Food Stamps— Are They For You?

by Velma Flisher
Director Supplemental Foods Division,
Polk Co. Dept.
of Social Services

Are food stamps for you? They might be if you are unemployed or work part-time, receive low wages, get a small pension check, or receive public assistance.

The food stamp program is intended to improve the diets of people who cannot afford all the food they need. It enables them to buy more food with the money they have.

Here's how the program works: eligible people pay for groceries with coupons called food stamps. Food stamps are distributed to states and counties by the U.S. Department of Agriculture. Eligible persons can purchase them from their local county social services office at a reduced rate, depending on their adjusted net income.

Half the cost of administering the program is paid by the USDA — state and county funds pay the rest. In Iowa, the Department of Social Services administers the food stamp program in all counties.

Many Iowa grocery stores are authorized to accept food stamps. If you are not sure about a store, check with a clerk before shopping.

Your household's eligibility for food stamps is decided by

Immunization Clinic Planned

An immunization clinic will be held Saturday (Jan. 14) at Harding junior high school, 203 East Euclid Avenue, to help students of the Des Moines Public Schools meet the requirements of state law.

Students are required to be immunized against six diseases by the start of the second semester, Jan. 23, or be excluded from classes unless they have a medical or religious exemption.

The Harding clinic, in the school auditorium, will start at 8 a.m. and run to 4 p.m.

Immunization will be available for all six diseases, diphtheria, tetanus, whooping cough, polio, rubella and measles.

Volunteers from the Red Cross, School Nurses, College of Osteopathic Medicine & Surgery and Pioneer Columbus Center will assist at the clinic.

News Briefs

Gov. Robert Ray in his State of the State address to the Iowa Legislature urged action on a proposal to provide tax incentives to redevelop depressed areas of Iowa's cities. He suggested a property tax break for those willing to invest in, construct and rebuild residential, commercial and industrial property.

The U.S. Supreme Court this week let stand a lower court's ruling that communities that refuse to change zoning laws to provide low-income housing for blacks and other minorities may be violating federal law.

The case, with potential impact for many towns and cities, the justices refused to hear an appeal from officials in the predominantly white Chicago suburb of Arlington Heights, Ill.

Kalonji Lumumba Saadiq, 24, of 1654-16th St., an unsuccessful candidate for city council, pleaded not guilty Wednesday in Polk County District Court to charges of resisting execution of process.

Charges stem from an incident Dec. 6 when police were attempting to make an arrest at the Levyman's Club, 1417 Forest Ave. The man fled into the club and police allege Saadiq blocked their entry, permitting the man to escape.

Donald Woods, the banned newspaper editor who fled from South Africa a little over a week ago, said Sunday he will campaign for world pressure to get his country's government to modify its racial policies.

Woods predicted a general uprising of 24 million blacks within three years if conditions do not change for blacks.

Congressional Black Caucus Reports to the People

Bringing Human Rights Home

By Rep. Augustus F. Hawkins

I think it's back home, we might commendable that our put some pressure on Government is so him to tell his police concerned about human rights in foreign countries. Surely, now that the Shah of Iran is back home, we might commendable that our put some pressure on Government is so him to tell his police force to cease beating up and jailing anti-Shah college students.

And maybe we can develop even stronger economic sanctions against South Africa, since it is apparent now that the death of Steve Biko was caused by his brutal treatment at the hands of South African security forces.

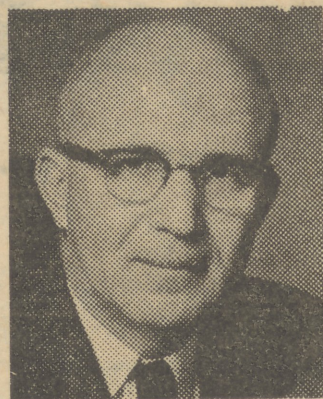

We certainly need to evidence our concern in these matters. But we need to temper our intensity somewhat; we are certainly no paragons of virtue on this question.

I am immediately reminded, for example, of the current North Carolina incarceration of a group of civil rights activists called the Wilmington 10. There's been enough evidence gathered in this case which indicates that these young men are innocent and should be immediately set free. But the wheels of justice seemingly do not grind at all in North Carolina, and it appears that North Carolina wants these civil rights activists to rot in jail.

Then there's the trip to the South Bronx that President Carter took the other day. From all that's been written about this "no man's land," the South Bronx is the most economically depressed community in this entire nation. Crime abounds almost unabated; most of the families are on welfare; adequate housing is non-existent; dope and alcoholism flourishes; and children grow up with the sense that this is what the world looks like.

I'm very concerned about the human rights of the people who are forced to live in the South Bronx, and in other places just like it. As a matter of fact although the situation in my own District is not as bad as conditions in the South Bronx, the deprivation is still horrendous enough.

To me, if a child lives in depressed housing, his human rights are being abrogated. If a senior citizen's monthly retirement check lasts only one-half of that month, his human rights are being trampled on. If our young adults have no future in the work world, their human rights do not exist. If a father must flee his home, because that's the only way his family can become eligible for welfare assistance, then his human rights are a sham. If a person wants to work, and is able to work, but there are not enough jobs to go around, the issue of human rights is muted.

It is true that we ought to be the world leaders in calling for human rights in South Korea, Indonesia, Bangladesh and other countries. But first, let's deliver a better brand of human rights to our own people. Then we might be better able to throw the first stone!

Business in the Black

By Charles E. Belle

Oiling the Wheels of Apartheid

Over 300 million American companies do business in racist South Africa. These U.S. businesses booster the white controlled regime by almost $1.7 billion of direct investment. Enough money to make black unemployment in America disappear in a year. Mobil Oil with its 2,869 employees and assets of $333 million does over $500 million in sales a year in this black enslaver society.

Mobil Oil Corporation is not alone in this apartheid conspiracy. The burgeoning American business community in South Africa began a new American Chamber of Commerce in Johannesburg last month. The executors of this action came from leadership spots such as Esso Standard Oil of South Africa (an Exxon Corporation subsidiary). This cateran of white American cohorts are beginning to comprise a colonialist group of contributors to slavery.

Mobil Oil Corporation makes noises about minority affirmative action programs in the states. But it pays lip service to the needs of non-whites at its first opportunity abroad. It is generally accepted by the Petreola predators that an itinerant handyman and prospector named George Harrison stumbled on the exposed, rich main Reef Leader gold field in 1886.

It was on Widow Oosthuizen's farm "Langlaagte" a few miles west of where the city of Johannesburg stands today, on the northern rim of the geological basin that was once an inland sea.

Harrison "sold" his discover's claim "for $30" little now is known about him Today. The mines pay out more than $300 million in salaries and wages a year! The rape of George Harrison is repeated upon the black workers of these mine fields.

South Africa is by far the greatest gold producing country in the world. As high as 91 percent of the labor force in these mines have been black, at one-quarter or less of the average white man's pay. It is this white population's profits that Mobil Oil Corporation and the other U.S. corporate giants prey upon in South Africa.

They are as insensitive to the injury to Black African workers as they are inhibitus to Black American Affirmative Action Programs.

THE POWER & THE GLORY

By Dr. G.E.A. Toote

By Dr. G.E.A. Toote

One of the first theories taught to student politicians or students of government, is that the success of a political party slate of candidates depends upon a balanced ticket.

A balance is achieved when the larger ethnic groups are represented by a candidate for elected office.

BLOCK VOTE

Jewish voters recognize the power of a block vote. Even when their numbers are small, they have effectively influenced candidate selection and platforms.

The endorsement of the head of the Catholic dioceses is meaningful to Italians, Irish, and Hispanic voters.

UNSOPHISTICATED

The black voter remains unsophisticated. We failed to retain the congressional seat vacated by UN Ambassador Andy Young.

We lost the Manhattan Borough President's office in New York City when Percy Sutton, who for twelve years had held the post, made a bid to become the city's mayor.

IN POINT

What occurred in New York City is directly in point. Sutton could not run for both offices of Mayor and Manhattan Borough President. Had he resigned the Borough Presidency while a candidate for Mayor, in all probability the black candidate seeking the Borough Presidency would have been appointed for the balance of the unexpired term, and been difficult to beat.

PREPOSTEROUS

It is preposterous to find black political power lacking in cities where the minority vote is decisive in elections. Yet this is the case across the nation.

We must cease accepting political rhetoric coupled with vague promises of patronage, and insist that viable candidates, with commitment to serve be proposed by both parties.

TREND

There is a national trend of independent voters. The shifting pattern of politics encourages the running of qualified minorities for office.

Social justice, adequate minimum wages, employee rights, welfare, abortion, are but a few of the issues of commonality for a new political force.

New methods of campaign financing could assure an even greater influence for black voters.

SOLIDARITY

Black community action and solidarity could influence the issues of a city-wide campaign, candidate initiatives, and the inclusion of minorities on the slates of both major parties.

The black community should collectively select a candidate for significant elective office, prior to candidate selection by the political parties; and through appropriate channels attempt to affect the acceptance of their choice as a fusion candidate, endorsed by all major parties.

ASTUTENESS

Black people cannot afford to put party identify before racial benefit. If in each city with large black populations we could assure the election of one candidate for a major post, we would not only prove the power of the black vote, but also receive the rewards of political astuteness.

The power of a block vote is obvious, as are the benefits. Black citizens could reap a harvest of sensitive government policy, protective legislation, and a stronger new alignment of friends and supporters, if we could break the strangling chains of party loyalty and political isolation.

Job News and Views

by Dave Leach

HUMPHREY HAWKINS — The business community seems to be reacting to their hunches about an early version of the bill.

REALITY NO. 1: It is a policy bill. It doesn't spell out immediate, specific job programs. But in a general way, it will affect interest rates, fiscal policy, the federal reserve, corporate vs. private tax burden, the allocation of federal funding of high labor-intensive as opposed to automation-intensive projects.

For example, it says potential federal programs shall be measured by the jobs they provide rather than whether they are a pork barrel project for some congressman. (This isn't the precise wording.)

It says the decision whether to encourage capital investment or labor investment will be made on the basis of whether the capital investment would make hiring more people possible.

It is so general that it might seem a paper tiger. Business Week warned not to regard it as such. It predicted the bill would be passed this year.

The value of the bill is that it states priorities which were not previously stated in law. It creates a standard to measure accountability by.

REALITY NO. 2: It is not government "make work". Its most specific language requires jobs to be found in the private sector, and requires the government to be considered the "employer of last resort".

After Vernon Jordan of the Urban League spoke in Washington, President Carter began taking advocates of the bill very seriously. It is expected to be through the House by late March to early May and be sent to the Senate.

THE WELFARE REFORM BILL requires those able, to work. This affects only a small number of people on welfare, since most are crippled, underage, or exempt for other good reasons.

The trick is that if this small force is forced into the job market, it could act as a hedge against unions, as well as doing all the other things that some businessmen seem to think is the advantage of high unemployment.

This bill is sitting in a committee headed by Representative Hawkins, and he says he doesn't expect it to get out of his committee without a provision that the required jobs be better than minimum wage and/or teach skills that can help people rise up, rather than remain in a slave status.

Write him to show your support.

DISCRIMINATION AT THE FRONT DESK

Robert Jackson, Sr., organizer of Jobless United, told of a company which was hiring people as fast as they applied, according to a company executive. He sent a woman who had specialized in that work in Tennessee. The receptionist would not take her application.

Jackson says he has seen this before; top level management decides to make EOE commitments, but the person at the front desk or gate decides who they want to work with.

This could help explain how a few businessmen can say "I can't fill all my vacancies. People just don't want to work."

1978 Open Shop Bricklayer School

Plans for a 1978 open shop bricklayer pre-apprenticeship school were announced today by Richard Toon, Director of Training, Master Builders of Iowa, Bruce Paterson, of the Can-Tex Industries and Brick Institute of America and Hilda Dienhart of the Iowa Concrete Masonry Association.

The school will be held in Fort Dodge, Iowa, with a beginning date of April 3, 1978.

Applications will be received from individuals interested in receiving masonry training without regard to race, creed, sex, color or national origin, beginning immediately. Applications will close March 17, 1978. Information regarding applications may be obtained from the Manpower & Training Department, Master Builders of Iowa, 221 Park Street, Box 695, Des Moines, Iowa 50303, and local offices of the Iowa Employment Service.

Proposed school term is eight weeks. Tuition and books are free to those admitted.

Applicants who complete the program may be registered under the rules of the Federal Bureau of Apprenticeship and Training, thus becoming eligible for employment as apprentices on federal projects where such rules apply.

It is anticipated that the enrollment in the school will be held to forty or less because of the size of the physical facilities.

Students who complete the school may enter a four year federal apprenticeship program which, if completed, will result in journeyman status for the student. School will consist of both mechanical training and related classroom work.

A union school which will have been advertised in their areas by the union locals will be held at the Iowa State Fairgrounds in Des Moines beginning March 27, 1978.

Public Library

Would-be college students who are seeking scholarships or tuition grants (including those who want advanced vocational-technical training) can get help at the Mid City Library at 1305 University on Saturday, January 14th from 2:00 to 3:30 p.m. Genevieve Watson, Coordinator of Special Services at Drake University, will be on hand to discuss how to fill out financial aid forms (how to apply for various kinds of tuition grants and scholarships). The newest application forms will be available for distribution.

AN ADVERTISE-
MENT in Ohio said for unemployed people to come to Des Moines, where unemployment is so low!

Is it? IS UNEMPLOYMENT ONLY 3%? No one at Monday night's meeting of the Coalition for Full Employment thought so, but no one knew how to prove that it is any higher.

One problem is the number of people who want work but who have given up trying. You may think people who have given up trying must not want to work that badly, but among some groups unemployment is so high it really requires a lot of optimism to keep at it.

Legislators in Washington are allowed to believe unemployment here is only 3%, they will perceive federally funded agencies which relieve the unemployed as unneeded, and will redirect funds from this area to "worse" areas.

A PERSON WHO WAS DISCRIMINATED AGAINST complained to a counselor at Job Service of Iowa. In this case, the counselor apparently did not direct the complaint through the proper channels, because the appropriate enforcement agency had no record of it. This may have been a failure of the counselor to keep up to date on procedure, or maybe it got lost somewhere else.

Now, we can catch heat escaping from your house red-handed...

How? With "Operation Sky Scan," an aerial infrared photo survey that Iowa Power will be conducting over communities in our service territory this winter.

If you hear a low-flying plane over your house on some clear, cold night, it could be "Operation Sky Scan" shooting a thermogram of your neighborhood. Thermograms are infrared photos that actually show heat escaping from structures which are inadequately insulated and are wasting not only energy, but money.

Once the survey is completed, you'll have an opportunity to see how your home shows up on the actual thermogram photos. If you decide you need more insulation, it can be financed on your monthly Iowa Power bill.

We can't say for sure when the results of the survey will be available. But we'll be sure to let you know. Take the time, then, to check out your house. It can help you save on your heating and cooling bills.

LOOK ON SPORTS

Now that the bowl games are just about all over, we can get on with the business of basketball. But, one last item on the holiday games. Whether you agreed with the stand of the Arkansas coach or not, one had to respect him for sticking to whatever his principles are and being willing to pay the price for doing it.

And we noticed the telecasters giving Grambling's Doug Williams credit for reading defenses in the North South game. That has long been a myth about black signal callers; that they can't read defenses, supposedly because they don't have it upstairs. And the Washington quarterback didn't do badly at reading defense either.

In spite of the fact that both Iowa and Iowa State looked pretty good on their last outings on the round ball court, I don't think either club will end up in the first division of their conferences. Hope I am proved wrong.

And what is the matter with Drake? Coach Ortegall would like the answer to that one too. Maybe they will come out of it, but when?

And I wonder where Iowa would finish in the Big Eight and where the Cyclones would come in if they were in the Big Ten. Those fellows seem to think they will improve as the year goes on. They may have what it takes. A great big, muscular guy in the middle who gets just about all rebounds and a couple of hot outside shooters.

Put the big Cyclone on either Drake or Iowa's team and they would be just about as tough as one would want them to be.

I have to keep reminding people who ask me where all these black athletes come from on the major southern schools that those guys have always been there, but just never got a chance to show against anybody but each other. And that didn't get'em much ink, so folks up north never heard of them. Sometimes they couldn't afford to go to a black school because they needed so much that the school couldn't afford it. So they never played after high school.

If I were coaching at a black college, I would probably feel as Jake Gaither did when he coached at Florida A&M. The boys are being exploited. But if that gets them a shot at pro ball or gets them a degree, I would have to say why not.

And, incidentally, the A&M football team is just about the only unbeaten untied team in the country. Now, who would they call number one?

As I watched the wrestling meet between Iowa and Iowa State, I thought how different it was when we wrestled amateurs. Then the professional and amateur rules were identical, and lots of amateurs wrestled as that during the week and as pros on week ends. There was no point system.

Usually three judges watched the match and cast their votes on who looked the best in a nonstop fifteen minute bout. If one could get behind his opponent, he could likely win a decision because the guy was on the defense all the time. This sometimes resulted in fellows going out of their weight class and beating fellows much bigger.

In fact, I know one guy who won three championships in one amateur meet. His own weight class and the two just above him. Beat the two bigger men on decisions. Today he couldn't do that because he would get called for stalling.

There are so many things we could do that aren't allowed now. I was right when I often refused to try to teach young fellows wrestling because as I explained, most of what I would teach them would get them disqualified.

Now the high schools. Looks as if Hoover is really the cream of the crop. I thought East could slip up on them, but instead the Scarlet got waylaid by Dowling last week end.

And North won their first game. I was talking to a fellow who is an assistant coach at Tech and he said that he was sure Green was going to turn that basketball program around. Said the guys all respect and seem to like him, and he thinks that is half the battle. Hope he is right.

But, speaking of coaches. Wonder what Jock Johnson would do as head football coach at East?

SCLC President Urges Recognition of Martin Luther King, Jr. at Super Bowl

Atlanta - The Rev. Dr. Joseph E. Lowery, president of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, sent a telegram to Pete Rozelle, commissioner of

Study New Method for Treatment of Sickle Cell

REHOVOT, Israel — A new approach to treating sickle cell anemia — a hereditary disease particularly prevalent among Blacks — is now under study at the Weizmann Institute of Science here.

When sickle cell anemia strikes, the tiny blood vessels bringing food and oxygen to the tissues of the body are blocked. Damage to the heart, spleen, lungs, nervous system, and joints is common.

Now scientists at the Weizmann Institute — founded by Israel's first President, Dr. Chaim Weizmann — are working on a drug that will prevent the deformation of the red blood cells that cause blockage of the blood vessels.

Dr. Marian Gorecki and her colleagues are synthesizing chemicals called peptides which can prevent the sickling of red blood cells when the drug is introduced into them.

WHAT'S REALLY GETTING HIGH HERE IS THE COST OF HEALTH CARE.

Nobody in the world over-indulges like we Americans do.

We drink too much. We smoke too much. We work too hard. And we hardly ever relax or exercise enough.

Doing unhealthy things to ourselves.

We figure doctors and hospitals will fix us up in no time if we get sick.

What we don't figure is how much our behavior is costing all of us in health care.

Naturally, high care costs are not just the individual's fault.

Inflation is also a big factor. And so is the fact that health care is just plain better.

But all of us—doctors, hospitals, Blue Cross and Blue Shield Plans, and individuals—have to work to hold down the increasing costs of health care.

We have worked with hospitals and doctors to introduce a number of programs to slow down rising health care costs.

Programs like lab tests and diagnostic evaluations on an outpatient basis, home care and skilled nursing facilities for quicker discharge from the hospital, alternate delivery systems, and more. As well as programs to promote health education.

If we're going to be successful, everybody must help. Including you.

If we all stop doing unhealthy things to ourselves, we're going to need less health care. And this will slow down the rise in health care costs.

Eat good foods, but don't overeat. Don't smoke or drink too much. And try to get some exercise.

It will help trim some of the fat off health care costs.

We care.

MESSIAH TEMPLE

"Forever, O Lord, thy word is settled in heaven" Psa 119 and 89 says, "The grass withereth, the flower fadeth;" and Isaiah says, "but the word of our God shall stand forever."

This is our motto for 1978 at Messiah Temple to study the inspired word of God. The word of God is the most important thing in this world. I hope you hold it and read it. I hope you really love it. There is no accomplishment to be done for eternity other than what is promised in, and received from, God's word. ALL WILL PASS AWAY — but God's word will last forever.

The word of God is the power of the Gospel of Christ. The word of God is the sustaining force. The Bible helps us, not only in our individual lives, but that we may accomplish His perfect will on earth.

Jesus said in the Sermon on the Mount, "Verily I say unto you. Till heaven and earth pass, one jot or one tittle shall in no wise pass from the law, till all be fulfilled." Also Jesus says, "Heaven and earth shall pass away, but My words shall not pass away." Peter said, "But the word of the Lord endureth forever." And this is the word which by the gospel is preached unto you."

Over here at Messiah Temple we believe that, "Man shall not live by bread alone, but by every WORD that proceedeth out of the mouth of the Lord doth man live."

There is victorious living through the word. There is light in the word. If you don't have the word of God in you, you have NO good seed; therefore, you have NO good fruit.

Remember you can only be saved through the word of God. Only what is done through the word of God and the power of the Spirit is eternal. 1977 was a very good year, but 1978 is going to be great.

God has blessed Messiah Temple to have HIS anointed teachers and preachers to show us the way. Join us in our services soon to be uplifted by the Spirit of God.

Crackin Makes New Record

Omaha, Neb., has not immediately. Formed several years ago in Omaha, Crackin' worked the club circuit there for some time before relocating to upstate New York. The Midwesterners found the new scenery pleasant enough, as generally it was, except for personnel changes. The replacements, drawn from the ranks of hometown players, began to tip the band in different directions, West and R & B respectively. Vocalist-percussionist Leslie Smith convinced the group to head for California, where in San Francisco they added Lester Abrams (keyboards-vocals, ex-Maxayn member and another friend) and drummer/percussionist Peter Bunetta (ex-John Prine associate).

The music on their debut Warner's LP, Makings Of A Dream, was a high-yield as the fertile plains of Nebraska, and proof positive that sometimes it's not what has been done, but how it is done — present, not past — that counts. It was enough for Warner's A&R Vice-Presidents Lenny Warnok and Ted Templeman to get an earful of Crackin' magic on a demo tape; the band was signed

for International Student Exchange

International Student Exchange of Iowa invites you and your family to expand your horizons and enjoy a lifetime experience by sharing your home and lives with a "Teenage Ambassador" from another country for one month during the summer.

International Student Exchange of Iowa is seeking host families for approximately 600 boys and girls between the ages of 13 and 19, together with a limited number of adult chaperones, for stays during July and/or August. The majority of these young people will be from France, but a limited number may be from other Western European countries.

The most important criteria for host families are that they be flexible, open-minded, and willing to open their homes and hearts to these young people, accepting them as members of their families with love, understanding and patience.

Families interested in sharing such an experience should immediately contact Imre Takacs, president, International Student Exchange of Iowa, 2567 Saratoga Drive, Waterloo, Iowa 50702 (Phone: 319-234-4135) for further information and applications.

For Iowa teenagers, there will be a limited number of seats available on a charter flight from Chicago to France for the month of July. Teenagers between the ages of 16 and 18 of high moral character, willing to communicate, participate and cooperate, and with a minimum of two years' background in French may apply to be placed with French host families on a first come, first served basis.

Under certain circumstances the language requirement may be waived.

For further information and applications, please contact Imre Takacs, president, International Student Exchange of Iowa, 2567 Saratoga Drive, Waterloo, Iowa 50702 (Phone: 319-234-4135).

Percussionist-vocalist Arno Lucas, and the two founder members, keyboardist George T. Clinton and lead guitarist Bob Bordy, saw with the new surroundings a shift from linear rock 'n' rollin' to a sophisticated, Latin / R & B harmony-wise pop construct. Upping the group's count from seven to eight is newest member guitarist Brian Ray. Says bassist Rick Chudacoff, "What we look for in a song is the feeling — it must be right. We have to be able to move the listener."

This they did with sultry finesse on Makings Of A Dream (Dec. '76), produced by stalwart Warner's staffer Russ Titelman (credits: Graham Central Station, Randy Newman and Ry Cooder). Crackin' emphasizes the whole rather than gratuitous parts of the same. Years of playing and living together have created an intuitive sense of harmony among the players. The material on the album showed off Crackin's sinuous interaction: subtle but guaranteed to kayo listeners with its surprising vocal and rhythmic work.

Following the release of Makings, Crackin' took to the road on a major national tour. Gathering rave reviews and a host of new fans wherever they appeared, the group opened for acts as diverse as the Doobie Brothers, Brian Auger, Manfred Mann and Rufus.

Tour completed, they returned to their homebase in Northern California and began to channel their collective talent into making a second album. The result was Crackin'. Released in September of '77 and produced by pop whiz Michael Omartian (who is also responsible for string and horn arrangements on the LP), Crackin' picks up where their debut album left off. Selections such as "You'll Feel Better," "I Know You Can," "The Force Is Watching You" and "Don't You Wish You Could Be There" brim over with the high energy; tight harmonies, catchy lyrics and oh-so-danceable positive approach that has rapidly become a trademark of the group.

Songs which are candidates to become part of Crackin's future repertoire go through a rigorous sensitivity shakedown before the group decides to perform them. Any member of Crackin' won't hesitate to let it be known that the feeling's the thing with this band. Their ability to move the listener both live and on record stands as testimony to the wisdom of their ongoing selectivity. Couple this with the sheer technical skills each Crackin' member possesses and you have a combination of emotion and musicianship that is hard to overlook.

Music brokers predict immediate and long term profits, a direct result of the release of Crackin'. But then anybody who's heard the band knows their tasty music makes it quite easy, indeed, to be bullish on Crackin'.

George T. Clinton ("G.T.") is a native of Des Moines, graduated from East High School in 1967 and also attended Grandview Jr. College. George is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Clinton, Des Moines.

your resources and your adjusted net income (income after allowable deductions).

RESOURCES include cash, bonds, bank accounts, property not lived on, extra vehicles. To qualify for food stamps, the total value of your household's resources may not exceed $1,500 (or $3,000 if one or more household members is age 60 or older).

INCOME is any money received by all members of your household. It includes: wages, public assistance, retirement, disability benefits, pensions, veterans' workmen's compensation, and unemployment compensation, old age, survivors, or strike benefits, support payments, alimony, scholarships, educational grants, fellowships and veterans' educational benefits, dividends, interest, and all other payments from any source which may be considered a gain or a profit.

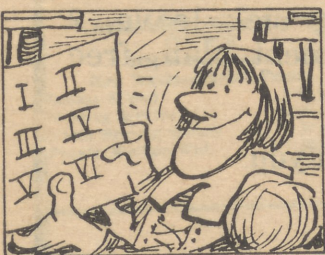

Allowable deductions from income can include taxes, medical cost, child care, a percentage of shelter cost, and some work expenses.

If your household has a very low income after deductions, you may be entitled to receive food stamps free of charge or at a very low cost.

Examples of what is considered low income in the food stamp program are: Maximum net income allowed a 2 person household is $344.00, for a 4 person household $580.00, for a 6 person household $827.00.

Food stamps may be used to buy any food or food products made for people to eat. This now includes vegetable seeds and plants for your home garden. Non-food items such as pet food, soap, cigarettes, alcoholic beverages, and paper goods CANNOT be bought with stamps. Food stamps cannot be exchanged for cash or sold or given to other people.

The holiday season and winter heat bills can put a stress on many families. Food stamps do stretch the food budget and so help considerably. Anyone can get additional information thru the Polk County Department of Social Services, (284-6495).
