Affirmative Action Professionals Form New State Organization

DES MOINES, IOWA — Professionals who recruit, hire and promote minorities and women have formed a new statewide organization to further advance affirmative action efforts in Iowa.

The Iowa Association of Equal Employment Opportunity and Affirmative Action Professionals is spearheaded by Thomas Jones, Jr., Equal Employment Opportunity Officer for the Department of Transportation (DOT).

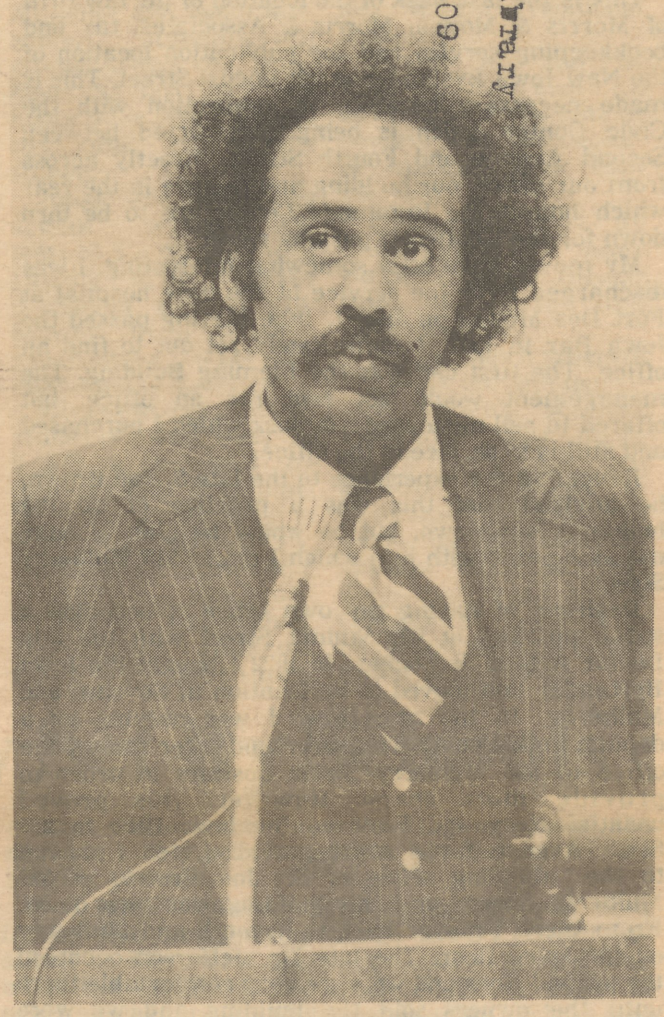

At the press conference announcing the group's formation, Governor Robert Ray said this is a "positive step in the right direction" and said the group will help Iowan's understand affirmative action.

"Here in Iowa strides have been made in the hiring of minorities and women," Ray said, adding, "We expect this organization to further help us enhance that record while assisting Iowa minorities and women to reach their full career potential."

Jones said there is a real "crisis in affirmative action," yet he hopes this organization will help Iowa become the nation's leader in affirmative action programs.

Jones said the organization has been exchanging ideas such as a "skills bank" that will promote the hiring and advancement of minorities and women. Professional employment opportunities will be circulated among the group's members in the effort to match each job vacancy with a qualified

Fund Raiser Planned For Nolden Gentry

An election rally, picnic, birthday party and fund - raiser for Nolden Gentry, who is seeking re-election to the Des Moines School Board, is planned for 5 to 8 p.m. Tuesday, August 30 at the Birdland Shelter House, Saylor Road at Guthrie.

Gentry is the only incumbent among the nine candidates running for two slots, both three - year terms, during the September 13 election. He has served on the Des Moines School Board since 1970 and was president in 1974-75.

Tickets for the event, which will mark Gentry's 40th birthday, are $5 each and will include food, refreshments and musical entertainment. They may be obtained at the picnic or from Gentry's Re-election Headquarters, 526 Fleming Building, telephone, 243-1906.

Gentry is a partner in the law firm of Scalise, Scism, Gentry, Brick & Brick. He attended the University of Iowa, where he was an outstanding basketball player in the late '50's and was graduated from the Iowa College of Law in 1964. He has worked as a special agent for the F.B.I., an assistant to the Attorney General of Iowa and part - time as manager of the Urban Affairs department of the Greater Des Moines Chamber of Commerce and as a special assistant to the Des Moines City Attorney, assigned to the Des Moines Model Cities program.

He is a member of the Polk County and Iowa Bar Associations, a member of the American Trial Lawyers' Association and served a six - year term on the State Board of Public Instruction. He serves on the Boards of Directors of the Des Moines Community Foundation, Drake Relays Committee, Greater Des Moines Chamber of Commerce, Delta Dental Plan of Iowa, Des Moines Housing Corporation, Hawkeye Cablevision, Inc., and Community Improvement, Inc. He was a former member of the boards of the Boy Scouts of America, American Cancer Society, Iowa Children's and Family Services, United Way and Home, Inc.

Gentry and his wife, Barbara, have three children, reside at 430 Wakonda Parkway and are members of Burns United Methodist Church.

The Committee to Re-Elect Nolden Gentry to the Des Moines School Board, his campaign organization, is co - chaired by John M. Estes, Jr., Floyd P Gillotti, Sue Luthens and Marvin Pomerantz. Norma Matthews is campaign director.

Gentry, who has served on the Des Moines School Board for the past seven years, was president in 1974-75. Among his special concerns and major accomplishments during that interval: a recognition of the importance of early childhood education; support for alternative uses of classrooms, such as the open space concept and the tradtitional school approach to education; work to accomplish Drake University's involvement in the King Attendance Center and the artist - in - residence program there; establishment of the school board's 5 - year capital improvements budget and prioritization of needed repairs and changes in existing structures; creation of the voluntary transfer program which started in 1968 and establishment of the Department of Inter - Cultural Affairs.

ELECTION ISSUES

Officing From 1919 to 1977

This is the last week of the location of the law firm of Morris & Morris, Morris & Associates, tax and bookkeeping service and the publication location of the New Iowa Bystander at 221 Locust Street. This is made necessary because, in connection with the Civic Center which is being constructed between Second Avenue and Fourth Street, directly across from our office, our building and the one in the rear which houses the Rummage Center are to be torn down for the location of parking ramp.

My moves have been somewhat interesting. I was discharged from the service at the base hospital at Fort Des Moines on July 7, 1919. Having passed the Iowa Bar in 1917, I immediately set out to find an office. The first call was the Fleming Building. The management would not rent me an office, but offered to sell me a used oak desk which I purchased and still is in service in the office.

Revealing my experience to the late S. Joe Brown, he advised that this was a practice of all the buildings downtown, but he would be glad to have me associated with him which I did at 515 Mulberry Street.

Desirous of having my own office, I occupied a space upstairs at 907 Walnut Street with the late Doctor Arthur J. Booker. In 1922 I bought the Iowa Bystander and moved to its location at Seventh and Mulberry. In the meantime, I was serving as a deputy Polk County Treasurer and later moved the office to 620 Mulberry Street upstairs in order to provide more space. However, this proved unsatisfactory and I moved the law office to 210 Sixth Avenue for a short period. Later I moved to the adjoining office of S. Joe Brown, at 517 Mulberry Street until this building was torn down. From there I moved back to Seventh and Mulberry on the third floor. The late Dr. Jefferson occupied the second floor and we were very comfortable there until the owners sold the building and we were notified that it would be torn down.

Searching for a location on the perimeter of the downtown district I located an empty room at 223½ Locust Street which was upstairs. The office was moved their in 1940 which provided ample space for all our needs and yet continued second class occupancy. Soon after my son, James B. Morris, Jr., now deceased, graduated from the University of Iowa Law School and in 1949 entered the office and organized the firm of Morris & Morris. We carried on in this location a few years but as with the case of young people he suggested a change in our location by moving to the first floor, now 221 Locust Street, and in cooperation with the landlord completely renovated the room by paneling and carpeting the offices.

Thus since 1940, the firm of Morris & Morris, lawyers, the Iowa Bystander until 1972, and Morris & Associates have conducted a business which we have enjoyed.

When I moved here in 1940 there were taverns on three corners and one in the middle of the block south. Admittedly, it was a pretty rough territory but having represented some of these ruffians in court they told me that nobody would be allowed to interfere with us in any way. True to their word we have never had a disagreement or controversy with any of our neighbors, in fact, many became some of our best friends.

All of this moving was due to the discrimination of rental of offices in the downtown area plus the fact that the Bystander occupied considerable space. Soon after the second World War overtures were made to me by a friend who had an interest in two prominent buildings downtown and he urged that we take advantage of his offer. However, the excessive space required with the ownership of the Bystander we did not accept the offer.

Dr. Robert Johnson was the first Negro to occupy an office in one of the fine buildings, the Des Moines Building. Since that time, others have occupied excellent space which today ranges to include one of the highest priced office facility in Des Moines.

Our new location will be at the Insurance Exchange Building Fifth and Grand. We had no trouble in August in selecting offices in other buildings. Times have changed since 1919 and to a great extent a fellow can occupy space just about any place as long as you have the money to pay the rent. This does represent progress in Des Moines.

Groups Oppose Racial Quotas in Bias Case

Two Jewish and six ethnic groups have joined in a friend-of-the-court brief to the U.S. Supreme Court supporting affirmative action to speed the entry of racial minorities into higher education but opposing the use of racial quotas.

The brief was filed in Regents of the University of California v. Bakke, a major test case on the issue of whether race may be considered in university admission procedures.

Last year the Supreme Court of California ruled 6-to-1 that the admissions policy of the University of California Medical School at Davis violated the equal protections clause of the 14th Amendment through a special admissions program that allotted 16 out of 100 places on the basis of race. The University applealed to the Supreme Court, which will hear arguments in the case during its October term.

Signing the brief were: American Jewish Committee American Jewish Congress, Hellenic Bar Association of Illinois, Italian-American Foundation, Polish American Affairs Council Polish American Educators Association, Ukrainian Congress Committee of America (Chicago Division), Unico National.

"We submit this brief," the eight organizations said, "Because we believe that our system of constitutional liberties would be gravely undermined if the law were to give sanction to the use of race in the decision-making process of governmental agencies and because we believe that disadvantaged students can be aided by other procedures that are both constitutional and practical."

'Affirmative Action Yes, Racial Quotas No'

The use of racial quotas as advocated by the University of California "would sacrifice the basic principles of racial equality for expediency and short term advantage," the brief said, adding that the philosophy of racial quotas was "factually, educationally and psychologically unsound, legally and constitutionally erroneous and profoundly damaging to the fabric of American society."

While rejecting the criterion of race and the use of racial quotas, the organizations stressed the need for intensified efforts to recruit disadvantaged students and to help them "in overcoming cultural or economic handicaps, thereby expanding the educational opportunities of our nation's historically deprived minorities, among others."

Universities should also provide "compensatory educational preparation, both prior to admission and during school attendance, for those whose backgrounds have handicapped them scholastically ... to enable them to take full advantage of the legal requirements of equal treatment," according to the brief.

But such assistance should be granted on the basis of individual disadvantage — not race, the organizations said.

'Don't Rely on Grades and Test Scores Only'

In their brief, the eight organizations cited with approval the majority decision of the California Supreme Court that medical school admission need not be based solely on academic test scores. In the Court's words:

"We observe and emphasize... that the University is not required to choose between a racially neutral admission standard applied strictly according to grade point averages and test scores, and a standard which accords preferences to minorities because of their race...

"While minority applicants may have lower grade point averages and test scores than others, we are aware of no rule of law which requires the University to accord determinative weight in admissions to these quantitative factors."

To avoid the "false dichotomy" between absolute reliance on numerical scores on the one hand and racial preference on the other, the brief declared:

"Schools may and, we think, should evaluate both grades and test scores in the light of a candidate's background; whether he came from a culturally improverished home; the nature and quality of the schools attended; whether family circumstances required work while attending school; whether he ... demonstrated concern and interest in the broader community by political activity or volunteer work among the sick or under-privileged; and whether he had manifested leadership, industry, perseverance, self-discipline and intense motivation.

"Because grades and test scores alone may not measure the true potentialities of such candidates," the brief added, "weight should be given to the reality that some disadvantaged candidates have demonstrated the capability of surmounting handicaps, whether such handicaps were occasioned by discrimination, poverty, chronic illness or other factors.

"All of these factors may constitutionally and legitimately be considered by the school," the brief declared, adding:

"But what the school may not do, we submit, is to classify applicants for admission on the basis of race or ethnicity and so structure its selection process as to admit an essentially predetermined proportion of members of certain groups."

The brief said further that if the medical school "were to conclude that the medical profession as presently composed fails to serve the disadvantaged elements in society, then it could also consider whether applicants for admission, irrespective of race or ethnicity, manifest a genuine commitment to serve those groups currently lacking adequate services.

letters to the editor

Dear Editor,

I sincerely hope that you receive this letter in the best of health and spirit. Sir, I am a inmate of the Southern Ohio Correctional Facility in Tucasville, Ohio. I am experiencing something I thought I had experienced in Vietnam, but I must say that the loneliness of my prison cell is far worse than that of my fighting hole in Nam. Sir, I am writing this letter with hope of being able to beceech your aid in finding some friends, and building a brigade of correspondence with anyone I can. My name is Lenn A. Williams 144-952. I am a 29 year old black man, 6'2" 180 lb. I am very lonely, your help in running an ad in your paper would be well appreciated Sir, thank you.

Respectfully,

Desegregation Plan In Effect For Fall

Classes start Monday (Aug. 29) for an estimated 37,500 students in the Des Moines Public Schools.

Two elementary school buildings, Fort Des Moines and Logan, have been closed and students assigned to other schools. The Fort Des Moines students were assigned to Mitchell and Lovejoy schools. As a result, some students who were transported to Lovejoy last year will, instead, be transported to Studebaker.

The Logan school closing resulted in the reassignment of most students to Garton. A few former Logan students who live south of University Avenue were reassigned to Lucas.

The Des Moines Desegregation Plan will go into effect with the opening of school. A number of elementary schools are involved in tthe plan adopted by the School Board March 3.

The plan calls for the merging of the attendance areas of nine schools and the reassignment of a portion of several attendance areas to different schools.

The former Edmunds attendance area west of 22nd Street was assigned to Greenwood school and the remainder of the Edmunds area merged with the Jefferson area. Kindergarten and grades 1-3 will be located at Jefferson and kindergarten and grades 4 - 6 will be at Edmunds.

A portion of the former Casady area was reassigned to Moulton and the remainder of the Casady area merged with the Monroe attendance area. Kindergarten and grades 1 - 3 will be located at Casady and kindergarten and grades 4 - 6 will be housed at Monroe.

The King and Perkins areas were merged and a portion of the Casady area assigned to King - Perkins. Kindergarten and grades 1 - 3 will attend King and kindergarten and grades 4 - 6 will attend Perkins.

An attendance area combining the former Moulton, Findley and Oak Park areas was formed with each building operating a kindergarten through grade six program. Parents were asked to indicate a first and second choice of educational program for their children. Students were assigned to the three programs and an estimated 83 per cent received either the first or second choice. Programs at the three buildings vary with an individualized program located at Findley, basic skills self - contained program at Moulton and a departmentalized program at Oak Park.

This year, for the first time, students will be required to be immunized against polio, diptheria, tetanus, whooping cough, red measles and German measles. The new state law became effective Aug. 15. However, because of the short time between the effective date and the start of school, state officials said parents will have until the start of the second semester (in late January) to produce evidence their children have been immunized.

The law applies to all school children, kindergarten through 12th grade. There are several exceptions permitted, however. Girls 12 and older will be exempt from the two measles vaccinations and certain religious and medical exemptions also will be allowed.

Des Moines school officials urged parents to have their children immunized as soon as possible and send proof of immunization to the school. They pointed out that the state law requires annual proof of immunization for each child.

Some elementary and all junior and senior high school students will attend school the same hours as last year, but hours have been changed for some elementary students.

Junior and senior high school students will start at 8 a.m. daily with junior high classes dismissed at 2:15 p.m. Senior high school students will be dismissed at 2:45 p.m.

Elementary school students will start at 8:55 a.m. and be dismissed at 3:05 p.m., the same as last year, at Brooks, Douglas, Edmunds, Elmwood, Findley, Garton, Granger, Greenwood, Hanawalt, Jackson, Lovejoy, McKinley, Mitchell, Monroe, Oak Park, Perkins, Pleasant Hill, Stowe, Studebaker and Wright.

Classes will start at 9 a.m. and be dismissed at 3:10 p.m. at Adams, Cattell, Cowles, Dunlap, Hillis, Hoak, Howe, Hubbell, Longfellow, Lucas, Madison, Mann, McKee, Moore, Park Avenue, Phillips, Rice, Samuelson, Wallace, Washington, Watrous, Willard, Windsor and Woodlawn.

The day will start for students at 9:10 a.m. and end at 3:20 p.m. at Casady, Jefferson, Moulton, King and the Des Moines Traditional School.

Classes will start at 8:30 a.m. and be dismissed at 2:30 p.m. at Smouse and Van Meter, 15 minutes later than last year.

Classes will be dismissed one hour earlier than the regular time during the first week of school.

The hot lunch program will start the first day.

The Des Moines schools also have established an information center to provide answers to questions on regular, special education and desegregation transportation. The telephone number of the center is 284-7841.

Bishop Backs Desegregation

From The Catholic Mirror

by Peter Dubec

DES MOINES — Bishop Maurice Dingman, in a letter read at all Masses in Des Moines Aug. 20 and 21, asked Catholics to support the Des Moines School District's desegregation plan that goes into effect Aug. 29.

Noting that the other denominational leaders in Des Moines were backing the school desegregation effort, the bishop said, "Our common purpose is to share our moral conviction that religiously enlightened people should support quality integrated education in our community."

"I ask your support for the local Des Moines school authorities as they implement the law. They have worked long hours. They have expended their best efforts in professional competency and in energetic leadership to fulfill both the spirit and the letter of the law," the bishop explained.

About 1,300 more students will be bused to their new schools this year than in 1976 because of the plan, and most of the rides will take about 15 minutes.

A request by two antibusing groups for an injunction to delay the controversial plan was recently denied by a federal court ruling.

About six percent of the students enrolled in the Des Moines area's 12 Catholic elementary schools are black or Hispanic. Minority students are enrolled in all of the schools, but most of them attend St. John's, St. Peter's, Visitation and Sacred Heart (West Des Moines).

At a press conference on Aug. 19, Bishop Dingman said he was issuing the letter because school desegregation is a "moral issue."

"We must recognize the dignity of the individual person, each of whom deserves the benefits of society, including a quality education," he said.

Also, all citizens are obligated to obey laws properly approved by civil authorities, the bishop continued.

Sister Dolores Marie McHugh, superintendent of schools for the Des Moines Diocese, told reporters, "Enrollments at our schools are not increasing significantly. New students are simply members of families moving within the city. In no way do we want our enrollments to benefit from the desegregation plan."

She referred to the policy approved in 1975 by the Diocesan Board of Education that prohibited admission to Catholic schools if the request was "motivated by a desire to avoid public school busing or elimination of de facto segregation in public schools."

Free Meal Policy Set By Schools

The Des Moines Independent Community School District announced its policy for reduced - price meals and for free meals and free milk, for children unable to pay the full price of meals and milk served under the National School Lunch and Special Milk Programs.

Children from families whose income is at or below the levels shown are eligible either for free lunches or for reduced-price lunches. An extra one-half pint of free milk is available to those who are eligible for free lunches. In addition, families not meeting these criteria but with other unusual expenses due to unusually high medical expenses, shelter costs in excess of 30 percent of income, special education expenses due to the mental or physical condition of a child, and disaster or casualty losses are urged to apply.

Self-employed farmers and self-employed business men are to report gross receipts less operating expenses.

Application forms are being distributed to all homes in a letter to parents. Additional copies are available at the principal's office in each school. The information provided on the application is confidential and will be used only for the purpose of determining eligibility. Applications may be submitted at any time during the year.

To discourage the possibility of misrepresentation, the application forms contain a statement above the space for signature certifying that all information furnished in the application is being made in connection with the receipt of Federal funds, that school officials may, for cause, verify the information in the application, and that deliberate misrepresentation of information may subject the applicant to prosecution under applicable State and criminal statutes.

In certain cases foster children are also eligible for these benefits. If a family has foster children living with them and wishes to apply for such lunches and milk for them, the family should contact the school.

In the operation of child nutrition programs, no child will be discriminated against because of race, sex, color, or national origin.

Under the provisions of the policy the designated school social worker will review applications and determine eligibility. If a parent is dissatisfied with the ruling of the official, he may wish to discuss the decision with the determining official on an informal basis. If he wishes to make a formal appeal, he may make a eirequest either orally or in writing to the prinicipal who will notify the hearing officer who will contact the parent for a hearing to appeal the decision. The policy contains an outline of the hearing procedure.

If a family member becomes unemployed or if family size changes, the family should contact the school to file a new application. Such changes may make the children of the family eligible for reduced price lunches, or for additional benefits such as free lunches and free milk if the family income falls at or below the levels shown above.

Local school officials have adopted the following family size and income criteria for determining eligibility:

Family size	Income Scale for Free Lunches & Free Milk	Income Scale for Reduced-Price Lunches
1	$ 3,930	$ 6,120
2	5,160	8,050
3	6,390	9,970
4	7,610	11,880
5	8,740	13,630
6	9,860	15,380
7	10,890	16,980
8	11,910	18,580
9	12,840	20,030
10	13,760	21,470
11	14,680	22,890
12	15,590	24,310
Each additional family member	910	1,420

Each school and the office of the Food Service Department has a opy of the complete policy which may be reviewed by an interested party.

Carter Proposes Welfare Reform

President Carter Aug. 6 announced his welfare reform proposal. Beginning last January, a 32 member task force assembled by HEW, including government staff, welfare recipients, and public interest representatives, held public meetings on possible reform. Also, more than 15,000 letters were solicited. Most governors also helped by outlining the major welfare problems in their states.

The final proposal and the problems in addresses are described below.

Outline of the major changes

The President's Job and Income Security Program:

1) Creates jobs to move people out of the welfare system.

$8.8 billion of the cost of the new program will be used to provide up to 1.4 million jobs and training opportunities. Under normal economic conditions, every primary earner who is able to work but cannot find a job in the private sector will have a public service job at the minimum wage.

By including a jobs program under welfare reform, the President wants to the greatest extent to assist people through work opportunities instead of strictly cash assistance. The current welfare system provides very few jobs (5,000 in the WIN program).

CETA, the other current jobs program, funds local government jobs mostly for people who are not on public assistance. CETA funds will be used for the new jobs program.

Simplifies both applying for welfare and the administration of it.

The proposal combines three now separate programs—Aid to Families with Dependent Children (AFDC), food stamps, and Supplementary Security Income (SSI). (SSI is a welfare program for the aged, unrelated to the Social Security System.) Applicants complete fewer forms, saving time and confusion, and receive single monthly cash payments.

The federal government would administer cash assistance under one set of rules, eliminating the many current differences in eligibility rules among states. While states could retain their function of processing applications and assisting applicants at the personal level, payments would be made through a single national data system to reduce administration costs.

3) Insures more income for workers than non-workers.

The largest source of cash to the poor now is Aid to Families with Dependent Children. In most states a family with a father does not qualify. If the father works full time but still earns less than the poverty level (which happens if he works at the minimum wage and has more than one child), the family is eligible only for food stamps. There is less income because the father works than with AFDC payments if he left home.

This would no longer happen under the President's proposal. Every family, including those with working fathers, qualifies for cash assistance until its income (for a family of four) reaches $8400. Benefits are reduced gradually as earnings increase, so that it is always more profitable to work. Under today's system, benefits sometimes drop drastically at certain income levels, making it more profitable at such points to remain on welfare.

4) Establishes a national minimum income level for the first time.

The federal government currently supplies no minimum cash income to welfare recipients. Each state decides how much assistance to give, and the federal government contributes to this amount. The proposal's new federal minimum of $4200 for a family of four (with no one expected to work, such as a mother and three young children) is higher than combined state and federal assistance today in 12 states, and is higher than the current federal contribution to welfare in 47 states.

How the new cash assistance program would work

The proposal provides two levels of payments: an Earned Income Supplement for recipients required to work, and an Income Support level for recipients not required to work. Payments on both levels are made according to the size of the family.

Those required to work to receive cash assistance would be individuals, childless couples, single parents with all children over 6, and principle wage earners in two-parent families.

Those not required to work are single parents with children under 6, people over 65, the blind and the disabled.

On the Earned Income Supplement level for those required to work, the maximum federal benefit for a family of four is $2300. As a work incentive, benefits are not reduced for the first $3800 of earnings, and are reduced after that by 50 cents for every dollar earned over $3800. In this way income reaches $8400 (for a family of four) before benefits end.

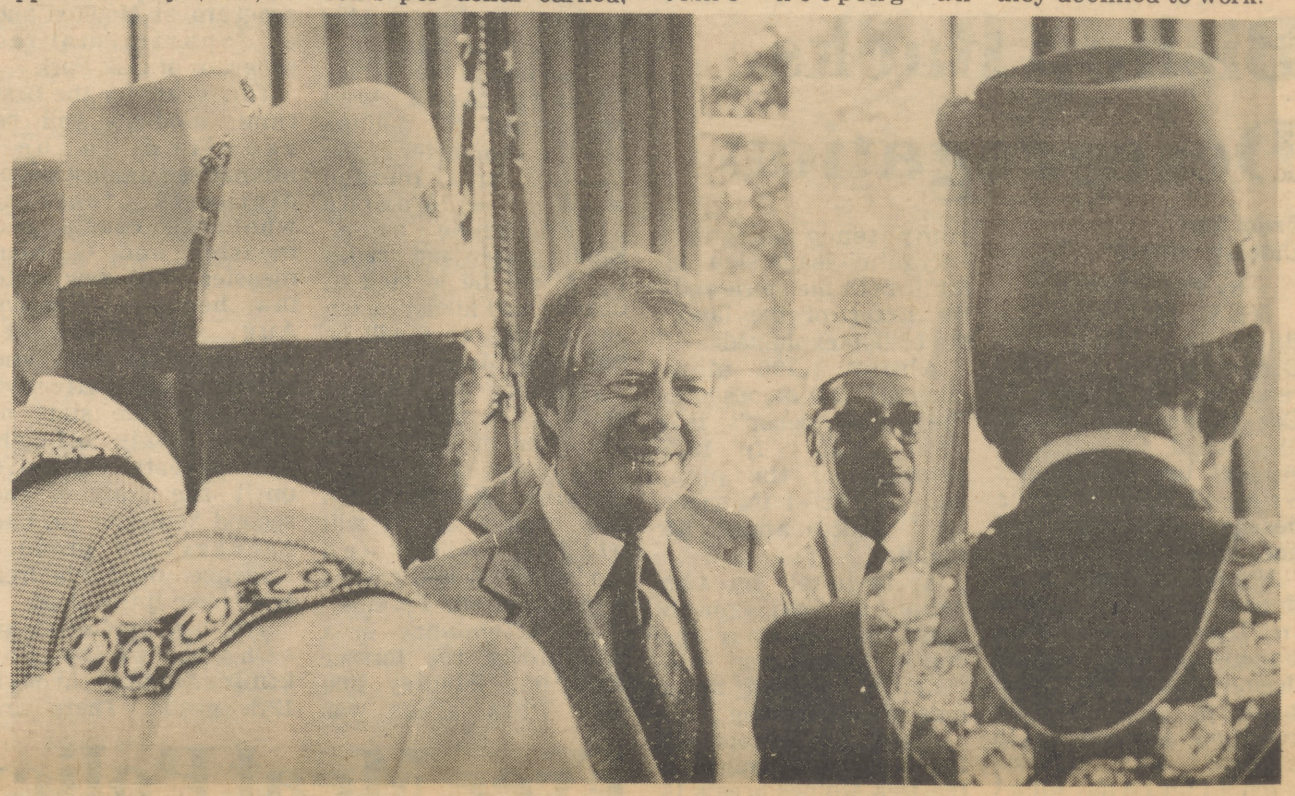

For example: If the father of a family of four works full-time at the minimum wage, earning approximately $5200, he would receive a cash benefit of $1600. This is determined by reducing the basic benefit ($2300) by 50 cents for every dollar earned over $3800 ($1400) so the $2300 benefit is reduced by $700.

On the Income Support level for those not required to work, the federal benefit for a family of four is $4200. If these recipients choose to work, their benefits also are reduced by 50 cents per dollar earned, up to a $8400 break-even point.

For example: A mother with three children (and at least one under 6) would receive $4200. If she chose to work part-time at the minimum wage (approx. $2600) her benefits would be reduced by $1300 (50 cents per dollar earned). This would make her benefit $2900, which, added to her earnings gives her a total of $5500.

This formula aims at providing adequately for those not required to work, but at the same time keeping an incentive for them to work if they can.

The new work requirement for mothers differs from the current system in that mothers with children over 6 currently, lose benefits if they refuse employment when it is offered, but most are not offered employment. Under the new system the government would attempt to provide a part-time job, or a full-time job if day care is available, and mothers would lose their own, but not their children's benefits, if they declined to work.

President Carter has received an award from the Improved Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks of the World.

Representatives of the Order presented the President with the Benjamin Franklin Howard award, named after the group's founder, for Carter's "enunciation of human rights."

The 450,000 member Elks group is a Black international organization, originally founded when Blacks were not allowed into the white Elks. Its primary focus has been on raising funds for scholarships.

Leaders presenting Carter with the award in the Oval Office were Hobson R. Reynolds, President and Grand Exalter Ruler, Philadelphia; James R. Smith, Public Relations Chairman, Philadelphia; and Joseph A. Beavers, Regional Director, Washington, D.C.

The award comes less than a month after the President designated the week of July 17 - 24 as Captive Nations Week, "demonstrating America's support for those who seek national independence liberty, and human rights." (Resolution enclosed.)

The leaders also asked President Carter to call a human rights summit meeting to address problems of Blacks in the United States.

NAACP Offers Help For Reform

NEW YORK — Mrs. Margaret Bush Wilson, chairman of the NAACP National Board of Directors, said that the Better Jobs and Income program outlined by President Carter on Saturday, August 6, was "encouraging" and pledged the support of the NAACP in working to achieve the enactment of a meaningful bill in Congress. In a statement, Mrs. Wilson said:

The proposed program for Better Jobs and Income outlined by President Carter on Saturday, August 6, seeks to eliminate the negative aspects of the present welfare system while striving to provide a minimum income for the poor. the proposal is encouraging in that it seeks to provide:

(1) Jobs for those in need and who are able to work;

(2) Income support, such as part - time jobs for those unable to work full - time;

(3) Earned income tax credits as incentives for the working poor.

Clearly, in a program of this complexity, President Carter sought to stress the positive aspects of his proposals. He also sought to blunt the attacks of those who are adamantly opposed to any form of public assistance programs.

The NAACP, however, perceives a real danger in just such an approach. The danger is that, in attempting to scrap the old system, Congress will devise one that increases the burden of poverty on the most disadvantaged segments of society.

Work incentives, therefore, should not penalize the poor. They should instead relieve the burden of poverty while providing meaningful jobs for those able to work. The need for readily available daycare centers for mothers wanting to work should be adequately met.

The proposal to reduce the burden on local governments is praiseworthy. But it does not go far enough. It should completely relieve local governments of the responsibility for income support payments. The states shold be made to assume this obligation.

There is also the danger of robbing Peter to pay Paul. Income support benefits in one area of the country should not be reduced just so that assistance to the poor in other regions can be increased. The essential benefits of the present food stamp program should also be maintained within the Better Jobs and Income program.

The NAACP especially wishes to commend the President for recognizing the stigma that is attracted to welfare

ALLEN ASHBY with a LOOK ON SPORTS

It won't be long until we go from tennis to football. But first we have to mention the fact that Esther Snype played in the racquet club South tennis tournament and didn't do too badly. She won the womens thirty five division and made it to the semifinals in the womens open class.

Now we have to come up with the Hilltop Closed meet. As I write this, we haven't received our permits for the courts at Good Park. We wanted only three courts from about four p.m. until eight. We have done this for a few years before, and about ninety per cent of the people who play at the park get into the meet. But this year we are experiencing a little difficulty getting the courts.

Well, by the time you read this, the meet will be on, weather permitting, permits or no permits.

And to football

Just about everyone you talk to wants to see the Iowa-Iowa State game next month. Lucky that it will be on television, so some people who hold tickets may stay home and watch it on the tube rather than fight that crowd over there and back.

Who will win? Don't know, but on the basis of early season preparations, one would have to give the Cyclones the nod. But football is such an emotional game that underdogs sometimes have a way of making the favorite look bad. And this bids to be just about the most emotional game played in Iowa since the early thirties.

And where will the two clubs end up in their respective conferences? Iowa State is picked way down as is Iowa. One of them might come off that September 17th game and go on to a much better season than they had dreamed of.

The guy sitting beside me says that they could play their entitire season in that one game and neither one could be worth a hoot the rest of the year. Maybe he is wrong.

And Drake has nowhere to go but up after their disastrous year of 1976. Might be interesting to see a couple of the Bulldog games and maybe find something to talk about.

I think that Drake should have stayed in their class in spite of the money they made in a couple of games. They were made to look bad and it didn't do the team morale any good. If they can get by their first game, they may have a fair year.

Here at home the talk is that someone is going to get Dowling this year. They say that every year, but this is the year it may come true.

East has always given the Maroons a scare, twice nearly beating them, and they are supposed to have a fine offense. But if they score thirty points and give up thirty one, they won't win many games.

North could have the best defense in the city, but Valley could be the sleeper, or maybe not a sleeper, but just a tough nut.

Boxing

Also, in September come a couple of boxing bouts. The one between Ken Norton and Jimmy Young will determine who gets the next crack at Muhamahd Ali, if he hasn't gotten his block knocked off by Earnie Shavers.

If I had to pick a winner in the Norton - Young brawl, I would go with Young. He is a fine defensive boxer, and knows his way around a ring.

Norton will have his hands full trying to catch up with the guy. And the heavy champ will be out to defend his crown against a guy named Earnie Shavers. Folks say this Shavers fellow can hit one in the seat of the pants and knock him out. So if he lands one on the chin of Ali, we could see a new champ.

But the champ is ringwise, and can really protect his head, the most vulnerable part of the anatomy of a fellow in his middle thirties. One can condition one's body to take a terrific beating, but the head can't be conditioned to take very many hard punches after one gets past his physical prime.

So, if, and I say if, Shavers can catch Ali upside the dome with one of his lethal punches, he could make the fight game turn upside down. What would happen then? How many people would pay today's prices to see Shaver and Young or Norton? Would you?

This will likely mark the end of the million dollar purses for boxers in any class, and things may come back down to normal. Anywhere from two to six million bucks for a few rounds of boxing. Makes one woozy to think about it.

TRIPLE TREAT — Ten - year - old Randy Alderman of Southfield, Mich, became the first official entrant in this year's 17th annual Punt, Pass & Kick competition, got former Detroit Lion star Mel Farr's autograph and caught a sneak preview of Ford's new Fairmont — all in one afternoon. Registration for PP&K, co-sponsored by the National Football League and the Ford Dealers of America, is open to youngsters age eight through 13 at participating Ford dealerships until September 30. Farr is a Ford dealer in Southfield. More than 1,000,000 youngsters are expected to take part n this year's competition.

Punt, Pass and Kick Celebrate 17th Year

Dearborn, Mich.: Punt, Pass and Kick (PP&K) celebrates its 17th anniversary this year with more than one million boys and girls between the ages of eight and 13 expected to compete.

PP&K registration opens Friday, August 19, and continues through September 30 at participating Ford dealerships across the country.

Sponsored by the Ford Dealers of America and the National Football League, PP&K has drawn over 14 million youngsters into competition since its inception in 1961. National winners have their names inscribed on the PP&K plaque at the Football Hall of Fame in Canton, Ohio.

Bert Jones, the Baltimore Colts star quarterback, is a former PP&K winner while Mike Kirkland, his backup, was the national 13 - year - old champion in 1967. Other PP&K participants include Colts punter, David Lee; Randy Grossman, tight end of the Pittsburgh Steelers, and Danny White, the Dllas Cowboys punter and reserve quarterback.

To register, youngsters aged eight through 13 should visit their local Ford dealer with a parent or guardian. A PP&K tips book will be given each entrant. There is no fee and contestants compete only against others their own age.

No body contact or special equipment is required, and scoring is based on distance and accuracy. One point is awarded for evey foot the ball is punted, passed and kicked, and one point is deducted for every foot the ball lands off a center line. Trophies are presented to the winners at each of six levels of competition — local, zone district, area, divisional and national.

Ford dealerships will announce dates and locations for local competition scheduled to begin the weekend of September 30 or October 7.

Local first - place winners move on to zone competitons and winners there qualify for district finals. Area and divisional competitions will take place at National Football League games.

Divisional final to represent the National Football Conference will take place December 18 at Tampa during the Tampa-St. Louis game. American Football Conference winners also will be determined December 18 during the Houston-Cincinnati game in Houston.

The 12 divisional champions, six from the NFC and six from the AFC, will compete for the national championship during halftime at Super Bowl XII in New Orleans next January 15.

Alpha To Raise $1 Million For NAACP and Others

ATLANTA—A plan to raise $1,000,000 over the next two years for the NAACP, National Urban League, and the United Negro College Fund was unvailed today by James R. Williams, General President of Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity, Inc.

The $1,000,000 drive, undertaken by the nation's oldest black Greek letter organization, was announced at the public meeting of the Fraternity's 71st anniversary convention this week in Georgia at the Atlanta Hilton Hotel. Attending the convention this week in Georgia at the Atlanta Hilton Hotel. Attending the convention was Benjamin L. Hooks, NAACP Executive Director.

Founded at Cornell University in 1906, Alpha Phi Alpha has about 70,000 members. These are college trained men from over 500 college and alumni chapters in 44 states, the West Indes, Africa, and Europe.

Mr. Williams said of the campaign: "This is the most broadbased effort of its kind in the nation. Its purpose is both to raise money and to rally the top black leadership of America to a new level of support for these three organizations which are so vital to the expansion of opportunity for Afro-Americans. Alpha Phi Alpha's long commitment to the development of America for full and equal opportunity for black people will be greatly advanced through this effort."

Dr. Isadore J. Lamothe, of Marshall, Texas, was named national chairman of the campaign.

McCracken Visits Calif.

Mrs. Margaret McCracken returned to the city after visiting her son, Fred, Jr. for four weeks in Oakland, California.

She saw many of the well-known sights of the San Francisco Bay Area, including Golden Gate Park and the famed Hyatt Regency Hotel where she, together with her son Sylvester, his wife and children, also visiting in California, was entertained at luncheon by son Fred Jr. Courtesies were extended to her by Mrs. Gloria Hall of San Francisco and Mrs. Geraldine Burks of Berkeley, California.

She attended the First AME Church in Oakland and the Church By The Side Of The Road in Berkeley. Two highlights of the visit were a trip to Reno, Nevada and an occasion to hear the dynamic NAACP president, Benjamin Hooks, speak.

Camp Fire Girls Win Fair Awards

The statewide network will also foster professionalism and encourage communications in a field which has only recently been recognized as a specialized area of Personnel expertise.

The organization has already signed up 60 charter members from the private, state, federal and educational sectors. Jones estimates that over 200 persons in Iowa are eligible to join the group.

People such as DOT Director, Victor Preisser; Public Safety Director, Charles Larson; Blue Cross of Iowa President, David Nugent; Iowa Development Commission Director, Del Van Horn have been particularly helpful in encouraging the association. Significant support has also been received from community groups, other state agencies and private corporations.

Interested organizations and agencies should contact Bev Allen, Iowa Development Commission, at 281-3468 for further details. Persons may also contact Thomas Jones for more information at 265-2864 after 5 p.m.

PRE -SCHOOL BUS RIDES

Students who will ride buses to King and Perkins elementary schools when classes start August 29, will have an opportunity to take a get - acquainted ride Friday.

Students in grades four, five and six living in the King area will ride buses to Perkins and students in grades one, two and three living in the Perkins area will ride to King.

Parents also are being given an opportunity to ride buses to the two schools Friday, but they will not ride the same buses as their children.

At the schools Friday, children will be introduced to their teachers and inspect their classrooms. Buses then will return the children and parents to the bus pickup points.

The King and Perkins attendance areas are among several which were merged in the plan to desegregate the Des Moines Public Schools.

Earlier this week students and parents in the Edmunds and Jefferson elementary schools attendance areas rode buses to the two buildings for evening get - acquainted meetings.

Burrell Visits Son In New York

Mrs. Prescillia Burrell during the week of July 5 to 15, 1977 visited Schenectady, N.Y. where her oldest son Jerry L. Burrell, known locally around Des Moines as Flake, is employed as an Art Co-ordinator by the New York State Council on the Arts at Hamilton Hill Drop-In Art Center.

The center functions mainly for children of underprivilaged families, community awareness on the arts. Some of the duties Jerry does in this position is teaching a painting class and woodsculpture class five days a week for children, and three nights a week for adults.

He also organizes neighborhood art showing of community artist who lived around the Hamilton Hill Art Center area, plus searches out unknown artist to feature at the center once a month, giving them a chance for exposure.

Jerry has also started a two year project of muraling several community buildings inside and out, starting with Carver Community Center located on the corner of Craige and Lincoln St. in which he has done extensive work already this past winter.

Plus, he is now working on a fifteen foot woodsculpture for the Hamilton Hill Park being constructed between Paige and Schnectady Street. Also he is helping complete some murals the center had started at the O.D. Heck Rehabilitation Center at an earlier time before his arrival.

Mrs. Prescillia Burrell while there had a chance to see a community art showing arranged by her son featuring six artist working in various medias such as wood, clay, rug hooking and painting and charcoal. Also live music and other entertainment such as the Hamilton Hill's own African drum and dance group made up from the kids that attend the center.

She also had a chance to see her son Jerry give technical advice, and work as a consultant while TV station WMNT, Channel 17, did a three part series on the activities of the center, and other local artist.

One segment covered moods and opinions of black artist. Another segment showed artist actually working in their various media's and another segment showed Jerry and another artist Berry Irving, doing a woodsculpture and commenting.

These shows will be aired in the New York and eastern area's for educational T.V. during the month of September.

Son of Fred & Priscilla Burrell, 1509 Harrison.

"AN EQUAL OPPORTUNITY EMPLOYER"

Johnson & Johnson Introduces Leadership Award-Scholarship

A Leadership Award program designed to encourage minority students who have demonstrated leadership ability in campus and other activities to pursue careers in business management has been introduced by Johnson & Johnson, a leading health care company.

The first annual Johnson & Johnson Leadership Award provides an all-expense, two-year scholarship to Northwestern University's Graduate School of Management in Evanston, Ill.

Harriet Smiley, a May graduate of Ball State University, Muncie, Ind., has received the 1977 award and scholarship. She will begin study this fall for an MBA degree at Northwestern.

Ms. Smiley's career objective is marketing. This summer she is working as a product management assistant for the Consumer Products Division of McNeil Laboratories, Inc., a Johnson & Johnson affiliate company located in Fort Washington, Pa.

Her assignments involve marketing projects for TYLENOL acetaminophen, the leading brand of pain relief products. She will also be employed at McNeil in the summer of 1978.

A leader in many campus organizations and editor of the college magazine, Ms. Smiley graduated with honors from Ball State. She is from Louisville, Ky., where she graduated third in her high school class.

The Johnson & Johnson Leadership Award program is being coordinated in cooperation with the United Negro College Fund and is available to students at UNCF schools and other colleges and universities across the nation.

Johnson & Johnson will provide training positions for award recipients during the summers before the first and second academic years of graduate study.

Harriett Smiley, winner of the first annual Johnson & Johnson Leadership Award, and an all-expense MBA scholarship to Northwestern University Graduate School of Management, discusses consumer product marketing with James E. Burke, chairman of the board, Johnson & Johnson.

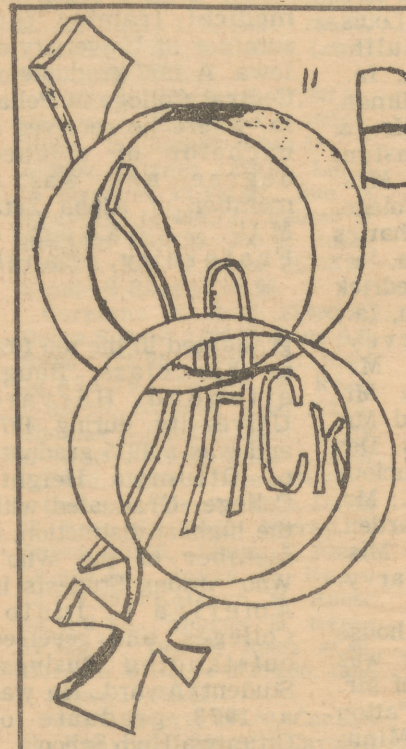

Am. Jewish Committee Backs National Full Employment Week

NEW YORK...The American Jewish Committee has called on its 40,000 members and 100 chapters throughout the nation to participate in and back National Full Employment Week, which is set for September 4th through 10th.

In a "Call to Action" signed by Executive Vice President Bertram H. Gold and some 80 other national leaders, the nation was asked to rally in support of comprehensive full employment legislation.

Mr. Gold heartily welcomed the basic principles of the Full Employment and Balanced Growth Act (H.R. 50 and S. 50), which establishes useful employment as the right of every American. The Committee also sent a series of memoranda to its national field staff, urging that activities be coordinated with the Full Employment Action Council in Washington and with local full employment coalitions.

"The American Jewish Committee has made full employment one of its major domestic priorities," declared Mr. Gold. "Chronic mass unemployment breaks the spirit of the individual citizen, it corrodes the general society, it tears at the very fabric of constructive intergroup relations, it extracts enormous financial cost from everyone, and it simply cannot be accepted as the norm in everyday life.

Around the State

Davenport

A running attack on the Scott County Manpower Planning Council ended today when its membership added four women.

The group recommends what local agencies should receive under the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act, which allows hiring of low-income persons for special projects.

Supervisor William Gluba has made criticism of the council's representation of the community because it lacked women and minorities.

The Board of Supervisors appointed four women to the council. They are Margaret Meese, employer of the Scott County District Court Juvenile Court Services, Sandra Lake of the [illegible]ission on Aging for [illegible] Iowans, Carol [illegible]s who replaces [illegible] Lee, a labor representative on the council who resigned recently, and Mary Wright of Bethel A.M.E. Church, all of Davenport.

This action means there are now five women on the 20-member council.

Gluba said the new council is a big improvement.

Commission on Aging For Senior Iowans

Commission on Aging for Senior Iowans, Davenport, now has three inner-city outreach workers. Sandra Lake — Central Davenport downtown and Senior Citizen Center worker.

Cecile Cooper — part time inner city worker, 11th, 12th, 13th and 14th street area. (CETA).

Barbara Williamson — part time east side of town. (CETA).

We hope that Mrs. Cooper and Mrs. Williamson as our newest workers will help us to reach more Senior Citizens in Davenport.

Perry, Ia.

MRS. BEARD AND VISITOR ACTIVE IN AMEZ WORK

Mrs. Frealy M. Garrison of Perry, Iowa, was in Richmond County for several days this week visiting Mrs. Maggie Beard and her husband the Rev. D. G. W. Beard, pastor of Mt. Pisgah A.M.E. Zion Church, Rockingham. The two women had just returned from a five-day conference at Black Mountain.

Both Mrs. Garrison and Mrs. Beard are members of the executive board of the Woman's Home and Foreign Missionary Society of the African Methodist Episcopal Zion Church. Mrs. Garrison is editor of the women's column in the "Seer" and Mrs. Beard is secretary of the Young Women.

They left Tuesday to attend a three-day executive beard meeting in Charlotte and were accompanied by Dr. Beard, who is participating in a Council meeting there.

"Mission Is" was theme for the Missionary Leadership Training Institute held at Camp Dorothy Walls, Black Mountain. Over 200 women from the United States and West Africa were on hand for the July 20-25 session. Mrs. Garrison was in charge of the newsletter staff and Mrs. Beard conducted a denominational workshop for youth.

Mrs. Garrison, in her column, "Freely Speaking," writes of the meeting:

"As we tarry here at the foot of the mountains, away from the noise of the street, where the crowds jostle and traffic rushes, where the multitudes pass on heedless, hurrying feet, we shall find ourselves inspired and filled with His spirit as God Himself nourishes our souls."

Her job as a columnist for the "Missionary Seer," frequently takes Mrs. Garrison to church meetings all over the United States. It is her duty to report the church news as it affects women. The "Missionary Seer" is published monthly in New York City as the official magazine of the Home and Overseas Missions of the African Methodist Episcopal Zion Church.

Following the meeting in Charlotte, Mrs. Garrison will be returning to her home in Iowa. She is a widow with two sons and six grandchildren.

NAACP Leadership Session

The Iowa-Nebraska State Conference of NAACP branches met Saturday, August 20 at Cedar Rapids Iowa for a leadership planning session.

Luther Trent, president of the Cedar Rapids branch hosted the half day strategy meeting, which was held at the Booth Community Center.

Representatives of Iowa and Nebraska branches were in attendance, along with Region IV Director, Ina Boon of St. Louis and L.W. McVoy, President of the two state conference from Omaha.

The group approved plans for their fall leadership conference and elections scheduled for October 21, & 22, 1977 at Sioux City, Iowa.

Workshops dealing with desegregation in Education, Employment, Housing, and the effect of the energy crisis upon the poor will be conducted.

Region IV Director Ina Boon pledged to work for the strengthening of all branches in the Iowa-Nebraska Conference. "We've waited too long, she said. We must adgitate, motivate and if necessary demonstrate for justice."

The Des Moines delegation of Vincent Chapman, Larry Carter and Robert Wright reported on their Freedom Fund and 62nd Anniversary banquet to be held September 9th at the Hilton Inn; all present pledged to support the event.

Minority Sales Top Goal of NMPC

Sales of minority firms to National Minority Purchasing Council member companies reached $797 million during 1976, topping the Council's goal of $750 million for the year.

Council Chairman Augustine R. Marusi said last year's sales equalled a 55 percent increase over 1975's $514 million total. Marusi, chairman and chief executive officer of Borden, Inc., said the sales figures were based on reports from the Council's affiliates in 33 major cities.

"We are pleased that our regional network exceeded its goal for 1976. Based on this increase, we are confident we can achieve $1 billion in purchases from minority suppliers in 1977," Marusi said.

The National Minority Purchasing Council is a not-for-profit corporation founded in 1972 by the Commerce Department's Office of Minority Business Enterprise (OMBE) and a group of business executives. It is presently in the process of relocating from Chicago to new headquarters in Washington, D.C. where it will be headed by Thomas I. Ahart, newly named executive director.

Nearly 1,000 major companies participate in the Purchasing Council program including 300 of the Fortune 500 firms. Most of the Council's annual operating budget is provided by OMBE under a $179,000 contract with the balance coming from contributions and fees.

OMBE Director-designate Randolph T. Blackwell called the 1976 sales increase an encouraging sign of industry's commitment to the use of minority suppliers.

"In recent years we have seen a trend away from dependence on Government markets

MESSIAH TEMPLE

"Has God Touched Your Heart?" was the title of the lesson brought to us by Evangelist Zora Reed last Sunday. The Lord blessed as Evangelist Reed asked us if we were interested in God touching our hearts. If you are interested in receiving a touch from God, then give Him your whole heart and wait upon Him.

Begin at Genesis 1:1 and read the Bible every day, pray, and grow closer to God. The lack of use results in the lack of possession. We have to hold on to these things and God in order to receive our blessings.

Messiah Temple has been blessed to have another rummage and bake sale on September 2 and 3 beginning at 10:00 a.m. and ending at 4:00.

Sunday school is at 10:30 with worship services at 11:30. Bible study is every Sunday evening at 7:00. Prayer meeting is every Wednesday at 7:00 p.m.

REMEMBER: Sometimes we need help to get this job done. Let us remember to help each other hold up.

MAPLE STREET BAPTIST CHURCH

On Sunday, August 28, we will have a Guest Speaker for Morning Service. The Gospel Choir will be singing.

"THE LIGHT SIDE OF LIFE"

BURDENS

A woman carrying a heavy suitcase managed to catch a crowded streetcar. When she was safely aboard, the conductor noticed that she stood in the aisle clinging to her suitcase. Finally he said to her, "Lady, you can put your suitcase down now. The car will carry it for you."

CHURCH

Remember the story of the pastor who thanked God for sin — because he knew he would never be out of a job? There is no danger of the church going out of business in our life-time. As long as there are persons who stumble in darkness, doubt, and despair, there will be a crying need for the grand old institution known as the Church of Jesus Christ.

BAD NEWS

My little boy kept badgering me. "Daddy, please don't drive so fast." he pleaded. "Why not," I asked. "The car with the blue flashing light can't get by you," he replied.

CHILDREN

We were having trouble getting our three - month - old daughter to sleep last night. I decided to try a lullaby. Our five year old asked her mother why I was singing to the baby. "Daddy is trying to get her to sleep," my wife replied. "Boy," she replied, "If I was her, I'd pretend I was asleep."

MARRIAGE

My wife met me at the door last night. "Guess what I fixed for dinner?" she asked. "I don't know," I answered. "Serve it and I will do my best to figure it out."

* * * * * *

One man said about marriage: "I ain't no deserter, I'm a refugee."

Wives remember the wise words of Confucius: "Women without horse sense become nags."

MEDICINE

I went to my doctor yesterday. Said he: "Your cough sounds better." I told him that it ought to. I practiced all night.

Carter Appoints Blacks To Courts

President Carter has announced the appointment of two more Blacks to positions in the nation's judicial system.

The President nominated Franklin Payne of St. Louis, Mo., to be U.S. Marshall for the Eastern District of Missouri. Payne was born February 25, 1917, in St. Louis. From 1941 to 1954 he was a semi-skilled laborer with the American Steel Company.

From 1954 to 1966 he was supervisor of maintenance for the St. Louis Parking Meter Department. From 1967 to 1970 he served as a member of the Missouri House of Representatives, and since 1971 he has been a Missouri State Senator.

The President also nominated Howard J. Turner, Jr., of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, to be U.S. Marshal for the Western District of Pennsylvania. Turner was born October 2, 1935, in Pittsburgh. He served as deputy sheriff of Allegheny County from 1964 to 1969 and as Deputy U.S. Marshal for the Western District of Pennsylvania from 1969 to the present.

Fashaw Named Information Head for Outdoor Recreation

Chris T. Delaporte, Director of the Interior Department's Bureau of Outdoor Recreation (BOR) has announced the appointment of Rochelle (Rockie) M. Fashaw as Chief of the Office of Communications.

Ms. Fashaw is the first black woman appointed to a top position in the Bureau since it was created in 1962. She comes to the Bureau with a wide range of experience in communications and in government relations. Prior to joining the Bureau, Ms. Fashaw was Director of Communications for Opportunity Funding Corporation, Washington, D.C., since 1972.

She served as Information Officer for the Interracial Council for Business Opportunity, where she had responsibility for management of their National Information Office from 1971 to 1972. She was Project Assistant to Senator Edward W. Brooke from 1967 to 1971.

"I'm delighted to have a professional with Ms. Fashaw's experience, enthusiasm, and energy heading up the Bureau's Office of Information," Delaporte said.

"We are embarking on some exciting new and important programs that will depend heavily on the public having an accurate understanding on the issues involved. The BOR's Information Office will have an important role in these programs in a very substantive way and I am confident that we have the right leadership to make this possible," he continued.

Ms. Fashaw attended Georgetown University, Washington, D.C.

She is a former member of the National Advisory Council of the Small Business Administration and is a founder and member of the Board of Directors of the Minority Legislative Education Program.

She resides in Brookeville, Maryland.

GE Grant To Black U's

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., August 21 — To aid in increasing the number of minority business leaders in this country, the General Electric Foundation has granted $146,000 to two predominantly black business schools.

The GE Foundation has granted $75,000 to the School of Business and Industry at Florida A&M University, Tallahassee, and $71,000 to the School of Business and Economics at North Carolina A&T State University, Greensboro.

Both schools will receive the money over the three year period 1976-78 inclusive.

One important reason for the grants will be to help these business schools gain accreditation from the American Assembly of Collegiate Schools of Business (AACSB).

"The General Electric Foundation's grant comes at a crucial stage in our development, at a time when we need help to meet the demands of an increase in the number of outstanding students," said Dr. Sybil C. Mobley, Dean of Florida A&M University's School of Business and Industry.

"The GE Foundation grant is helping us to engage outstanding visiting professors during our period of rapid development. Thus we are able to move ahead without lowering our standards. The GE Foundation has been a source of meaningful support for many years," she added.

"The General Electric Foundation grant is helping us in a number of important ways," said Dr. Quiester Craig, Dean of North Carolina A&T University's School of Business and Economics. It helped us to expand our learning laboratories where we supply student tutors to help others over classrooms hurdles. It is also helping us to increase our faculty by two persons, one in finance and one in accounting. This, in turn, made it possible to reduce class sizes. The funds from this grant have also sent some faculty members back to school to get their doctorates."

The GE Foundation is an independent trust established by the General Electric Company in 1952.

NOTICE OF DESIGN PUBLIC HEARING

IN RE: Construction of U.S. 520 beginning near the intersection of U.S. 63 and Ia. 412 in the City of Waterloo and continuing easterly to approximately .25 mile west of Hess Road.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

Notice is hereby given to all interested persons that a public hearing will be held at the Schoitz Cedar Terrace Room in the Waterloo Recreation and Arts Center at 225 Cedar Street in Waterloo, Iowa, on September 1, 1977. The public hearing activity will begin at 6:00 p.m. with an open house where members of the Iowa Department of Transportation staff will be available with plans and displays to explain the project on an individual basis.

The formal public hearing will begin at 7:00 p.m. at which time the public will have the opportunity to express their views concerning the project.

The proposed design for this section of Freeway 520 provides for a four-lane divided highway with interchanges constructed in conjunction with U.S. 63, located at the beginning of this project, and with Iowa 21 located near the end of the project. The length of the proposed project is approximately 4.3 miles.

The right of way acquisition and construction schedules for this proposed project will be discussed at the public hearing.

Pertinent information developed by the Iowa Department of Transportation in the planning and design of this project, as well as any correspondence received from any governmental agencies or public advisory groups interested in or affected by the proposed highway development will be available for public inspection at the hearing from Mr. Bob Bortle, District Engineer, Iowa Department of Transportation, District Office No. 2, P.O. Box 741, 1420 4th St. SE, Mason City, Iowa 50401.

Provisions will be made for the submission of written statements and other exhibits in place of or in addition to oral statements made at the public hearing. Statements or exhibits will also be accepted after the public hearing by delivering said statements or exhibits with respect to the project to:

Office of Development Support
Iowa Department of Transportation
Highway Division
Ames, Iowa 50010

The final date for receipt of these statements or exhibits will be 12:00 Noon, September 12, 1977.

Copies of the project map are on display in the offices of the City Clerk in the cities of Waterloo, Cedar Falls, Evansdale, Hudson, Raymond, Gilbertville, and Elk Run Heights. Persons who want to make a formal presentation should contact the Office of Development Support, Iowa Department of Transportation, Highway Division, Ames, Iowa 50010.

NAACP Launches Fund Drive For Hancock County Group

NEW YORK — The NAACP has launched a major fund-raising drive to obtain funds for the defense of 13 people in Hancock County, Ga., who face long prison sentences if they are convicted on charges of misusing $90,000 in federal funds.

For the black residents of the county, the implications of the case exceed the cruelty and unjust nature of the indictments. Involved are immense political and economic issues that are crucial to the future of black progress throughout Georgia, and even the South.

Eleven of the accused are black; the other two are white. The NAACP is charging that the federal government has joined with the local white residents to harass and intimidate the majority black population in a manner reminiscent of the old South in the pre-civil rights days a decade ago.

On August 5, NAACP Associate Counsel Charles Carter led efforts in the U.S. District Court in Atlanta to have some of the charges dropped. Mr. Carter maintained that the statutes of limitation had expired on September 16, 1972, but that the grand jury, under the direction of U.S. Assistant Attorney Robert H. McKnight Jr., handed up the indictments on the 17th, a day late.

The case arose in a county that is about 75 percent black and desperately poor. Until 1966, the county and its principal city, Sparta, were ruled totally by white political and economic interests. With no organized power base of their own, the black population was completely dependent on white goodwill for their existence. Indeed, fully half the black population barely subsisted above the poverty level.

In 1966, the status quo of white control was disturbed by the arrival of John McCown, a black civil rights leader and political organizer. By 1970, McCown had organized the black population into a 70% voting majority, with the result that black people began to assume their fair share of elective and appointive positions in the county.

With their new political awareness, the black population also demanded that the rich corporations that owned most of the land assume a more equitable share of the tax burden, heretofore borne largely by the poor black population.

Led by McCown, the black population also began a self-help economic effort. McCown created with the help of the now disbanded federal anti-poverty agency, Office of Economic Opportunity, and foundations, ECCO developed successful small businesses to put black people to work at decent wages. Among these were a catfish farm, a cement factory, a housing complex, and a movie theatre.

As ECCO achieved a series of political and economic successes, the white power structure grew increasingly hostile. By 1970, harassment and vandalism became commonplace. McCown received a number of death threats; so did Edith Ingram, probate judge of Hancock County. She was the first black elected to that position in Georgia since Reconstruction, a result of McCown's political organizing effort.

The federal government became involved in the case in 1974, when OEO began auditing ECCO's bookkeeping practices. Next the Internal Revenue Service began a secret investigation under the direction of its special agent, James Leach.

The NAACP charged that Leach's entire approach was wrapped in illegality and harassment.

Hooks Applauds Rights Agency Criticisms of TV Race Bias

NEW YORK — NAACP Executive Director Benjamin Hooks this week said that he "absolutely" agreed with the report of the United States Civil Rights Commission that accused the television industry of racial and sexual stereotyping. He further agreed with the charge that the Federal Communications Commission could have done more to end such discrimination.

Mr. Hooks, who resigned from the FCC the last week of July to replace Roy Wilkins at the NAACP, has vowed to work towards eradicating from the television industry the types of discrimination about which the Civil Rights Commission reported.

"I have long advocated that the FCC should have regulatory authority over the networks because they are the principal suppliers of programming for most of the major stations around the country," he said. "I happen to believe that where there is little input from blacks, women and other minorities, the end product will not faithfully reflect the totality of American life," he said.

On the charges that the FCC has not pushed hard enough to end racial and sex discrimination, Mr. Hooks noted that he had sometimes been outvoted by the other six commission members on considerations in this area. However, he added, the commission had also made some praiseworthy achievements in pushing the electronic media to hire and upgrade minorities.

He emphasized that he is not advocating FCC control of programming. "I do not believe that the history of government regulatory activities would be conducive to the exercise of such powers," he said. "It would be difficult to do so without eroding the First Amendment guarantee of free speech."

However, he does intend to have the NAACP, as a private organization, play an active role in the monitoring and examination of programming for bias and sterotyping.

Mr. Hooks explained that in recent years television has attempted to respond to charges of racial discrimination by opening up programs to sports and entertainment figures. But the industry has glaringly refused to provide such opportunities on a similar scope to serious minorities, such as civil rights leaders and professionals.

This is a weakness that must be corrected, he said. To ensure that the NAACP becomes very active in working to reduce racial and sex discrimination in the media, Mr. Hooks explained, one of his first projects will be to establish a department of communications.

A primary function of this department will be to monitor television programming and hiring practices across the country. The department would also work for the passage of appropriate legislation in Congress.

For example, because the FCC lacks regulatory authority over the networks, he explained, any job discrimination complaint against them must go to the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission, which already has a case backlog of several years.

WELFARE REFORM PLAN CAN BE IMPROVED

The welfare reform plan recently unveiled by President Carter is an encouraging improvement on the present system.

It contains the promise of over a million jobs in the public service sector, a national minimum beneath which no family would be allowed to fall, and an expansion of the earned income tax credit, which will help moderate-income families.

And after many public announcements that the welfare reform proposal would cost no more than present income assistance programs, the Administration has aded new money to the plan, and thus avoided a major defect of earlier plans.

Now the proposal goes to the Congress, a few people expect it to survive untouched. Hopefully, Congress will liberalize the program further, and close some of its more glaring faults.

But there's another possibility — that the Congress will so eviscerate the Administration's plan with negative amendments and with punitive additions, that a major chance at improving a bad system will be lost.

"Welfare" is a red flag for many politicians — the word alone is enough to bring out the worst in people. That's why the President calls his proposal the "Program for Better Jobs and Income," to get away the negative connotations welfare has in many people's minds.

If Congress is to act responsibly it will have to realize that the Administration's reform proposal is no broad plan with plenty of air in it for compromises. In effect, it is a pre - shrunk plan. The compromises have already been made.

Numerous features, includiing major ones such as the linking of work to welfare, the below - poverty - level benefits, and others, are already barely acceptable to those of us trying to reform the welfare system along more human lines. The Administration's proposal has received the support it has because there is enough good in it to balance the bad, and because the need for reform is so desperate that many are willing to back a less - than - optimum plan.

So any kind of tinkering with the plan by Congress that introduces new categories of recipients, lowers, benefit levels, or force more mothers with pre - school - age children to work will mean the death of the reform plan. That's what happened with the old Family Assistance Plan of the first Nixon Administration. The plan itself was just barely acceptable. Then congress so loaded it with punitive provisions that it was turned into a creature far worse than the system it was supposed to supplant.

But Congress can, and should, make improvements on the current proposal. The reform plan continues to stigmatize people forced to resort to welfare by categorizing them into different groups, those who can work and those who cannot, and then again categorizing them into those who will be forced to take public jobs and those who find work in the private sector.

Proposed wage levels for public jobs are wrong — minimum wage rather than prevailing wage scales for the jobs in question. Also the plan is vague on what kinds of jobs will be created. Too much leeway is given to welfare administrators to decide who will have to work, and for other technical decisions that have tremendous impact on poor people.

This could be avoided by making the jobs program part of a national full employment policy divorced from the welfare program and by using the refundable credit income tax as the major income assistance device.

Those two steps would do away with the inequities still embodied in the reform, and would also simplify the income assistance program by reducing the awesome administrative complexities that also characterize the present welfare system.

The Administration's plan, basically a sound one, is the absolute minimum acceptable to the poor and to the cities. A responsible Congress can improve it, but if Congress gives way to grandstanding attacks on the poor and to negative amendments, welfare reform will be dead for another decade.

MEASURE UP TO YOUR RESPONSIBILITIES.

schools and taxpayers of Des Moines include, among others:

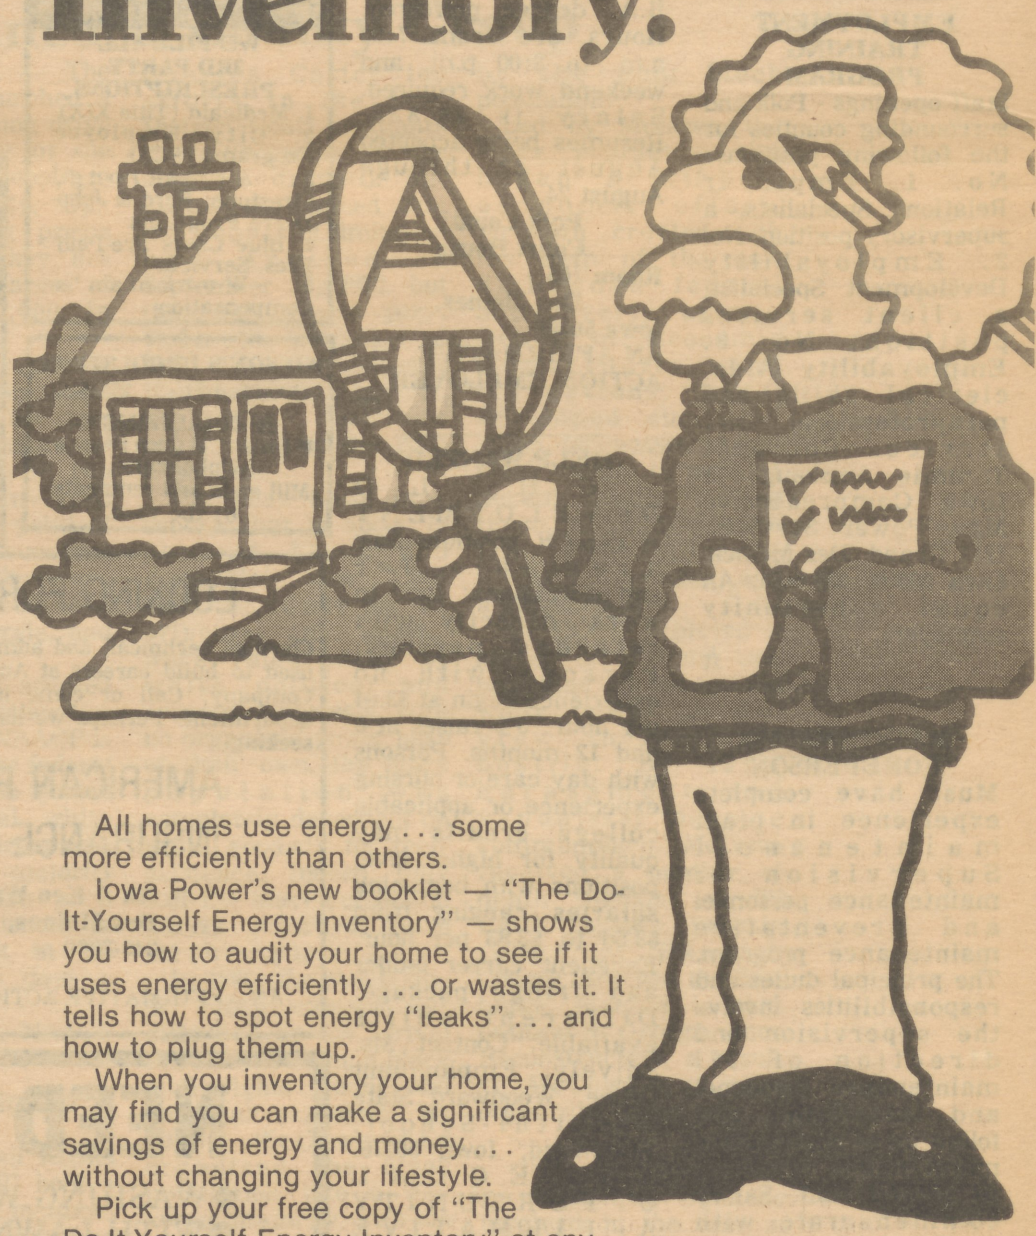

Declining Enrollment / School, Closings: "Des Moines' school enrollment has droppped by about 10,000 students in the past eight years and projections are that the trend will continue for some time. Fewer students coupled with changes in some residential neighborhoods has resulted in many of our schools operating under capacity. With costs rising and state aid diminishing we need to take a long, hard look at the problem. We probably will have to close some schools and propose that we do so on a basis that is equitable to all areas and persons in the city."

Under-Achievement: "Some students in our school system are not achieving at a level with their peers based on standardized tests. We must continue to provide these students remedial programs which will help them to improve. I would be supportive of gaining additional parental involvement, exposing some of the students to the fundamental school, hiring some part - time teachers to work with the students in early elementary grades, in reading and mathematics, for example."

Diminishing Resources: "Our schools are funded basically from three sources — the property tax, federal funds and state aid. State aid is based upon the number of students attending within the district and when the number of students diminish, state aid decreases proportionally. To help solve the problem, I urge that the following partial solutions be seriously considered: Existing programs would be evaluated and those discarded which do not provide good educational value for each dollar invested; and intergovernmental cooperation in the areas of sharing of building space by adjacent school districts, joint utilization of administrative staffs by adjacent school districts and joint utilization of buildings by city, county and school district.

School Desegregation: "The preferable method of resolving problems involving school desegregation is on a voluntary basis. We should work to increase the numbers of students who will voluntarily transfer to schools in order to assist the district's desegregation effort, and hopefully, could have a total voluntary plan within the next few years."
