Dee Ann Davis Wins Act-So Competition In Miami

When a joyous Lucia Howell phoned me Wednesday to tell me Dee Anne Davis, had taken top honors at this year's Miami held NAACP Act-So scholarship competition, our shared joy was triple fold. Not only was the talented daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William W. Davis representing Des Moines in the area of drama, but she also was a member of the Langston Hughes Co. of Players and performed in Miami a scene from JOHNNAS, the company's latest production, to capture her $1,000 scholarship prize.

Howell was doubly proud since she coached Dee Anne through the year on her presentation.

I had a few questions to ask the thrilled teenager when she returned to proud friends and relatives Thursday night. Speaking of proud parents, Mr. Davis, a Iowa Des Moines well. We're just so very pleased and very proud."

Dee Anne told me she decided on participation explained the historical background of everything and helped make the piece come alive for me."

She went on to tell me about her dramatic beginnings. "I just started poetry interpretation in 10th grade in churches, though Act-So was the first time I did a part in a play.

Although at this time I plan to go into a pre-med program at college, acting is an aside — but I plan to do it (drama) all my life because I'm successful at it." As for hobbies Dee Anne listed, "I love to write, I jog ... so many of my hobbies lately I've had to let go due to the competition ... volleyball, basketball at school. Sewing, even

National Bank VP, wrapped up their feelings when he told me, "We saw her at the local competition (in April) and were totally moved as were others in the audience — she had a dramatic presence. We also talked after she won the Des Moines competition and before she left for Miami on the competition. She always rises to the occasion and likes competition, so in some ways we weren't surprised she did so this year in Act-So "mainly because Lucia showed me the script — it was a challenge to me. Lucia and the company gave me an opportunity to learn it and try it in competition." Her main source of inspiration again was "Lucia Howell, because she was my coach — she was willing to spend as much time as she could fit into her schedule to help me; she didn't just go through the lines; she

Gateway Center Files For Reorganization

By Dartanyan Brown

In what appears to be a case of inflation-related financial trouble, the Gateway Opportunity Center is proceeding with Federal and State Bankruptcy action.

This action comes after Gateway Director, Arzania Williams, went to the State Office of Planning and Programming to tell them that his staff had to borrow money earmarked for a Youth Employment Program to pay some $13,500 in utility bills and other expenses.

According to O.P.P. director Bob Tyson, the Gateway financial move, while not a totally regular or recommended situation, was not done with criminal intent.

"I don't see any indication that anyone is going to jail over this," said Tyson. "This money was supposed to be spent on the youth and it wasn't (but) if the auditor finds that the money was misspent then it will be a civil procedure and not part of a criminal action."

According to Gateway Opportunity Center lawyer David May, the bankruptcy and audit proceedings began July 1 and the Center has 15 days to present all of their profit and loss records to State and Federal auditors.

None of the center's financial difficulties seem to reflect on the quality of services being offered to the youths in the Gateway area.

"They had been doing a good job with their pre-employment program," said Tyson. "They were just finishing a program with 12 or 13 students and every one involved had high praise for Williams' work."

Just how much of Gateways' $150,000 yearly budget goes to help each student or group of students is unclear. It seems likely however that the audit procedure will yield more facts about what the costs are and why money had to be transferred to pay utility bills.

Gateway Board Chairperson Evelyn Davis declined comment on the matter saying "we are waiting until the audit is over."

Tyson speculated that Gateway operates on about $13,000 a month including salaries, overhead and allowances for the youth being served by the program.

During the audit period, Tyson said that the three-person Gateway staff is being hired by the Des Moines Public schools so a summer program can continue.

According to Evelyn Davis, the staff has rented an office at the Tiny Tots Child Care Center at 16th and Forest Ave.

The Gateway Center located at 801 Forest Ave., has been closed for the duration of the bankruptcy proceedings.

Black Voters Increase, But Participation Down

The number of Blacks of voting age has risen from 15 million in 1976 to about 17 million in 1980, but actual voter participation in this group slumped from a high of 57.6 percent in the 1968 Presidential election to 48.7 percent in 1976, according to the U.S. Bureau of the Census.

Overall, there has been a decline in voter participation among the general population of the country, despite the increase in the total number of persons of voting age.

The projected figure for the voting age population of the U.S. in 1980 is 160 million, an increase of 10.3 million since 1976. According to the Bureau's Current Population Reports, which monitor population characteristics of the nation, less than half of the civilian noninstitutional population of voting age actually voted in the November, 1978, Congressional election.

The reported turnout in 1978 (46 percent) was close to the turnout reported in the 1974 Congressional election (45 percent), but substantially below that reported in the Presidential election of 1976 (59 percent). U.S. voters traditionally do not turn out in Congressional off-year elections as heavily as in Presidential election years.

The Social and Economic Status of the Black Population, a publication of the Bureau of the Census, notes that Blacks made significant advances in voter registration and participation in the 1960s as a result of the Voting Rights Act of 1965, the civil rights movement and voter registration drives. However, these gains were not maintained in the 1970s. In fact, for both Blacks and Whites there has been a decline.

While overall White voting rates are considerably higher than Black rates, analysis of previous Current Population Survey results show that racial differences in voter turnout are related to socioeconomic differences.

The first year in which data on voter registration was collected by the Census Bureau was 1966, about 6.3 million Blacks of voting age reported that they had registered to vote in the Congressional elections that year. For the Presidential election of 1972, the number of Blacks registered had risen by 2.5 million to a high of 8.8 million. In the 1974 Congressional election, the number of Black registrants dropped to about 7.8 million.

After the reported rates of 60 percent Black voter registration for 1966 and 1970, the rate or percentage fell substantially to 55 percent for the 1974 Congressional election. This was the lowest rate reported for any of the five general elections from 1966 to 1974.

IEWS and REVIEWS

by Allen Ashby

The story last week about the young hoodlums wrecking a black church and disrupting the services makes one wonder where the kids if that's what they are, get their ideas.

One of the reasons why it was easier for the South to accept integration where and when they did was because there was never any attempt to disguise the anti-black feeling, and when there was no other way to turn, they figured they might as well go along with the tide.

In the spots where there is resistance to integration, there is no attempt to deny or conceal it. This is so different from the way things are done up here. When blacks are set upon for any reason, responsible people rush into print to say that race wasn't a factor when they know it was.

Wouldn't be surprised to read that this latest church harassment isn't really a racially motivated thing, but just some misguided kids. Now, where would you suppose they got their misguidedness?

And has there been any attempt by the responsible people in the neighborhood to help single out the perpetrators so they can be punished. I read a statement that the kids are juveniles, so there isn't much that can be done about. Then I hear a youthful offender threatened with being tried as an adult and possibly being sent away for four years, so you began to think that it depends on who your youthful offender comes up in front of.

I have argued for years that kids who do things that could carry adult penalties should have their names published in the news and be given the adult penalties that fit the crime. I have heard that they are just kids and there is the possibility of ruining a young life if you do that.

Well, the kid too often relies on the fact that he is a juvenile and "they can't do anything to me." They will often tell the arresting officer the same thing. Then their name is withheld because they are juveniles. Maybe they should get a little light on their crimes and let people know who they are.

If the kid(?) despoilers of the church were caught and their names published in the daily news, would they think they are big shots or would they feel ashamed. Some school of thought says that is what would happen.

The offender would think he was important because he was in the news. But maybe a lot of them wouldn't.

Then it comes down to the fact that so often young offenders against people of other races and nationalities reflect the thoughts and feelings of their elders. The elders may throw up their hands and decry it, but they say things different when they are in their own groups, and the kids pick it up.

I have had the opportunity to hear a group of boys who had been in various institutions talk. It seemed that the further down the road a boy went, the more his fellows looked up to him. If you had been to Meyer Hall, you were just a squirt. Eldora brought a measure of respect, and Anamosa meant that you knew the ropes and were really a shot.

You could teach the others things that they needed to know in order to keep out of jail. Never mind that you had done your time. If you had been so smart, you wouldn't have been caught, but that doesn't count.

Now, back to the business I started out with, I hope they get those whatever they are (hoodlums is too good a name) corralled and give them the limit that an adult would get for the same thing, and print everybody's name. That won't likely happen, but it is a fine thought.

I have been impressed by the number of white people carrying nomination papers for Willie Glanton. They are everywhere. Now, if we can just get out the vote, she will make it in spite of what her opponents do.

REDLINING & URBAN REVITALIZATION: CONCLUSION

Cynicism is perhaps a discouraging word to many, but it is a prevalent factor in the attitudes of most segments of the American public. Its existence becomes more obvious day after day, and its causation is equally obvious: 40 percent (or more) of black teenagers are unemployed, the "middle class" in this society is helplessly watching its expectation of upward mobility disappear, industries (and the jobs they represent) are disappearing constantly leaving thousands jobless, we are running out of oil, and the economy as a whole is entering a period of recession.

At the same time, somewhat of a revolution has developed in hundreds of neighborhoods and communities that working people of all races and religions backgrounds are uniting to fight against the giant institutions that control many aspects of their common and individual lives - big utilities, insurance companies, bureaucrats and financial institutions. They are not organizing to exclude blacks, cut welfare benefits, or eliminate muggers, but to preserve and revitalize the thousands of stable, well-built, energy-efficient older neighborhoods of America.

They have decided that the older neighborhoods in cities and towns are worth saving, and have decided that the main threat to neighborhood stability and revitalization is coming from such direction. These people are conservatives in the truest sense of the term.

The diversity of breadth of this movement is indicated by the fact that anti-redlining campaigns have been mounted in over 50 American cities involving virtually every major urban center in the nation, including Chicago, Washington, St. Louis, Detroit, Denver, Boston, Minneapolis and Seattle.

In most of these campaigns great emphasis has been placed upon developing the neighborhoods themselves as a power base. Neighborhood groups, as I have indicated before, are the ones that have done the necessary research and put the most pressure on legislators, bankers and government regulators to act upon their requests.

The basic orientation of these organizations is the demand to decentralize the control over the sources of funding and services in urban areas. Grass roots neighborhood organizations have and are continuing to attempt to create a spirit of local identity and pride upon which to build and maintain stable, semi-autonomous and healthy urban neighborhoods.

Redlining and urban revitalization is an issue which has served to unite these neighborhood groups across race & class "lines" unlike any other current social issue has done, and has the potential for the development of wide scale political, social and economic movement with tremendous future implications.

The primary element, however, is people. It is the base upon which everything else is built. Neighborhood organizations require informed citizens who recognize the need and who are willing to work to alleviate it. This entire series of articles on the practice of redlining and recommendations to restrict its use was and is designed to inform you not only as to its circumstances and effects currently, but also to give you some direction for your efforts.

The impact of these and future popular movements on the flow of insurance and mortgage credit to older neighborhoods is just beginning to be assessed. The question of exactly what risks actually exist in inner-city neighborhoods and to what degree lenders & insurers can advance in developing loan and insurance programs to meet the needs of these communities has just begun to be discussed. The most important point is that lenders, regulators and government officials are just beginning to respond to the pressures and insights of the neighborhood reinvestment movement by considering policies and programs aimed specifically at the local-level economy and the neighborhood.

As more effort is being made by people of the neighborhood level to understand the economies of the areas in which they live, future reforms and reinvestment efforts will impact them directly rather than as side effects of policies aimed at other problems. All this requires communication with, between and among neighborhood residents and policy makers and I hope that my efforts here have done something to promote this.

A Black Look At Politics

William S. Morris

I had originally planned to discuss the recent closing and investigation of the Gateway Opportunity Center in this weeks column. However, due to the latest rulings by the U.S. Supreme Court concerning abortions for poor women and affirmative action hiring quotas, my investigation will have to wait until next week.

As most of you already know, Gateway has filed for bankruptcy under the reorganization clause, which hopefully, will allow the Center to reopen and establish a fund to pay off numerous creditors. There are several other obstacles which Gateway must overcome, like weathering an investigation by authorities concerning alleged misuse of Federal and state monies.

Also, there is a question of whether the Center will be able to provide the services it originally offered, since other organizations will doubtless "pick up the slack" in this area. But more on all this next week.

Earlier this week, the Supreme Court, in a sharply divided 5 to 4 decision, ruled that neither Federal, nor state governments are obligated to finance abortions for poor women. Anti-abortionists, or so-called "Right-To-Lifers" immediately claimed victory, while "Pro-Choice" forces vowed to continue the legal battle for expanded abortion rights and services for women.

The Supreme Court, in a 1973 decision, legalized abortions in the fifty states. Since then, a vicious fight has ensued over whether a fetus is a human being, or at what stage of development it becomes

Let us briefly examine the implications of the Courts ruling for black people, especially those entrapped by the constraints of poverty. First off, without access to birth control devices and abortion services, poor women (often single) would be burdened with unimaginable pressures to clothe, feed, and care for, a burgeoning population of (oftimes fatherless) children.

Unlike poor white women, who can easily sell their children, illegitimate or not (if healthy) for ten thousand dollars to numerous "black market baby rings," black women must choose between bringing another child into a world where he (she) will not be wanted, or aborting her pregnancy.

Unwanted children are almost always subjected to parental abuse (usually violent), many run away from home at an early age, reject the "system", and make the streets their home. They eventually run afoul of the law, and wind up in jail or prison, as a result of their quest for survival.

Ghetto children are seldom permitted a "normal" childhood, but are thrust into the adult world at an early age. They survive, or they perish. Few white people can comprehend the pressures black youths face in this country, nor the frustration and anger which dominate their existences.

Oddly enough, the same middle-class whites who scream about "killing babies" are those who advocate capital punishment, complain about crime rates, and berate "lazy spongers on welfare." Presumably if poor women had fewer children, crime rates and welfare rolls would shrink. Yet, whites would deny poor women access to one means of achieving this, namely abortion.

These anti-abortion people preach constantly about life, yet they do not offer counseling for unwed

Opinion

Edna Griffin

Rev. Jesse Jackson made a very important observation, May 17, 1980, at the March on Washington D.C. sponsored by Operation PUSH. This is what he said, I will remind you that history clearly states to us that progress never comes down from the White House or the State House. It comes up from your house and my house."

Young men ages 19 - 20 are expected to register at a local post office by order of Pres. Carter to make possible military drafting at all possible speed should he and the U.S. Congress consider it necessary for national security.

We, the people, need to take a close look, a very close look at proposed solutions to problems in our own country and at attitudes toward other nations. A first step will be possible at Willkie House, July 17th. There will be an opportunity to hear those who favor registration and those who ask that young men think about the need to work for peace.

Every parent should attend because, in the words of Jesse Jackson "It (progress) comes up from your house and my house." We live in a time of rapid change and considerable confusion.

Nations have developed such powerful and deadly weapons, there can be no such thing as victory for either side. Discussions at the Pentagon among military officials have taken place about how many Americans can be lost without paralyzing the nation. Can we lose 30 or 40 million in a reckless gamble for possible victory?

This week the U.S. senate approved building a new improved bombers to be moved about on tracks to hide them from the Russians. The price tag is about 52 billion and ready in 1987. There are indications that American foreign policy is committed to striking first. What is the reason or reasons for this commitment to first strike?

In my opinion, shared by a growing number of people, a national budget giving the military a lion's share has never solved the problems of the people. It appears that the administration is faced with sacrificing the poor as the middle class becomes poorer.

A BLACK LOOK AT POLITICS"

by William S. Morris mothers, pregnant teenagers, drug - abusers, teenagers in trouble with police, or ex - convicts. Nor, when they speak of adoption, mention that black and mixed babies are not wanted.

Couples looking to adopt want white infants, not black ones.

Then there are those idiots who claim birth control, family planning, and abortion are tools used by whites to implement a program of genocide against blacks and other minorities. Dick Gregory is one of these misguided buffoons, who rebelled against the "white genocide conspiracy" by having eleven children.

Getting back to these "Pro - Lifers", they know nothing of life in the inner city. The anti - abortionists want the poor masses to suffocate in their own numbers. True, a case can be made in that, by cutting off Federal and state abortion funding, the poor will be forced to increased sexual responsibility and family planning.

Even this argument breaks down in the face of social reality, however. Aside from the fact that lawmakers in this country have never been able to legislate morality, another, even more disturbing tendency, is that for some reason, Americans hold the erroneous assumption that society eliminates "undesireable" behavior simply by passing legislation forbidding it.

Abortions will still be available for poor women, and perhaps at reduced cost. But they will most likely be performed by unskilled "street doctors" in dimly - lit rooms equipped with coat hangers and switchblades. Countless poor women will hemorrhage or die of infection via these methods, while their wealthier "sisters" are free to choose whether or not they will terminate their pregnancies.

Again, the real principle upon which this country was founded, namely money, was exposed for all the world to see. Sure, there are equal rights for citizens of the United States — as long as they have money. And even then, some are "more equal" than others.

The Supreme Court has seemingly bowed to the "budget - cutting hysteria" which is pervading Capitol Hill, by slashing all abortion funding. Politicians, psychologists, and social commentators are still trying to analyze the Miami riots; they would do well to recognize the deprivation forced upon those who do not have much, in a "land of plenty."

The discontent and anger which characterizes poor peoples lives are but another element in a two - hundred year-old process which I have labeled "the politics of despair."

The poor seldom have the luxury of choosing their own fate, thus they must often make that decision for the unborn.

The number of strikes are warning that all is not well with our economy. Pres. Carter and his advisors tell us that the solution is greater productivity.

Have you noticed how many unsold cars can be seen, and the number of new homes available at high interest rates? There are many indications to the American people that our economy is out of hand. The really serious problem, it seems to me, is the effort to keep Americans' attention on Russia as a threat to national security and world peace.

This cry of wolf distracts many sincere people from attention to our home - grown problems. There are growing signs of hope in spite of possible distortions of the problems in Cambodia.

There have been editorials in the daily press making an effort to make clear U.S. responsibility for the assassination of the Chilean ambassador to the U.S. An important piece of information appeared about U.S. radio broadcasts to Iran calling for uprising against the present government. Can we reasonably expect the hostages to be set free soon?

Another stray in the wind is an effort to revive interest in SALT II.

The grassroots issue before us is registration of our young men. It is urgent that our people in the communities, especially the Black community, families, as well as sons, need to understand the pros and cons of peace time registration. We need to know, for example, that it is being challenged in the court by the American Civil Liberties Union.

It is important to know of the consciousness raising taking place among peace groups and their need to make common cause with third world communities where "the need for political, civil, social, and economic rights is extremely acute" (AFSC report on May 17, '80 PUSH coalition March On Washington)

July 17th at Willkie House, 7 PM can be a first step. Try it! I think you'll like it!

Poverty, Racism Still Threat Says Harris

Patricia Roberts Harris, secretary of health and human services, today told the nation's mayors that "the poverty, the mistrust and the rage" of the core cities which "still threaten all of our society" have not been overcome by past progress.

Speaking before the U.S. Conference of Mayors in Seattle, Secretary Harris said that along with pushing for the needed economic revitalization in the cities, one of the things mayors must do is to "speak and listen, directly and sympathetically — to those in your community whom you know to be disadvantaged."

Efforts to build better cities will depend on "developing a new and liberating spirit" as well as on programs and management, resources and talents, Mrs. Harris said.

The secretary of housing and urban development before taking over at HHS Aug. 3, Mrs. Harris said she was delighted that a former mayor, Moon Landrieu of New Orleans, succeeded her at HUD.

Mrs. Harris said the National Urban Policy developed and activated by the Carter administration has "put in place a new structure, a new approach which is capable of dealing with (city) problems in a consistent and comprehensive manner."

Warning that "millions of our fellow citizens remain trapped in a web of racism and poverty — a certain breeding ground for rage and potentially destructive anger," Mrs. Harris nevertheless assured the mayors "there is still time to convince our people that we are addressing the problems of poverty and ill - health; and that we intend to remove the burden of racism from our country."

Recent events, including the underlying message of Miami, remind us that the task of achieving greater social and economic justice for those individuals who live in our cities "is not yet finished," Mrs. Harris said.

Mrs. Harris, who refers to HHS programs as "our nation's 'fail - safe' programs designed to prevent degradation of the elderly, infirm and young," called the mayors "the fail - safe engineers who determine whether the mechanisms actually work on the scene."

Providing "a sense of respect for the minorities, the poor" is a most important undertaking for mayors, the disadvantaged, the

Jepson Asks Study Of Labor Law Impact On Minority Contractors

Senator Roger Jepson (R-Ia.) has called for a study to determine the impact of the Davis-Bacon Act on minority and small business contractors.

Jepson's amendment to the Public Buildings Act, Senate bill 2080, is aimed at settling the dispute as to whether the Davis-Bacon Act substantially increases public construction costs.

"Davis-Bacon goes beyond dollars and cents because it also has a human cost since it impacts most heavily on minority and small business contractors," Jepson said. "They must pay the wage rates set by the Department of Labor which tend to be higher than those paid by many non-union contractors. This effectively freezes small and minority firms out of bidding on Federal construction."

The Davis-Bacon Act provides that on construction projects in which federal money is used, workers must be paid the "prevailing" wages of the area. Those wages actually can be higher than most workers in the area are receiving.

Jepson's amendment would authorize the Administrator of the General Services Administration to exempt not less than 10 percent of all projects such as public buildings, hospitals, nursing homes, schools, and highway construction costs from the Davis-Bacon Act. The purpose of the exemption would set up an experiment for the government to study the cost differentials of building projects without Davis-Bacon prevailing wage rates in effect.

"In today's inflationary economy," Jepson said, "the small and minority contractors, which tend to be nonunion, should not be discouraged from bidding on government contracts for any reason, especially Davis-Bacon."

Supports Public Law 95-507

Letter to Editor:

Recently I have witnessed at least two incidents that have not gone unnoticed in the Black Community and which could lead to grave strains in the race relationship here in Iowa.

I am particularly concerned about press statements attributed to Mr. Ray Henley, Executive Manager of the Iowa Associated General Contractors of America, and Mr. Keith Davis, who is in charge of the Iowa Department of Transportation's Contracts Office. These statements were recorded in the Des Moines Tribune on June 24, 1980.

Another incident was reported on June 25,

1980, by WHO-TV reported Trina Creighton during her special on black youth unemployment on the 10:00 p.m. news. The statement was made by a Job Service counselor.

Mr. Henley's response is a classical example of why small business owners, especially minority entrepreneurs, are increasingly losing respect and confidence in the free enterprise system. Big businesses not only lobby effectively to create advantages for themselves, but they expend as much energy to block hard-earned, much-needed, and long overdue access for minority business.

He seems to be concerned about protecting a low-bid process. A low-bid process never did exist. Preferential points always have been permitted to protect local economies, to protect certain industries' viability, to provide balance for our system, and to fairly redistribute taxes. Even when the process involves "Invitation for Bid," many other factors are considered in the final award—such as bonding ability, experience, and other required representations.

Mr. Henley may be interested in knowing that the majority of government bids are let under "Request for Proposal", where very little consideration is given to low bid. Rather the emphasis is on experience and qualifications.

The fears Mr. Davis expressed create some important concerns for me. The law (Public Law 95-507) that permits government contracting officers such as Mr. Davis to allow minority and female participation is very clear and has been in existence since 1978. He must have had some participation during the rule-making process.

He must have reviewed the research that created this law. He must know that an extraordinary amount of effort is put forth into bringing about a consensus when a law is passed in Congress for a minority political force.

Therefore, Mr. Davis' mandate is obvious. He only makes his job of enforcement more difficult by making such negative statements. Further, unnecessary suspicion is created about his office and its relationship with the large road-builders when he makes such statements.

I tend to agree with the job counselor interviewed on Ms. Creighton's news feature. Many persons are provided economic opportunities by persons already on the "inside". Historically, limited access has prevented minorities and females from being on the "inside."

During depressed economic conditions, these two groups are excluded from the minimized opportunities.

My statement is that we have fought long and hard for Public Law 95-507. We are prepared to meet Mr. Henley's group in court if that's where they choose to resolve this matter. We will pledge all of our resources to this effort because we have families to feed, too.

I will be meeting with local leaders of minority groups as soon as I return from the National Convention of the NAACP. I beseech Mr. Henley's group to meet with us and work out a just solution. I advise both him and Mr. Davis not to underestimate the sophistication of our unity nor the degree of our commitment to this issue.

Socialite Queens

On June 7, 1980 the Socialite Queens met at the home of Mrs. Josephine Stewart. Following a delicious pot luck dinner members and guests enjoyed slides of the Holy Land shown by Mrs. Johnella Easter.

On Sunday, June 22, 1980 the Socialite Queens and their guests spent a leisurely and relaxing day at Big Creek State Park for their annual picnic outing.

There was fishing, cards, socializing and just relaxing to watch the boats on the lake, and all varieties of food.

Strokes And Folks

Edna Griffin

Johnnas, a one act play is the recent production of the Langston Hughes Company of Players. Two evenings at the First Unitarian Church and a Sunday evening at Irving Community Center (Tiny Tot). The drama includes two shattering family experiences in one family.

The cake walk called for at the beginning of the drama might have moved the tempo of the production a little faster at the beginning. It is likely, however, that the slave dance would have sent the technical director to the wailing wall. Is there anyone left who could re - create the cake walk?

Lucia Howell gave an outstanding performance of Hilly, the mother. The meeting with her son, Johnnas's teacher highlighted Howell's training and experience as an actress. Peggy Spates Johnson as teacher did well in the difficult situation of educating a gifted child interested in only one subject in the world.

I probably should leave town after saying in writing that the male roles demanded much more than the playwright provided. Actors portraying Johnnas, young and older, were believable. Johnnas is a difficult part.

I saw two performances, one at the First Unitarian Church, the other at Irving Community Center. Quite frankly, I was concerned with audience reactions. It would be most interesting to know how many of our young people realized that Johannas portrays a painful part of Black history that we oldsters experienced or know about.

I couldn't prove it, and probably might be run out of town for hinting that our young were looking at a situation, us old folks were looking at our lives.

The Langston Hughes Company Of Players is one of the miracles, in my opinion, of Des Moines.

Suppose the finances were available for presentation of the Langston Hughes Company of Players, to appear as part of the teaching of history, art, literature, and above all teaching the stories of humankind. Americans of all creeds, colors, and denominations would realize that all that really counts is to be human.

UNION BAPTIST CHURCH Reverend H.I. Thomas Pastor

The Mass choirs and the Official Board members at Union attired in white made a joyful noise to The Lord last Sunday morning to commemorate Mission Day. Pastor Thomas preached "Changing Clothes—Pulling Off and Putting On". The morning worship litany "If You Love Me Keep My Commandments".

Assisting in the Ministry was the Reverend L.L. Harris. The inspirational voices of the Mass choirs lifted in perfect harmony inspired the preached word to bring souls to Christ. Thank God for our new members. We pray you will find peace and love in your new Church home.

WEDNESDAY AT 7 P.M. PRAYER AND BIBLE STUDY. LAST WEDNESDAY WE HAD 81 PEOPLE PRESENT.

July 6th, the Mother's Board will sponsor the "Old Ship of Zion". July 7th we will worship at Mr. Olive Baptist Church in honor of Pastor and Sister Field's anniversary. Friday July 18th at 7 p.m. Union Baptist Church will honor all members eighty years old and older. Everyone is welcome to attend this special service. Our prayer and shut in list is lengthy. Let us pray one for another.

Last week God saw fit to call a dedicated loyal church worker home. Union Baptist Church and Gladys Stubberfield's Family will miss her. Gladys had the ability to look at the sunny side of life and she truly gave the best of self to the church. We truly thank God for having known her.

Think about it "GOD IS NOT DEAD".

NORMAN L. PAWLEWSKI, SPEAKER FOR MEN'S DAY AT ST. PAUL

The Men of St. Paul A.M.E. Church are quite fortunate to have Mr. Norman L. Pawlewski, Commissioner of Public Health for the State of Iowa, to be their Speaker for Men's Day, Sunday, July 6, 1980. The Program will be held at the 10:45 a.m. Services. Mr. Pawlewski has been highly recommended, because of his training, experience and knowledge concerning communicable diseases and for becoming a born-again Christian.

He was born and raised in Buffalo, New York. He received his education there. He graduated with honors from the University of Buffalo School of Business Management, in 1960, receiving his B.S. Degree in Management. He was elected to Beta Gamma Sigma National Honor Society, School of Business Management. He completed Post Graduate Studies in Management, Supervision, Epidemiology, Project Writing and Analysis, Communication and Federal Program Administration.

Norman Pawlewski

After graduation, his job experiences have been: partnership in a small Restaurant-Cocktail Lounge business; in 1961, he joined the United States Public Health Service as a Veneral Disease Investigator for the State of New York; in 1965, he was sent to the State of Iowa to co-ordinate the State's Immunization Program; in 1970, he resigned to accept the position as Assistant to the Commissioner of Public Health for the State of Iowa; and in 1973, Governor Robert D. Ray appointed him to his present position; and 7/1/77, he was re-appointed for an additional four-year term as Commissioner.

Mr. Pawlewski spent two years (1953-1955) in the United States Army with an honorable discharge. He is 46 years old and married to Rose Marie. They have a son, David, age 16, and a daughter, Dawn, age 14.

In April, 1975, marital strife almost ended in a divorce. But, it was saved by a concerned Christian acquaintance. Rose Marie recognized her need for a personal relationship with God through Jesus Christ. She made a commitment to serving God. Very soon after, Norman and the children followed her example. Now, Mr. Pawlewski and his family are sharing their faith by personally communicating the Gospel to all who will listen.

ST. PAUL A.M.E. CHURCH 1201 Day Street Rev. Lewis E. Grady, Jr., Pastor

"Say not, 'T was all in vain,

The anguish and the darkness and the strife; Love thrown upon the waters comes again

In quenchless yearnings for a nobler life." Anna Shipton Participating as an Electoral Delegate to the General Conference of the A.M.E. Chq crev. Grady spoke from the pulpit about some of the fascinating highlights of the Conference.

The most delightful things our congregation heard was the appointments of two of our former Pastors: Rev. John E. Hunter was elected Bishop to be stationed in Africa for four years; and, Dr. Henderson Davis was elected to the office of Historiographer, St. Paul Church has been a steppingstone for many Pastors toward higher achievements. We're proud of our status.

Rev. Grady's message for the morning was, "New Direction In Liberation and Service of the Church". For this endeavor, we must recapture the spirit of our Founding Fathers to be successful on our "Pilgrim's Journey".

Look elsewhere in the Bystander concerning The Men's Day Program, this Sunday, July 6th.

Sister Alberta Bates was thankful to God that pointed to a deacon in the audience and said, Deacon! I'm concerned about your soul! Deacon Hull cried out emphatically, I'M READY!

Bishop Carter then asked a deacon to testify about his trip, Deacon Wright shouted clear up into the pulpit as he told about the love of God. Then the pastor began to preach, about

THE HAND OF MAN; "The anointing of God is upon me and he has anointed me to preach the gospel to the poor today, and preach he did. The high points of his message were: What you do with your HAND, play instruments, wash your body,...That's why God told us to "Clap your hands all ye lands! With your HANDS you show love to your wife, to your husband, to your mother, spank your children...select food for your family, and clothing to wear. God asked Moses what he had in his hand? and told him to stretch out his rod toward the red sea, the winds started blowing and dried up the red sea, you know the story!

Men nailed Jesus to the cross with their hands, and they nailed his Hands to the cross! with those hands he pushed back the walls of death, stretched out those nail scarred hands to the dead and preached unto those souls the gospel of peace! Gods power comes into the church and your hands go up! with that the church went up in thunderous applause, and saints went forth in shouting and praising GOD.

"The hand of Man"! The Hand of Man! our pastor told us of the Hand of Man....A Tremendous Message after the prayer 11 people came forth and joined the church...All having just moved here from out of State to place membership with us, we praise and magnify GOD! for it is THE LORD'S DOINGS AND IT IS MARVELOUS IN OUR EYES...

Prayer service begins every Saturday at 9 a.m. the presence of GOD overshadows our souls preparing us for Sunday morning service...Everyone is welcome to come to pray...come to praise GOD with us...This coming Sunday is PASTORS SPECIAL DAY! we are expecting GREAT THINGS! the church was almost full Sunday, many new souls are being added to the fold such as should be saved...(We are grateful that mother Evans is back with us after a short illness and a very successful operation.) Bishop Carter said as he bade the saints good night Sunday....watch that tongue. Keep still and let God bless you...Stop talking so much...

He spoke of the fast days that Bishop C.H. Mason set up in this church, Tuesdays and Fridays...and Pastor told the saints to fast and pray, on those fast days, he advised the saints not to talk unless absolutely necessary, during those fast days but enter into a special consecration unto God.

Heavenly Temple is being blessed here and abroad...and now we can say that GOD has truly smiled on me, he has set me free, GOD has smiled on me he's been good to Me! Remember this first Sunday is PASTORS DAY. EVERYONE IS INVITED TO COME OUT AND BE WITH US TO WORSHIP GOD IN SPIRIT AND IN TRUTH...MANY OUT OF STATE AND OUT OF TOWN GUESTS ARE EXPECTED.

Holy Ghost filled preaching, and singing, and hear the Tremendous harmony of the all-Male choir, under the leadership of Elder A.B. Carter, Jr. and the director Deacon Warnell Zeigler.

Bishop Carter's hands were lifted in praise to God as he thanked him for the latest addition of 11 new saints to the fold. See you in Heavenly Temple Sunday!

dramatic gains in Black registration have taken place since the mid-1960s. The Southern Regional Council reported that Black registration rose from 2.1 million in March, 1964, to 2.8 million in June, 1967, an increase of 30 percent for 11 States in the Southern region. The total number peaked by the November, 1972, Presidential election.

In 1966, about 53 percent of Blacks in the South were registered. The reported rate increased by 11 percentage points to 64 percent in the 1972 Presidential election. The registration rate for the Congressional election of 1974 was down to 55 percent, about the same as for the 1966 election.

The peak registration rates for Blacks in the North and West occurred during the Congressional election of 1966 and the Presidential election of 1968, when 69 and 72 percent, respectively, reported being registered. The 1974 rate in the North and West was much lower than that noted for any of the other four general elections.

Voter participation rates for Blacks have varied by region. The only advance in voter participation rates in the 1960s was made in the South. However, rates in the North and West have been generally higher than in the South.

Voter participation rates are strongly influenced by age and educational attainment. In 1976, the rates for Blacks were highest in the 45 - to - 74 age bracket, and lowest for the 18 - to - 24 group. Just as it tends to be with the White population, voter turnout seems to increase as the educational levels rise.

In 1976 about 47

percent of Blacks with four years of high school education voted, but the rate for those with four years or more of college was about 77 percent. A similar pattern of voter participation by age was evident for Whites. Also, the rates for Blacks and Whites are similar at selected elementary and college levels.

Here are some important findings resulting from the November, 1978, survey of registration and voting.

- Women constituted more than half the voting-age population between 1940 and 1970. In 1978, Black women of voting age in the United States were 8,679,000; thirty-eight percent of them reported voting.

- Nationwide, homeowners are twice as likely to vote as renters — 59 percent and 28 percent, respectively.

- Persons who have lived in the same house for a long time are more likely to vote than persons who have recently moved.

- Married couples maintaining families are more likely to vote than other relatives living in their household, and twice as likely as nonrelatives living in their household.

- College graduates are more than twice as likely to vote as persons who did not complete elementary school — 64 percent and 29 percent, respectively.

- White-collar workers are more likely to vote than persons in other occupational groups.

- Persons 65 years and over are nearly three times as likely to vote (56 percent) as persons 18 to 20 years old (20 percent).

CORE Explores Words And How They Affect Blacks

By Ora McQueen

Language is one of the most powerful ways in which a culture is expressed, values transmitted, and attitudes reinforced.

Words are weapons to maintain the status quo, enforce conformity, discourage resistance, and maintain oppression among certain racial and ethnic groups. Certain words used can bring about a complete change in how a particular people view themselves and how others see them.

For example in Africa, as well as in the United States, people are developing new identities and insisting upon defining themselves by describing themselves with acceptable words.

Africans use the word "people," "nation," and "ethnic group," where others refer to them as "tribe." They use the word "indigenous" and "traditional" for the term "primitive." They live in "houses" and "homes" not "huts." They wear their "national dress," not "costumes." They are "governed" not "ruled" by leaders or chiefs as we traditionally think of their government.

In the U.S. blacks

refer to themselves as "Blacks" or "Afro-Americans" not as others who refer to them as "nigger," "colored," "Negro," "coon" or "crows." They live in "neighborhoods" not "ghettos."

Society has experienced a great change over the past decade. In the U.S. ethnic and national minorities assert their respective identities. The working people, especially the poor, demand services. The handicapped insist on recognition. Women are calling for equal opportunity. In the midst of all these changes, new vocabularies have emerged. Old words have taken new meanings and sometimes new words have been added to our language.

People in the US and in Africa should be sensitive to the use of words in reference to groups and how those words affect members of that particular group both individually and collectively. If labeling is to be done, terms used should be chosen with acceptability and appropriateness to the people or group of people in reference.

Labels and names are often used to circumscribe and delimit events or ideas. Words and labels are sometimes used to keep a people oppressed. Words and language shape our perception, our events, our attitudes and often direct our changes.

In a biography of W.E.D. Du Bois by Andrew Paschall; Paschall wrote: "A great life is likely to be misunderstood, yet its worth to humanity lies in understanding, and understanding can be accomplished only by a careful study of the life—written and spoken, the thoughts, the ideas and ideals, the mannerisms and behaviorisms, as well as all the others may have thought of that life."

Paschall was right. When labeling and words are used to describe a racial or ethnic group, the lasting effects will affect that group of individuals and reflect the negative or positive outcomes depending on the kind of words used.

There is a common saying used sometimes. "Sticks and stones may break my bones but words can never hurt me." Can they?

Robinson Elected To Families Conference

Twenty-eight Iowa delegates attending a 15 states regional Conference On Families in Minneapolis, Minn. June 26-28 elected, Cedar Rapids attorney Mary Robinson to represent Iowa at the national White House Conference On Families in August.

In a telephone interview Robinson shared some highlights among the 55 regional recommendations discussed. The handicapped, the rural aging and rural housing. Opportunity for independent living as an alternative should be available to the handicapped and the aging.

Housing in the rural areas is not receiving the support much needed as in the urban areas. There is great need for early identification of problems of the handicapped. Such problems as need for special equipment, counselling, continuing education and employment.

Need is expressed for better designed equipment from the manufacturers. There is agreement for full funding of existing legislation. Low interest loans are recommended for adapting homes to the special needs of the handicapped who must remain in their homes.

Tax credits ought to be available to such families. There was strong support among the delegates for an Education Act, specifically for the handicapped. Recommendation was approved for counselling of the handicapped, their families, handicapped job applicants and employees.

The problems of the rural ageing were stressed by the Mississippi delegate who brought a drafted resolution on poor housing, a need for alternative choices for living independently, with the family, or in a center making independent living possible.

There should be opportunities for socializing at day care centers. Transportation is often a problem responsible for a keen sense of isolation for the elderly who very much need a sense of belonging in the community.

Attorney Robinson expressed the hope that priority would be placed by the elected delegates meeting in Washington, D.C. on the heavy impact of inflation, unemployment, maintaining the programs at their present level of child care, meals for senior citizens and children in need.

Brown, Miget Attend Arts Training Workshop

Des Moines-based Jazz Artists, Dartanyan Brown and Marcia Miget recently attended the National Training Workshop for the National Endowment for the Arts Artists-In-Schools program.

The four-day meeting sponsored by the N.E.A. and the American Music Conference, was held on the campus of Duke University in Durham, North Carolina.

The primary purpose of the workshop was to prepare artists, classroom teachers and administrators for the job of making an Artist-In-Residency program an enriching experience for the students who will be served.

The husband-wife team of Brown and Miget, who live at 2723

Columbia, will be doing their residency in the Waterloo, Ia. school system serving primarily West and East High schools.

According to Brown "The purpose of our semester-long visit to Waterloo is to bring as much of the whole community into an awareness of the enjoyment that can be derived from this Afro-American art form."

During the June 20-24 workshop, they attended lecture demonstrations by jazz artists Dizzy Gillespie, former Coltrane drummer Arthur Taylor, University of Indiana Jazz Professor David Baker and Larry Ridley, noted jazz bassist and National Music Coordinator of the Artist-In-Schools Program.

This year, for the first time, the Jazz component of the A.I.S. program was held in conjunction with the N.E.A.'s Dance workshops. This made it possible for the musicians and dancers to come together at different times and trade ideas and to perform with and for one another.

"That was quite an enjoyable feature of the conference," said Brown, "It gave us an opportunity to expand on the experiences we had started with the Gateway Dancers and the Maxix Dance Company that we worked with in Des Moines a few years back."

After a full day of discussions and demonstrations, each night of the conference was highlighted by performances from some of the world's top artists in dance and Jazz.

The Nikolais Dance Company performed the first night followed by the Rutgers/Livingston Jazz Professors (Ridley; Pianist Kenny Barron; Tenor Saxophonist Frank Foster; Guitarist Ted Dunbar and Art Taylor, drums) and Dancer Chuck Davis on the second evening.

Davis and his dance company performed alone on the third night and the final evening featured Gillespie and the Rutgers/Livingston Jazz Professors with Jazz Dancers Honi Coles and Scobey Stroman.

Gillespie has a habit of stealing the show wherever he goes and the Page Auditorium concert was no exception.

At 60-plus years of age, Dizzy exhibited a timelessness in his performance that drew shouts of admiration from everyone in attendance. He led the band through a blistering version of his composition "BeBop" after which anyone could see why that particular phase of modern jazz is closely associated with him.

He dedicated a whisper-soft version of the tune "Round Midnight" to its author, Thelonius Monk, and even turned in some raunchy blues vocals before the evening was over.

Dancers Stroman and Coles gave the audience an instant "History of Jazz Dance" by accompanying the musicians with examples of what might have been going down on the dance floor during the 30's, 40's and 50's when this music was taking shape.

The Waterloo residency by Brown and Miget is sponsored by the Iowa Arts Council. They both hope more can be done in the Iowa to bring jazz awareness to everyone who has a desire to learn about and participate in it.

Brown urged any interested persons who want to become involved in music to contact him at 2723 Columbia, Des Moines, Iowa (515)243-3894 or through the Iowa Arts Council.

"We are attempting to show the young, black youth in this state that they have a deep musical heritage to draw upon. It can help them in many ways to know about this music on a historical, sociological and technical level so we will be here to help."

NAACP Investigates Police Use Of Deadly Force

MIAMI BEACH, Fla.— Benjamin L. Hooks of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People and Homer F. Broome, Jr., administrator of the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration, have announced the presentation of a $381,682 grant to the NAACP to conduct an intensive, 15-month grass-roots project to reduce police shootings of minority citizens.

Broome said the NAACP and the Police Foundation, which will assist the civil rights organization, will work together "in a department-by-department analysis of the policies and practices governing the police use of their weapons. Where such policies and practices are deemed deficient, inadequate, inappropriate, and directly responsible for unnecessary police shootings, they will be exposed."

Hooks, speaking before a joint news conference at the NAACP's 71st Annual Convention in Miami Beach, Florida with Broome and Patrick V. Murphy, President of the Police Foundation, said "the goal of this project will be the reduction of police use of firearms, particularly against black citizens who disproportionately are the victims of police shootings."

The need to achieve this goal rapidly is urgent. Although research demonstrates that events leading to many police shootings involve little or no danger to police, these shootings have exacerbated tensions between police and the black community, and deter both groups from working in common purpose."

Murphy added, "research clearly shows that some American police agencies are far more enlightened and successful than others in controlling the enormous discretion that each police officer has. I am saddened to note that the precipitating incident of the tragedy that occurred a few miles away in Liberty City was police misuse of the authority to use force."

He also cited as an example of a restrictive, humane shooting policy, "the decades old FBI shooting policy which says: 'Agents are not to shoot any person except as necessary in self-defense, where they reasonably believe they or another are in danger of death or grievous bodily harm.'"

If every department in the United States adopted this policy and enforced it through tough management practices, the rate of unnecessary police shootings of citizens would decline markedly."

The project will concentrate on just two of the seven national NAACP regions, but publications and information developed will be available to all NAACP chapters and branches throughout the nation. The two regions encompass the southeastern states of Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Mississippi, North Carolina, South Carolina and Tennessee; and the western states of Alaska, Arizona, California, Hawaii, Idaho, Nevada, Oregon, Utah, and Washington.

A principal element of the project will be the publication and distribution of a citizens' guide to the overall issue of police use of deadly force. The guide will include in distinct and detailed language the results of recent research on the issue.

Accompanying the guide will be a questionnaire, which NAACP chapter and branch officials will be expected to submit for answers to their local police agencies, focusing on four areas: (1) What is your department's policy on the use of deadly force? (2) Under what circumstances does your department's Law Enforcement officers most often use deadly force? (3) Who are the usual victims of police deadly force in your jurisdiction in terms of race, sex, age, education, and economic circumstances? and (4)

What does your department do to make certain departmental policy on deadly force is carried out in a firm and consistent manner?

According to Police Foundation President Murphy, the primary purpose of the questionnaire will be to get local departments on record concerning their policies and management practices regarding deadly force, and to obtain a record on these victims of police shootings. "This process of questioning police departments is designed to make them reexamine and justify to themselves and to citizens their policies on deadly force and relevant management practices."

Hooks added that it was "quite likely that police departments, approached by their own citizen-taxpayers who also happen to be NAACP members, could be expected to cooperate. The willingness of one police department to release information about deadly force, argues for the release of that information by all police departments."

When the citizens' guide is published in about three months, NAACP officials said they would hold a series of seminars in their southeastern and western regions to explain in detail the citizens' guide. The seminar would also be used to instruct local NAACP members on how to weigh some of the answers that are expected to be forthcoming from the questionnaire.

Available throughout the project will be the assistance of Police Foundation researchers and consultants who can be called in to help local NAACP chapters and branches in communities which have been identified as having serious problems between blacks and the police arising from issues surrounding use of deadly force.

though not lately, ... I plan to start back up on that for my college wardrobe."

Because of last months' fierce and tragic insurrection in Miami I wondered if Dee Anne was fearfully of any racial difficulties in Miami during her visit.

"I had no worries" she stated confidently. "I wasn't afraid but I realized the NAACP convention was an important event to many blacks and they would be looking at it. But I was more excited about my competition. I also felt we would be protected if tension arose."

Dee Anne went on to marvel about her competition. "I was so impressed and proud to be a member of the black race. Just watching the others and their immense talent, I didn't see how the judges could decide. The competition was extremely stiff and varied. I was extremely proud of my black peers around the nation — it made me realize how many talented people there are among us. I believe in the black race ... we CAN overcome if we work together. We can make it. It was just an eye opening experience. It also cut down the feelings of isolation I sometimes suffer at (being a black achiever)."

The moment her name was called, how did she feel? Dee Anne responded enthusiastically, "You know I tied 1st place with a young lady who portrayed Sojourner Truth. I was so nervous. Everyone was whispering encouragements. Then I calmed down because I had lost before in competition. The judge said my name second and everyone around me was surrounding me with congratulations. I just felt ecstatic joy."

Dee didn't care for that last term but I think it captured the moment well. She told me 28 young people from around the nation, LA, NY competed against her. Stiff competition — this should give you some idea how good Miss Davis is.

How did being associated with the Langston Hughes Company here influence her performance in Miami?

"Doing 'Colored Girls' 5 or so times helped me tremendously with stage presence and projection ... there's so many things you learn. It helped me some with stage fright. I can block out the audience now and be in total command of my character," Dee Anne said.

Besides another possible Ruby Dee, what aspirations did Dee Anne have after her schooling (possible PhD and medical degree) ended? "Tentatively ... I will go into pre med ... a medical degree would be so beneficial, I was told, to further my goals of work in child psychology," she thought.

Her three life goals were "... success as a woman, both professionally and personally ... I want to blend vocation and avocation well." As for a family she hesitantly told me possibly.

"Health is very important to me" she continued. "I always want to maintain a sound body through diet and exercise." Last Dee Anne impressed me with the statement "I always want to be able to become active and involved with black community affairs."

Two other Des Moines participants placed in the competition and I truly hope Des Moines will support the Act-So competition in Des Moines next fall under Marcia Collier's leadership. As far as this years big winner Dee Anne Davis goes, I can tell you folks, this young lady is headed for greatness — not only is she a bright and witty teenager — mature and

AMERICAN LEGION

Lincoln Auxiliary No. 126 will meet at the hall, 8th and College, July 8, Tuesday at 8 p.m. At our last meeting we held our election of officers.

President- Beatrice Devan; 1st Vice President- Irene Lovelady; 2nd Vice President- Ladona Leevis; Treasurer- Mary Rattou; Sec.- Flora O'Neil; Recording Sec.- Hiawatha Patten; Chaplin- Rose Powers; Historian- Willa Mae Rowe; Sargant of Arms- Myrtle Taylor.

sophisticated far beyond her years, but while working with her (she did a good job as rehearsal assistant) on JOHNNAS, I learned she was a sweet, caring and sensitive soul.

These traits combined with her looks and talent — how can Miss Davis not hit the big leagues in all her many endeavors. I also hope all Des Moines will welcome her back royally!!!

I, Helen W. Barlow, City Clerk of the City of Des Moines, Iowa, do hereby certify that the above and foregoing is a true and correct copy of an ordinance passed by the City Council of said City at a meeting held July 23, 1979, signed by the Mayor July 23, 1979 and published in the Iowa Bystander July 3, 1980.

Helen W. Barlow, City Clerk

entitled, "Skywalk Ordinance" to Chapter 23 (Streets and Sidewalks) thereof, as follows:
SUBCHAPTER 16. SKYWALK ORDINANCE.

Sec. 23-236. TITLE.

This ordinance shall be known and may be cited and referred to as the "Skywalk Ordinance" of the City of Des Moines, Iowa.

Sec. 23-237. PURPOSES AND POLICY.

The City of Des Moines, Iowa finds and declares that it is the responsibility of the City to coordinate and integrate the development of the transportation system for downtown Des Moines, including streets, parking facilities and accommodations, sidewalks, skywalks, bus stops and taxi stops, related street signs, traffic control devices, markings and regulations and other related structures and facilities, and further finds and declares that the development of a skywalk - level sidewalk system (to be known as the "Skywalk System") in the skywalk district, as an integral part of the transportation system, is a benefit to the public in that it (1) enables pedestrians with or without physical handicaps to move in an enclosed second story skywalk system protected from adverse weather and vehicles, (2) reduces pedestrian - vehicle conflicts at the street level, (3) encourages a more efficient use of public parking facilities, (4) promotes increased and more efficient pedestrian travel within the downtown, (5) encourages shopping and economic growth in the urban renewal area and other adjacent portions of the downtown area by inducing redevelopment, remodeling and more intensive retail, commercial and residential use, thereby increasing employment opportunities and increasing the tax base for the City and other taxing jurisdictions, and (6) provides an opportunity for aesthetic improvements, particularly at nodal areas of the skywalk system. Therefore, it is the policy of the City of Des Moines, Iowa, to participate in developing the public skywalk system shown on the Skywalk System Plan Map by constructing the skywalk bridges across the public rights - of - way and by obtaining easements for skywalk corridors and nodal points under the provisions and within the limitations of this ordinance.

Sec. 23-238. SKYWALK DISTRICT AND SKYWALK MAP.

The "Skywalk District" is the area enclosed by and including the right - of - way of the following streets:

Third Street from Keosauqua Avenue to Court Avenue; Court Avenue from Third Street to Fifth Avenue; Fifth Avenue from Court Avenue to Cherry Street; Cherry Street from Fifth Avenue to Ninth Street; Ninth Street from Cherry Street to High Street; High Street from Ninth Street to Eighth Street; Eighth Street from High Street to Keosauqua Avenue; Keosauqua Avenue from Eighth Street to Third Street.

The planned skywalk system shall be shown on the Skywalk System Plan Map. The Skywalk System Plan Map shows the general location of each part of and appurtenance to the entire planned skywalk system to within a distance of one-quarter of the length of the block on either side of its indicated location. Where a planned skywalk corridor is shown on that map over the length of an alley, it indicates that that skywalk corridor will be located within a building on property on either side of the alley or, if the city vacates or leases the air rights over the alley, it may be located within a building extending into such air space, but wherever it is located, property interests on both sides of the alley shall have the right to connect to a skywalk corridor at their own cost.

The Skywalk System Plan Map shall not be amended to relocate any such skywalk corridor or skywalk bridge a distance of more than one - quarter of the length of the block from the location shown thereon, unless all property interests who would have had the right of connection as a consequence of the prior location consent to such relocation and to an acceptable alternative plan for providing such property interests access to the relocated portion of the skywalk system without any additional cost to the city.

The exact location of existing portions of the skywalk system shall be shown on the Official Skywalk Map.

All the notations, references and other matters shown on the Skywalk System Plan Map and on the Official Skywalk Map at the time each is adopted by the city council are incorporated in and made a part of that map.

The Skywalk System Plan Map and the Official Skywalk Map shall each be on file in the office of the city clerk and shall bear the signature of the mayor, attested by the city clerk, under the certification that that document is the map referred to in this section.

The city council may from time to time adopt and place on file a new Skywalk System Plan Map or a new Official Skywalk Map which shall supersede the prior version of such map.

If in accordance with the provisions of this ordinance changes are made in the skywalk system or other matters portrayed on the Skywalk System Plan Map or on the Official Skywalk Map, then the respective map shall be appropriately changed and the ordinance or resolution number and date of the change shall be recorded by the city clerk on the affected map.

The Skywalk System Plan Map shall only be amended by ordinance. The Official Skywalk Map shall be deemed amended by each resolution accepting an easement for a skywalk corridor or accepting completed construction of a skywalk bridge and may be amended otherwise by resolution.

Sec. 23-239. DEFINITIONS.

1. The "skywalk system" shall be the planned skywalk system shown on the Skywalk System Plan Map and includes skywalk corridors, nodal points within public easements, skywalk bridges and vertical access facilities planned, at any given time, for inclusion in the skywalk system, as well as those already included in the system.

2. A "skywalk corridor" is a skywalk - level pathway of the skywalk system which is within, along or on top of a building and whose termini are skywalk bridges, other skywalk corridors or an opening in a building through which the skywalk corridor connects to an adjacent building. The primary public purpose of a skywalk corridor is the accommodation of public pedestrian travel from point to point at or near the second story level. Each skywalk corridor shall be deemed dedicated to such public purpose upon the acceptance of an easement for such corridor by the city council.

3. A "skywalk bridge" is a skywalk - level bridge from building face to building face which spans one and only one street or alley and which continues the skywalk system pathway in a direction perpendicular or nearly perpendicular to the face of the building to which it attaches. The primary public purpose of a skywalk bridge is to permit public pedestrian travel at the skywalk level across open spaces, such as streets, sidewalks, alleys and land where a building is set back from the public right - of - way. Each skywalk bridge shall be deemed dedicated to such public purpose upon passage of a resolution so stating by the city council.

4. A "nodal area" is an area in the skywalk system where a pedestrian has the choice of two or more paths of travel, such as the intersection of two or more skywalk corridors, the intersection of one or more skywalk corridors and one or more vertical access facilities, or the connection of a skywalk bridge to a non - endpoint of a skywalk corridor. The primary public purpose of a nodal area is to provide sufficient area for pedestrians from different pathways to change paths and to use and enjoy aesthetic and functional amenities that enhance the skywalk system. Therefore, a nodal area should be of greater dimension than the intersecting pathways. Each nodal area which exceeds the area of the skywalk corridors included in it shall be deemed dedicated to such public purpose if an easement therefor is offered to the city and accepted by the city council.

5. A "vertical access facility" is a pathway for pedestrians to move between the skywalk level skywalk corridors and the ground level public sidewalk and consists of an escalator, stairs, elevator or other means of vertical transfer or a combination thereof, as well as the pathways between a skywalk corridor and the skywalk level access to the means of vertical transfer and the pathway between the ground level access to the means of vertical transfer and the public sidewalk. The primary public purpose of a vertical access facility is to allow pedestrians to move between the skywalk level and ground level sidewalk systems. Each vertical access facility shall be deemed a part of the skywalk system upon the acceptance of its designation as such by the city council. However, each vertical access facility shall remain under control of those with interests in the property on which it is located.

Sec. 23-240. SKYWALK COMMISSION.

1. (a) Creation; membership; vacancy. There is hereby created a skywalk commission, consisting of five (5) members appointed by the mayor, subject to the approval of the city council. One (1) member shall be appointed from among persons whose property is shown on the Skywalk System Plan Map to be traversed by or connected to the skywalk system, one (1) member shall be appointed from among persons whose lease - hold is shown by the Skywalk System Plan Map to be traversed by or connected to the skywalk system, and three (3) members shall be appointed from among other citizens, residents of the city, who have knowledge or experience in matters which may pertain to the development and operation of a skywalk system. Any vacancy in the membership of the skywalk commission shall be filled by the mayor, subject to the approval of the council, the appointment to be for the remainder of the term.

All members of the skywalk commission shall perform their duties without compensation.

The expiration of all terms of office shall be the first Monday in April. However, all members shall hold over until their successors are appointed and qualified.

(c) Meetings. The skywalk commission shall hold regular meetings, the first within ten days of initial appointment and thereafter at least once each month at a time and place within the corporate limits as it may determine by resolution. Special meetings may be held with at least twenty - four (24) hours notice upon the call of the chairperson or upon written request signed by three (3) commission members. Three (3) members of the skywalk commission shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business.

The chairperson or members calling a meeting shall make reasonable effort to assure that every member attends all meetings of the skywalk commission but shall not, in the accomplishment of that goal, unduly delay the business of the commission. Any member failing to attend three consecutive meetings or twenty - five percent of the meetings in any twelve month period, unless absent from the city, or confined by illness or other disability, any of which reasons the commission may, by affirmative vote, determine sufficient excuse for nonattendance, shall automatically cease to be a member of the commission and a successor shall be appointed.

(d) Organization. Each April the sky walk commission shall elect a Chairperson and Vice - Chairperson from among its members. The Chairperson shall perform the usual duties of that office, and the Vice - Chairperson shall perform the duties of Chairperson during the absence or disability of the Chairperson. The skywalk commission may promulgate rules governing its proceedings.

The recording secretary shall cause notice of all skywalk commission meetings, and all agenda items, to be mailed or otherwise provided to those persons who file a written request for such notice with the recording secretary. In addition, the recording secretary shall post the notice and tentative agenda required by chapter 28A of the Code of Iowa outside the city clerk's office.

All decisions of the skywalk commission shall be compiled by subject matter, and all minutes of its meetings shall be compiled by date, and kept on file in the city clerk's office.

The council may annually appropriate a sum of money from the general funds of the City for the payment of the expenses of the skywalk commission. The commission shall have authority to obligate on behalf of the city all money so appropriated. The skywalk commission shall have no power to contract debts or incur expenses beyond the amount of money so appropriated.

2. Advisory powers.

The skywalk commission shall review and advise the city council

- (a) on any proposed amendment to the skywalk ordinance,
- (b) on any proposed amendment to any other ordinance that may affect the skywalk system,
- (c) on any proposed amendment to the Skywalk System Plan Map or the Official Skywalk Map,
- (d) on any proposed location or change in location of a skywalk corridor or vertical access facility,
- (e) on the policy and design standards for skywalk bridges,
- (f) on any request to extend the three year period for reconstruction of a destroyed skywalk corridor, and
- (g) on such other matters as it determines should be brought to the city council's attention.

- (iv) Approve or disapprove a request by any person to change the hours of operation for any portion of the skywalk system (except vertical access facilities), provided such change does not reduce the hours that portion of the skywalk system is open below the minimum hours provided in this ordinance. A request to so change the hours a portion of the skywalk system is open signed by all private property interests on the portion of the skywalk system affected by the change shall be deemed granted upon notice to the skywalk commission. A request to extend the hours a portion of the skywalk system shall remain open shall be granted upon evidence that there will be substantial usage of that portion of the system during such hours, provided those persons requesting such extension of hours present the commission with an executed agreement providing for payment of all operation and repair costs on that portion of skywalk system during such hours. The skywalk commission may approve, or may approve subject to such reasonable conditions as are necessary to protect the interests of other persons along the affected portion of the skywalk system, or may disapprove, a request to change hours of operation, but if the skywalk commission does not approve subject to condition or disapprove a proposed change in hours within 15 days of the date such request is filed with the skywalk commission, the proposed change shall be deemed approved.

(v) Upon its own notice or upon the complaint of any person, determine whether or not a skywalk corridor constructed or otherwise provided by a private property interest conforms to the minimum design standards for skywalk corridors contained in this ordinance. Any private property interest may submit plans for the construction or other provision of a skywalk corridor to the skywalk commission for determination as to whether or not such plans conform to such minimum design standards.

(b) Arbitration.

(i) Any person aggrieved by a decision of the skywalk commission made under a decision power granted it in this subsection may request binding arbitration by a written request filed with the secretary of the skywalk commission within ten (10) days after receipt of the decision. Thereafter, within five (5) days, the skywalk commission and the party requesting arbitration shall each appoint one arbitrator. Any interested person may present evidence or argument at the hearing. The arbitration panel shall have the power to reach the same decisions pursuant to the same standards as the skywalk commission. If the majority of the arbitration panel does not render its written decision and reasons within ten (10) days of its hearing, the decision of the skywalk commission shall prevail. Each party shall pay for the costs of the arbitrator it appoints, and the arbitration panel shall apportion all additional costs of arbitration as justice warrants.

(ii) For purposes of this section, the city manager, on behalf of the City, shall be a "person" who may request arbitration or appeal of a decision of the skywalk commission to the same extent that any other person can.

Sec. 23-241. APPLICATION TO BE INCLUDED IN THE SKYWALK SYSTEM.

1. No person may construct a portion of or connection from a property interest granted the right of connection by section 23-238 or by subsection 23-244(12) of this code to the skywalk system without approval of the City of Des Moines.

2. The city council shall receive and consider an application for the development of a portion of or connection to the skywalk system from an applicant or applicants who effectively represent all properties, except those owned by the City and those already traversed by a portion of the skywalk system, to be traversed by the proposed portion of or connection to the skywalk system with the power of attorney to commit said properties to the skywalk usages and restrictions provided by this ordinance. The city council shall receive the advice of the skywalk commission before acting on the application.

3. In determining the priority of construction and location of skywalk bridges, the city council shall give favorable consideration to construction of such bridge or bridges to blocks in which all necessary property interests grant the city the right to all easements necessary to complete or extend the skywalk system to all faces of the block and necessary to permit connection to the skywalk system by those property interests within the block that are granted such right of connection by this ordinance, which easements shall come into being at such time or times as the city council determines they are necessary for such purposes.

4. The city council shall grant the application to construct a portion of the skywalk system and shall construct an necessary bridges over public rights - of - way at public expense according to specifications on file in the city clerk's office and shall grant the application to construct a connection to the skywalk system:

(ii) grants the city at no cost an easement for public pedestrian travel through and over all skywalk corridors across such private property and further grants the city the right to an easement for public pedestrian travel through and over any future skywalk corridor across such property that is or may become necessary to extend the skywalk system beyond such property to an adjacent property, which easement shall come into being at such time as the city council determines it is necessary for such extension of the skywalk system. Such easements shall be deemed dedicated to public pedestrian travel only during the hours that such skywalk corridors are open according to the terms of this ordinance. Each such easement for a skywalk corridor shall provide a pathway across such property to the skywalk system connections to other property as is reasonable and practical. The location of each such easement shall be the location approved by the city council. Such private property interests shall have the right to change the location of the skywalk corridor easement upon notification to and approval by city council upon the advice of the skywalk commission, which approval shall not be unreasonably withheld, and upon completion of construction of such relocated portions of the skywalk system.

(iii) signs a skywalk agreement with the City to construct all portions of or connections to the skywalk system to be built at private expense according to minimum design standards for the skywalk system and to abide by all terms and conditions of the skywalk agreement and all terms and conditions of this ordinance as are in effect on the date such skywalk agreement is made; and

(b) if the city council determines that the City can finance its obligations or, in the alternative, if the applicant agrees that the City can perform its obligations, or any part of them, as soon as the city council determines it can finance them.

Sec. 23-242. THE CITY'S RESPONSIBILITIES.

1. In the approved portions of the skywalk system, the City shall construct the skywalk bridges over public rights - of - way according to specifications on file in the city clerk's office and shall assume the cost of construction of that portion of the skywalk bridges which is over the public right - of - way.

2. In the event that any City - owned skywalk bridge is so damaged or destroyed that it is not usable, the City shall immediately create a temporary vertical access facility to the ground level and back up to the skywalk level around such damage and the City shall rebuild the skywalk bridge at City expense as soon as practicable.

3. The City shall construct any skywalk corridors, nodes, or vertical access facilities in City - owned buildings.

4. In the event that any skywalk corridor or vertical access facility in a City - owned building is so damaged or destroyed that it is no longer usable, the City shall immediately either provide a temporary route around the damaged portion or create a temporary vertical access facility to the ground level and back up to the skywalk level around such damage and the City shall rebuild the skywalk corridor or vertical access facility at public expense as soon as possible and in any event within three (3) years, unless city council for good cause shown extends said three (3) year period.

5. The City shall pay for the maintenance, repair and operational expenses for that portion of the skywalk system which traverses a City - owned building and shall pay up to one - half of such expenses for all skywalk bridges connecting to that City - owned building.

Sec. 23-243. OBLIGATIONS OF THE PRIVATE PROPERTY INTERESTS.

1. In addition to granting the easements required by section 23-241 of this Code, the owners of any private property interest traversed by the skywalk system and the skywalk - level tenants of such property (hereinafter "the private property interests") and their successors or assigns:

(a) May grant the City at no costs an easement for skywalk purposes for so much of a nodal area as exceeds the skywalk corridor easement. The location of these easements shall be as approved by the city council and shall be shown on the Official Skywalk Map. The private property interests shall have the right to change the location of such nodal area easements upon notification to and approval by the city council upon the advice of the skywalk commission, which approval shall not be unreasonably withheld, and upon construction of the relocated portions of the skywalk system. The private property interests shall have the right to terminate any such nodal area easement upon three weeks written notice to the city council.

(b) Shall construct or otherwise provide at their own expense all portions of the skywalk system traversing their property and shall construct or provide such skywalk system according to the minimum design standards and criteria of this ordinance.

(c) In the event that the portion of the skywalk system traversing private property is so damaged or destroyed as to be unusable, shall be responsible for providing either an immediate temporary route around the damaged portion or construction of a temporary route to the ground level and a temporary route back to the skywalk system at the other end of the damaged portion and shall rebuild or otherwise replace the damaged portion of the skywalk system as soon as is reasonable, but in any event within three (3) years, unless the city council for good cause shown extends said three (3) year period, subject to such reasonable conditions as it may impose, for such reasonable period of time as is necessary to complete the repairs or replacement. Any person aggrieved by the decision of the city council may request binding arbitration by the same procedure as provided in subsection 23-240(3)(b) of this code.

(d) Shall be responsible for the costs of operation, maintenance and repair of that portion of the skywalk system traversing their private property and up to the middle of all skywalk bridges connecting to that private property, all in conformance to the operation, maintenance or repair standards set by the skywalk commission. In the event that a particular private property interest fails to fulfill its responsibilities for operation, maintenance or repair after notice to do so from the City, the City shall secure such operation, maintenance or repair and assess the cost of performing such operation, maintenance or repair against the private property upon reasonable notice and hearing before the city council.

(f) Shall provide liability insurance for the portion of the skywalk system traversing their property in an appropriate amount, naming the private parties and the City as insureds, and shall carry casualty insurance naming the private property interests and the City as insureds in an amount sufficient to rebuild the skywalk system that traverses that private property.

(g) Shall be entirely responsible for any additional construction or costs necessary to provide security or separation between the skywalk system and the private property.

2. The obligation of a private property interest shall cease if it transfers its interest to another who assumes its obligation under the skywalk ordinance. The obligations of the private property interests and their successors and assigns shall cease if the private property is taken by an exercise of the power of eminent domain, or if the portion of the skywalk system traversing their property is formally abandoned by the City as part of the skywalk system. In addition, any time after thirty (30) years from the date it entered a skywalk agreement, a private property interest or its successors or assigns may terminate its obligations upon two (2) years written notice to the city council, except that if the City makes significant capital repairs or replacements to any skywalk bridge to a property or to any skywalk bridge which is then served only by a skywalk corridor through a property, not paid for by insurance, those with private property interests in such property or properties cannot so terminate their obligations until twenty - five (25) years after completion of the capital repairs or replacements to such skywalk bridge. If the need for such significant capital repairs or replacements arises after fifteen (15) years from the date of the skywalk agreement or on which the last such repairs or replacements were made, the City shall give all affected private property interests ninety (90) days notice of its intent to make such capital repairs or replacements, and the private property interests may terminate their obligations by written notice to the city council within sixty (60) days of the date of the City's notice.

Sec. 23-244. SKYWALK SYSTEM DEVELOPMENT CRITERIA.

1. There shall be at most one skywalk bridge per block face.

2. There shall be at least one vertical access facility in each block accessible to and usable by the handicapped. A vertical access facility may utilize an existing vertical transfer system in a private property traversed by the skywalk system.

3. All doors in the public skywalk system shall be built entirely at private expense, except that doors at the end of the skywalk bridge connecting to city property or within city property shall be built at city expense.

4. The method of transfer between skywalk corridors in different buildings of different heights shall be accessible to and usable by handicapped persons.

5. The skywalk system shall be maintained free of all obstructions, except that sculpture, plantings or supports for public announcements or art work or other amenities, as approved by the skywalk commission, may be erected in those portions of nodal areas which exceed the minimum skywalk corridor widths and for which the city has accepted an easement.

6. Skywalk corridors shall conform to the following minimum design standards:

(a) Width: Skywalk corridors shall have a minimum width of fourteen (14) feet free and clear of any obstructions or intrusions, except in the following circumstances, the lesser widths specified may be allowed:

(i) Where a column, pipe or other integral structural feature or member of an existing building will intrude into a skywalk corridor, then such corridor and the easement therefor shall be for that narrower width, for the minimum distance which is necessary to prevent such intrusion;

(ii) Where the easement for a skywalk corridor is in a building corridor already constructed as of the effective date of this ordinance, then such skywalk corridor shall have a minimum width of twelve (12) feet free and clear of any obstructions or intrusions;

(iii) The city council in its discretion may accept a right to an easement for a skywalk corridor fourteen (14) feet in width and may restrict the actual width of the easement for a skywalk corridor to no less than twelve (12) feet in those situations where on one side of the skywalk corridor, any barricade wall, or other physical barrier or obstruction which stands or is erected or placed between such corridor and the abutting private property interest during the hours such corridor is open meets all the following criteria:

(A) such physical barrier or obstruction comprises less than thirty - three and one - third (33 1/3) percent of the area of the vertical plane between floor and ceiling running parallel to and at the edge of such corridor through such property interest;

(B) in those open portions of such areas where such barrier does not extend from floor to ceiling, the private property interest may place or stand temporary obstructions within the fourteen (14) foot right to an easement area but without the twelve (12) foot easement on the open side, so long as no such obstruction shall be placed or stood within the fourteen (14) foot right to an easement width which exceeds thirty - six (36) inches in height measured from the floor; where such open spaces exist on both sides of such corridor, then such intrusion shall be limited to a total of two (2) feet divided between the two sides of the corridor at the private property interest's discretion, provided, however, that the amount of intrusion on each side of said corridor shall be uniform for the length of such corridor through said private property.

Doors which are normally closed but which open into a skywalk corridor shall not be deemed barriers, obstructions, or intrusions as referred to hereinabove.

(b) Height: Skywalk corridors shall have a minimum height of nine (9) feet, or the existing ceiling height of the space through which the corridor is to pass, whichever is lower, free and clear of any obstructions or intrusions except at those points of the corridor where a beam, pipe or other similar structural feature of the existing building requires a lower height for that minimum distance necessary to pass such beam, pipe or other similar structural feature.

(c) Delineation: Skywalk corridors shall be readily identifiable and distinguishable from the surrounding parts of the buildings through which they pass. The skywalk corridor may be delineated by different floor coverings, by walls or by physical barriers.

(d) Lighting: There shall be artificial lighting capable of providing a minimum intensity of 30 foot - candles at every point along the skywalk corridor floor. Lighting fixtures shall be recessed in or attached in immediate proximity to the ceiling, except that hanging or pendant fixtures will be permitted which do not invade the minimum skywalk corridor height. If additional lighting fixtures must be provided they shall be supplied with electricity in such a manner that the interruption of service in any circuit inside the building will not result in total interruption of the required lighting.

(e) Heating and cooling: The skywalk corridor must be serviced by heating and cooling equipment capable of sustaining skywalk corridor temperatures between 65 degrees and 85 degrees Fahrenheit at all times.

7. The only signs that will be allowed in skywalk corridors and skywalk bridges are skywalk logos, skywalk map and route directories, skywalk directional signs and skywalk building identification signs as approved by the skywalk commission. The private property interests shall be allowed to erect any signs they wish on private property adjacent to the skywalk corridors, so long as these signs are not so similar to skywalk graphics as to cause confusion.

8. Skywalk corridors shall conform to such minimum design standards for skywalk corridors as exist at the time the easement for said corridor comes into being.

9. Skywalk bridges shall have a minimum width of fourteen (14) feet and a minimum height of nine (9) feet, both free and clear of any obstructions or intrusions, shall have a minimum clearance over the traveled portion of the right - of - way of sixteen (16) feet six (6) inches and shall conform to such other minimum design standards as are adopted from time to time by the city council and kept on file in the city clerk's office, except that if the city council determines to incorporate into the skywalk system any skywalk bridges existing as of the effective date of this ordinance, such bridges need not meet the minimum standards of this subsection.

10. Structural foundations and supports for skywalk bridges shall be built outside the public right - of - way lines wherever possible. They shall be built at private expense, except for those structural foundations and supports on that end of the skywalk bridge which connects to a city - owned building.

11. Those skywalk bridges, skywalk corridors and vertical access facilities which are fire exits must be open 24 hours a day in the path of the fire exit, and all Fire Code requirements as to the construction of skywalk corridors to a point of access to the outside must be observed. Private property interests may not use skywalk bridges or skywalk corridors as fire exits without specific permission from the city council.

12. If there is no plan for a person's property to be traversed by the skywalk system, as shown by the Skywalk System Plan Map, and if such person's property touches a property which is traversed by an existing portion of the skywalk system, such person may apply for connection to the skywalk system under section 23-241 of this code.

Sec. 23-245. REGULATION OF USAGE.

1. The skywalk corridors and skywalk bridges shall be open for public pedestrian travel from no later than 7:00 A.M. to no earlier than 6:00 P.M. Monday through Friday of each week, except legal holidays, and the skywalk corridors and skywalk bridges or portions thereof shall be open for such additional hours as the skywalk commission may approve in accordance with subsection 23-240(3)(a)(iv) of this code. The vertical access facilities shall be open during the regular building or business hours in which they are located, but not in excess of the hours the skywalk corridors they serve are open.

2. During the hours when a portion of the skywalk system is open, it shall be available for use by the general public without restriction as to age, sex, religion, race, national origin or physical disability. During the hours when a portion of the skywalk system is open, no private property interest whose property is traversed by that portion of the skywalk system shall block or close that portion of the skywalk system designated as open.

3. It shall be unlawful for persons to collect, assemble or group together and after being so collected, assembled or grouped together, stand or loiter on any portion of the skywalk system to the hindrance or obstruction of free passage of any person or persons passing on or along such skywalk system.

4. It shall be unlawful for persons to congregate, stand, loaf or loiter in or in front of any doorway, passage or entrance to any portion of the skywalk system so as to obstruct the same, hinder or prevent persons walking along or into or out of the same or attempting or desiring to do so.

5. Groups of three or more persons who do not immediately leave the vicinity or disperse when asked to do so by any member of the public or a police officer shall be presumed to have congregated, stood, loafed or loitered in violation of subsections 3 or 4 of this section, but it shall not be necessary to request such people to move, leave the vicinity or disperse in order to prove a violation of subsections 3 or 4 of this section.

6. No more than two persons at any one time shall use a skywalk bridge as a locus for peaceful picketing, public speaking, leafleting, or other lawful expressions of opinion not in contravention of other laws, and no person shall conduct such activities in any portion of the skywalk system except on a skywalk bridge. It shall be unlawful to conduct such activities in such a manner as to block or hinder any use of the skywalk system or normal activities in the adjacent buildings or properties.

7. No person shall bring, allow or permit an animal to be in the skywalk system, except that a sight or hearing impaired person may bring a dog trained as a seeing eye or hearing dog into the skywalk system.

8. Other than wheel chairs or motorized wheel chairs used by handicapped persons and vehicles used in operating, maintaining and repairing the skywalk system, no person shall use or operate a motor vehicle, moped, bicycle, skateboard or roller skates in the skywalk system.

9. No person shall play a radio, tape recorder, or other sound amplifying device in the skywalk system so as to permit the sound from the radio, tape player or other sound amplifying device to be audible to another person, except that peace officers and security personnel may play radios tuned to official police or security frequencies, and except that persons in those businesses along the skywalk system may continue to play radios, tape recorders or other sound amplifying devices as is usual in the course of business.

10. No person shall stand or sit on any radiator or other fixture in the skywalk system, except on a bench or seat provided in that portion of a nodal area outside the skywalk corridor.

11. No person shall erect any advertising or signs, other than official skywalk system signs approved by the skywalk commission, in any skywalk corridor or skywalk bridge, and no person shall erect any sign on property adjacent to the skywalk system that is so similar to an official skywalk sign or graphics as to cause confusion.

12. Violation of this section shall be punishable as a simple misdemeanor.

Sec. 2. That said Code, adopted by Ordinance No. 9616, passed July 23, 1979, be further amended by repealing Sections 2-205.18 and 2-205.19 thereof and enacting new Sections 2-205.18 and 2-205.19, relating to site plan review regarding skywalks, as follows:

Sec. 2-205.18. REQUIRED INFORMATION.
Site plans which are submitted for review shall be drawn to a scale of 1" = 50' or larger and shall include as a minimum the following items of information, unless otherwise waived by the planning director:

(1) Date of preparation, north point, and scale.
(2) Legal description and address of the property to be developed.

(3) Name and address of the record property owner, the applicant, and the person(s) or firm preparing the site plan.

(4) Existing and proposed zoning.
(5) Existing and proposed contours at an interval not to exceed two feet, provided that at least two contours shall be shown.

(6) Existing and proposed utility lines and easements.

(7) Certification by a licensed land surveyor that the dimensions and bearings of the property lines are accurately delineated.

(8) Total number and types of dwelling units proposed; proposed uses for all buildings; total floor area of each building; estimated number of employees for each proposed use where applicable; and any other information which may be necessary to determine the number of off - street parking and loading spaces required by the zoning ordinance.

(9) Location, shape, exterior dimensions, and number of stories of each existing building to be retained and of each proposed building.

(10) All required yard setbacks.

(11) Location, grade, and dimensions of all existing and proposed paved surfaces and of all abutting streets.

(12) Complete traffic circulation and parking plan, showing the location and dimensions of all existing and proposed parking stalls, loading areas, entrance and exit drives, dividers, planters, and other similar permanent improvements.

(13) Location and type of any existing and proposed signs, and of any existing or proposed lighting on the property which illuminates any part of any required yard.

(14) Location of existing trees six inches or larger in diameter, any rock outcrops, landslide areas, springs and streams and other water bodies, and any areas subject to flooding.

(15) Location, amount and type of any proposed landscaping, fences, walls, or other screening as required by the zoning regulations and by the design standards set forth in section 2-205.19 of this code.

(16) A vicinity map at a scale of 1" equals 500' or larger showing the general location of the property.

(17) Soils tests and similar information if deemed necessary by the planning director to determine the feasibility of the proposed development in relation to the design standards set forth in section 2-205.19 of this code.

(18) (i) In the event the applicant proposes to grade, strip, excavate, fill, undertake or cause any earth change on the site, or stockpile any granular construction material in excess of 5,000 cubic yards on the site, he shall submit to the planning department an application for a grading permit, containing all of the information set forth in section 2-205.31 of this code. The planning department shall forward such application for grading permit to the engineering department who shall process same in the manner set forth in section 2-205.32 of this code.

(ii) Such application for grading permit may be submitted at the time the information above set forth is submitted to the planning department, or at any time thereafter, but in no event shall the applicant proceed to grade, strip, excavate, fill, undertake or cause any earth change on the site, or stockpile any granular construction material in excess of 5,000 cubic yards on the site until such time as said application has been approved by the city engineer.

(19) In the event the private property is connected to the existing skywalk system (as shown on the Official Skywalk Map) or the applicant intends to connect to the planned skywalk system (as shown on the Skywalk System Plan Map), location of the existing and planned portions of the skywalk system, on such property and locations of all existing and planned skywalk system connections to neighboring property. If the private property is not connected to the existing skywalk system (as shown on the Official Skywalk Map) and the applicant does not intend to connect to the planned skywalk system (as shown on the Skywalk System Plan Map), then the applicant does not have to include provisions for the skywalk system on the site plan.

Sec. 2-205.19. DESIGN STANDARDS.

The standards of design provided herein are necessary to insure the orderly and harmonious present development of property in such manner as will safeguard the public's health, safety, and general welfare and to insure that the future development of property in the city will not be foreclosed by such present development.

(1) The design of the proposed development shall make adequate provisions for surface and subsurface drainage, for connections to water and sanitary sewer lines, each so designed as to neither overload or to substantially decrease the capacity of existing public utility lines in a fashion that will serve to inhibit or preclude the planned future development of other property within the city and so as not to increase the danger of erosion, flooding, landslide, or other endangerment of adjoining or surrounding property. The city's comprehensive plan shall be the principal guide in determining the prospective use and population density of other properties. However, the factors to be considered in arriving at conclusions on standards of design shall include those set forth in section 2-205.16(b)(2) of this code.

(2) The proposed development shall be designed and located within the property in such manner as not to unduly diminish or impair the use and enjoyment of adjoining property, and to this end shall minimize the adverse effects on such adjoining properties from automobile headlights, illumination of required perimeter yards, refuse containers, and impairment of light and air. For purposes of this section, the term "use and enjoyment of adjoining property" shall mean the use and enjoyment presently being made of such adjoining property, unless such property is vacant. If vacant, the term "use and enjoyment of adjoining property" shall mean those uses permitted under the zoning district in which such adjoining property is located.

(3) The proposed development shall have such entrances and exits upon adjacent streets and such internal traffic circulation pattern as will not unduly increase congestion on adjacent or surrounding public streets and in a manner which will conform to the proposed future circulation of traffic throughout the city.

(4) To such end as may be necessary and proper to accomplish the standards in paragraphs (1), (2), and (3) above, the proposed development shall provide fences, walls, screening, landscaping, erosion control or other improvements.

(5) All electrical, telephone, and cable television transmission systems shall be placed underground whenever reasonably practicable.

(6) The proposed development shall conform to all applicable provisions of the 1977 Code of Iowa, as amended, and all applicable provisions of the 1979 Des Moines Municipal Code, as amended.

(7) In the event the private property is connected to the existing skywalk system (as shown on the Official Skywalk Map) or the applicant intends to connect to the planned skywalk system (as shown on the Skywalk System Plan Map), the proposed development shall have such connections to the existing and planned skywalk system and such internal skywalk system pattern as will best permit the optimal expansion of the skywalk system to serve the greatest number of properties possible and best provide for the expected skywalk system traffic through the property. If the private property is not connected to the existing skywalk system (as shown on the Official Skywalk Map) and the applicant does not intend to connect to the planned skywalk system (as shown on the Skywalk System Plan Map), then this design standard shall not apply to the proposed site plan.

Sec. 3. That said Code, adopted by Ordinance No. 9616, passed July 23, 1979, be further amended by adding a new subsection (c) to section 8-2.01 thereof and by adding thereto a new section to be known as Section 8-11, amending the Building Code to permit skywalks, as follows:

Sec. 8 2.01. EXCEPTIONS.

(c) Notwithstanding the provision of section 4502 of this code, the structures of a duly authorized portion of the public skywalk system may project into an alley to the extent authorized by the city council pursuant to the Skywalk Ordinance.

Sec. 8-11. NO BUILDING PERMIT UNTIL SKYWALK EASEMENT.

Where a skywalk corridor is shown on an approved site plan for a proposed development, no building permit shall be issued for that proposed development until the city council has accepted a right to an easement for such skywalk corridor.

Sec. 4. This ordinance shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and publication as provided by law.

LOOK ON SPORTS

It was quite a weekend for sports. The biggest event around was the Blacks in Management basketball tournament at Cooper Park Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

This was the second annual meet, and there were eight teams, all playing some first class basketball. They came from Minneapolis, Detroit, Chicago, Indianapolis, Kansas City, Omaha, Cincinnati, and Des Moines. All of the games were well played and for the most part were close.

I would say that the terrific heat and humidity of Friday probably cost Indianapolis a shot at the finals. They had a well riled club and were tough, but had only five players, and just couldn't keep up in the heat Friday to a team that could substitute. The finalists, Omaha and Chicago, were different in their style of play and their players.

Omaha was much the smaller team, but made up for lack of size in scrappiness. They had a zone defense that made them tough on the boards and even when they got behind, never gave up. Once they were down 17-0, and won their semifinal game against Detroit. They got seven miles behind in their final against the team from Chicago, and if they could have hit their free throws, might have pulled the game out.

Chicago was really rough on the boards, and used pinpoint passes to set up easy layups. They varied between a man to man and zone defense but with their superior size, made things tough on the boards for Omaha, who hung in there with their rebounding.

They seemed to be able to screen out the bigger players most of the times, although sometimes a Chicago player would just soar over the heads of the shorter opponents and take a rebound.

Des Moines who finished third in the thing, was the defending champs, beating Chicago for the title last year, but a couple of missed layups in the closing seconds sent them down to the third place game which they won by at least ten points. The Chicago team thus gained revenge for last year's defeat in the final game.

There were no dull moments in the three day program, and it was a very well run meet, something Des Moines could point to with pride. And I was impressed by the sportsmanship shown by everybody on the court. There probably was a time or two when a fellow let his frustration and anger show, but the coach of his team promptly jerked him to cool him.

I got a chance to talk to some of the Chicago team and their coach Goshe. I learned that they were playing out of the Boy's Club of South Chicago. I liked that because I have a small connection with the local Boy's Club.

Everybody around me was talking about the total lack of news in the daily papers. There was fine coverage on WHO and Channel 8 in their news, but not one line in the papers. I inquired about that and was informed they they had not been informed about the meet.

It seems that someone should have brought a story into the local paper, and then they would follow it up from that. Then I recalled that we handle our tennis meets like that, with a lead story, and they ask us about particulars. They said that they had caught hell from the playground system about their meets until they let them know how they worked.

They just didn't have enough people to cover the huge Sunday sports program, so unless they were informed in advance so they could make arrangements, they couldn't cover it. I haven't discussed this phase of the thing with the promoters of the meet, but I would guess that they did make arrangements for the TV stations to be there, and just assumed that the newspapers would pick it up from there.

I could go on for a while, but I thought it was too fine a meet to get passed up by the papers, so I hope that next year, if I am around, you will let me try to help you get the newspaper coverage you deserve.

Black Folk In American Civilization

(Part VI)

Bobby Doctor, director of the United States Commission on Civil Rights' southern region recently reported that "the Klan is taking advantage of the 'country move toward conservatism' and capitalizing on whites' reaction to two reverse discrimination cases — Bakke and Weber."

He added, "one group, the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, is having some success attracting 'persons who you might not think of as having that Klan mentality,' including college professors. The Knights of the KKK 'display a sophistication in their promotion of white supremacy' and couch racism in 'positive' language by stressing white heritage, a Christian doctrine of separation of the races and discrimination against whites."

"The other group, the Invisible Empire of the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, is less educated and more 'traditional,' routinely displays weapons, uses racial slurs and talks of 'exporting' non-whites...."

Doctor further stated, "both groups are bringing in women and recruiting and organizing youth ages 12 to 17 ..."

When fear and uncertainty run high in American society, extremist groups such as the Klan come to the forefront. This is a part of the scape-goat syndrome. And much of the local damage and destruction of the Klan tends to be done on a reciprocity basis.

That is, for example the recent slaying of five people in Greensboro, North Carolina, would be done by a Klan den from the other end of the state from Greensboro, rather than a Greensboro den. In return, the Greensboro den would go to extreme eastern or western North Carolina to commit an atrocity as a means of repaying the favor.

The Ku Klux Klan is like a cancer. We may choose to ignore the signs of this problem. But does this mean that pain and the cancer will go away? By using local anesthetics the pain might be eased the same way in which if we close our eyes, the activities of the Klan might be overlooked and our immediate feelings toward the Klan blunted.

But does the anesthetic cause the cancer to go away? If we choose to ignore the symptoms, by the time we choose to have surgery and its aftermath of chemotherapy, it might be too late for the cancer would have spread all over our body. The same might be the case with the Klan. By the time we choose to recognize their danger, they might have governors (either actual Klansmen or Klan sympathizers) sitting in state houses, legislators making our laws, and sheriffs and cops patrolling our streets and roads.

Then what? It will then be late in the evening and we too would have gone the way of Gideon Jackson and his comrades in Freedom Road — our dreams as well as our bodies would have gone up in smoke.

We have to take note now of the cancerous knots in our breasts in the form of David Dukes, Bill Wilkinson, et al. We must either remove these malignant tumors or at least arrest or neutralize the growth of these tumors through educating OURSELVES and OUR YOUNG people about the meaning of freedom, and the responsibilities of freedom.

Then we have to form alliances with others who are just as much threatened as are we — and be it known that anyone who is not a race baiter filled with hate, bigotry, pseudo righteousness, and just one of "the good ole boys," then you are in trouble with the Klan. If you do not want the David Dukes and Bill Wilkinsons to control your fascist state, you are in trouble. Do not worry about you should have voted after the election!

Do not worry about you should have studied after you drop out of school! Do not talk about what you should have done to keep your family together after it has fallen apart! Do not worry about the job you refused after you have joined the welfare line! It is already half past midnight! The fire-bell in the night is already ringing!
