CRADLE ROLL CAMPAIGN.

Have you a baby in your home under four years of age? Is its name on a cradle roll? If not, have it enrolled today on the Corinthian Baptist cradle roll.

Mrs. Bertha Long, 762 Tenth street. Supt. Cradle Roll Dept.

"NO. NOTHING."

From the Morning Olympian, Olympia, Wash.:

"What's the matter with you fellows on the force? Are you all asleep that you never throw any one in these days?" asked a restaurant cook of the Olympia police force. "The past two months I have not had orders for enough meals at the city jail to remember I had a city contract. In all my years in Olympia I never saw the like, and I've cooked many a meal in my time and made good money. But it's not even pennies for me now from you fellows. You're a bum bunch."

"You know why, don't you?" asked the police officer addressed.

"No, only that it's rotten business. What's the matter?"

"No booze!"

"No! Is that a fact?"

"Take it from me. She went dry some months ago, didn't she—bone dry? Well, where there is no whisky there is less trouble, and I've never seen it fall. No drunks, no disorder, no old-time 'rolling,' no scraps, no nothing. There is no chance to jug the law-abiding Americans of Olympia today."

EDITORIAL NOTES.

You close your doors and brood over your own miseries, and the wrongs people have done you. Whereas if you would but open those doors, you might come out in the light of God's truth, and see that His heart is as clear as sunlight toward you.
Only thy striving drops His balm,
Only thine anguish falls His balm,
Let the heart its joy bells sing
He, the risen Christ, is King.

PASTOR'S GREETING.

SEEKING JESUS CHRIST.

Long I sought thee, Spirit holy,
Master Spirit, meek and lowly;
Sought thee with a silent sorrow,
brooding o'er the woes of men;
Vainly sought thy yoke of meekness
'Neath the weight of woe and
weakness;
Finding not, yet in my failing, seeking o'er and o'er again.

In unrest and doubt and sadness
Dwe't I, yet I knew thy Gladness
Wanted somewhere; somewhere greeted torn and sorrowing hearts
like mine;

Knew that somehow I should find
thee,
Leaving sin and woe behind me,
And at last thy Love would bid me
enter into Rest divine.

Hatred, mockery and reviling
Scorched my seeking soul, defiling
That which should have been thy Temple, wherein thou should'st
move and dwell;

Praying, striving, hoping, calling;
Suffering, sorrowing in my falling,

Still I sought thee, groping blindly in the gloomy depths of Hell

And I sought thee till I found
thee;
And the dark Powers all around me

Fled, and left me silent, peaceful,
brooding o'er thy holy themes;
From within me and without me
Fled they when I ceased to doubt
thee;

And I found thee in thy Glory, mighty
Master of my dreams!

Yea, I found thee, Spirit holy,
Beautiful and pure and lowly;
Found thy Joy and Peace and Gladness; found thee in thy House
of Rest;

Found thy strength in Love and Meekness,

Left me, and I walked the Pathway trodden only by the blest.
