Stranger in Town Jailed on Charges Of Assault

A charge of assault with intent to commit great bodily injury was filed Wednesday against a 41-year-old man who committed a clawhammer attack on a Des Moines man.

The victim, Carl J. Meyer, 44, suffered numerous arm and leg cuts in the fray reported to police at 12:23 a.m. Wednesday. He was treated at St. Francis hospital and released.

Hoskins told police he wielded the hammer against Meyer when the two argued in Meyer's car parked in the 300 block of Eates St.

Assistant County Attorney Don Frank filed the charges in municipal court against Bennie Hoskins of 331 Bates St., Bond was set at $1,000.

EX-COP WHO KILLED 2 NEGOES, NOW GUILTY OF GUN CHARGE

New York (CNS) — Stanley La Bensky, a former cop, who was acquitted last June of a murder charge in the shooting of two Negroes in a Yonkers bar room, is still feeling repercussions from that sensational trial. La Bensky has been found guilty this week of illegal possession of two guns, one of which, a 28 calibre Spanish automatic, was used in the killing of two Negroes.

Parents Keep Children Home From School

Washington, D.C. (CNS) — The all Negro Payne Elementary School could only pretend carrying on business as usual this week for though teachers, clerks and Principal appeared at school at the usual morning time, there were no children to teach.

Hundreds of children in this much overcrowded school were being kept at home by enraged parents who say, "We can't do anything else but strike. We've talked and talked and we don't get anywhere. We told them there would not be enough room for our children in this school with an eight room addition. We told them they were wasting money to build the addition. We told them they were wasting money to build the addition. They wouldn't listen to us. We can't do anything else but strike."

School officials call this strike "deplorable" and School Board members are fuming. Since it is embarrassing to the new administration in Washington, Senator Francis Case, who is chairman of the Senate District Committee has entered the picture by sending the committee clerk over to the Payne neighborhood to get the facts. Senator Case is also exploring ways "to see if this matter can be straightened out."

Meanwhile the parents of children going to the Payne school, picket the school quietly from 8:30 until 9:15 in the morning and from 12:30 until 1:15 in the afternoon. Two policemen stand at the corner to see that order is preserved. A few children cross the picket line furtively as if they know they are wrong in not staying out with the rest. As to how long the strike will last, parents say they do not know. It depends on when and if their demands are met.

Red Cross Needs Nurses' Aides Death Takes Two Waterloo Women Over Week-End

Civil defense mobilization is protection against many war-caused dangers, not just protection against possible bombings. A major danger is our hospital's inability to continue to provide adequate medical care to meet everyday needs, much less meet enemy-caused emergencies.

Civil defense authorities have asked the Red Cross to train thousands of nurse's aides so that every community's hospitals will be assured of the much-needed, specialized help these trained volunteers provide. Officials of the local Civil Defense have requested your chapter to train an unlimited number and classes to provide this training will start March 2 at 7:30 P.M. at Allen Memorial Hospital.

This will be the prescribed American Red Cross course and will be taught by Miss Wilma Hackbart, R. N., supervisor of obstetrics at Allen Memorial Hospital. Part of the 80 hours of training will include supervised practice in St. Francis Hospital, Schoitz Memorial Hospital and Allen Memorial Hospital, where volunteers will learn to apply classroom experience to actual situations.

Such assistance was recognized as a vital contribution to hospital staffs during the critical nurse and doctor shortages of World War II — shortages which never were fully overcome and which will increase with the present emergency. Now, facing increasing shortages of staff, and as a preparation for the sudden medical care demand that enemy attack would create, it is urgent that training quotas be met to fill requests for nurses' aides.

Candidates for this service may register either by phone 3-3593 or come in person on Registration Day February 20th to the Black Hawk County Chapter office, 412 E. 4th Street, Friday, February 20th from 9:00 A. M. to 5:00 P.M. will be the final day for enrolling in the class beginning March 2nd.

Candidates for this course must be between the ages of 18 and 55, must be in good health in order to pass the complete physical examination required, have a high school education or its equivalent, before they are accepted for training.

There is no cost other than the blue and white uniforms and white shoes.

Two of Waterloo's best loved and respected women died over the week-end with rites being held at the Antioch Baptist Church. Rev. Samuel Davis officiating.

Mrs. Bertha Shelton one of the two who passed, leaves as survivors, Mrs. Hortense Anderson, 1003 Beech St., also two sisters, Mrs. Clara Pickett, of Oakland Calif., and Mrs. Maybell O'Guin, Strong, Ark., one half-brother, Lafayette Puffin, Washington D.C., and two grandsons.

Rites were held for Mrs. Shelton Wednesday at 3 p.m.

Mrs. Shelton died of a stroke Thursday night in St. Francis hospital.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Grandberry, she was born June 13, 1900, at Reiderwood, Ala., and was married in 1915 to Paul Shelton, she was a member of Antioch Baptist church, and resided here for the past 34 years.

Mrs. Sarah Oliver Finley, the other to pass, died Monday at 2:30 p.m. at her home at 1225 E. 4th St., of a heart ailment. She had been ill since May of last year.

She was born April 22, 1887 at Oxford, Miss. She had lived in Waterloo since 1917. She was married to George Collins in 1922 and, following a divorce, was later married to Alonzo Finley.

She was a member of Antioch Baptist Church.

Surviving are her husband; a son, Robert T. Collins, Keokuk,

Iowa, and a brother, Robert Oliver, Chicago.

Services for Mrs. Finley were held today at 1:30 p.m. at Antioch Baptist church.

Gets Six Months On Assault Charges

Isam McClain, Waterloo, 32, of 620 Mobile St., was sentenced to six months in the Black Hawk county jail, when he pleaded guilty Tuesday morning before District Judge George C. Heath to a charge of assault with intent to great bodily injury.

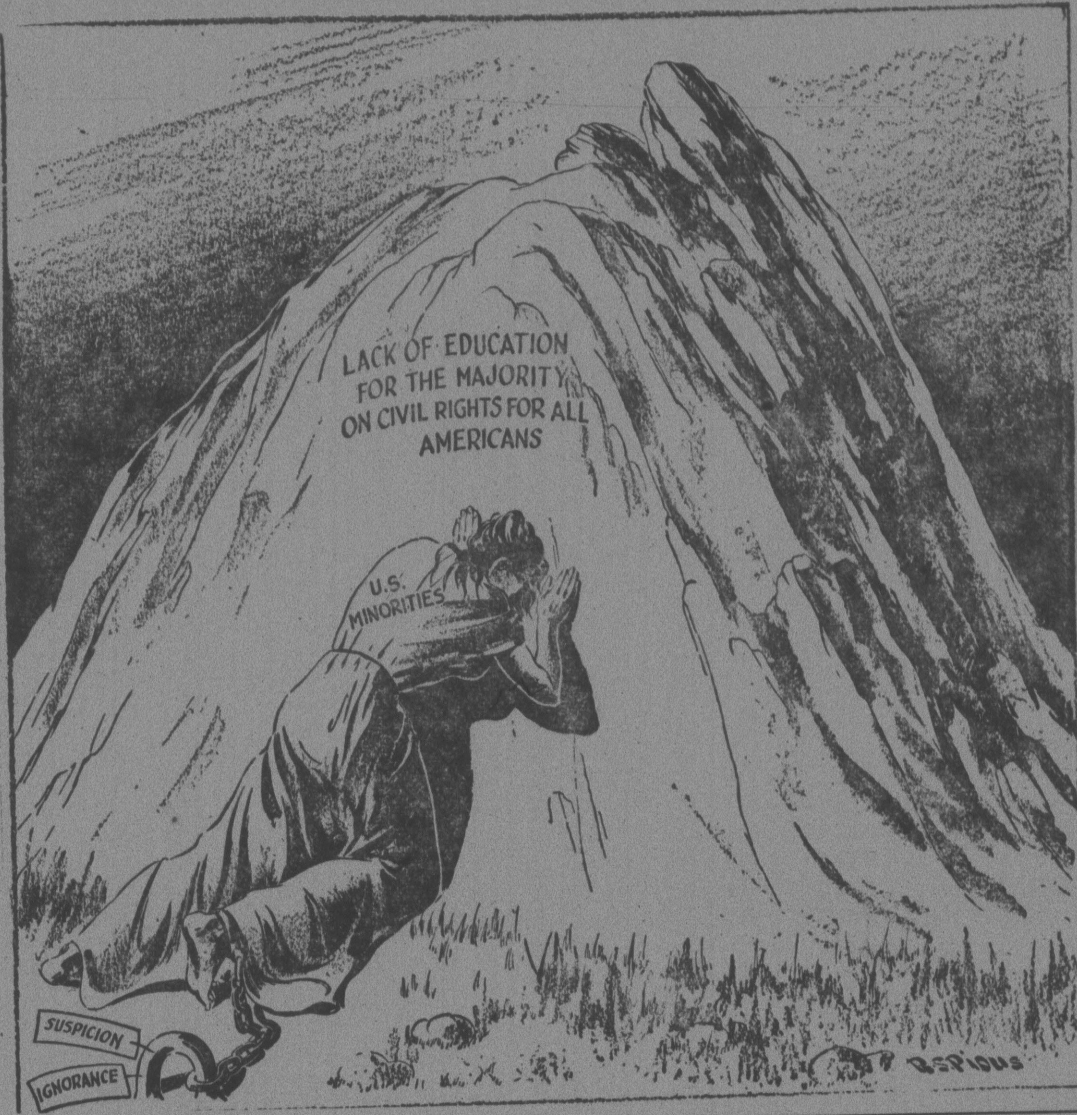

The court was told by Don Frank, assistant county attorney, that the defendant had attacked three men when McClain became angry because they would not roll dice with him.

McClain wanted to "shoot craps" with Curtis Mosely of 820 Beech St., Arthur Williams of 125 Bates St. and Anderson Walker of 614 Glenwood St., in a shed at the rear of 111 Oneida St., on January 21. When they refused he lunged at them with his knife and slashed his own hand as well as Williams' shirt and hat, the court was told.

McClain had a previous record, the prosecutor related.

Fashion Trends

by Freddye S. Henderson

YEARS AGO A YOUNG MAN WROTE A SONG in which he said he was going to buy himself a paper doll because he could not "flirt with fellows." If he were alive today he would not feel so confident if he viewed the current crop of dolls on the market.

Indeed, the dolls of today do almost everything except "flirt." Judging from the provocative way in which some open and close their eyes one can not be too sure that there is not some motivating force behind the action.

Dolls have always been a favorite with youngsters, and have been in use since the earliest times. These of early Greek and Roman children were found buried with them in their tombs. But never before in history have there been so many varied types to delight the youngsters, and play havoc with the family budget.

Dolls have undergone a sort of metamorphosis. Since the popular rag doll of grandmother's day they have done a growing up process not unlike that of real children. Children were delighted with miniature babies that could go to sleep. (What young mother is not?)

Then there was the stage of standing and then walking dolls, the dolls who could drink from a bottle and wet their pants; the talking stage—first mamma and papa and then the prolonged monologue. Really, there is little left for dolls to do.

That being the case, it is only natural that this year the emphasis in doll land would be on the wardrobe. This year there are clothes of dolly that would make a woman on the Best Dressed List stand up and take notice.

There are complete wardrobes—and I do mean complete. Anything the little doll heart could desire, from nylon socks and undies to dresses, hats, coats, shoes, bags and gloves. Specialty items such as skiing, skating majorette and bathing suits can all be had for a price. And, believe me, price is no small item. A single dress may run as high as $5.98 for a 16-inch doll.

There is even a little mink coat—for the very discriminating dolls, of course. They have their price, too, $300, in case you are interested.

Yes, the song writer would be surprised to know that if the dolls can not "flirt", it certainly is not the fault of the wardrobe.

GOLDEN COLORS NEW SPRING NOTE

New York (CNS) — It's the Golden Girl that's about to come into her own this spring. We mean golden colors, of course. Such sun-ripened shades as yellow gold, apricot, tawny beige or burnt caramel — these are about to burst all over.

Of these golden colors, there's at least one for each brownskin. But no brownskin we believe can wear all three. That's simply because each brownskin varies in the degree of yellow or red hues she has in her skin. Thus pick your gold color to complement your own particular skin tone. And try it carefully against you before you make that final decision.

From Paris . . . A new bonnet woven of the baboo rushes a la basket. It's airy, and it's intricately designed, too. And it it needs repairing, impractical Paris suggests the basket weavers as the best to do the job. The basket bonnet is tres chic and we have note Spring sailors and clothes. This we suggest only for those who must be very, very different.
