Gov. Byrnes Bolts Democrats To Vote For Eisenhower

Columbia, S. C. (ANP)—James F. Byrnes, governor of South Carolina, has again bolted the Democratic party.

The chief executive of the Palmetto State last week announced he will vote for Dwight D. Eisenhower for president. Byrnes, a bitter foe of the Truman administration, was the leader of the Dixiecrat revolt in 1948.

In announcing his decision to cast his ballot for the Republican candidate, the white supremacist said:

"I shall place loyalty to my country above loyalty to a political party."

With Gov. Byrnes' announcement to vote for Eisenhower, the South Carolinian joined with Gov. Allen Shivers of Texas. There have been signs of discontent in other southern states, including Florida and Mississippi. Gov. Talmadge of Georgia, while disagreeing with many of Gov. Adlai Stevenson's views, has vowed to remain loyal to the Democratic candidate.

Gov. Byrnes' action was only an overt sign of the position in which southerners find themselves. The race issue probably is the greatest cause for the crack in the once solid South.

Many Republican-for-Eisenhower groups have been organized in the South. Some of these groups represent Negroes. These color voters are becoming increasingly alarmed over efforts of Dixiecrats.

Dallas Pulley Dies In Muskegon, Mich.

Mr. Dallas Pulley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bones Pulley, 439 Manson Street, died at 6 A.M. Tuesday, September 23 at Muskegon, Michigan of diabetic complications from which he had suffered for the past five years.

Mr. Pulley was born January 4, 1905 at Water Valley, Mississippi. He moved with the family to Waterloo in 1911. Mr. Pulley lived here 27 years leaving the city in 1938. While in Waterloo, he became well known as a baseball player.

Survivors include his widow, Anna, three brothers, Warren Harding, at home, Donald of Battle Creek, Michigan, and Willie of Memphis, Tenn.; three sisters, Dorothy at home, Mrs. Carrie Lou Barr of Muskegon, and Mrs. Martha Hobson of Muskegon.

Schoitz Hires First Negro Registered Nurse In City

Monday, September 22nd Waterloo's first colored nurse, Miss Meredith Gwendolyn Johnson, entered Schoitz Memorial Hospital as a regular member of their surgical staff.

Meredith Johnson

Miss Johnson, whose home is in Galena, Illinois comes to Waterloo from Dubuque where she served as instructor of surgical practices and techniques at the St. Joseph's Mercy Hospital.

A graduate of Galena High School, Miss Johnson then attended the University of Dubuque and later Lincoln Junior College of Kansas. She received her final training at the General Hospital No. 2 in Kansas. In June of 1951, she passed a State Board test which qualified her as a Registered Nurse. Following her graduation from nurses training, Miss Johnson assumed duty at St. Joseph's Mercy Hospital.

In an interview with the Post, Miss Johnson revealed that three other sisters are also nurses. A sister, Lametta, was the first colored nurse to enter St. Luke's Hospital at Cedar Rapids as a student. Another sister, Mrs. Ruth Arnold, was the first colored nurse to be employed on the staff of the St. Joseph's Mercy Hospital in Dubuque. A third sister is in the Navy Nurse Corp.

In commenting on her first week at Schoitz, Miss Johnson stated "Everyone is so nice and Co-operative. I have found no friction between races. If you are qualified to do the work that seems to be all that is necessary."

ETHEL WATERS MAY WIN ACADEMY AWARD

New York (CNS)—Famous in his own right as a motion picture actor, James Edwards ventured to predict that Ethel Waters may win an "oscar" next year for this year's wonderful performance in the film version of "Member of the Wedding".

Edwards speaks with first hand knowledge as he himself has a starring part in the film. But he thought Ethel was so excellent in the lead that she could very well get the coveted "oscar" for the best female performance and would be the first Negro to do so. All other Negro actors and actresses have won for supporting roles.

"Member of the Wedding" is a Stanley Kramer production, which automatically means highest calibre in motion picture entertainment. It was just finished in Hollywood a few weeks ago and probably will be released before the end of the year in time for the "oscar" naming.

Fulliloves Have Given Quarter Century of Music to Waterloo

Fullilove School of Music Plan Mammoth Recital Soon

This is a resume of a couple whose desire for a hobby proved to be of benefit to an entire community not only culturally but as a mark against racial discrimination.

1928 was the year that this couple, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Fullilove decided to undertake a hobby that would dispel their spare time. Mister Fullilove enrolled immediately at the Knapp School of Music. Later he transferred to the Bellson School of Music at St. Paul and finished his study with a certificate of all fretted instruments. Mrs. Fullilove had previously studied instruments and piano, but decided to take a brush-up course at the Bellson School of Music and later the Chicago University Extension in Chicago.

The Fulliloves spent many evenings playing their instruments and reviewing the day's lessons. While entertaining themselves one evening in 1930, friends that had recently moved to America from England came to visit. Upon hearing the Fulliloves play they fervently expressed the desire to have their son play an instrument. So the Fulliloves agreed and this was their first student. Soon a small class was formed by children of neighbors and friends. A group of boys then joined the class and Mrs. Fullilove decided to organize a boys' orchestra. This orchestra appeared on many programs and soon were engaged to play every Friday on Story Hour on WMT under the direction of Mrs. Mary Kildee.

Enthusiasm for the knowledge of fretted music spread so fast that the Fulliloves had to change their living room into a studio to take care of new students. Mrs. Hortense Childers, Sunday school teacher at Payne AME Church at that time, contacted the Fulliloves and asked that they organize an orchestra at Payne. She had previously heard the Boys' Orchestra. The Fulliloves readily agreed and immediately contacted Rev. William Parker, pastor at that time, to ask for permission to use the church basement for instruction.

The first class of colored children to take lessons were Kathryn Montjoy, Martha Spencer, Bessie Tredwell, Bessie Birdsall, Druscilla Murphy, and Lena Mae Robinson. The next class of younger children consisted of Betty Lee and Junior Smith, Selena and Henrietta Shepherd, Joan Montjoy, Barbara, Jacqueline and Josephine Wright, Junior Walker, Bill Richmond, and Bety and Frances Hackett. This group entertained throughout the city at churches, clubs, and P.T.A.'s

Not only teaching at home and at Payne AME, Mrs. Fullilove also became an instructor at Campbell Detgen Music Store. She remained there until World War II started and Mr. Detgen entered the service. She and seven other teachers then became employees of the Shanks Music Store. This relationship was shortlived for a misunderstanding soon arose and the teachers, her co-workers decided to organize a studio on their own. Mrs. Fullilove remained at Shanks but later she contacted the teachers and considered joining them. For some time Mrs. Fullilove had thought how nice it would be to have all of her students at one studio instead of scattered at three different locations.

Upon mentioning her plans to consolidate her students, the manager of the new studios was delighted, but when she realized that colored students would be coming to the studio she flatly refused. Mrs. Fullilove was told that she was foolish to consider teaching colored when she could make a living under their system. The manager continued that colored students would knock their studio. Mrs. Fullilove stated in reply, "I do not believe in segregation. I'll go down alone if necessary."

So in 1942, the Fulliloves rented a studio at 620 1/2 Lafayette st. Soon afterwards the new studio moved into the same building across the hall. They still refused to teach colored and any colored students desiring to take lessons at their studio were met with the answer, "You have a studio of your own across the hall." The Fullilove Studio daily grew and the student enrollment increased, and above all they held on to their policy: "Our school knows no race, cred, or color." After seeing democracy in action and all of the races getting along so well, the new studio decided to change their policy. They then started teaching all races.

Within the last few years another dream of the Fulliloves has been realized. They now offer a physical education course to their students. Before beginning this course a house to house canvas was made to explain the new course and enroll students. The first colored students in this group were; Betty Jean Furgerson, Yvonne and Betty Lou Smith, Josephine and Jacqueline Wright, Louise Robinson, Shirley and Barbara Garrison, Betty Lee Smith, and the Hackett Sisters.

Waterloo's first colored Tap, Acrobatic, and Ballet teacher emerged from this group. Seeing talent and ability in Frances Hackett, Mrs. Fullilove urged her mother, Mrs. Hackett to enroll her in a dancing school. Frances was immediately enrolled in the Variety Colleg of Fine Arts in Chicago where after three summer courses and two years of study she received her graduate certificate. Frances then returned to Waterloo to teach on the Fullilove staff.

So through the years as the Fulliloves struggled to keep their studio free of all undemocratic principles, leaders were being produced. Now many of these leaders have stepped forth into the world carrying with them not only their musical training but also the great lesson taught merely through attending the Fullilove Studio and working shoulder to shoulder with people of other races. Alumnae of the studio are: Mrs. Frances Hackett Brown, Music and Dance Instructor; Mr. Floyd Warren, Leader of the Radio Rambler Orchestra; Don and Lee Anderson, Instructors and Entertainers; John Bartling, Instructor and Entertainer; Joan Montjoy, Instructor now continuing her study at Drake University; Norma Stark and Carol Renner, Instructors now continuing their study at Oak Park Academy; Dean Dalziel, Entertainer in an all Western band in the Armed Forces; Mrs. Vera Reicherts Pfiffner, Instructor and Entertainer; Miss Betty Wilson, Instructor; Miss Marjorie Robinson, Instructor; and Mrs. Betty Hackett Middleton, Instructor.

The youngest student of the Fullilove Studio is two and one-half year old Judy Thompson and the oldest student is seventy-seven year old Mr. Frank Health.

In recalling the entertaining done by her students, Mrs. Fullilove cited the work of Mrs. Elizabeth Hackett. "Her inspiration was an encouragement to our students. As a church leader she constantly urged and called on us to take part in church programs which gave the students confidence and experience. Mrs. Hackett's pet words were: "Be Prepared" and the students looked forward with anticipation to appearing on her programs."

Today the colored youth of Waterloo are permitted to enter many of the local studios as students, but it is well to remember that Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Fullilove paved the way by proving that discrimination displays ignorance in a civilized world.

to ally themselves with Eisenhower. Negroes do not see this as a healthy sign and with so many more of them voting this November, they could make this felt at the polls. An outstanding politician has summed up the political situation in the South fairly accurately.

He is George W. Lee, vice president of the Memphis Tri-State bank, who had the honor of seconding the nomination for Sen. Robert A. Taft at the recent Republican National Convention. Lee said:

"A lot of things have happened since the Supreme court decision in 1944 which opened primary elections to Negroes. Tennessee has repealed her poll tax. Negroes and poor white people have been able to qualify more easily as voters.

"Where there were around 4,000 Negroes registered in Shelby county back there, more than 40,000 are on the lists now, and may be 50,000 by election day around Memphis. In all Tennessee there are 150,000 Negroes ready to vote.

"In the southern states, where 500,000 were registered before 1944, there are three times that many now, and with the drive for registration there probably will be 2,000,000 in November.

"Gen. Eisenhower cannot ignore this bulk of voters. Without harmony among Republicans, the old ones and the young ones and the converts alike, this potential will be lost.

"Many people may not realize it, but where political policy has been made in the last few years with an eye on the Negro balance-of-power in pivotal states like New York, Illinois, Indiana and Michigan, there is a new pivotal region with a balance of power. It is the South. The same consideration applies here.

"What going to happen in the northern states, where Republicans need Negro votes, if the word gets there that the Dixiecrats have captured Eisenhower in the South. If the Negro is excluded down here, it will not be another case of strictly southern discrimination. It will have its effect elsewhere."

Thus the prospect is clear that Republicans, gaining voters in the South, may estrange Negro voters in other regions. True, Democrats believe the bulk of the Negroes will vote with them anyhow, but men like Lee believe there is a Republican potential among them that, instead of being forfeited by political mishandling, could be won.

In Eisenhower's recent meetings in the South, Negroes were scarcely seen. Two or three were seen, among a large group on the platform at Miami. A few were seen in Atlanta, somewhere near the speakers' stand but out of sight of the crowd. No Negroes were in sight or earshot in Tampa and Little Rock, where the general made his fleeting reference to American rights as being for all, no matter what "color of their skin."

JAILED FOR 26 YEARS PLEADS OWN RELEASE

New York (CNS) — After a quarter of a century of serving in prison "illegally and unjustly," James Carroll, 56 year old Negro, finally became a free man. And through his own initiative, For by learning to read and write in prison, he discovered he was being held unduly and sent a hand written petition for a writ of error to the Kings County Court early this year.

Carroll was sentenced in 1927 to a life term as a fourth offender. But Judge Goldstein ruled that the 1913 and 1916 convictions should be set aside because he had not had an attorney. Said the Judge: "These things do not happen today in our courts and I hope they never happen again. I find you have served 26 years illegally and unjustly and in view of that I am giving you a suspended sentence and setting you free, so that you can breathe the liberty you so justly deserve."

With no bitterness in his heart, Carroll told reporters that he was going to try and trace his wife and son, Ardith, who must be about 30 if still alive. He thought though that his wife had remarried. But first he was going to "get acquainted with a T-Bone steak" even before going to work at a $50 a week chef's job which a Brooklyn catering company has offered him.

REASON AND RHYME

Keep on your toes.
Be alert.
Attend to your business,
And you won't get hurt.

A-HUNTING WE WILL GO

Last Monday, the 15th of September, a fellow wanted me to go hunting with him. So I went home, bathed, shaved, cologne put on my best suit of clothes, and waited for him to pick me up. When he saw me, his eyes were as big as saucers.

"Boy" he asked, "where are you going?"

"I'm going with you," I replied, "Remember?"

"Uh-uh," he said, "you can't go squirrel hunting with me, dressed up like that."

"Squirrel hunting!" I exclaimed, "I thought you said 'girl hunting!'"

GETTING UP IN THE WORLD

My reputation got quite a boost the other night. I was seen in the company of the Mirsters Frank Reed and Wilson Baker.

GETTING YOUNGER WITH THE YEARS

Most people get older as the years go by. That's the natural thing to do. But Miss Elizabeth Weems, affectionately known as "Sister", gets prettier. I wonder how she does it.

SWEET DREAMS

One of these days, someone I know is going to have a very rude awoken. So sleep on, sweet dreamer, sleep on in your innocent bliss. For with the daybreak will come heartbreak.

THE ONE AND ONLY

As I've said many times before, there is no other place in the world like Waterloo. It should be on a planet by itself. Things happen in Waterloo that I don't think happen anywhere else in the world. Per square inch and per capita population, Waterloo is the darndest place in the universe.

WE'RE ALL THE WAY — FOR "PAT" TOUCHAE

In a recent column I stated that Mayor "Pat" Touchae could be mayor of Waterloo as long as he desired as far as I was concerned. I was instantly taken to task. A lot of people think that he shouldn't remain as mayor of Waterloo too long. They think that a man of his caliber, character and fairmindedness should be moved up higher, where he could do more good for more people. To this position I yield.

A THOUGHT FOR TODAY

"Today's sweetheart is tomorrow's 'ex'." To this bit of truth I would like to add this statement, "There's no flame like an old flame."

A LITTLE MATTER OF REGISTERING

Any man who doesn't exercise his blood won right to vote, is a traitor to himself, his race and his country. It should be made compulsory that every person eligible to vote, should vote. Voting is a duty, a privilege. But you cannot vote if you haven't registered. And registering is one of the easiest and simplest things in the world to do. It doesn't cost a cent, and will take only a few minutes of your time. All you have to do is go to the city clerk's office at the city court house, or city hall, and tell any of the attendants you want to register. They will take your name and address, and that's all there is to it. I am urging every person of voting age to register, if they haven't already done so. The number of eligible Negroes in Waterloo who are registered is shamefully small. Register now, to vote in November.

WHAT'S GOOD FOR THE GOOSE

The other day I heard a fellow say, "If I ever catch my old lady in a joint like this, I'll break her neck." Well, if the place is that bad, why doesn't he stay out of it himself?

TELL ME WHY

I don't know why, but people are always wanting to borrow money from me. It is because I look prosperous, or like sucker? Well, in either case, looks are deceiving. All I've got to give away is a lot of good advice. Otherwise I'm as poor as a church mouse and as ragged as a barber shop mop.

AND HE'S NOT BY HIMSELF

This is the motto of a very good friend of mine: Never do today what you can put off until tomorrow.

AN ANNOUNCEMENT

Miss M.R. wishes to announce that she is not leaving town after all. The engagement is off, broken, cancelled. She is now back in circulation again, at liberty, a free agent. Miss M. R. has a nice alto voice, is accustomed to singing with choruses and trios, and would like to form a duet with a nice young man.

THERE'S NO REST FOR THE WEARY

The fellow who authored the following quotation must have had some very disappointing experience with women to make him so seemingly bitter toward them. He must have run across one of these Waterloo women somewhere. He quotes thusly: God made the earth and rested. God made the sun, moon, and stars, and rested. God made man, and rested. Then God made woman, and since then, neither God or man has rested.

YOU ARE YOUR BROTHER'S KEEPER

If you know of anyone in sickness or distress, visit them, and if possible, help them. And while you're aiding those in distress, you can put my name right at the top of your list.

AND I'M NOT JUST A-KIDDING

A couple of fellows said that because of the acute shortage of women in Waterloo, in comparison to the number of men, and because they (the women) thought themselves so cute and "slick", they were going out of town to get themselves a girl. Well, all I can say is this: If you get a girl from out of town, you'd better wise her up before you bring her to Waterloo. Don't let her get to Waterloo and then get wise, or you'll have to tie her down, shackle her, and send her back where she came from.

ADIOS, MY LITTLE DARLINGS, BE SWEET, AND I'LL BE SEEING YOU!

Fact and Fun

Dick Wright for ANP

When a political candidate for a local office returned to his office from making a speech, his manager asked, "How did the audience react to the part where you said you'd never bought a single vote in your career?"

"Well, a few cheered, of course," answered the politician, "but most of them seemed to lose interest in what I was saying, and a few even got up and walked out."

For awhile, following the advent of television, nightclub attendance fell off sharply. Now, however, it is on the upswing. In one well-known Chicago club recently, a man stooped over to pick up his girl friend's dropped purse, and before he could straighten up a waiter had thrown a tablecloth over him and seated five people around him.

They were packed like sardines in a midtown subway. A lady noticed a father and his small son being pushed unduly by the surging humanity. The father seemed wholly unconcerned about the child's welfare, so the lady questioned:

"Aren't you afraid your little boy will be crushed?"
"Not a chance, lady," assured the father. "He bites."

If flies are flies
Because they fly;
And fleas are fleas
Because they flee;
Then are bees bees
Because they be?

A northern brother went south for a vacation and saw a southern brother lolling indolently in the shade of a pinetree.

"Man," said the northerner, "why don't you get yourself a job?"
"Why?" demanded the southern brother.

"You could earn maybe $50 or $75 a week."
"Why?" repeated the southerner.

"Oh, if you worked hard and saved you'd soon have a bank account."

"Why?" was the question again.
"Why, man!" shouted the northerner. "With a bank account you could retire, and then you wouldn't have to work anymore."
"I ain't working now," pointed out the southern brother.

Out of a clear blue sky she turned to him and demanded, "Baby, which do you like better—an ugly woman with brains, or a pretty girl without brains?"
But she couldn't catch him napping. Without hesitation, he replied, "Honest, honey, I like you better than either."

The people's philosopher notes: Many people itch terribly hard for what they want, but won't scratch for it.

"A person can use paper to keep quite warm," said one family man to another.

"You're telling me," answered the second. "I remember I once owed a thirty day note and it kept me in a sweat for thirty days."

It's a fact: You have to be true to your teeth — or they will be false to you.

CLUB news

Ad-Loy-Ho Club

The Ad-Loy-Ho Literary Club members, their husbands, and their guests made a trip Sunday, Sept-21st to Harmony, Minnesota to visit the famous Niagra Cave. After a tour through the cave, a picnic lunch was spread before the fireplace located in the midst of the very scenic and beautiful surroundings. Following the lunch games were played.

The return trip was through McGregor, Iowa where the group paused to watch boats and barges on the Mississippi river.

The next regular meeting of the club will be Friday, Sept 26 at the home of Mrs. Tommie Green.

Ya-Wa-Ca Club

The Ya Wa Ca Club held its election Wednesday, Sept. 17 in the club rooms at the YWCA. Mrs. Cuba Tredwell succeeded Mrs. Oma Furgerson as president of the club. Other officers are: Louise Harmon, vice president; Mrs. Bishop Burt, secretary; Mrs. David Davis, treasurer; and Mrs. Robert Scott, Member of the Inter Club Council.

Preceding the election a pot luck supper was served honoring Mrs. Ruth Chambers who replaced Miss Elizabeth McNary as Executive Secretary of the YWCA. Mrs. Chambers gave a talk on the "YWCA in Hawaii". Purple zenias and white tapers served as centerpieces for the guest table.

The Ya Wa Ca Club meets the first and third Wednesday of each month. In a statement to the Post

Mrs. Tredwell urged: "The YWCA offers many opportunities for the women of our community. The Ya Wa Ca Club is one way to take advantage of these opportunities. The membership is open. All women who are interested are invited to join."

Golden Chain Sewing Circle

The Golden Chain Sewing Circle held a meeting Thursday, September 18 at the home of Mrs. Thelmore Ross. The next meeting will be held Thursday, Sept. 25 at the home of Mrs. Owen Hughes.

Sentence Sermons

By REV. FRANK CLARENCE LOWRY for ANP

The Milwaukee Road, with its magic Push Button Hum Yard, has in railroad science really started.

This evidence comes by rapturous approval from all who have been on the scene, whose knowledge of railroading could foresee what this advanced step is going to mean.

Its hidden potentialities stagger the imagination, as one sees before his eyes the rewards that patience, perseverance and ingenuity so elaborately supplies.

This high achievement in the industrial world is a challenge of faith that the Christian Church should possess, and with God, the motivating influence, its accomplishments should be no loss.

No natural or material gains should ever surpass the things done for God; but this too often happens because religious followers become slipshod.

In fact, the greatest spiritual achievements have been wrought in an earlier age, when servants of God lived real close to Him and in heavenly things engaged.

They too enjoyed a Push Button arrangement . . . but even greater than remote control; for some of the feats these men accomplished were when they were very old.

For instance, take Daniel of the younger group, to the lions he was thrown, as the King went off to bed; but ah, he not only kept the King awake, but the lions unfed.

See the Hebrew children in the fiery furnace, with no fire alarm at hand, but perfectly calm and comfortable as if under an electric fan.

Then take a look at Moses, with just a rod dividing the Red Sea making a path for the Children of Israel to walk dryshod, and from their enemy flee.

All of these feats and many more, were directed by God' remote control store; so any individual who keeps close contact with Him, just cannot lose, but must surely win.

Push Button control is the latest for this day . . . but God's power excels this in every way; He spoke this earth into existence, and all the armies of this world can't match His resistance.

Sermon of The Week

by Rev. Harold Brown

WHO IS THERE AMONG YOU OF ALL HIS PEOPLE? HIS GOD BE WITH HIM, AND LET HIM GO UP TO JERUSALEM, WHICH IS IN JUDAH, AND BUILD THE HOUSE OF THE LORD GOD OF ISRAEL, WHICH IS IN JERUSALEM. EZRA 1:3
THEY SHALL ASK THE WAY TO ZION WITH THEIR FACES THITHEWARD.

Rev. Harold Brown

Cyrus, the Babylonian king who succeeded Nebuchadnezzar, gave the enslaved, captured Israelites, privilege to return to Jerusalem and rebuild the house of the Lord God of Heaven. He gave them all the golden and silver vessels that were moved from the temple.

The children of Israel were free thy were overflowing with joy and they anticipated more joy when they reached again the borders of their homeland, which lay about five hundred miles toward the going down of the sun.

The big question in their minds was: Which way is Zion? They knew the direction but the road that led across the desert, around the mountains, through valleys, was unknown to them, therefore they asked the way to Zion.

The WAY TO ZION—Zion was the hills on which Jerusalem was built; sometimes it designated the Temple; sometimes Jerusalem. Here we use it as referring to Heaven, the Temple not made with hands, the city of the great King, the new Jerusalem.

As we stand here upon the beginning of another year, having meen emancipated from the bondage of the past year; not by Cyrus the favorable Babylonian king, but by time. As we look back over the year 1952 we remember our path were filled with a mixture of events — both joy and sorrow; some of our friends and relatives were cut down by the angel and messenger, death. We followed them to their last resting place returning we exclaimed: LORD, THY WILL BE DONE, NOT MINE—so we sum up all the activities of the past year and say: Through many dangers toils and fears I have already come; Friends were mighty nice to me and I had quite a few—but it was grace that brought me safe thus far and grace shall lead me home.

So, we are on our way to Zion —Every once in a while we meet with a Zion traveler. But as we go we come in contact with others who want to go with us. No one can go to Zion until he goes through the ordeal of regeneration.

One must hear the word of God, he must decide to turn from sin to God — this is what we call repentance. Turning from sin in repentance, turning to God is faith. This is man's act in regeneration.

The prophet Isaih says: Let the wiced forsake his way, and the unrighteous man his thoughts, and let him return unto the Lord, and he will have mercy upon him; and our God, for he will abundantly pardon. Is. 55:7. The forgiveness of sin on the part of God—changes the individual. He has an intellectual change; a change of view — a recognition of sin as involving personal guilt. (2) He has an emotional change: a change of feeling. (3) A change of purpose. This change of purpose evoes this prayer: Create in me a clean heart, Oh God, and renew the right spirit within me.

So, if we have such a person that want to Go to Zion with us we want him to know that he will not have a big crowd. Jesus said: Enter ye in at the straight gate; for wide is the gate, and broad is the way that leadeth to destruction, and many there which go in thereat: Because straight is the gate, and narrow is the way which leadeth unto life, and few there be that find it. Matt. 7:13,14.

YOUR TEETH AND YOUR LIFE

by Dr. Robert F. Harvey

Hypoplasia

Hypoplasia, or atrophy of the teeth, is a deformed condition of any portion of the tooth because of an arrested development or through failure of proper development of the teeth. In this condition the enamel surface is more or less covered with pits, fissures, or grooves. The enamel is quite defective and reduced in size. White or dark areas on the teeth and distorted tooth forms often are associated with the condition. Quite often this condition is a result of some illness that interfered with nutrition during the developing stage of the teeth.

The type of atrophy showing the notched appearance of edges of the anterior teeth became known as the Hutchinson tooth and is of particular diagnostic value to the dentist.

Hypoplasia is more often found in the permanent teeth than in the primary or "milk" teeth and more often in the front teeth than in the posterior ones. Where this blemish is exposed in a prominent position and where the dentin is involved a filling should be inserted.

This condition may be so disturbing as to interfere with the social enjoyment of many besides marring beauty and developing a retiring personality. With the proper dental care you can change your whole social outlook.

MAN CLEARED AT BEDSIDE STILL SUES FOR $500,000

New York (CNS)—The hearing was at a bedside and the accused, a Negro was receiving a blood transfusion. But in the end Magistrate Clarence E. Wilson ruled that the patient, Arthur Battles, was innocent and he dismissed the charges against him. And in a dramatic turnabout, the cop who had crippled Battles in trying to arrest him, was held on a felonious assault charge.

The drama took place in the prison ward of Kings County Hospital, Brooklyn, where Arthur Battles, 34, has been a prisoner patient since May 25th. On that day he was shot in the spine and paralyzed by four cops invading his home in search of a service revolver which one had lost the night before. They claimed Battles pulled a knife on them and that's why they fired.

Battles said he had no gun and that the cops had no warrant and furthermore no gun was found. Battles was cleared and the cop, who fired the shot that lodged in his spine — Patrolman Stanley W. Davis — was told to consider himself under arrest.

Meanwhile, Battles will continue his civil suit of $500,000 against the city of New York.

SPORTS . . . SHORTS

PRO-TEAMS OPEN SUNDAY ALL HAVE NEGRO PLAYERS EXCEPT WASHINGTON REDSKINS

Chicago (ANP)—Although the talk is about college football, pro football, too, has its official opening this week — Sunday, September 28 and Monday, September 29. This date is the closing day of the baseball season except for the World Series.

Opening schedule for the play for pay boys is:

- Chicago Bears at Green Bay Packers
- Detroit Lions at San Francisco 49ers
- Los Angeles Rams at Cleveland Browns
- New York Giants at Dallas Texas
- Philadelphia Eagles at Pittsburgh Steelers
- Washington Redskins at Chicago Cardinals (Sept 29)

All teams but the Washington Redskins opened spring training camps with at least one Negro player on the squad. Who stuck and who failed will not be determined finally until the players take the field Sunday.

Big Game of course is the one between the Los Angeles Rams, the champs of the National league, and the Cleveland Browns, the team the Rams beat for the title. They play in Cleveland, so the Huddle picks the Browns. Neither squad however, has shown as much during the exhibition season as has been expected from them. These squads feature more colored players than any other pro teams.

Another crucial game pits two teams who have thundered through the exhibition season undefeated, the Detroit Lions at the San Francisco 49ers. The 49ers have been runnersup often, but never champs. This may be their season. They will win.

The fabulous Chicago Bears will take care of their traditional foes, the Green Bay Packers. The New York Giants will be too much for the Dallas Texans despite the antics of Buddy Young and George Taliaferro.

The Philadelphia Eagles may prove a sleeper team in the race this season. They should stop the Pittsburgh Steelers. The Chicago Cardinals with Ollie Matson will have a good start at the expense of the Washington Redskins.

JETHROE HELPS DODGER' PENNANT CHANCES

Boston, Mass. (CNS)—He didn't mean to but Sam Jethroe, outfielder for the Boston Braves, helped his old teammates win an important victory in their last pennant drive. When Jethroe came up to face Joe Black, who was on the hill for the Dodgers, two men were out and nobody on. The Dodgers were leading 4 to 2 — eighth inning — but the runs couldn't count unless the inning was finished. This was a game that had been stopped twice because of rain. As Sam stepped in, the ominous rains neared. On a 3-1 pitch he hit for an easy out just one moment before the deluge came. Had Jethroe stalled even a moment, the game would have been called and reverted back to the 2-2 tie at the end of the seventh inning.

GIANTS FIRST TO SELL SERIES TIX

New York (CNS)—Hoping that they are not putting the whammy on their club, the New York Giants still went ahead to accept orders for the World Series, and thereby became the first New York club selling tickets. Neither the first place Dodgers nor the first place Yankees are open for business yet. Explained club President Horace Stoneham: "Only by this early acceptance of orders can we assure the fans of good service. Last year the Giant ticket office ran into considerable trouble with a last-second rush and it doesn't wish to get into that difficulty again."

INDIANS HOPE "DAMN YANKS" LOSE WHILE THEY WIN

Cleveland, Ohio (CNS)—The Indians have only one formula now for the American League championship—that the "damn yanks" lose while they win. Hurt that the Tigers couldn't take at least one game from the Yankees, the Indians know this is a hard formula to put into practice but they are hopeful. For even though the Yankees have won their last six ball games and are a hot club, Cleveland still hasn't given up.

"I've seen hot clubs chill just like that," explained manager Lopez with a hopeful lilt in his voice. Meanwhile he's having his players work overtime to try to win every remaining game. Harry Simpson, especially, was out for early batting practice.

And if you ask the Indians about next year, as if you've given up the present one, they only bark at you. "We're trying to win this year!"

NAACP Asks N. Jersey To Investigate Beating Of Pearl Bailey

Frt Lee, N. J. (ANP)—The NAACP in a letter signed by the executive secretary Walter White has filed a complaint with Gov. Alfred E. Driscoll of New Jersey demanding a complete investigation of the beating of singer Pearl Bailey here early last week.

Miss Bailey was beaten and bruised early in the morning of Sept. 16 after attending the swank Bill Miller's Riviera to see Frank Sinatra, a good friend of hers, perform.

A white thug beat her, reportedly because she did not like certain racial digs they made against her. Because of the brutality and severity of the beating, Miss Bailey was forced to cancel an engagement at a club in Providence, R.I., scheduled to begin Sept. 15 at night.

Although several patrons of the Riviera came to Miss Bailey's rescue, her chief attacker or attackers escaped.

She is now under medical care at her home.

The NAACP telegram said the association was "shocked by the vicious hate-inspired attack—and distressed by the failure of local authorities to apprehend her assailants."

According to Nathan Allyn, acting detective chief of Bergen county, a man approached Miss Bailey in the club's lobby, then grabbed her throat and beat her. She got away, but he caught her again, knocked her down and kicked her.

SELF SERVICE FASHIONS

When "King" Sullen opened his first super market in an abandoned Long Island garage in 1930, no one dreamed that it was the beginning of new merchandising techniques which would eventually invade the fashion field.

The self-service system was an immediate success in the grocery business, and later in drug and variety stores. Housewives like the idea of shopping leisurely, comparing prices and the relatively cheaper prices in the self-service store.

After World War II Nathan Orbach got the idea that such a system should work in the fashion field as well. Since that time several other stores, some chain, have been operating with reasonable success in cities throughout the country.

Now, there are some women who just can't make up their minds, and must have the assistance and reassurance not only of the salesgirl, but of as many of her friends and relatives as she can inveigle into going shopping with her. Obviously this type of merchandising is not for her.

But for the gal who likes to do her own "pickin' and chosin'" this is tops. There are no loitering salesgirls around ready to "rush you" the moment you just look in the direction of a cute little number, and there are literally thousands of dresses from which to select.

One word of warning — be sure to wear your prettiest underpinnings if you plan to try dresses on, for there just might be as many as a hundred women sharing the oversized dressing room with you. This is another way the store cuts down on customer service and brings the prices down.

Naturally the clothes found in this type store are generally inexpensive, for that is a major appeal of this selfservice system, but if one shops carefully, knows quality, and knows what lines are most becoming to her particular figure type, she can manage to look smart.

Even if one never shops in a selfservice clothing store, the principle of this type merchandising has certainly awakened us to the realization that women everywhere will do well to study their particular types with the same diligence that they would apply to the rules of the most exacting bridge game.

The time is disappearing when we can depend upon the advice of the salesgirl. To tell the truth, it was always a rather dubious method because many salesgirls are more interested in the size of the commission that will be forthcoming from the results of the sale than they are in the becomingness of the style to the purchaser. After all, how else can one account for the wearing of some fashions we occasionally see?

EXCHANGE TEACHER IN SCOTLAND

Miss Doris M. Dobbins of Florence, N. J. is sailing across the Atlantic ocean for Scotland. There she will be an exchange teacher at the Whitlets school in Ayr, the birthplace of the famed poet, Robert Burns. Miss Dobbins will replace Miss Margaret Kennedy of Scotland with Miss Kennedy coming to Florence, N. J. to teach third grade at Florence School No. 1.

Both teachers are exchanging roles under a Fulbright grant. Miss Dobbins at home is recording secretary of Pi chapter, Trenton, N. J., of the national sorority of Phi Delta Kappa, a teachers group; vice president of the Florence Township Teachers association, a member of the Trenton Branch NAACP, and active in other community projects.

Soldier's Cheer

My dear Mrs. Potter,
I write you this letter to let you know how glad I am to still be receiving the Waterloo Post. It makes me feel so good to know that there are people in the world who think enough of us boys in the service to be sending the things like the papers and the little poems you put in them. Sort of gives you a little will power to keep going.

Pvt. James W. Anderson
Dear Mrs. Potter,

I received your letter and the Waterloo Post today and I was very glad to receive them. The paper was really interesting this week. I know the other boys enjoyed reading it as well as I did.

Pvt. Nathaniel Taylor
Dear Mrs. Potter,
I get every edition of the Waterloo Post. I like to read the service column to see who's home on furlough, who's entering service.

Cpl. Mack Cook
Tell all the folks hello for me.
Pfc. Chas. Griggs

Dear Mrs. Potter,
I liked that poem about the four leaf clover you sent to me. I think it was very pretty. I would like to thank you for it. I have been passing the Waterloo Post around to some of the guys that are from the Midwest.

Charles Murphy, S.N.
In a recent letter to the Waterloo Post, Pfc. Arthur Alexander of Camp Edwards, Mass. informed us that he will soon be leaving for a new post.

He is a member of the AA units of the 2nd GP. The 2nd GP is one of the elements of the 5th AA Brigade, which has its headquarters at Ft. Devens. In leaving the post for their new assignment, the GP will be fulfilling the motto of the unit, "Whatever the Task."

A Double Duty Dessert

One of the basic problems of every mother is that of feeding her family. The big question is how to cook a meal that will not be too rich for the children and too bland for the adults. Shown above is an example of what one mother does with a dessert.

The basic dessert is a creamy tapioca pudding. On the left you see it decorated for adults with a layer of chocolate sauce to make a parfait. On the right the tapioca is fixed up for the youngsters with a spoon of bright jelly topped by an animal cracker.

What adult or child can refuse these desserts? —(ANP)
HOW TO PLAN MEALS TO THRILL THE YOUNG, PLEASE THE ADULTS

One of the most vexing problems for many meal planners is that of providing adequately for both adults and small children without having to cook two separate meals. It's obvious that tiny tots cannot be given the rich and hearty foods which many adults enjoy—and it is equally apparent that most robust grown-ups do not relish the bland foods usually prescribed for smaller children. Many a homemaker knows this problem intimately—and she knows, also that she does not want to spend all her time in the kitchen preparing two distinct meals. The answer to this problem is found where we find the answer to so many others—in a compromise.

But how does one compromise this kind of thing? Here's how—in meal planning one leans heavily upon the many dishes that both adults and children can enjoy and those which, with a minor change can be made to suit both age groups. A good example of this is pictured elsewhere on this page. Here we have a basic pudding, creamy tapioca, where one half of the recipe is layered with chocolate sauce, making a delicious parfait for adults. The other half is being "dressed up" for the children. The simple "dressing up" is a spoonful of bright jelly with an animal cracker atop for good measure. This is only one of the many ways to vary a basic tapioca pudding.

Other ways it may be served are: for children, top with apple sauce or sliced bananas, or any fruit permitted in the child's diet—for adults, fold whipped cream into chilled pudding and place in dessert dishes alternately with butterscotch or other dessert sauce and garnish with whipped cream.

Soups, souffles, simple meat loaves, vegetables and many other dishes may be enjoyed by both adults and children—both ages benefitting by the shared "companionship at mealtime."

Judicious use of Roquefort cheese adds zest to a broiled steak, notes American Home Magazine. They suggest before cooking, make several incisions in the meat and pack them with the cheese. Another hint: Smother the sizzling steak with butter pats laced with chopped chives.
