Style Show Attracts Large Audience

Three Hundred and Fifty persons witnessed the 1956 style show sponsored by the Cedar Valley Lodge and Melrose Temple.

With the revolving Hollywood light overhead reflecting soft pastel coloring and the potted palms surrounding the stage a very scenic background was laid for the models. A large bouquet of chrysanthemums and gladiolus with a red bow centered the stage on which models styled.

Mr and Mrs Scott Mardis, who conceived the idea of a style show in 1950 and have served as directors to the semi-annual shows ever since, presided over the opening ceremonies. The traditional parade of beauties led by the Antler Guard gave the audience a good chance to have a closer look at the models they were to later see on the stage and also gave the style show a stirring send off.

Mr I. A. Harmon served as official escort as each model mounted the stairs to the stage. Mrs Druscilla Robinson well known pianist, provided music throughout the show that not only gave a very pleasing effect to the ear but also helped to complete the word pictures that the narrators attempted to create.

Mrs Mardis under whose direction the models were selected and rehearsed, narrated the hair reviews styled as the opener of the style show. The latest in hair styles were shown through the courtesy of the Crescent Beauty Shop, Bret's Beauty Shop, the Roosevelt Beauty Shop, and Louise's Beauty Shop.

Three cute little misses who immediately captured the hearts of the audience with the seeming enjoyment of their task of modeling their hair styles were, Judith Perdue, Jeanne Anne Nash and Clozell Reed "Prissy."

Narrator of the style show itself was Miss Margot "Rusty" Osborne of Chicago, Ill., Miss Osborne who owns a modeling school, models clothes, and travels to different cities narrating shows, kept the audience's interest quite expertly by injecting personal notes and a little humor as she described the garments.

Models in the show did a beautiful job and gave a professional appearance not for once indicating that they were local talent with only six to eight week practice. Modeling clothes from New York Fashion Shops and jewelry from Tenenbaums were: Mmes. Doris Washington, Sally Houston, Betty Anderson, Delores Robinson, Louise Reed and Marteen Frazell and Misses Dorothy Bobo, Andrea Cole, Helen Pugh, Martha Ann Moss, Lee Esther MaGee, Frances Robinson.

Four gentlemen modeled clothes from Palace Clothiers. They were Willie Robinson, Danny Oliver, John Webb, and W. J. Galbraith. These gents showed a cool, reservedness that gave the show a finishing touch.

Many styles in Youthmore line of suits and coats were shown with matching accessories for the ladies as well as famous labeled coats, suits, and hats for

The Best Things In Life Are Free

Mrs. Luana Franklin Clayton

(Note from Editor: This address was delivered at the Payne A.M.E. Church on Women's Day, by Mrs Luana Franklin Clayton, daughter of Mr and Mrs Homer Franklin of 810 Glewood St. Mrs Clayton received her B. A. degree from Wilberforce University and her M. A. from Ohio State University. She is teaching English and Literature at Jackson College, Jackson, Miss. The Text, "The Best Things in Life Are Free," will be presented in 5 series.)

My speech today is not the traditional Woman's Day speech, and I have delivered that kind. I think most of us know about the women in the Bible — the good ones and the bad ones. And so, I decided to say something about free things in life that make for a good, worth while life in this day of television, fine automobiles, lovely homes, and fine clothes, which all cost a great deal of money; and guided missiles, atomic energy, powerful nations, which cost a great deal of money; and frustration, nervous tension, unhappiness, which in many instances have money problems as their cause, and suicide, mental illness, and killings which in one way or another are tied in with money. And most of us think that the best things cost money and we try so very hard to impress people, whether or not they are our friends, with what one economics calls "conspicuous consumption" — like expensive yard furniture — lounges, hammocks umbrellas, braziers, etc. All of these things that money buys are all right in their place, but in the final analysis are not the best things in life, in many instances prove out to be valueless. Because, when we add up the scores, and evaluate our lives, the amount of money we earned, the kind of house we lived in, the model car we drove, will not score very high nor rate our lives very highly. No. Our evaluation is going to be a good or bad one in proportion to how much of the best things in life which are free have become a part of us and how much we have benefited from the use of them.

In my estimation, there are five best things in life which are free. Two of them head and end the list. Nobility heads the list and peace of mind and soul ends it. In between these two are giving self-knowledge, and prayer.

REGISTRATION:

Privilege and Necessity

Dedicated to the young adults in our community.

I am sure most of you young people are somewhat disturbed by missing your regular programs on television due to the conventions that were held by the Democratic and Republican Parties. There is no doubt that more of your programs will be disturbed often by debates, rebuttals, and speeches, from both parties until the November election.

Those of you that are of voting age will be well accepted in this fight for our share of prosperity by taking your responsibility to register in order that you can fulfill your rights in voting for the things you see that we, the American people, stand in need of.

It is your privilege to vote for the party of your choice, however, you must consider in your choice the Republicans are trying to stay in office, and the Democrats are seeking office.

This will be the constant fight between the two.

These parties remind us of our daily lives. We each have our own way of doing things. If we should grow in failing to respect or regard the feelings of others, we will soon have the attitude of dog-eat-dog, which is bad.

The Republicans will remember everything bad the Democrats did during their terms in office, nothing good. In turn, the Democrats will say the same about the Republicans. However, there will be promises made by both parties that will not be kept. You may grow to feel that politicians are experimenting with politics as scientists do with the guinea pig. You will find some good and fair politicians in both parties. It would help if you would study the past history of each candidate that is seeking office. Regardless of the party, you are free to vote for the person you feel would do more for your country. Remember, America is your business.

The main issue on both platforms is the problem of equal rights, which is being debated in all states and is a very important and unpleasant problem in most parts of our country. Somewhere along the way we have backed ourselves against the wall without understanding just how or why we are placed there. The only thing we do understand is that we did it ourselves, either by way of mouth or hands. Remember, practice what you preach!

We all must give a hand to the progress of this country. Peace with our neighboring countries largely depends on the peace and progress that is made between ourselves. We must learn to work together here in America now and stop living in the past. We cannot be good teachers abroad if we cannot be good leaders in our own country. The only way we can know a good housekeeper is to watch the house that they keep. For years we have been sweeping our little dirt under the rug until there is no more room to hide it.

So we are asking that you register and vote with hopes that your votes will help speed the progress of America.

JUST A SATURDAY EVENING'S STROLL

While out strolling Saturday night, I was struck with the violence of the evening. I went by one place and saw a big pool of blood. They said a girl had been cut accidentally(?) At another place several folks had tried to take the establishment apart. Farther on, I came upon two fellows fighting. I don't know what they were fighting about, and I'm sure they didn't either. And to cap the climax, a great big Nordic, a handsome giant, in a gigantic Cadillac, drove up to me and wanted to know where he could find a woman. I started to tell him where he could find a woman, but I caught myself just in time. Waterloo, my friends, is one heck of a place on a Saturday night.

YOU CAN BE SURE OF THIS

Give a woman enough rope, and she'll hang you with it.

A WORD ABOUT MARRIAGE

A very well known bachelor who has dodged matrimony for quite a while had this to say about wedded bliss. He said that he wasn't prejudiced against marriage. He's perfectly willing, and ready anytime. But the woman he marries must have a home, a car, and a good job. The car isn't a must. They can get a car anytime, if she works hard enough. But the house and job are mandatory. A man must look out for his future, you know.

THERE'S NO WOLF LIKE AN OLD WOLF

A Wolf may grow old and his hair turn gray, but he'll be a wolf 'till his dying day! Some of these old fellows are going to wear their bodies out trying to keep up with their minds.

FLYING SAUCERS

We hear a lot about flying saucers, but there's one fellow around here to whom flying saucers are no mystery. He sees them every day, and it's his wife who's throwing them.

YOU KNOW THIS FELLOW

This guy monkeys around with every woman he sees, no matter whose wife or sweetheart she might be. He's got a special whistle and wolf call for every woman unfortunate enough to get near him. But just let some man talk over two or three minutes to his wife, and he's ready to explode all over the place.

MY LITTLE PIGEON

There's a little girl in town who flits from boy friend to boy friend, like a bird flits from limb to limb. Somewhere a long the way, she's going to get her wings clipped.

A REVIEW OF REVIEW

The other night I was looking over some of my old columns, and I found that a lot of the things in them were as appropriate to day as they were then. Which gives me an idea, I'll just use a lot of that old stuff. It will save thinking.

DARLING I AM GROWING LARGER

The other night a group of people were carrying on a little light conversation, when their talk drifted around to a certain young lady who had been staying in quite a bit lately. They wondered why. They finally agreed that she was probably self-conscious of the fact that she was getting larger and larger. To this young lady I would like to give this bit of advice, "My, darling, you shouldn't worry because of your size, It is true that you have gotten much larger, but you haven't lost any of your charm. You are the same old you. Only, there's more of you, in more places."

THERE'S SOMETHING ABOUT WATERLOO

I see that Jim Lynn the White Hawk ball player is back in town. I wonder what brought him back to Waterloo. Could it be the water, or yes, it could be that. A girl, maybe?

SPEAKING OF WATERLOO

Yes, speaking of Waterloo, I came here twenty years ago to visit my sister for a few days. Well, I haven't gotten away yet.

EENY MEENY MINY MO!

A very popular young lady was seen in deep concentration, lately. She was trying to decide which of her boyfriends to let go. Things had reached the crucial point. And of this one thing she was certain . . . somebody had to go.

IT'S IN THE BOOK

Another little girl has started keeping books on her boy friends. That's the only way she can keep track of them. Folks it's really amazing how some of these young girls can jump from boy friend to boy friend, night after night and not get into an awful jam. One of these days they are going to get their schedules crossed and there's going to be a heck of a collision.

WHAT'S MY SECRET?

Brother Carl Neubauer, the eminent philosopher, and proprietor of Neubauer and Crowthers, where I do all of my free magazine reading, together with myself, have a secret. But I don't know whether it's a secret anymore. Things are coming out in the open. And how!

LET ME REPEAT

Friends, I would like to warn you once again. When you drive, drive carefully. Remember, the life you save may be mine.

THE STYLE SHOW MYSTERY

At the Elks Style Show, while a certain young lady was parading in a certain costume, a very queer noise was heard, that caused a lot of wonder. The mystery has now been solved. That was a very prominent brother Elk's eyeballs popping.

AND I'M NOT JUST TALKING

I do a lot of talking about men fools, but do you know, there's a lot of female fools, too. And Waterloo's full of them.

SINCERELY

It is my earnest hope, and wish that I have made some one smile and given something to think about. And now, I want to do me a favor. While you are about your meditations, will you please pray a little prayer for me.

Sermon of The Week

Samuel Davis
Pastor Antioch Baptist Church

IT IS TIME TO SEEK THE LORD

Hosea 10:12 "Sow to yourselves in righteousness, Reap in mercy, Break up your fallow ground, for it is time to seek the Lord."

"Hosea was the author of our text. One of the minor prophets, he prophesied during the days of Uzziah, Jotham, Ahaz, and Hezekiah, kings of Judah, and in the days of Jeroboam, King of Israel.

Ch. 1:1

(A) There are things of less importance that could be postponed to a later day, but seeking the Lord should not be brushed aside, as some are perhaps doing today. Job said one day, "Oh, that I knew where I might find Him, that I might come even to His seat. I would order my cause before Him, and fill my mouth with arguments."

(B) There are times of prosperity, what we call good times. Then follows what we call depression, bad times, famine and pestilence, ect. Then there will come what Paul calls, perilous times, "This know also that in the last days perilous times shall come, etc. 2 Tim. 3:1.

For it is time for you to seek the Lord. To those of you who know Him, it is time for you to quit playing with God, you need a rededication of your life to God, and this should be done immediately. The season is passing and if you do not get the seed in the ground, you will miss the early rain, and your field will be unfruitful, and you may suffer heavy loss."

Soloman once said, "To everything there is a season, and a time to every purpose under the heaven. A time to be born, and a time to die. A time to plant, and a time to pluck up that which is planted. Ecc. 3: 1-6

(E) God has given to man that portion of duration that we call time, the space in which all the operation of this life is carried on.

Jesus said to His disciples on one occasion, "I must work the works of Him that sent me, while it is day, the night cometh, when no man can work." John 9, etc. 4.

To this thought both David and Paul had this to say, "but this I say brethren, the time is short." 1 Cor. 7:29, Ps. 89:47

II

It is time to seek the Lord. Seek is to go in search, to look for, to search for, to try to find. When we speak of seeking for something, or someone, we naturally think of something, or someone lost. Yes, there are some lost brothers and sisters in Waterloo today. There are some lost sons and daughters. There are some lost husbands and wives. Because of the many lost in this city, let us as Christians concern ourselves about them, and go and bring them to Christ.

Youth is a period of life when we think much about what we call "good times." Just what is a good time? This is a difficult question to answer, for nearly everyone has his own idea on the answer to this question.

Some think of what others call "sowing wild oats" as having a good time. The prodigal son perhaps thought the same thing, but when he got broke, His good time ended. Luke 15:11-22

It has been said that the son of Mussolini said, "What a good time I had dropping bombs on the defenseless women and children of Ethiopia. To him that was a good time.

I came across this definition the other day, (author unknown) "A good time is a pleasure which has no aftermath of regret". That could not be ditchdigging, defrauding, nor drunkenness.

III

It is time for you who are unsaved to seek the Lord! The one whose favor we are to seek. Think of how great and powerful and good He is; and how wicked we are, yet He is more than willing to promote our good, our happiness, yes, and our deliverance from sin. Rom. 5:8

CONCLUSION

The time to seek the Lord according to the scripture is now.

"Wherefore as the Holy Ghost saith, Today if ye will hear his voice, harden not your hearts, as in the provocation, in the day of temptation in the wilderness: When your fathers tempted me, proved me, and saw my works forty years." Heb. 3:7-9

"For I have heard thee in a time accepted, and in a day of salvation have I succored thee. Behold, now, is the accepted time." 2 Cor. 6:12

Isaiah said, "Seek ye the Lord, while He may be found. Call upon Him while He is near. 55:6 etc.

The mission of the Lord Jesus Christ was to seek and to find that which was lost. Luke 19:10

Seek first things first! Seek ye first the Kingdom of God. Matt. 6:33 etc. Matt. 4:18-22, John 1:35-41

Amen.

A TIME TO HELP
 Making certain that adequate health and welfare services are available in time of need, is everybody's business. Your tax dollar and the service fee can only reach so far. It is the voluntary social service agency, supported and operated for and by the community in which we live, that must meet the need.

The time to meet that need is now. In our community, the united community campaign is now in progress to raise an aggregate goal of more than $398,000. When you are asked to contribute to our town's United Appeal or Community Chest campaign, remember that you are giving to many causes.

No individual, no family or community is immune to trouble. A child is stricken by a crippling illness, heart fails, cancer havoc with a once healthy body. A storm or a flood can disrupt an entire city. As we have increased in population, we must be protected by adequate health and welfare services.

If we are to fight for first class citizenship, we must do our part as a first class citizen. Give to the UNITED APPEAL, together, we help the United Way.

Mr David Gordon of St. Louis, his stay he was honored at a Missouri spent four days here as dinner given by his uncle and a guest of Mr and Mrs Otha wife, Mr and Mrs Thomas Gor-Ellis, 202 Halstead St. During don, 205 Manson Street.

TEEN CHATTER

Greetings and Salutations:

It's teen time again and I'm your new columnist, endeavoring to give you news of the latest happs.

I'm a typical teenager, 17 years old and born and raised in Waterloo. That's enough of my history for now. We'll become better acquainted as time goes on.

Off to be with the U. S. Air Force for a period of four years are Thomas L. Carr, Lavern L. Brown, and George T. Stinson III. Leaving on Monday, Sept. 17th they were sent to Lackland Air Force Base, Texas where they will undergo six weeks of basic training before entering a technical school. During their stay at Lackland Air Force Base, Texas they will receive field training, including the use of the carbine rifle, chemical and radiological warfare, general academic subjects including military science and tactics, history, government and citizenship, plus training in drills and ceremonies, military law, physical conditioning and personal hygiene. So long boys, be good.

Two former Trojan cagers Jumping Jim and Hut left Waterloo headed in opposite directions for college. Jackson is attending Iowa State at Ames, while Hutchins is entering Iowa Wesleyan at Mt. Pleasant, Iowa. Good luck, boys.

Young athletes, take good notice because both Jims have obtained athletic scholarships. You can do it too, but it takes work.

Congratulations to teenagers who modelled in the style show at the Elks Sat. night. You made a good showing.

Bad reports have come my way concerning behavior in the Halls of Troy, third floor to be exact. Upperclassmen, set a good example. Perhaps the sophomores will have intelligence enough to follow.

Turning to something brighter, the employment situation for Negroes in Waterloo looks better. Miss Helen Reed began work in the Administration Building of the Rath Packing Company Monday. Perhaps you know that Misses Lady Ford and Dorothy Bobo are employed at the Bell Telephone Company.

So long gang, and remember, you make the news and I'll be right there to report it.

See you next issue

SPORTS

WITH "MACK"

Maybe it's a little late in the season to talk about the game of golf, but for the golfing fans in our community, it is a year around game. When the weather gets bad, and the golf courses are closed, some will be content if they can just practice putting on the living room rug — much to the dislike of their wives.

Golf used to be for rich. Now, more and more, people of all walks of life are taking up the sport, as a hobby or a means of recreation. This community is very well supplied with golf courses, one on the east side and one on the west side. Then, of course there is the Country Club course for their members.

More and more of our people are beginning to play the game. I have watched for our people very closely at the two city-owned courses. Just the other day, I saw a foursome out at Byrnes Park playing, and on the same day at Gates Park, there were some more. It was quite encouraging to see these golfers out on the fair ways. At the Country Club, there are many, many boys who work all summer as caddies. This will increase their knowledge of the game, and in a few years, should produce some very fine golf players.

For some, the game of golf is very difficult to play, unless they start young in life playing, or if you are thinking about trying the game, let me make a suggestion. Go out to one of the courses and engage the pros., in a few lessons, just to learn correctly the basic principles. You will enjoy the game much more. I think I'll try the game next year if my wife reads this column and reminds Santa that I first need a set of clubs.

Hoping to see more of our men and women on the golf courses next year.

DID YOU KNOW

1. That J. C. Caroline was the first Negro ever named Captain of an Illini football team.
2. That Deacon Dan Towles, who won the NPFL ball carrying leadership, quit football for the ministry.
3. That Emlen Tunnell, former Iowa U. great, was the first tan player to break in with the New York Football Giants.
4. That Arnie Sowell, the great middle distant star, has done the 100-yard dash in 9.8 seconds, 220 in 21.1 seconds, the 440 in 48 seconds and the only man to beat him in the 800 meter outdoors was Tom Courtney.

Style Show

the gents. Dresses, formals and sportswear were also included in the show.

Highlights of the evening was the most noted showpiece a Youthmore coat lined in Mink, a Christmas red suit with fur trim now illustrated on the cover of Vogue magazine, a pink all leather suit, a Youthmore molten gold leather coat, and for the first time in history a twenty-four carat gold leather coat.

A cute little sketch between the narrator and Mrs Betty Anderson not only proved instructive to the audience but entertaining also. Mrs Anderson played the part of a reader who had overread Vogue and had overdressed. But after a little help from the narrator and removal of some of her ornaments, after a mild protest, she became well dressed.

Mr W. J. Galbraith and Mrs Doris Washington looked smart in their lounging pajamas sets portraying a couple ready to retire, even yawning to complete the effect. Mrs Robinson's rendition of "Good-night Sweet-heart" set off quite well.

As a climax to the show roses were tossed to the audience by the models as they made a final entrance to the stage. Attending as guests were Bud Tenenbaum from Tenenbaum's Jewelry, Jack and Burton Fields from Palace Clothiers, Mr and Mrs

Gene Clyne and his staff from New York Fashion, and Mr and Mrs Carl Horwitz of the Youthmore Company in Chicago.

Following the show a drawing was held in which only ladies participated. The 1st prize, a certificate for a 100 Youthmore Coat was won by Mrs Monroe Stevens, 421 Sumner Street; the 2nd prize, a -35 jewelry set won by Mrs Merle Cole; the 3rd prize, a sport set was won by Mrs Gardner; and the 4th prize, another sportswear set was won by Mrs Marie Page. The above prizes were given by the stores furnishing clothes and jewelry for the style show.

Dancing to music furnished by the Sparrows of Rhythm brought the grand finale to the 1956 Elks Elks Show.

AD-LOY-HO CLUB

Mrs William Sallis, president of the AD-LOY-HO CLUB, began the fall season with a most entertaining program. The opening meeting, held in the home of program chairman, Mrs C. E. Tredwell, featured a program presided over and presented by a former charter member, Mrs Charmean London Thomas visiting from Chicago, Illinois.

Craig Haughton, son of Mr and Mrs Sylvester Haughton opened the program with a piano selection, "The Holy City", by Stephan Adams. Dr. Louis Botena, professor at Iowa State Teachers College of Cedar Falls, Iowa highlighted the meeting with a lecture followed by discussion on Racial Employment and Problems Within the Waterloo Area. He was assisted by Miss Mary Frances Reasby, daughter of Mr and Mrs Anthony Reasby. Guests at the meeting besides Mrs Thomas were Mrs Daniel Wearing, senior case worker of the Family Service League in Waterloo and Mrs William Harmon.

The next meeting will be held in the home of Mrs James Barber.

- + Democratic Candidate for U. S. Rep. 3rd District.
- + Serving Second Term as Mayor of Charles City.
- + Believes Civil Rights Should Be Enforced.
- + Farm Owner and Operator.

Your race has faithfully voted for Republican Candidates from the Civil War to 1936, but it took a Democratic President, Franklin D. Roosevelt to recognize by deeds and not only words the necessity of raising your standards of living, also your civil rights.

The Democratic Party is a haven for minority groups. You presently have a voice in the Democratic Party. Don't lose this voice and foothold by believing all the promises you hear.

The farmer, also a minority group, is going back to the Democratic Party after being fooled by the Republican Party.
