Deputy Callies To Run For Sheriff; Cites Inefficiency

Dale Callies has laid his job as deputy in the sheriff's department on the line, and taken out nomination papers for the job of sheriff. Our present sheriff Hightower then fired him, effective March 31, as he said he was backing Bob Aldrich, also in the department, for the post, and felt he could not run an effective office with two men running for the same office. Callies left the job immediately, taking his vacation and days off until the 31st.

Callies presents the almost typical picture of the small town, slightly stocky built, big grin, cigar in mouth, and on one hand an onyx cameo, on the other an impressive gold and diamond Masonic ring. His clothes have a western flavor, shades of brown and short boots. At age 46 he is married, has one daughter and three grandchildren.

Dale K. Callies

Callies is not bitter over the loss of his job; he knew it would come if he declared his intention to run. He and Hightower have had some differences of opinion before.

Callies said he would work toward better working relations of all personnel of the sheriff's office, to increase efficiency through the exchange of ideas and information. He would make some changes in personnel. He feels now that there is too little dialogue between persons working in the office.

Republican Convention March 22

Roger Pease, chairman of the Black Hawk county Republican central committee, announced today that the party's county convention will be held March 22 at Logan Junior High school at 7:30 p.m. Keynote speaker for the evening will be Donald Johnson, gubernatorial candidate from West Branch.

Purpose of the convention is to elect delegates to the State Presidential convention to be held in Des Moines on April 16 and 17, and to the state regular convention to be held in Des Moines on June 4 and 5.

He said parolees paroled to the sheriff now sometimes go a year or more without reporting to the sheriff; if he were in office, such persons would report regularly so he could help them with problems.

Despite the fact that we have a fairly new jail, it has passed only one inspection in the last four years. He claims the jail is dirty, and there is not enough supervision; thus prisoners are often seen signalling to persons, especially girls, across the street.

Callies would hold regular staff meetings scheduled often enough to establish and maintain close communication with his staff. He says now there are few staff meetings; only a few times a year, and then usually only for discipline of a worker. To keep close to the people of the county, Callies would occasionally ride with deputies on different shifts.

The job of sheriff is the highest law enforcement officer in the county. He would work closely with police when they need assistance, and work closer with juvenile authorities. He feels the young offender shouldn't get off so lightly; or parents shouldn't pay fines. It would be better to show training films, in the case of driving offenses, or put those sentenced to a fine to work on a cleaning detail or something, to work out the fine.

Realizing that touchy situations arise in the county, Callies deplors the fact that there is little in-service training for the deputies, and there is at present no race relations training. This he would do his best to correct.

The sheriff's office now employs a deputy, Mack Butler, and a matron, Mrs. Merriweather, who are Negroes. When asked, Callies said he didn't feel it necessary to go out and recruit Negroes to work there; he felt Negroes would feel free to apply for the force and such jobs if he were elected. He mentioned a Sheriff Reserve group, which is all white now, which he would like to see integrated, and a junior reserve, which he is thinking about.

Although he lives in Hudson, Callies will have a direct line from Waterloo, and will have his number available. Calls 24 hours a day will be answered by himself or his chief deputy.

Callies is really working for the nomination, and will appreciate the opportunity to present his beliefs to the citizens.

McMillen Speaks At Meet Of Citizen's Committee

On March 10, 1968 the Citizen's Committee of East Waterloo, Inc. held their installation and recognition service at Payne AME church. Mrs. Cutba Tredwell took us all back a few years to tell the history of the committee; it began in September of 1963 to support William Parker in the election for Judge. Parker became the first elected Judge in Iowa; Des Moines had Mr. Glanton earlier, but he had been appointed to fill out a term, and then was re-elected. In 1964 the committee supported James Jackson for state Republican, then went on to be the driving force behind realization of the Cosby center, and the on the job training program. The aim of the committee is to bring Negroes into the mainstreams of community life, and has always backed Negro candidates for each election.

Charles McMillan, former Cosby center director and now director of the Jane Boyd community house in Cedar Rapids, was the speaker. He asked, do we move

Jazz Lovers Overwhelmed By Performance of Terry

Jazz lovers were treated to a rare performance last Sunday, when Clark Terry presented a benefit concert for the TACS. He was backed up by John Ferneau, on bass, J. Hoover on the piano, and James Coffin, drummer, all instructors from UNI. Terry and the group played a variety of jazz pieces, some familiar, some new to us. Clark Terry proved his versatility by not only playing, but also singing some songs, including a stunning vocal of 'I've Got It Bad and That Ain't Good.'

In the best performers' tradition of sharing a stage with a new comer, Terry introduced a student from UNI, "Chittlin's", also a trumpeter. This young man had earned the name "Chittlin's" from Terry when he was at UNI earlier this year, because despite his blond hair, he played with such soul. The two played together, and joined in a "battle of the trumpets." Then Terry said Chittlin's had said he had never tasted chittlings, so he presented a jar of this regional goody, cooked to perfection by Fannie Mae Page, who can cook chittlings like nobody else.

At intermission time, Clark Terry donated a new trumpet to start off the instrument collection for the Cosby center. He explained that he was most interested in young people and wanted to encourage them all he could. He said that many clinics and concerts he had worked over the country, he noticed very few soul brothers and sisters. Upon investigation, he realized it was often because of financial reasons that few Negroes studied music. This concert was a benefit, for instruments at the Cosby center; there will be instructors there for interested students.

John Strother, new Director of centers, presented a plaque to Mr. Charles McMillan, who had practically built the Cosby center with his bare hands. McMillan is now at the Jane Boyd community house in Cedar Rapids.

Mayor Turner Speaks About Racial Crisis At Local Church

Christ Episcopal was host to Mayor Lloyd Turner Wednesday evening, at its second in a series of Lenten potluck and programs concerning the racial crisis in Waterloo. With the Mayor, parishioners were exploring ways they could work to alleviate the problems in Waterloo. Mayor Turner discussed some of the causes in the past for the ghetto forming and growing, and things he is doing to improve race relations in our city.

Although it was an interesting evening, much talk was very general in nature, and some expressed the feeling afterwards that they still didn't have any answers. Again, we extend an invitation to interested people to join with Christ church, at the potluck April 3, when the topic will be, "what is the problem and what can we do about it as the church?" with a panel of ministers, including Rev. Eugene Williams, of Antioch Baptist church. Evening prayer is at 6:15, dinner at 6:30, with the program about 7:15.

He briefly traced the history of the Negro, beginning with the slavery days, when the female was less held down than the male, because of her household duties, and the 'manny' image held by some southerners. When in 1863 slavery was abolished, Negroes were the victims of the mental illness of whites; they were disfranchised, robbed of their rights, lynched. A stereotype of the Negro was created, as the happy-go-lucky, lazy, shiftless, with the idea black is wrong, white is right.

Where Are All The Good People?

At the jazz concert last week we again had the example of a few persons turning out to support the effort of the young people of this community. Whether it is for adults for youngsters, this town just doesn't care, evidently. Ron James called it a deadly silence, and I agree.

People who are for or against progress are hiding in the woodwork when it comes to supporting anything. Church groups discuss, amongst themselves, what they should do, and civic clubs hide behind petty rules against discussing controversial topics.

The time is long past due when each individual must take a stand on what he believes and is willing to fight for. No man, or family can consider themselves islands, free to stand by themselves.

We must all speak up, and out, and be prepared, if necessary to put our job, way of life, or life itself, on the line for our beliefs. To wait until the first hot weekend this summer and then start wringing our hands is pure lunacy.

Vice president Humphrey, who knows what he be.

On any issue, to him the president seems right. I'll bet a lot of us wonder if he even sleeps good at nights.

Governor Romney said he's ending his campaign. To split the Republican party, he thinks it's a shame. And deep down inside, I don't think he wants to carry the blame.

Senator Everett Dirksen is a bright old man. He's smart, politics he knows; in the House, he is like a lord. Yes, he's smart and very bright and he stands on any record.

Governor Reagan is an old movie star.

It seems winning people over comes easy to him. I wonder if we could adjust our nation with his movie star kin.

Mister Nixon is tired of losing. He's using everything he's got in maybe his last campaign. I'll bet no one better than he knows this political game.

Governor Rockefeller is not satisfied with anything he's got. Rich he is and in politics he will not lag.

Given the presidency, I wonder how many of us would have to beg.

Senator McCarthy is a man of fact.

His views on all pressing issues seem sincere and true. If this man were president, people mad or sad, I believe there would be few.

Senator Kennedy is from greatness.

We all know it to be that way. For him to be president, we wait for that day.

Now Governor Wallace, there's quite a fellow.

To run our country one way is all he seeks.

To be superior over some men and step on the meek.

If we all vote together, our nation won't be bent.

And then we can all say together, God bless our president.

If we all vote.

UNCF Should Double Request

By BENJAMIN E. MAYS

The United Negro College Fund was organized in 1944. We are beginning our 25th Anniversary in 1968. The fund has been successful, but not as successful as it should have been. We raised around $750,000 the first year. Each year we have raised more than the year before. The 1967 achievement will be close to five million dollars. It has taken twenty-five years to move from three quarters of a million to slightly less than five. The UNCF colleges are all better off with the Fund than without it. Two or three schools may have gotten on well without the Fund, but all would have been much poorer without it. Only a few could have raised alone as much as they have gotten from the pool.

But times have changed. The cost of higher education is rising yearly, almost monthly. It is not as easy for a predominantly Negro college to raise money as it is for a predominantly white college; especially is this true if the white college has wealthy alumni. The white college has it on the Negro college because Negro colleges do not have rich alumni. Negro alumni could treble what they give and not miss it. But it is difficult to get them to do this. The more the alumni give, the more foundations and corporations would give. I wish the various alumni associations would see this. If Harvard University never gets another penny from foundations and corporations, Harvard would make it because the alumni would see to it. The alumni of the largest Negro colleges could give $250,000 a year to their Alma Maters and no one would suffer. For a college the size of Morehouse, the alumni could easily give $150,000 a year and no one would be hurt and Morehouse would be blessed.

Unfortunately, the local communities have not accepted Negro colleges as they have accepted white colleges. Local white colleges can get substantial money from local philanthropy; not so with Negro colleges. Bishop College is the exception. White Dallas has done considerable for Bishop.

All this is to say that the officials of the United Negro College Fund are planning to take a giant step. It is quite conceivable that the campaign goal for 1968 will be double the amount raised in 1967. Doubling the goal should bring larger contributions from both foundations and corporations and larger contributions from individuals. If the goal is raised and complete success accrues, the UNCF colleges will be on their way toward maintaining an able staff and improving an already good one. Now is the time to double the goal. The goal cannot be substantially raised by raising it a little each year. It must be done suddenly and dramatically. The larger the goal, the easier it will be to secure and maintain leaders of national repute. Men of real stature do not like to lead small things. They want something big enough to challenge their ability.

HOUSING

Q. Last year we became a homeowner. For 1967 tax purposes, how can we determine the amount of interest we have paid on our mortgage?

A. Some lenders automatically send the borrower an annual statement of interest and taxes paid during the previous calendar year. Others provide it only at the request of the borrower.

Q. How can I get a list of FHA approved lenders in my area?

A. By visiting or writing to the nearest FHA insuring office.

Q. I own a four unit apartment building. There are a number of children in the building who have no place to play when the weather is bad. I would like to convert part of the basement into a playroom and add a rest room. My tenants have offered to help with the work. Can I get a property improvement loan for this project?

A. Yes, you can get an insured improvement loan up to $3,500 at a reasonable interest rate if your credit rating is good and you can make the monthly payments on the loan regularly. Write to the Department of Housing and Urban Development for a copy of "Property Improvement Loans." It explains how to apply for such a loan.

Citizen's Committee--

The Negro is no longer asking for his rights. He is now demanding 100 percent of what is his. Listen to the words of today's soul music. It is no longer the old spiritual type, asking, let my people go. It is freedom now.

The white people must learn to truly believe in equality. Black people must stop trying to be white. The most pitiful sight is the Negro who thinks he is white. The professional Uncle Tom.

The young are developing black pride. Black power is just like white power only a little darker. We need political unity through the black vote. Black people should do business at establishments owned by black people. Black pride is a people searching for mental health. We need to purge our usage of the words black and white. Check their meanings in the dictionary; black means everything bad, white everything good.

Power will never concede anything without demands. Every citizen must become interested, informed, involved. You are not free unless everyone is free. Black people must be free politically. Don't let yourselves be made tools of any party or candidate.

The bandwagon is playing soul, the background is black identity, and the drums are beating Afro style. The young people and such groups as TACS, have all the support of McMillan, and he urged the citizen's committee to back them also.

The Rev. Joseph Parker installed the new board members, charging them with their duties and responsibilities to the committee and the community. New officers are: The Rev. Percy Burt, chairman, Monroe Stevens, vice-chairman; Martha Ann Nash, secretary-treasurer; and Ada Tredwell, Paula Schwarz, Hilda Baker, Saul Austin, Jr., Russel Lowe and Jimmie Porter as board members.

Judge Parker introduced the special guests; business and professional Negroes in Waterloo. There was a good turnout of teachers, workers in labor, secretaries, etc. Many of these spoke for a
