. Labor Department official announced last week in Kansas City.

Doyle I. Loveridge, regional head of the Employment Standards Administration (EAS), said that Paige has a strong record in the rehabilitation field and brings needed expertise to the regional office. The program for the handicapped was recently consolidated into ESA's Office of Federal Contract Compliance Programs.

Prior to joining the Labor Department, Paige worked six years in job placement of handicapped persons for the District of Columbia's Bureau of Rehabilitation, Department of Human Resources, and was supervisor of Handicapped and Placement Services. He had earlier been an employment placement officer for the D.C. Department of Corrections. He has also taught in the District's public school system.

Paige attributes his interest in working with handicapped persons to his experiences from teaching, his associations with persons who possessed all types of handicaps and injuries to fellow servicemen in Vietnam.

The new Kansas City, Mo., resident is a native of Morgantown, West Virginia.

The Spinners: No. 1 Soul Group

The popular, dynamic Spinners are celebrating their 18th year in show business.

They were formed in 1955 while in High School. The quintet has since replaced one member but still retains four of its originals: Henry Fambrough, baritone lead singer; Billy Henderson, tenor lead singer; Pervis Jackson, bass lead singer; and, Bobby Smith, tenor lead singer.

The new member is Phillipe Wynne, tenor lead singer, who joined the Spinners in May, 1971.

The group started in the 50's by the five school buddies imitating the groups they heard on the radio and saw on television. They started humming a tune and then adding the words once they knew the melody.

They practiced on friend's porches, at the park, on the school grounds and on street corners. The more they sang, the better they sounded. Their families and friends urged them to try out for a local amateur show. So they became more serious and practiced for the talent show.

After the talent show, their music led them to other contests in and around the Detroit area. The Spinners gained more recognition and fan clubs reached beyond the limits of Detroit. Soon they were offered a chance to sing with a recording company and came out with the smash hit, "That's What Girls Are Made For."

The Spinners soon became successful in the recording business and worked with such stars as Marvin Gaye, the Temptations, the Four Tops, Gladys Knight and the Pips, and a host of others.

Now they are a big hit on their own. This year they were voted the No. 1 soul group in the world by Rolling Stone and they were also voted the No. 1 male vocal group in the United States by NATHA.

"It was nice to have regular pay coming in."

Hemsley believes that each step he took in his career turned out to be the best choice — Air Force, Postal Service, then the acting profession.

A mild-mannered, pleasant person, Hemsley plays a bitter and selfish father in "The Jeffersons" television program.

"That's the one thing I'm afraid of," he says, "that people will think I'm really mean."

Becomes TV Star Former Postal Clerk

As George Jefferson

Sherman Hemsley, center, portrays a bitter and selfish head of the Jefferson household which has moved up in the world in "The Jeffersons" television series. Hemsley, himself, moved up in the world from a postal clerk to co-star of the series. Isabel Sanford and Mike Evans are co-stars of the series.

It was like old times again when Sherman Hemsley, co-star of "The Jeffersons" television series, visited the New York and Philadelphia post offices.

Hemsley spent eight years as a postal clerk in the two postal facilities while he studied acting and polished his techniques in local stage and television performance.

He finally cracked Broadway in the role of Gitlow in "Purlie," the musical comedy. After two years on Broadway, he toured for a year with a road company, played off-Broadway and appeared in "Don't Bother Me, I Can't Cope."

In August, 1973 he landed the role of George Jefferson, Archie Bunker's neighbor in the television series, "All in the Family." Now he plays the head of the household in "The Jefferson," a spinoff from the Bunker program.

"It's been fun since then," Hemsley says. "It's a lot of work but it doesn't seem like work when I'm having fun."

A high school dropout who grew up in South Philadelphia, he remembers that his mother

What's New At ISU? Two Black Educators Write About Whites

by Susan Uthoff, EHE

Smart clothes shopping involves more than merely picking an attractive garment off the rack. For a wise consumer will check quality of construction as well as fit.

Of course, if you only intend to wear a garment a few times, high quality construction may be unimportant. But if you're looking for longer wear-take special note of clothing construction.

Decide just how and how often you'll use the garment. Then, before purchasing any type of clothing, try it on for fit. And inspect the labels, hang tags, care instructions and warranty to make sure you understand them.

Then check time and decoration to see if it's firmly attached to the garment. Look to see if linings, interfacings and paddings are made of appropriate materials, well placed and smoothly inserted. See, too, if garment parts have the same care features as the main piece of clothing.

Make sure any perforations made by clothing manufacturers to mark darts are completely hidden within the dart allowance. Note whether dart points are completely stitched and secure. Matching points may be indicated with clips in the seam allowance. If so, see that these chips aren't too deep. And check for reinforced stress points.

Secured hems and facings should not show on the outside. And zippers should be smooth, flat, well-covered and workable—in a length and color appropriate to the garment. At seamlines, make sure plaids, stripes and checks in the fabric design are well-matched.

that not one of us is truly free until we are all free."

The Favours researched and created their material around biographical profiles of white Americans and their contributions to justice and equal rights. The persons depicted span two centuries in time and the whole gamut of human endeavor and life-style. It is an "everyman" type of congregation, these whites who struggled for human rights. The diversity of the community that constitutes the content of these instructional aids underscores the magnificence of the story the Favours are telling — the story of the 200-plus years of "lone voices" calling upon the "better natures" in their fellow men.

In addition to the book of profiles, the series includes teachers' guides on use of materials, picture cards, many different word games, slides, records, tapes and a beautifully

Drake Offers Five Courses Downtown

Courses in such subjects as management, accounting, and public speaking will be offered this fall by Drake University's College for Continuing Education in downtown Des Moines in the Ruan Center and the Financial Center.

Each of the five courses will be offered for three hours of credit or non-credit. Classes will meet one day a week during the period from Tuesday, September 2, through Friday, December 19.

The five courses are a freshman seminar in English, principles of management, elementary accounting, principles of economics, and public speaking. For more information or to register, telephone Drake's College for Continuing Education at 271-2181.

SAN FRANCISCO — Two well-known California educators who have spent their lives trying to make life better for black people have just published a series of teaching guides designed to make life better for white people.

Drs. John and Kathryn Favours have reaped the harvest now of years of "spare-time" labors compiling books, slides, flash cards and learning games into a magnificent instructional series.

The subject: the white people in America's past and present who have worked for civil rights. Entitled "Whites for Rights," the Favours husband-and-wife teaching and writing team has produced the heretofore unwritten history of white heroes — humanitarians who have devoted their lives to inter-racial understanding.

Dr. Kathryn Favours explains the reason for the choice of subject. "The idea originated when I was teaching black history. I always found it very hard to teach white youngsters about white roles relating to black people. The white children felt so guilty."

In the preface of Whites for Rights, California State Senator Nicholas Petris explains it this way. "This marvelous book ... will bring out what Abraham Lincoln called 'the better angels of our nature' in every reader. But most of all, it is timely."

"It is timely because there will be a lot of speeches about 'liberty and justice for all' during the centennial celebrations. It is timely because the drama of the civil rights struggle of the 1960's has already faded into history. It is timely because it reminds all of us, particularly the dominant white community of America, and other) that the language learning process begins at birth. It is critical to language development and communications that infants and preschoolers be identified and be given professional assistance at the earliest possible age if there is hearing loss. Three months is not too young. Children who receive no special training before school age will suffer irreparable delay in communications development, as well as in social and emotional growth.

The program is directed by Mrs. Colette Lettinga, whose credentials include a masters degree in speech pathology, a masters degree in education, a certificate of Clinical Competence from the American Speech and Hearing Association, and a permanent professional certificate from the State Department of Public Instruction. The center is nationally accredited.

Speech Center Enrolls Infants

Fall enrollment for infants and preschool children with hearing loss is under way at the Des Moines Hearing and Speech Center, 700 Sixth Avenue. The new term will start on Tuesday, September 2. Because the cost of the program is shared by Heartland Education Agency with the United Way, there is no charge to families of children with hearing loss. This is the only such program in Polk County.

Daily sessions with the very young hearing impaired child are designed to establish language concepts, speech, and readiness for school. Parents receive counseling for dealing with daily situations and for long-range planning for the child.

It is recognized by all disciplines having to do with speech and language (linguistics, speech pathology, audiology, otology, neurology,

Moves Business Offices

Hawkeye Cablevision, Inc., the cable television operator in the greater Des Moines area, announced recently that it has moved its general business offices effective August 25, 1975 to 2205 Ingersoll Avenue.

Its new phone number as of that date will be 245-7555 for general administrative offices, 245-7500 for customer service, 245-7510 for billing information, and 245-7540 for programming.

Hawkeye's studios will remain at 5233 N.E. 15th Street, and it will retain offices with Heritage Communications, Inc., its parent company, at 8611 Hickman.

A. Philip Randolph, international president of the Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters, Emeritus, seated first row center, June 25, 1975, posed for this historic picture with many of the original pullman porters and maids from the inception of the union 50 years ago, present day members, and friends of the union throughout the years.

As national president of A. Philip Randolph Leaders of Tomorrow Scholarship Fund, Inc., James Smith requested this historic group picture be taken as an organizer of the union and pullman porter and because of his activities over a period of forty-seven years with the union.

The moral law of the universe is progress. Every generation that passes idly through life without adding to that progress has not been registered upon the pages of good citizenship and humanity. With this in mind, A. Philip Randolph Leaders of Tomorrow Scholarship Fund, Inc., will address itself to assist in improving self-image, qualities of good citizenship, thus, giving our youth the will and determination to complete their education, getting our youth off streets and into a wholesome atmosphere where they can learn, and develop proper qualities of good citizenship in order that they may be able to take their places in their chosen fields and in the society of tomorrow.

Des Moines Visitors

Last week Mrs. Geneva Arrington of Buffalo, New York and Mrs. Eloise Walker of Chicago were weekend visitors of the Fred Morrow, Sr. families.

Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Lewis of Chicago and children Lance and Alicia spent a couple of days as house guest of their aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Carter.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis were taken on a tour of the city and a night on the town by their cousin, Mrs. Myrtle Procter.

Isaac Lewis of Chicago spent a couple of days with the Leroy Carters. He is the brother of Mrs. Bernice Carter. He came also as a well-wisher to bid good-bye and good luck to his niece, Myrtle Procter and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Procter and sons Dwayne, Darryll and George, have now moved to Evansville, Indiana. "Lou" Procter is now gainfully employed with Amax Coal Mining Co.

Angel Biscuits

Yeast-raised Angel Biscuits are as easy to mix as quick breads. Buttermilk, soda and baking powder add extra lightness and tenderness.

"Take Two. Butter While Hot"

Down south in biscuitland, light breads are served piping hot and no one ever mentions calories. "Take two and butter while hot," the hostess will say and it takes a mighty will to stop with two.

Yeast-raised biscuits have always been favorites in the Southern states. The earliest biscuits were leavened with yeast until baking powder became generally available. Today the old fashioned yeast-raised Angel Biscuits are as easy to make as any of the traditional quick breads. Using the modern Rapidmix Method developed by Fleischmann's Yeast Test Kitchens yeast is added right from the package to some of the dry ingredients (sugar, salt and part of the flour). Buttermilk, water and shortening are heated together and added all at once. An electric mixer may be used for the initial mixing.

In addition to a package of active dry yeast this recipe calls for a teaspoon of baking soda and three teaspoons of baking powder. Soda is needed to neutralize acid of the buttermilk. And baking powder, in addition to yeast, adds an extra lightness not unlike the texture of angel food. Thus the name, Angel Biscuits. The recipe makes 2½ dozen two-inch biscuits. Left-overs may be packaged for the freezer and reheated or split and toasted for another meal.

ANGEL BISCUITS

5 cups unsifted flour (about)
¼ cup sugar
1 teaspoon salt
3 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon baking soda
1 package of Fleischmann's Active Dry Yeast
2 cups buttermilk
¼ cup water
¾ cup shortening

In a large bowl thoroughly mix 1½ cups flour, sugar, salt, baking powder, baking soda and undissolved Fleischmann's Active Dry Yeast.

Combine buttermilk, water and shortening in a saucepan. Heat over low heat until liquids are very warm (120 degrees F. - 130 degrees F.). Shortening does not need to melt. Gradually add to dry ingredients and beat for 2 minutes at medium speed of electric mixer, scraping bowl occasionally. Add ¾ cup flour, or enough flour to make a thick batter. Beat at high speed for 2 minutes, scraping bowl occasionally. Stir in enough additional flour to make a soft dough. Turn out onto lightly floured board; knead about 20 to 25 times to form a round ball.

On a well floured board, roll dough out to ½-inch thickness. Using a 2-inch biscuit cutter, cut dough into circles and place on ungreased baking sheets. Cover; let rise in warm place, free from draft, about 1 hour.

Bake in hot oven (400 degrees F.) about 20 minutes, or until done. Remove from baking sheets and cool on wire racks. Best when served warm. Makes about 2½ dozen.

YWCA Fall Seminar

The YWCA Fall Seminar, "The Wonderful World of Women" will be held on Tuesdays, starting September 9. There will be a morning series, 9:30-11:30 and an evening series (also starting September 9) from 6:30-8:30.

This seminar is designed for women of all ages who wish to think about their personal fulfillment beyond the joys of family life. The self-assessment phase includes "measurement" of testing of personality, vocational interests, aptitudes, adaptability and goals. Personal concerns are shared through group discussions while field trips to educational institutions and local businesses help each woman determine her best opportunities in Des Moines.

The seminar is a series of eight sessions held on successive Tuesdays at a cost of $18. Scholarships are available upon request and arrangements can be made with June Way for child care.

For further information, and advance registration, call Maxine Wilson at the YWCA, 244-8961.

Deputy Imperial Potentate

MOTTO: "WE" (For "WE" are labourers together with God. corinthians 3:9) THEME: "Greater Community Involvement, Our Responsibility."

A delegation of 85 persons attended the 82nd Annual Convention of the Imperial Council of the Ancient Egyptian Arabic Order Nobles of the Mystic Shrine Inc. and the 64th Annual Session of the Daughters of Isis Imperial Court held in New Orleans, Louisiana August 17-22.

ZEID Temple No. 90 Nobles of the Shrine and ZEID Court No. 50 Daughters of Isis returned to Des Moines Sunday morning from New Orleans. The Des Moines delegates were housed at the Rodeway Inn on Chef Menteur in New Orleans along with a group of delegates from Waterloo, Iowa.

A block of comfortable air-conditioned rooms had been reserved for the Iowans plus hot catfish dinners were ready to be served. The Louisiana hospitality and food will long be remembered by the group of delegates. Sights and sounds of the Crescent City's French Quarters and Bourbon Street, for those who had never visited the city before, were thoroughly enjoyed.

The Hotel Fairmont where the Nobles and Daughters held all their meetings was breathtakingly beautiful, and the welcomes received by the northerners were beyond compare. The Des Moines group left New Orleans early Friday morning and arrived in Jackson Mississippi by mid-morning.

The remainder of the day and night were spent in Jackson. Highlight of a tour of the Mississippi capital city was a visit to Taugaloo College which was led by a local gentleman. The group met and talked with George Owens, president off the college. A visit ws taken to the city's resevoir, through a beautiful residential black section of the city and downtown Jackson.

The Ancient Egyptian Arabic Order Nobles of the Mystic Shrine is primarily a benevolent, charitable and fraternal organization. Its membership is dedicated to the principal of fostering civic, economic and educational development programs throughout the world.

In recent months, the fraternal order has fostered many programs. Annual grants of thousands of dollars were given to the Prince Hall Shrine Health and Medical Research Foundation; several institutions of higher learning and to hospitals throughout the land for medical and other research projects; a national scholarship grant program for young ladies between the ages of 17-24 to attend college; special scholarships for economically deprived youths.

A program of financial aid helps youths in their fight against drugs, crime and delinquency in the streets; establishment of and maintaining dialogue with national leaders on various issues concerning blacks and other minorities, voters registration drives and sponsorship of the Fish Bowl football classic.

Marshall S. Johnson in the Deputy Imperial Potentate of the Imperial Council and Thelma M. Gordan serves as Deputy Imperial Commandress of the Imperial Court.

Masons Join In Worldwide Celebration

Sunday, September 7, at 3 p.m. the Prince Hall Masons will celebrate Prince Hall Americanism Day at the Maple Street Baptist Church. This is an annual celebration held worldwide in honor of the men who worked diligently to establish the first Lodge of Masons in the United States, catering especially to Negroes at that time.

Prince Hall was of noble heritage. Born in Barbados, British West Indies, and being unable to accept the fact that a minimal education was all that was due him, this strong and able body worked his passage on a sailing vessel to Boston, Massachusetts around 1760. He quickly established himself as a hard worker, studying late at night to obtain an education, came into ownership of some land, became a registered voter, an ordained minister with his first charge at Cambridge, and enlisted in the Revolutionary War.

First Inductees

The introduction of freemasonry, among the black men of this country, is to the Negro Mason an event of the highest interest as well as of vital importance. On the sixth day of March A.D. 1775, in an army lodge attached to one of General Gage's regiments, then stationed in and near Boston, Prince Hall and 13 of his fellow brethren, all black residents of the Boston, were initiated, passed and raised to the sublime degree of master mason.

They were the first black men known to have been inducted into the mysteries of masonry in this country. They formed the first Negro lodge and it was called African Lodge No. 459 in Boston.

From such a humble beginning, and with a warrant from the Grand Lodge of England, Negro Masonry has spread throughout the world until today its members number some 2½ million. Masonry is a charitable organization spreading the cement of Brotherly Love, Relief and Truth. Its members are referred to as brothers for we are all one brotherhood under the fatherhood of God.

It is not a secret organization, for its temples stand proudly before the public. Its members are from all walks of life: laymen, doctors, lawyers, educators, carpenters, plumbers, cabdrivers, ministers. The list is endless. Friendship, morality and brotherly love being the tenets of the institution, the order seeks to help good men be better through practicing love for a brother.

Bob Peters: He was one of the best

By Allen Ashby

One always has to pause and take note of the passing of the great athletes of past days. When we heard about the death of Bob Peters, a lot of memories came on.

He was a football and basketball star at East High School in the 1940s. I think he was a track man, too, but his main sports were football and basketball. Peters was good enough in football to make the all-city team in 1946 and might have gone on to college, but in those days blacks weren't sought after as they are today.

In basketball, he was mentioned several times for outstanding games for East. Later he got into semi-pro basketball, and his first team, the Esquires, won the Crocker Y league championship. Then came a stint with the Globe Trotters of Bobby Grund who got into trouble by naming his team the Bobby Grund Harlem Globe Trotters. The guy was taken to court and had to rename his club, but they still had a tough team.

Bob was quite a softball player, too, playing with teams out of places like Sioux City and places on the west coast. In the forties, there were several traveling softball teams and the Ghosts was one of the best. You wonder what Bob would have done in college. But it was just about two years away from the big search for black athletes for college campuses. Bob Peters was just one of several athletes who was born just a couple of years too soon.

The last of the tennis season

We are trying to finish our tennis season. It seems that one of the boys who won the doubles title for kids in one of the junior divisions was about six months too old, so they had to forfeit their title. Well, we have backed up the division, and at this writing are letting the losers battle it out again.

It seems like a long way to go

Mutual Black Network Poll

Who will be the Mutual Black College 1975 football champion come December?

The pre-season odds are that Grambling State University will repeat, but if Eddie Robinson's men stub their toes during a breakneck schedule. Alcorn State will be there to pick up the mantle and run with it.

GSU Tigers won the Mutual Black Network 1974 football rankings on the final week of the season when front runner Alcorn State dropped its final game of the year.

The beauty of all this is the two top teams open the 1975 football season Sept. 6 at the Superdome in New Orleans and should settle the ranking fuss then. Tuskegee Institute, winner of the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Conference a year ago, is ranked third in the Mutual Black Network's preseason poll. Tuskegee coach Heywood Scissum says he has a veteran team back and raring to go.

Second-year coach Doug Porter at Howard University in Washington, D.C., feels the Bison will have its best year ever, and are picked to finish ranked fourth, while the team that won the Mid-Eastern Athletic Conference in 1974, South Carolina State rounds out the top five.

Southern University will be back with its wish-bone formation again, and Charlie Bates, the Jags' coach, will have most of last year's hands back. The Jags are rated sixth, Tennessee State seventh, Norfolk State eighth, Jackson State ninth and Florida A&M tenth.

athletics this year, probably the best one ever. No, it isn't my doing but that of the managing editor. He comes up with most of the news you read about the black schools.

He doesn't know he is putting himself on the spot, because I am expecting him to come up with some good stories about those schools. Meanwhile, I shall continue to second guess the coaches at our three Iowa schools, - Drake, Iowa U. and Iowa State. When you second guess, you are never wrong.

And as I write this, Arthur Ashe hasn't won a tennis title since Wimbledon. He will likely have his troubles in the National Open because it is being played on clay for the first time. I think he will have trouble making it to the quarterfinals. But, then one never knows. The guy has won titles on clay, and this might just be his meet. Hope so.

Wonder how Frank Robinson will fare after the present baseball season is over. He hasn't really had too much material to work with, and has had his share of injuries. If the management should fire him, it would set back the arguments for more black managers a while. It does not matter the club wasn't any good to begin with and that the front office hasn't done too much trading or dealing for new players.

But it could be that both the front office and Robinson are waiting for the year to end and then they will see what they need and how to get it. I hope that is it.

National Recognition For Bicentennial Projects

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Varied on and off field activities of the National Football League; farms of the past, present and future; and high school students writing "Bicentennial Minutes" for network television.

These efforts are included in three projects recently designated as national Bicentennial programs by the American Revolution Bicentennial Administration (ARBA).

The NFL's participation in the nation's Bicentennial celebration kicked off at the AFC-NFC Hall of Fame game in Canton, Ohio, and will be highlighted by Super Bowl X in Miami on January 18, 1976.

During the season, young Americans between the ages of 14 and 18 are invited to play a major role in the celebration with their entries in the NFL/Bicentennial Essay Contest. College scholarships totaling $25,000 will go to the 12 leading contestants who will write 500-750 word essays on the topic: "The NFL's Role in American History."

The first-prize winner will

Doubles Tennis Classic

Iowa's first statewide mixed doubles tennis championship will have regional qualifying tournaments in seven Iowa cities beginning Saturday, September 13.

Named for its sponsoring organization, Friends of Iowa Educational Broadcasting Network, the "Friends Mixed Doubles Tennis Classic" will culminate in finals televised by IEBN from Des Moines' Valley High School courts from 5-7 p.m., Sunday, October 12.

The championship round is sanctioned by the United States Tennis Association. First prize is $200 with a $100 second prize and trophies in each regional tournament. Costs of the tournament and prizes are being underwritten by various Iowa businesses and individuals.

Regional tournaments and times are as follows: Waterloo (Byrnes Park) 9:30 a.m., September 13; Fort Dodge (Butler Courts) 9 a.m., September 13; 9 a.m., September 20; Sioux City (Racquet Club) 9 a.m., September 20; Atlantic (Sunnyside Park Courts) 9 a.m., September 20 and Des Moines (Birdland or Waveland Courts) 9 a.m., September 27.

The tournament is open to all players 19 years of age or older. Entry forms are available from local Friends tennis representatives or by writing Friends of IEBN, P. O. Box 1758, Des Moines, Iowa 50306.

Local Friends tennis representatives are: Dwight Fritts, 730 Black Building, Waterloo; Bob Arnold, P.O. Box 1421 Cedar Rapids; Tel Pappajohn, Box 1448, Mason City; Mrs. Richard Radatz, 4870 Skyline Drive, Sioux City; E. D. Brocker, Anita (Atlantic Tournament); Jim Peters, 1020 N. 19th Street, Fort Dodge; and Warren Clason, 4612 40th Street, Des Moines.

which has occurred in farming since the days of 1776.

Through a grant from the National Science Foundation, Living History Farms will now also exhibit what science and technology have contributed to the development of farming.

The "Bicentennial Seniors" program is a project to gather two high school students from each state and the District of Columbia together in Colonial Williamsburg to discuss significant educational and social issues facing the United States, to hear prominent speakers and to benefit from the historical experience of Colonial Williamsburg.

Participants for the program, to be held January 16-19, 1976, will be selected by state selection committees using three levels of criteria; local school, state and national.

Applicants will write copy to be broadcast on CBS Television's "Bicentennial Minutes;" compose a 300-500 word commentary discussing the relevance of the minute for today, and take a current events examination.

The primary purpose of granting official recognition to Bicentennial projects is to encourage support and to insure public awareness of those programs which are of regional, national or international significance.

To date, just under 200 projects and programs have been recognized.

Boston's Black Community Has Varied Heritage

Black Bostonians have been around for more than 300 years and have amassed a history as varied and interesting as that of the city's other traditional ethnic groups. Ironically enough, much of that history has been a struggle with a liberal Boston social conscience which has supported social change elsewhere but has resisted advancement at home.

Today's visitors to Boston can best explore the history of Boston's black community by walking the Black Heritage Trail which winds through Beacon Hill.

The first black Bostonians arrived in 1638 aboard the ship Desire, from Barbados. The Puritans paid for them through the sale of "troublesome Indians," and by 1705 there were well over 400 slaves in Boston, most of whom were house servants and apprentice craftsmen. Others were responsible for transporting farm produce from outlying areas.

During the American Revolution, black Bostonians were active on both the American and British sides. Numerous locals, including Peter Salem, distinguished themselves at Bunker Hill. According to a newspaper account of the day, "As the British Major John Pitcairn leaned over the ramparts shouting 'The day is ours,' he was felled by a musket fired by a colored patriot, Peter Salem of Framingham."

One important effect of the Revolution was that it sounded the deathknell of the slave system in Massachusetts.

However, Negroes began to go to court in the Northern colonies as early as 1766 to sue for their freedom. A number of them were successful and there is no known instance of a black man who sued for his freedom failing to receive it. Such a procedure was slow and expensive, however, and few blacks could afford it.

This method was soon replaced by petitioning the legislatures of the respective states. In Massachusetts in 1773, many slaves requested relief from the Great and General Court. "We have no property! We have no wives! We have no children! No city! No country!" their petition read. After appointing a committee to consider the petition, the assembly tabled it, a favorite political device for delaying sticky issues.

With the outbreak of the war there came a new series of petitions from slaves in the North and slavery was finally abolished in the Commonwealth by a Massachusetts Supreme Court ruling in 1783.

The first free black settlement in Boston was at the foot of Copp's Hill in the North End and was known as "New Guinea." More than 1000 colonial Boston blacks, including Prince Hall, founder of the Black Masons, are buried in the Copp's Hill Burying Ground.

By 1829, the city's free blacks had risen to relative prosperity with new jobs as laborers, coachmen, window cleaners, sailors and barbers, and many moved to better quarters on the north slope of Beacon Hill.

The 19th century saw some members of this community move across the Charles River in search of better schools.

The heart of the black community next moved to the South End and Roxbury and now most of Roxbury, North Dorchester and parts of Mattapan are predominantly black communities.

During the latter part of the century Dr. George Franklin Grant, the first black instructor at the Harvard Dental School, invented the golf tee and another black, Jan Matzeliger, made the first shoe last.

Today, the Living History Center of the Afro-American History Museum is housed in Roxbury in the historic Dillaway-Thomas House. Built in the 1750's, it was a parsonage until the 20th century when the City of Boston acquired it.

Now being restored, the Dillaway-Thomas House will be the site of a 20th century black cultural exhibit which emphasizes the value of history to the black community through walking tours, multi-media shows, classes for children and adults, a library and a curriculum guide.

Craftsmen and artisans will demonstrate black crafts from the 18th and 19th centuries. Funding for this restoration work has been provided in part by Boston 200, Office of the Boston Bicentennial, and the National Park Service, Department of Interior under the auspices of the Massachusetts Historical Commission.

greater emphasis placed on physical fitness in schools, youth agencies and programs.

Dr. Thomas J. Knox, director of athletics, said that Miles College's objectives have been broadened to include three components: (1) exposing young people to college life, (2) providing a comprehensive enrichment program and of course providing (3) varied sports activities.

Many of the young people come from disadvantaged neighborhoods. They receive free medical examinations before and after the summer program. Hot meals served daily are subsidized partially by the U.S. Agricultural Department through the state of Alabama and the rest from the national program.

From 8:30 am-2 pm they learned to swim, play softball, volleyball, basketball and run track. Seminars on career planning, health and nutrition, and drug abuse were held 3 hours a week. Lyceum features of Miles College are open to them year around.

An Advisory Board made up of parents, supervisors, participants and teachers was set up to give suggestions and community input this year. Letters from parents and community leaders from other years attest to the impact on the lives of these young people. Many have been motivated to continue their education at Miles College and some are teachers in the program.

Miles College is a charter member and one of three other programs in the state. The other institutions involved are Alabama State University and University of Alabama at Birmingham. An estimated 105 colleges and universities in the nation are taking part in the youth program.

The last day was designated Parents Day and awards, trophies and certificates were presented.

The purpose of NAMD is to recognize the vital role of the people engaged in the areas of merchandising, public relations, sales, marketing and advertising and to exchange information and knowledge about the market place with particular focus on the black marketing community. This year's top award recognized Hiram Walker as a major corporation showing outstanding progress in advancing qualified black professionals to higher executive levels.

School's Open AAA Urges Driving Care

"Safe driving is a year-round responsibility, but it becomes especially important when school starts." That statement was made by Dan McCarthy, Safety Manager of the AAA Motor Club of Iowa, in kicking off the Club's annual School's Open traffic safety campaign.

McCarthy stated that it is up to all Iowa drivers to exert extra caution when approaching and going through intersections and school crossing zones. The beginning of school also means that our neighborhood streets will be crowded with students, many of them younger children experiencing a complex traffic environment on their own for the first time. According to McCarthy, "This necessitates extra driving care during both the early morning and afternoon hours." In addition, parents should remember to:

1. Dress their children in lighter colored clothing as darker morning hours draw closer.
2. Have children cross only at crosswalks.
3. Teach them to look both ways before crossing. Be sure the way is clear before starting to cross.
4. Teach children to cross only on proper signal.
5. Be sure they watch for cars turning corners.
6. Never let children go into the roadway from between parked cars.
7. Where there is no sidewalk, and it is necessary to walk in roadway, have the children walk on left side, facing traffic.

The AAA Club also stresses, "Parents, discuss with your children, and map out their safest route to and from school. Help them become familiar with it. Let them work out the reasons why it is better to cross at one corner rather than another. Go with them over the route selected. Teach children to use the help of marked crosswalks and traffic signals, and to cooperate with the Safety Patrol or Crossing Guard. Above all, set a good example by following safe walking rules yourself!"

With the upswing in the number of bicycles, it is also necessary for all bicyclists to know and exercise safe riding procedures. They should show good driving sportsmanship to pedestrians, other bike drivers and automobile drivers. Drivers should also be especially alert for school-age bicyclists going to and from school. Many of the young bike drivers have very little experience in traffic.

This year's School's Open campaign is quite appropriate, because it centers on the School Safety Patrol. Over the years, the Safety Patrol organization has developed into a venerable U.S. institution. They have done a tremendous job in helping to reduce the school-child pedestrian accident rate, and, with their bright orange belts, patrols will be more recognizable than ever before. The AAA spokesman concluded by emphasizing that respect for the duties of safety patrols as well as adult crossing guards would result in a productive and safe year for both students and motorists.

ATLANTA, Ga. — Louise W. Sullivan, M.D., dean and director of the Morehouse College Medical Education Program, has been elected to the Institute of Medicine of the National Academy of Sciences. Election to membership is based on a demonstrated interest, concern, and involvement with the critical issues in health care, prevention of disease, medical education, and medical research.

Tie Breaker Decides MBTW Pageant Title

DANVILLE, Virginia — The Raleigh, North Carolina Memorial Auditorium was the setting for one of the most exciting and dramatic finishes in the history of the Miss Black Teenage World Pageant (MBTW) when the M.C., Lawrence Garnelle Stamps, announced that there was a tie in the points between MBTW of South Carolina and MBTW of Virginia and that a tie breaking question would be required to decide the winner of the Pageant.

Both young ladies would be asked the same question after drawing a number to see which would answer first. Tannese Payne, representing Virginia drew number one and Tenita Jordan, representing South Carolina, was escorted out of the auditorium while the other contestant answered the question, "Kindness is ...." After the judges scores were compiled, Miss Jordan was announced Miss Black Teenage World 1975 and Miss Payne First Runner-Up.

Miss Jordan resides in Columbia, South Carolina, attends the C. A. Johnson High School where she is a member of the National Honor Society; the Honors Chorus; and the Student Council. Miss Jordan's talent presentation was the popular "One Fine Day" from Act II of Madame Butterfly.

She is the daughter of Mr. James and Mrs. Ruth Jordan of Columbia, South Carolina. Among her prizes is a scholarship to Hampton Institute, each of the finalists received college scholarships in the total amount of $60,000. Miss Jordan was also the winner of the Outstanding Creative Expression Award.

Miss Payne, the first runner-up, is from New River, Virginia who performed an original monologue entitled, "The Evolution of the Black Woman In America."

Other winners included: second runner-up, Angelo Garrett, MBTW of California; Robin Pulliam, third runner-up, MBTW of New Jersey; fourth runner-up, Crystal Hodges, MBTW of District of Columbia; fifth runner-up, Yolanda Stevenson, MBTW of Arizona. Bridgette Bethel, MBTW of Nassau, Bahamas was selected Miss Together. Miss Stevenson won the Miss Talent Award with her portrayal of "Miss Jane Pittman."

The pageant was produced by Pageants Unlimited, Inc., with the contestants being hosted by Saint Augustine's College. Eastman Kodak, Johnson's Products, Flori Roberts and Pageants Unlimited presented prizes to all of the finalists.

Miles College's Youth Program Obtains Grant

Miles College received a $28,000 grant from the National Collegiate Athletic Association for the 1975 National Youth Sports Program announced President W. Clyde Williams. Over three hundred boys and girls are participating in the Summer Program which began June 30 and ended August 1.

The program, which is in its sixth year, arose from the findings of the President's Council on Physical Fitness, on the Physical ineptitude of American youth. Established in 1969 under the Nixon administration, the Council declared that there should be

(2) Also asking judgment for costs including statutory attorney fees.

(3) Also asking as against the Defendants above named a decree of foreclosure of the mortgage made and given by the Defendants, Carl E.
Connally and Josephine C.
Connally, which mortgage is dated October 11, 1974, recorded in Book 4478, Page 964 of the office of the Recorder of Polk County, Iowa, said mortgage being given to secure the above mentioned note and other sums claimed, which mortgage covers the following described real estate, to-wit:

Beginning 33 feet East and 33
feet North of the Southwest corner of the West Half of the West Half of the Southeast Quarter of Section 34, Township 78 North, Range 24, West of the 5th P.M., thence East 131.75 feet, thence North 85 feet, thence West 131.75 feet thence South 85 feet to the place of beginning, now included in and forming a part of the City of Des Moines, Iowa

Plaintiff waives its rights to a deficiency judgment and elects to have period of redemption reduced to 60 days as the property has been abandoned.

Plaintiff also asks for the appointment of a receiver to take charge of the mortgaged premises and to collect the rents, issues and profits arising or which may be had therefrom and to apply them as by Court directed. No money judgment is asked except against such persons who executed said note and mortgage.

The Second Forty

(A forum about mature women)

by Margaret Brookfield

Have you a problem as a mature woman, or with one?
For advice write Margaret Brookfield, Information Center
on the Mature Woman, 515
Madison Avenue New York,
N.Y. 10022.

***** Buy Now, Wear Later

Dear Margaret Brookfield:

I am within a few years of retirement from a job where I've always had to keep up my appearance and dress stylishly.
I want to be able to dress as well after I stop working, but wonder how I can do it on a much smaller income. Have you any suggestions?

W. E.

Dear W. E.:

While you are still working why don't you begin to buy clothes that will stand you in good stead later — perhaps buying more than you normally would for each season of the year?

Even though styles today aren't as rigid as they once were, when clothes bought one year looked completely "old hat" the next, for the long haul it still pays to stick to classic, middle-of-the-road designs,
rather than fads of the moment.
Of course they should be becoming.

Once you have a basic wardrobe, you can update it with accessories, and even indulge in an occasional inexpensive impulse purchase of popular style — as long as it won't ruin your budget if it's a one-season shot.

Budgets, Bills, and Wills

Dear Margaret Brookfield:

Before his death, my husband handled all our financial matters: paid the bills, made out the budget, and gave me household and personal allowances. I knew the basic facts of his income, but never bothered with the details. Now I find myself overwhelmed with the responsibility of managing my money and the paperwork involved. My brother-in-law has offered to help, but I hate to impose on him. Where can I get other assistance?

Dear S. T.:

Don't rely on relatives and friends when it comes to money matters — get professional help.
Your main sources of assistance are your bank, a lawyer, and an accountant. Your husband undoubtedly used all three, and you should too. Of course, each will charge a fee, but their advice will be based on training and knowledge. Make sure they explain to you what they are doing, and why, and you will increase your knowledge of money management.

Incidentally, while you're getting your affairs in order, don't forget to have your lawyer draw up your own will if you haven't done so. Then your money will go where you want it to, not where the laws of your state say it should go if you die intestate.

Happiness thru Health continued

However, a 1966 study by Dr.
E. Cuyler Hammond, American Cancer Society vice president for research in epidemiology and statistics, showed that the risk rates of death, ischemic heart disease, and lung cancer were considerably lower for pipe-only smokers than for those who smoked cigarettes.

Dr. Hammond points out that the findings of the two studies are subject to variables. "For instance, it is not impossible that a difference in European and American tobacco could be a factor." He says also that pipe and cigar smokers in his study had as high a risk as cigarette smokers if they inhaled, but most cigar and pipe smokers in this country do not inhale.

Black press legal counsel begins unique law practice

WASHINGTON, D.C. (NNPA)
— Attorney T. Carlton Richardson discussed the implementation of an "equal legal opportunity program" at a recent reception celebrating his entrance into private practice here.

The 27-year old former Howard University law professor who now serves as general counsel to the National Newspaper Publishers Association said that the program is designed to expand the practical availability of legal services to the public.

The program offers two unique services including the "30-minute conference" at a minimum charge and the "individual retainer system."

The conference service is designed to provide legal advice to those who need it without obligation of engaging the attorney for further services.

Under the "individual retainer system," a consumer-client enters a pre-paid legal service agreement, establishing an account with monthly payments for future service.

In establishing the first program of this kind in the District of Columbia, Richardson said he believes that an attorney is committed to take effective steps to ensure equal opportunity to obtain legal representation to all citizens. He received his law training at Drake and George Washington universities.

Board Policy

has been changed to permit a pupil to attend other than the home school "if minority group members for the home school or for the receiving school will not then exceed 20 per cent." Previously the upper limit was 25 per cent for kindergarten through ninth grade and 15 per cent in high schools.

Voluntary Transfers

The voluntary transfer program was changed to provide that schools with minority enrollments in excess of 20 per cent may be designated as sending schools for the purpose of reducing and maintaining the lower level minority enrollment. The previous limit was 25 per cent.
The new voluntary transfer policy also provides that elementary schools receiving voluntary transfer pupils will be selected from schools with minority enrollment of less than 20 per cent. The policy also provides that receiving schools will "be selected in such manner that the participants' continued participation in the program will contribute to the integration of pupil enrollments in the secondary schools."

Elementary pupils participating in the voluntary transfer program, on completing the sixth grade, will be permitted to attend either the junior high school of their former home elementary school, or the junior high school of the school they attended under VTP.

Junior high school students participating in the VTP will have two similar options in selecting a senior high school, but also the option of attending Des Moines Tech.

"Child care" transfers which were routinely approved previously, will be considered under the new rules, school officials said.

Social Security

The IOWA BYSTANDER has made arrangements with the Des Moines office of the Social Security Administration to answer questions for our readers about social security and Medicare. Send your question to Social Security Representative, Room 293 Federal Building, 210 Walnut Street, Des Moines, Iowa 50309.

CHANGE IN INCOME

QUESTION: When I started getting supplemental security income payments, I had a boarder who paid me weekly rent. He has since moved and I haven't re-rented the room. Should I report this decrease in my income.

ANSWER: Yes. Whenever you have a change in your income—whether it's a decrease or an increase—you should report it to social security. The amount of your income can affect the amount of your supplemental security income payment. In your case, you may be entitled to a higher payment.

HOME HEALTH CARE

QUESTION: I've heard that both parts of Medicare cover home health care. Is the coverage the same under both parts?

ANSWER: In general, Medicare's hospital insurance

BLACK PRESS AND GREEK LETTER GROUPS discuss how they can work more closely together for the benefit of the black community. Top left, Hon. Marion W. Garnett, grand basileus, Omega Psi Phi, and a judge of the municipal circuit court of Chicago, is shown opening the discussion during the recent annual convention of the National Newspaper Publishers Association in San Francisco. At his left is Mrs. Barbara K. Phillips, president-elect of the Alpha Kappa Alpha sorority. To his right, Ms. Lillian P. Benbow, national president, Delta Sigma Theta; Dr. Annie Lawrence, grand can pay for home health care after you have been in a participating hospital for at least 3 days in a row. Under Medicare's medical insurance, you don't have to have a 3-day stay in a hospital to get home health care. But, under each part, home health care is covered only if certain conditions are met. Your Medicare Handbook explains home health care in detail. If you don't have a handbook, you can get one at any social security office.

FILE EARLY

QUESTION: I'll be 65 in December, but since I'm planning to work for several more years, I figured there's no point in filing for social security yet. My next-door neighbor says I should go ahead and apply anyway. Is she right?

ANSWER: Even though you continue to work, you should file an application about 3 months before you reach 65 to establish your eligibility for social security retirement benefits and Medicare. This way, your benefits can start as soon as you stop working. You may be entitled to some payments, depending on the amount of your earnings. You don't have to stop working to have Medicare, so your protection can start as soon as you reach 65.

SUPPLEMENTAL SECURITY
QUESTION: I started getting supplemental security income payments last year. Do I have to file an application for these payments every year?

ANSWER: No, but social security will review your case to redetermine your eligibility and payment amount. You'll receive a letter from social security telling you when it is time for your redetermination.

WESTERN STYLE IN GHANA

Young Ghanaian boys, dressed in western-style shirts, attend a durbar, a gathering of chiefs, in this West African nation. In the durbar, the accepted dress ranges from elaborate ceremonial dress of African kings to a flairish modern style. A common ingredient is friendliness for the stranger, whatever his color.
