NAACP Tops Busy Year With Freedom Fund Banquet

The Des Moines branch of the NAACP could not have planned for better conditions under which to kick off its 1980 membership campaign than during its annual Freedom Fund Awards banquet held Friday evening at the Hilton Airport Inn.

C. Delores Tucker, guest speaker, National President of the Federation of Democratic Women, and former Secretary of State of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania elicited a spirited and spontaneous reaction from the crowd as she urged the gathering to produce ten persons who would pledge to become "Life Members" or subscribing "Life Members" of the association.

The response was slow in getting started, but the ice was first broken by Mr. Lamar Booker, and before long fourteen more persons joined him. Those also pledging were Mr. Eugene White, Mr. Richard Williams, Mrs. Catherine G. Williams, Judge Luther T. Glanton, Mrs. Willie S. Glanton, Mr. Zack Hamlett, Mrs. Gretchen Hamlett, Mr. Alfredo Parrish, Mr. Loren Sampson (New Iowa Bystander), Mr. Robert E. Lee, Mrs. Barbara James, Mrs. Barbara O.

Hall, Mrs. Edna Griffin, Kyles A.M.E. Zion Church...

Vincent Chapman said that this night was one of the highlights in his administration as president of the Des Moines branch.

Highlights of the evening included the naming of "MTA" as Merit Employer of the year" and an honorable mention citation to "The Equitable Assurance Society of the U.S." Presidential awards for service were presented to Mrs. Catherine G. Williams, deputy commissioner of the department of social services and Attorney Bernard Mercer, Chairman of the Board, Preferred Risk Insurance Company.

Other highlights included a surprise appearance of Senator John Culver, who made brief but moving remarks. The Morris Scholarship Fund made awards totalling $1000 in its second annual scholarship competition to Mrs. Gloria Heard and Miss Cheryl Carl. Both will be students at Drake University.

Special entertainment was presented by an excellent group of local musicians led by Terry

L. Shane. Vocal selections were presented by a new group called "ICE." The members are Karen Brown, Ressie Bueford, Tammy Harris and Charolette Kay Taylor. The dinner was followed by a small hospitality hour sponsored by Kraft Inc., Nate Grady Unlimited, and the branch.

first annual RIF (Reading is Fundamental) storybook costumed parade around the block.

Dolph Pulliam, best known for his daily "Cartoon Corner", and Sunday morning program "1,2,3", greeted students and staff as they walked from the building and later led a pep rally on the importance of reading and RIF program which he has taken on as one of his personal campaigns.

Wallace School was the first in Des Moines to kick off its 1980-81 RIF project. Walking with Dolph Pulliam at the head of the parade were Mrs. Linda Roberts, RIF Coordinator for Wallace and her daughter, Melinda, a second grader. Gala costumes worn included favorite fairy tales, Dr. Seuss characters, "Pippi Long Stockings", characters from Indian folk lore among many others.

All students at Wallace, K-6, are participating in RIF. Students who read 50 or more books this year will attend Dolph's end of year RIF party.

The entire parade and activities were filmed by KCCI-TV. Mrs. Frances Hawthorne, Wallace principal, and Mrs. Roberts went to KCCI-TV on Monday night, Sept. 22, 1980 to participate in a commentary for the videotape of the parade which will be televised later.

IEWS and REVIEWS

by Allen Ashby

You see the large numbers of unemployed black youth and you have to wonder what can be done about it. So many of the black youth don't have the slightest conception of what getting and holding a job is.

They come into schools and graduate, if they do, from our high schools and have never had any sort of a job and don't know how to ask for one. In the middle sixties there was talk about what to do about this situation that we knew was coming up and in fact was there then.

One fellow had a proposition that he advocated, and it made sense. He said that employers should pick the most likely ones and get them in junior high. Tell them that they were to train for jobs and at the completion of their training, would get a job.

People who heard this theory applauded and said it was a fine idea, but that was about as far as it went. When pressure was put on local companies to hire minorities, they took older workers in their thirties and forties, trained them and put them into the job openings, so the young blacks still were without work.

The theory behind that move was that the older fellows wouldn't make waves, and that they were well known around the plant and would get along with everybody. Employers were afraid to hire young men who might resent being teased a little (sometimes to get them to explode so they would get fired) so they took the route that would bring the least trouble.

But that never did do anything for the great numbers of young blacks who were without work even in the sixties. Sure, some of the guys rioted, and the excuse that they couldn't get a job was I thought, a copout.

But, copout or not, it brought on a wave of federal money to make job programs for some of these kids. But the only trouble was that when the training program ran out, the money was gone, the fellow had no money and still no job. First, in order to get minorities into some plants, union resistance had to be broken down, and that wasn't always easy.

But then things began to look up, and it got so that if one could do anything, there was a job. Now comes the wave of layoffs in the depression and those newly hired blacks are the first to go. And we still have about half of our youth running around without jobs and no chance to get one.

There is a new element in the thing now. Where it was possible to get some jobs that didn't always pay very good wages, now we have refugees and illegal immigrants doing the work for less. I hear it said that the young blacks wouldn't take those jobs. But has anybody offered them to the young blacks?

Reminds me of the wave of displaced persons who came over from Europe after WWII. Lots of them were women and they were promptly put into homes by affluent Americans to live in and work for their board and room. So the black worker was let go and was replaced by a DP.

Now you have these refugees in some cases replacing the youthful black workers and making it harder for them to get off the street. Today you have the black youth who has no job or any hope of getting one viewing the local pimp, hustler, bootlegger and gambling den owner. He sees these people handling big money and having everything that the white man with money has, so he thinks that is the way to go.

And what do we do about it? In these days of not much family unity, dependence on relief, and the code of get it any way you can, not very much. Now, do you think that Ronald Reagan would work to do anything about that mess unless there were a series of riots?

Then he might call out the national guard, shoot a few of them and there would still be no jobs, but people would say he sure handled that in great shape.

Thoughts and Comments

By James B. Morris III

It is interesting to note that race continues to be a political tool or weapon used by those in power to attempt to sustain themselves in that position. As I have written before, the immigration of those largely dark-skinned people from Cuba and Haiti to the United States is an important issue to which blacks and other minorities will have to face in the future.

Economically, politically, socially and legally, these people will need help from the minority populations of this nation in adapting to life here, if they are to remain and assimilate themselves into our society. Of the 1224,000 Cuban refugees which have arrived in the United States this year, more than 110,000 of them have already been resettled here.

However, approximately 12,000 remain at four refugee camps: Fort Chafee in Arkansas, Fort McCoy in Wisconsin, Fort Indiantown Gap in Pennsylvania and Eglin Air Force Base in Florida. These people, primarily single, unskilled and uneducated, have little chance left for resettlement in the United States. They include more than 500 unaccompanied juveniles (not eligible for private sponsorship), 700 refugees who were returned by their sponsors, 1500 "troublemakers" (many of which were imprisoned in Cuba for offenses which are not felonious in this country), and some 1,700 who committed serious crimes in Cuba or in refugee camps here who are detained in federal prisons.

The numbers of Haitian refugees arriving in this country, estimated to be between nine and fifteen thousand, are primarily settled in the Edison-Little River district on the north side of Miami. Most of the dwellings and commercial structures there are rundown, and the new arrivals are denied even the most basic human rights by the federal, state and local governments, and must turn to the established Haitian community there for help.

They cannot work, without the proper government permits, nor apply for government sponsored assistance without legal residency, and some Haitian refugees who naively reported their presence to the government in the hope of receiving help were instead detained and deported. The Immigration and Naturalization Service (INS), takes the position that the Haitians are economic, rather than political, refugees, although those seeking political asylum for those refugees insist that the Haitians are here to escape political persecution and claim to have enough evidence to prove it.

In any case, about the political refugee status given already to the Cuban immigrants and which only the President of the United States has the power to grant, pressure should be exerted by American blacks and other minorities in this election year of 1980 to grant that status.

Further, the issue should be a major issue in the campaigns of the presidential candidates this year in their quest to attract black votes in November, but it has not been to date.

The only major happening in this regard, attributable to President Carter, may be indicative of the importance which the current crop of candidates place upon the issue, and the effects which they feel black votes will have on the outcome of the upcoming Presidential election.

Black Voter Apathy

By NAACP Executive Director Benjamin L. Hooks

The power of the ballot box is grossly underestimated by many Black Americans today, especially in this election year where the tide of events reshape the political race almost daily.

Every four years, the presidential election affords us an opportunity to replace national disenchantment over the government, the economy, the judicial process, social issues and international relations with positive action. Almost every year we get a chance to vote in state or local elections.

The general trend toward focusing on our personal problems permeates all levels of this society contributing significantly to voter apathy. Yet, still another more serious attitude dominates the thinking of the 17 million potential Black voters in towns and cities across the nation. That attitude is a sense of "powerlessness" or the inability to change many inequities inherent in our American system creating the framework for a type of voter apathy which is, in some cases, extremely difficult to combat.

Voter apathy among our Black constituency is as prevalent as the latest disco beat, a condition that reflects in our total voter strength. Black voter statistics from recent years indicate that less than half of our potential voting strength has ever been realized, with only 49 percent turning out for the last presidential election. Yet, if we had 85 percent of all registered Black voters casting their ballots on November 4th -- this would result in a total of 10.6 million votes.

The Black electorate in this country can and does influence elections, and provide in some cases the margin of victory. Two years ago, Black voters in Philadelphia responded to what they considered to be hostile, racist remarks by former Mayor Frank Rizzo, when a public referendum that would have allowed Rizzo to seek re-election was under consideration.

With assistance from the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People's Registration/Get Out the Vote campaign, some 80 percent of the Black voting population flocked to the polls resulting in the overwhelming defeat of that referendum. Today Frank Rizzo is no longer in politics and the new Mayor is considered to be more sensitive to Black concerns.

The NAACP Registration/Get Out the Vote Campaign is in full swing today, and this year's effort has developed into the largest and most comprehensive commitment of financial resources and manpower in history. Radio and television public service announcements, "door-to-door" registration, voter registration discos and a series of get out the vote activities are now in progress to sensitize Black voters from coast to coast about the importance of voting this November.

With the major push coming from NAACP branches across the country, the campaign projects that as many as 11 million potential Black Voters can be reached by Election Day.

progress for Black Americans, the political and legal processes are the best weapons available. One of them, voting, doesn't cost a dime.

But if we don't exercise our voting privileges, we run the risk of seeing longer unemployment lines, higher inflation rates and even more substandard and unequal educational institutions.

Black youth in particular are facing staggering unemployment levels, so they clearly have the most to gain from aggressive participation. yet, although they comprise nearly a quarter of our voting age potential strength (approximately 22 percent), they have the worst voting record of any age or ethnic group.

The voting process is fairly simple today. We should not forget, however, the struggles and harassment that Black voters endured as recently as the early 50s to preserve the sanctity of the "right to vote."

WE SHALL OVERCOME, the title of our illustrious Black marching theme, will never ring true until we begin to combine our efforts in attacking the injustices in the American system. Black power begins at the ballot box.

Jayne Kennedy Speaks Up

by Jock Johnson

On Monday Sept. 21st the Iowa Bankers Association opened their 94th Annual Convention at the Des Moines Civic Center with a wide range of speakers from Douglas Edwards to Woody Hayes to Jayne Kennedy. The same Jayne Kennedy that starred as a Ding-a-ling on the Dean Martin Show and co-host of CBS's NFL Today and presently co-star of the new Speak Up America Show on N.B.C.

My first reaction was "why is she speaking at a Bankers convention in Des Moines, Ia." Only one way to find out, go to the Civic Center and ask her. That's exactly what I did.

After a surprisingly easy time in getting an interview with Jayne, we met in the press room of the Civic Center before her speech to the Iowa Bankers.

Jayne seemed very tight as we began to talk about her rise to stardom. She gave all the credit to her husband Leon, who arranged her tryout with the Dean Martin Show and still handles her business affairs.

I asked if it was a tough road to the top for blacks. She replied that it was extremely tough for a black woman in sports commentating. Since there are only three networks you have to be a bit lucky and know the right folks. She felt that most men think women know nothing about sports which even makes her field even harder to crack.

Jayne was brought up in a family of six (5 girls 1 boy) she said her father taught the girls everything about sports, cars, carpentry and other skills as youngsters in Cleveland, Ohio.

"I was brought up with sports" she said. Are successful blacks returning to support inner city programs for youth, the poor and the elderly? She thought that most were doing as much as they could. She said it was hard to do as much as you want to do because you have to stay on top of your own career, "the competition is stiff in Hollywood."

Jayne has been involved in a program with Ron Allen, former N.B.A star, called "Child Superstars". I thought this sounded like an elite program for elite athletes, the program is for terminally ill children. They send these youth all over the world granting their wishes.

Our interview was interrupted for about 45 minutes due to her speech obligation, which consisted of about a 20 minute talk about her role in SPEAK UP AMERICA and a 10 minute film clip on a few projects she had been on as a host of that program.

After we reconvened I joked with her that this seemed to be easy money.

Jayne Kennedy

She admitted the presentation was a little short.

I also showed her a Jet Magazine, which her picture is on the cover this week. To my surprise, Jayne didn't know her picture or an article about her was going to be featured in Jet this week. I thought that that was strange, but she stated "Jet is my buddy".

Jayne seemed to loosen up in the second part of our interview and we began talking politics. She favored John Andersen in the presidential election, but planned on voting for President Carter. She felt a John Andersen vote would be wasted and probably would send Reagan to the White House, which she said would be "disastrous". They are finally clearing up the mess Reagan left the State of California."

materials are provided, but a hammer and sack lunch is suggested.

Workshops will begin at 9:30 a.m. with a short presentation of solar energy principles and low cost / no cost weatherization tips. $35.00 weatherization kits will be given away to qualified people and sold at wholesale cost to others. Free collectors, worth about $200 will also be given away and installed to qualified people after construction is completed in the workshops.

These workshops are sponsored by the Iowa Center for Local Self-Reliance, City of Des Moines Office of Neighborhood Development and

Soul... Food and Thought

Aldeen Davis

Ed. note: The purpose of "Soul--Food and Thought" is to outline contributions and achievements of blacks and the impact they have made in our society. When I receive a request to profile someone, I feel the purpose is being met. Thus it gives me great pleasure to do this column on Phillis Wheatly.

In spite of the maxim, "Children should be seen and not heard", many children have made their mark.

Isaac, an instrument of his father Abraham's great faith, lived to preserve the line that gave us the twelve tribes of Isreal from whence a babe born in a manger, established, for all time a Christian world.

Princess Oziel Holds Election

Prior to the meeting on September 25th, the members of Princess Oziel O.E.S. were entertained with a delicious dinner by the retiring Worthy Matron Sister Verona Cheatom.

Election of officers was held with Sister Raoulyn Perry being elected Worthy Matron. Sister Perry, one of the youngest matrons of the Iowa Jurisdiction, is the daughter of Past Worshipful Master of North Star Lodge No. 2, Brother Ralph Parker and Past Worthy Matron of Princess Oziel No. 9 Sister Mary F. Parker.

Other officers elected for the ensuing year were Worthy Patron, Brother Lawrence O.

King Tutankhaton (Egypt often referred to as the boy king because of his youth (nine years) when he came to the throne for his ten year reign.

Maqueda, more commonly known as the Queen of Sheba ruled her land that lay across the Red Sea in what is now Saudi Arabia, with expertise at the tender age of sixteen.

There are many other such children, but the most exceptional is perhaps a little black Sappho--Phillis Wheatly. It is not that she was more talented than any other child but under the rare circumstances which her talent as a poet and authoress surfaced. The conditions were most unique, she was a slave!

This frail little slave girl seemed to John Wheatly a prosperous tailor, to have an inborn sense of dignity. So he bought her from the Boston, Mass. auction block to be a companion to his wife in 1761. Despite the existing laws to the contrary, Mrs. Wheatly and her daughter Mary began to teach this little eight year old child to read, write and to speak English.

It was the Wheatly's who named her Phillis. She was an unusually bright child with a gift of letters, by 1770 she in her early teens she began to write poetry with a style much like Alexander Pope whom she admired greatly. It was in 1770 that Boston became aware of her and would request poems commemorating special events. She became known as the domestic poet laureate of Boston.

By 1773 she turned out enough poems to have a collection published in London, thus becoming the first black woman to publish a book.

In 1772 she composed a "Farewell to America: to Mrs. S..." The Wheatly's freed her the same year and secured her passage to London in an attempt to improve her delicate health.

Her works continued to be widely acclaimed on both sides of the Atlantic, her poem, "The death of the Rev. George Whitefield" brought her an audience before the Lord Mayor of London. She returned to the states to care for her beloved Mrs. Wheatly who died in 1774. In 1775 she sent a poem to George Washington who responded with an invitation to visit him, shortly thereafter she married John Peters unfortunately this was not a good marriage as her life with Peters was one of sadness, poverty and drudgery. Phillis died a tragic death in childbirth with her third child, the other two having previously died, in 1784.

Since the Wheatlys recognized that they had a very precocious young girl in their home it is to be surmised that she ate well, perhaps Angel Pie?

NEW FRIENDSHIP CHURCH OF GOD IN CHRIST

We truly thank God for our Pastor, Elder R.L. Daye and son having a safe trip to Kansas City, Ks. for the Regional Mission Conference. Truly Pastor Daye was inspired as never before about Missions. Pastor Daye and son were a team in a prison ministry and street ministry where there were many young men needing to know about Christ.

He is encouraging the church to catch ahold of being Mission minded. We had a beautiful and spiritual service on Sunday Morning and the Lord did bless our souls. On Sunday afternoon, many choir members went to East University to be in the One Great Day Service for Pastor and Missionary Bassett, where the state choir did sing.

A great time in the Lord was had by all who attended. Then Sunday nite, we were back at New Friendship for the one of the greatest Old Ship of Zion's ever held. Truly the Holy spirit did come in. Ms. Carolyn King had to fill as moderator for Mrs. Clinton who was ill, but Ms. King did an outstanding job as narrator.

Some of the guest pastors present were Rev. Milton, Kyles AME Zion, Rev. Simmons, Orlabor; Elder L. Johnson, Calvary Memorial in Fort Dodge and Evangelist R. Harris of Ft. Dodge and Des Moines. Many of our friends throughout the city were present and we truly want to thank them for their support.

On Tuesday evening, Prayer and Bible band will be in session at 7:30 a.m., on Wednesday night at 7:30 p.m., the Sanctuary choir will meet. On Thursday night, pastor Daye is encouraging all who can to go to the Civic Center to be in service with Evangelist Kenneth Hagen. On Friday and Saturday, October 3 and 4 the State Ministers and Deacons Wives conference will be in session at East University COGIC.

Please remember that breakfast is being served Monday through Friday in the Dining Room of New Friendship COGIC from 6:30 a.m. to 12:00 noon, please patronize this program and tell all your friends.

Please remember that our Pastor's and wife's anniversary will be October 9 - 12, you will be seeing more of this on next week. Please come to worship with us this Sunday morning beginning with Sunday School at 9:45 a.m., morning worship 11:30. YPWW 6:30 P.M.,

Evening service at 7:30 p.m.

MT. HEBRON BAPTIST CHURCH

"For as often as ye eat this bread, and drink this cup, ye do shew the Lord's death till he come.

Where fore whosoever shall eat this bread and drink this cup of the Lord unworthily, shall be guilty of the body and blood of the Lord.

For he that eateth and drinketh unworthily, eateth and drinketh damnation to himself, not discerning the Lord's body.

For this cause many are weak and sickly among you, and many sleep. I Cor. 11:26-30.

Let us come together and tarry one for the other, as the Pastor and Deacons serve Holy Communion, at Sunday morning services.

On the Second Sunday Oct. 12, Hawkeye Lodge No. 160 Rose Temple No. 33 will be with our congregation for their memorial services.

Our quarterly business meeting will be October 11, 4:00 p.m. All members are asked to attend this meeting. The pastor has requested that all auxiliaries have their election prior to this date, and turn your slate in to Pastor and Clerk. Thank you.

On October 16, we will be at Macedonia Baptist Church to participate in the Anniversary Services for Rev. Green all choirs will sing and Rev. Harris will deliver the message.

It is our Christian duty to visit the sick. Let us not forget they are as reported, Mother Love, Deacon King, Freddie Hughes, Gracie Taylor, Ella Carr, Eva Young, Hester Henderson, there may be others not reported here let us remember all the sick and shut ins in our prayers.

ANNIVERSARY COMMITTEE

By Melcina Ross
We thank you is such a shallow announcement to two persons who have worked so hard on this project for the last 3 years! We have had exemplary work from these two women for the last 3 years and thank you is not enough.

For each one of them, they deserve orchids of praise and gratitude for running the best planned and executed anniversary programs here in Des Moines. They have overcome all obstacles that might have beaten them down and have gloriously won the battles that make for good organization in any project.

Mrs. Doris Woods is church clerk for Morningstar Baptist and has held this post for 12 years, she is also Treasurer for Rebecca Court Lodge, is a member of the order of Elks, and a member of the order of Eastern Star, the Buxton Club no. 2.

She is also Supervisor of Iowa Children Family Services, which is a part of Iowa Social Services. She is a member of Morningstar Ushers board and this post she has held for 12 years, also she has the job of being the missionary society's secretary for 6 years.

She is a dedicated worker for her church and along with all other chores, she is also a church Trustee. This is a busy woman and this is the kind of person Christ wants in his court -- somebody who is busy.

So Saludos Amigos -- to Doris Woods you are the First Word in our book. We love you for all the good you have done. May the creativeness of God always be with you.

John Woods -- golfer extra-ordinaire -- you have a lovely wife. Mother Warren Cy you are blessed with such a daughter. To her daughters -- you are blessed to have such a mother.

Mrs. Nancy Hickman is one of those persons whom you love even when she puts you to anger and she will! She is one of those persons Paul talks about in his writings -- an open-minded, honest and sincere Christian.

She is one staunch worker for Christ. She worked untiringly on every project Morningstar, has undertaken, in the last four years. She is currently President of the Eastside Missionary Society a post she has held for 12 years and has been one of the best and most energetic presidents this organization ever had the good fortune to have.

She has been a dedicated servant of the people and a friend to all elderly people of the city. She works with all committees of the Eastside Mission Society and they in turn work with her. While a member of Mt. Hebron Baptist Church, which she joined in 1952, she was secretary of the Ushers Board for 15 years and one of its most faithful ushers -- filling in at all times when others failed to show for duty.

She was for 5 years an energetic, intermediate Sunday School Teacher at Mt. Hebron. After joining Morningstar Baptist she became its president, of the ushers board and increased the membership immensely.

She also served 2 years on the trustee board of the church. She is and has been a member of the order of the Eastern Star since 1959. She is a mother-general to all children—they immediately love her. She is gentle, but also firm in their discipline.

Nancy Hickman you are the first word in our book. We love you also for all the good you have done!! What a pair to have in your corner!! Thomas L. Hickman have a lovely wife -- to all her children natural birth and adopted -- you have a lovely mother -- be proud of her -- mother Lula Pryor -- you are blessed to have such a daughter!! in Iowa -- even if you are in Mississippi!!

Nancy and Doris -- the pastor and his wife salute you and the entire church salutes you for presenting one of the best run and best organized pastor's anniversaries in the city. Your services are outstanding in every way.

Remember -- God reserves the final chapter of your lives for His glory. In other words God will write the last page of the book. So no matter what happens here, victory ultimately be yours.

A child of God can possess victory over anything.

Multitudes - Multitudes, in the valley of decision was the message Bishop preached. Everyone should know who Jesus is . . . and everyone who knows who Jesus is should have been present on Sunday morning at Heavenly Temple's services . . . to hear how to get out of the valley of decision!

Bishop Carter preached out of his soul . . . and the spirit of God fell heavily upon the saints and visitors. Afterwards he taught the saints to be frugal, taught them to save - he said don't you ever spend everything you have.

People can't get saved through you if you are broke all the time. We are the salt of the earth saints. You cannot be an effective witness if you are broke. Never spend your last dime for anything, and be sure you keep something for yourself.

He that provideth not for his own house is worst than an infidel.

Never give away your last dollar to anyone and say to yourself

LORD I'll never spend my last dollar again! We are thankful for the many visitors who came to praise God with us Sunday morning.

The afternoon was spent at East 17th Church where Bishop Carter preached a dynamic message "I am the Door." If any man enters in he shall be saved. The presence of God was great in our souls all day Sunday.

Sharpe's Magazine To those avid readers of the New Iowa Bystander that like to follow the happenings and programs at St. Paul A.M.E. Church, such as: the shut-ins; absentees; inquisitors about the leading Church in the Illinois Conference -- community, state, and world-wide, I will write, again, the portion that had to unavoidably be deleted regarding the services for September 21. (Request gained from feedback.)

Re: Prince Hall Masons. Brother La Monte Gouse, Program Chairman, gave the history and background of Prince Hall. Presentation of appreciation was also given to Sister Loretta Reeves and the Richard Allen Chorus, and to Rev. Grady.

Most unique was the bantering between Paul Best, Correspondent Secretary, extolling the virtues of King Solomon, as the greatest King, and Rev. Grady giving glory to Jesus Christ, as the King of Kings. It is by our Saviour that we must come to enter the Kingdom of Heaven.

Special guests were Brothers A.P. Trotter and John Bell. The Sisters of the Order of the Eastern Star, also, were in attendance.

The Mortgage Burning Program was carried out with dignity and meaning. Credit was given to Sister Delores Danforth for outlining the program by Brother Paul Danforth, Chairman of the Mortgage Liquidation Committee. The Processional consisted of the Trustees, Youth, and Stewards following the Richard Allen Chorus.

Lay Readers, Brother Marion Williams and Sister Delores Peguese, and Steward Arthur Propes took part in the Opening Service. Commendations of St. Paulians in liquidating the mortgage was given by Brother Larry Carter, representing the stewards, Brother Marsh Houston, representing the Trustees and, Sister Musette Perkins, representing the Laymen. Brother Paul Danforth gave a memorial testimony for the deceased Trustee signers of the mortgage for Lester Benning, Gad B. Tucker, Russell T. Reeves, and James B. Morris, Jr.

Presiding Elder Richard D. Smith reminded us that if it wasn't for those that consider themselves as nails in the structure of our beautiful edifice, it would fall apart. So, everyone is important in the liquidation of the mortgage. With solemnity, he, also, officiated the Mortgage Burning Ceremony with the congregation. As the facsimile of the mortgage was being burned, there seemed to be a sigh of relief from St. Paulians.

Sister Aurelia Rhodes

and the Hostess Club served refreshments after the program. Rev. Charles Jackson, of Moline, was Rev. Grady's guest for the day.

"Well Doing" was the topic of Rev. Grady's sermon Sunday, September 28. We know when we have followed God's advice -- have given our all in stewardship. For the tenacious effort of Brother Paul Danforth, Chairman of the Mortgage Liquidation Committee, Rev. Grady presented him, on behalf of St. Paulians, a plaque of appreciation, signed by Bishop Hubert N. Robinson, Presiding Elder Richard D. Smith, Rev. Lewis E. Grady, Jr., Pastor. Brother Danforth was very appreciative, but, urged the brothers and sisters to rededicate themselves to St. Paul Church.

In the afternoon, the Parliamentary Law and Culture and Tawasi Clubs gave honor to Sue Brown, wife of S. Joe Brown. Sister Corliss Williams did a beautiful job with her topic. "Making A Covenant With Our Past." Now, we understand the strength of today's black woman coming from her heritage.

It was a program for the Audra Alexander State Scholarship Fund. Misses Sheryl Carl and Johnetta Cameron expressed thanks for having been recipients. Music was furnished by Mrs. Rose Marie Webster, Tuinstra Ensemble, and a reading by Mr. Irvin White. A film was shown of "Outstanding Black Women in American Life," which included Iowa.

October 3, 4 Rev. Grady has been asked to attend the Fourth District Planning Council in Chicago, Illinois. Sunday, October 5, will be World Wide Communion Day. Also, there will be the Installation Service of Officers.

September 1980 Fall Fun Begins

Another short summer has ended and school has begun. The fun times from the summer are experiences you will always remember. The same kind of fun and experiences can continue through out the school year here at the Urban YMCA. Our Fall Fun Programs begin September 15th and I'm sure that you will find many programs of interest and that you would enjoy participating in.

If you have any questions concerning these programs please call 288 - 0131 and ask for Walter Knox, Program Director or Bob Hejkal, Associate Program Director.

Membership Drive

We believe that the YMCA has a lot to offer to young people in the community. Those of you that are members I'm sure have had many good experiences and have enjoyed your participation in YMCA programs. We would hope that many of your friends would also enjoy coming to the Y. With the Fall Programs beginning, now is the time to bring your friends down to the Y and sign them up.

ANNOUNCING OUR SCHOOLTIMES CLUB — OUR BEFORE & AFTER SCHOOL ACTIVITY CLUB

Response to our SummerTimes Club summer activities for elementary school people has far exceeded our expectations. There seems to be a real need for a quality, activity oriented setting for young people to spend their time when their parents need to work or do other things.

We will continue this service during the school year through our SchoolTimes Club. Our current plan is to be available from 6:30 a.m. until school starts, then again from school dismissal until 6:30 p.m. Monday through Friday. We will provide transportation to and from school.

Our emphasis is on action, fun, and working with other people. For more information call 288 - 0131, Ext. 223.

CONTEST

The Urban YMCA Monthly Newsletter needs a name. The newsletter, which will be a monthly publication, needs the help of the youth membership in giving the publication a creative inspiring title. The prize for the winning name picked by the judges will be a Free

One Year Membership to the YMCA worth $25.00. One name per entry. Entries must be at the Y office by 17th of October 1980. Mail Entries to 101 Locust, Atten: Bob Hejkal.

Successful SummerTimes

The Urban YMCA SummerTimes Club in its second year of existence was a successful and rewarding Program. The 130 children that participated greatly exceeded all expectations. I know that all the participants had a great deal of fun as did the counselors. Some of the more memorable activities were the trips to Adventureland, Worlds of Fun, The Water Slide, Camp Dodge, Roller Skating, and the fishing trips.

I'm sure the overnighter was an experience not soon to be forgotten. I truly enjoyed the experience and will be looking forward to next summer and seeing many of the same faces from this past summer.

LOOK ON SPORTS

That part of the season is over and Iowa U and Iowa State can get back to the business of conference games. The game last Saturday has been picked over so much that there really isn't much to talk about.

People left the stadium wondering whether it was a tough defensive struggle or a battle between two weak offenses. Both teams had chances to put the game away before the last quarter. Missed field goals, missed points after touchdowns, dropped passes and missed assignments on both offense and defense should have given the writers enough to fill too many columns.

But, Iowa State has a chance to have a winning year, and maybe so does Iowa U. State should beat Colorado, Kansas State and possibly Kansas and maybe Oklahoma State. They might slip up on Missouri, and if Oklahoma has a fit of turnovers, who knows what might happen.

So they could have a pretty fair season. One thing the game proved was that Brown of Iowa and Crutchfield of State are for real. People would like to see them in the same backfield. Who might Iowa beat in the Big Ten? I would give them a possible four and five the rest of the way, so they will probably break even or have maybe a six and five or five and six.

Coach Hayden Frye has at least another year before the wolves start yelping for his scalp. If this is a one game margin of either wins or losses, the man will probably have trouble, even though that will be the best three year mark the Hawks have had lately. He will have to not let people tell him what to do, and I will bet he doesn't do that.

Drake keeps coming up with those close ones, losing them in the last quarter. They could have an interesting year, if they could just come out on those close ones. But they draw fans out there, and I am sure they pass the break-even mark, so their season is a success. Maybe we should go out to the Drake games, because the Iowa games are getting more of a hassle to attend.

Maybe it is old age, but the antics of the crowds don't seem so silly any more. They are downright obnoxious. But I suppose that is what people think they pay to do, so it will likely get worse before it gets better.

There is a rule prohibiting the drinking of hard liquor in the stadium, but what do you suppose is in all those thermos jugs and bottles? The guy beside you will have a clear view of the game, and by the middle of the third quarter, he is looking at three football games and it doesn't take some of them that long to reach that stage. Maybe I am just getting old.

Here at home, Dowling proved that they are still the champs until somebody beats them. Hoover looked as if they were going to get the job done, but fell short. East has the only other unbeaten mark, and they seem to find ways to lose to the Maroons.

Maybe it won't be like that this time. Tech and North will likely battle it out for the cellar with North winning. Roosevelt, Lincoln and Hoover seem to be pretty well matched, and if East doesn't stumble along the way, there should be a merry scuffle for third place.

If Dowling wins the Metro crown, the law of averages should give them the playoff crown. The Metro has won baseball, basketball and wrestling crowns, but just can't seem to come up with a football title.

I was sorry to see the guy at Roosevelt get hurt so he may not be able to finish the year. He was one fellow Coach Don Prior thought would be all star.

Career Exploration Center

With the opening of the new Des Moines Area Community College Urban Campus at 7th and Laurel Streets, the Career Exploration Center (CEC) has found an ultra-modern home.

Created in 1970, the

CEC will begin its tenth year of "filling a void" for many of its clients. Director Dorothy Simms explains the purpose of the CEC: "Whether the person is out of work or just hasn't decided what type of work they want to do, the Career Exploration Center can help them find a direction."

CEC counselor Bob Jones agrees: "We serve a very diverse clientele, ranging from high school dropouts to high school seniors who are trying to decide upon a career."

When students come to the CEC, they first meet with a counselor who tries to help them identify their areas of interest and ability. "We try to help them channel their efforts toward definite goals," said Jones.

After this initial meeting, students begin to explore different occupational areas. They work with actual equipment that is common to their vocational area under actual job situations. They get to "try out" various jobs. Programs are offered in graphic arts and service occupations, as well as business and industrial fields.

According to Jones, the student decides just how much time he or she wants to devote to the program: "It can be as little as an hour or as long as four weeks."

D M A C C Superintendent Paul Lowery sees the CEC as being an integral part of the Urban Campus:

"The Career Exploration Center performs a vital function. It gives people a chance -- a chance to explore their potential in an environment that is geared to helping them put their skills and abilities to good use."

Last year the CEC served approximately 1000 clients and this year they expect to serve even more. Urban Campus Dean Zack Hamlett feels that "the new facilities will give us a much wider latitude within our programs at the Career Exploration Center. Our goal has always been to provide the best service to our students. The new facilities will create a much better environment for learning than the old location."

A dedication and open house for the new Urban Campus will be held at 2 p.m. on October 19. The public is invited to tour the CEC at this time. Staff members will be on hand to answer questions.

Everyone Welcome!

ELECTRICITY CAN STOP YOU DEAD!

Electricity is a good friend. You've grown up with it and probably take it pretty much for granted.

But electricity can turn on you. And if you don't treat it with respect, it can stop you dead!

Whenever you use electricity, think about what you're doing and follow these "rules to live by."

Hands off!

NEVER touch any power line. If you're up on the roof working with guywires, or using a ladder or scaffold, keep yourself and your equipment well away from overhead power lines. And to be on the safe side, assume any line you see is loaded with potentially deadly electrical energy.

Downed lines

If you see a line that's down, following a severe storm or accident, keep well away from it. Post someone responsible to keep others at a safe distance while you notify Iowa Power and the police.

In your car

If a power line should fall on your car as the result of an accident or storm, stay inside the car! If you remain inside your vehicle, you are well-insulated against electrical shock. But if you step outside or if any part of your body or clothing touches the ground, you could be electrocuted instantly. Teach every member of your family this life-saving rule.

Adequate wiring

Today, the majority of homes are inadequately wired. For the most part, this is because we're all using more electrical equipment and appliances than ever before. Have your wiring checked by a qualified electrician to be sure it's adequate for the task required and that it meets current safety standards.

Eliminate unsafe conditions

Replace frayed or bare cords with new ones. Eliminate "octopus" outlets. Keep all combustibles away from lamps and heating devices. And never allow children to play with or misuse electrical appliances or to play around outlets.

Water and electricity

The kitchen and the bathroom are the two places in the home where most electrical accidents occur. Do not operate or touch any electrical appliance with wet hands or when your clothing or the floor is wet. Keep hair dryers away from water-filled sinks and plug-in radios away from bathtubs. Look around your home for other unsafe combinations.

Using electricity outdoors

Be sure the electrical equipment you use outdoors was designed for that purpose. Outdoor wiring and outlets must be specially designed to protect against moisture. Never operate electrical tools or appliances in the rain or on wet surfaces. And be sure not to cut through or damage power cords when you're working with power tools.

Keep alert, keep alive!

Most of these safety rules seem simple enough. But it's easy to forget them when you're in a hurry or have something else on your mind. So remember, use your head when you use electricity!

Free safety booklet

We've prepared a new booklet on electric safety which answers many of your questions on the safe use of electricity. For your free copy, stop in at your local Iowa Power office.

Your Future Depends On It
