

As a mother of 4 black men and 5 black women, BLACK LIVES MATTERS to me!

Being biracial with light skin gives me a certain amount of privilege to speak up and speak out. I want to use my voice to help my black and brown brothers and sisters that can't pass as white to have the same equalities and equities that white America experiences.

It is my responsibility to say, loud and proud, that BLACK LIVES MATTERS!

No matter whether we are dealing with pay inequities between black and brown people versus white people, an achievement gap within our educational systems, a corrupt justice system, unfair housing and lending practices by banks, or just having to live while black or brown; we must use our voice! We must use our influence! We must not get tired or weary! We can make a difference if we stand together saying BLACK LIVES MATTERS!

Because all lives can't matter until BLACK LIVES MATTERS!

Thank you!
