COMMITTEE REPRESENTATIVES:

Madhwar Raj-1989 Program/Local Arrangements
David W. Hamilton-Publications Committee
Howard Nankin-Future Meeting & 1990 Meeting
Chairman
Philip Troen-International Affairs
Glen Cunningham-1988 Program/Local Arrangements

The meeting was called to order by President Ewing, and the Agenda was presented.

I. MINUTES OF THE EXECUTIVE COUNCIL MEETING-MARCH 5, 1987

A. The revised minutes were distributed and accepted.

II. TREASURER'S REPORT

The interim Treasurer's Report, dated October 5, 1987, was reviewed and is included with these Minutes. The report, as given by Treasurer Vickery, was accepted and approved.

Item I

III. EXECUTIVE SECRETARY'S REPORT

(Given by President Ewing)

- A. An overview of this one-year experiment was reviewed. Miguel Ficher has carried out the following matters:

Printing of stationery
Revision and printing of By-Laws
Completion of the first mailings
Mailing of Letters of Acceptance to new members
Development of new mailing lists

Presently, ballots and envelopes are being prepared.

- B. The status of the mailing lists was discussed. Presently, there appears to be three lists:

Treasurer Vickery's List
Philip Troen's List
Lippincott's List

Miguel Ficher will attempt to synthesize a single list so that there is no inconsistency and/or overlap. This will be his major effort over the next few months.

- C. President Ewing introduced a proposal from Dairy Science, dated September 18, 1987. This proposal would utilize the services of Dairy Science as a central office and executive secretary. Dairy Science has provided this service for a number of small societies including Animal Science and SSR. In addition, they manage seven journals.

A copy of their extensive proposal was presented by President Ewing. Their services were comprehensive, and the fees were extremely reasonable and in keeping with the budget of the Society. (A copy of the Dairy Science Proposal is in the possession of President Ewing, and was issued for discussion only at this Council Meeting.)

- D. Wayne Bardin proposed to get another bid from a competitive company. He proposed FASEB of Bethesda, Maryland. He will contact these individuals to give a competitive proposal for the comprehensive services as outlined by Dairy Science.

- E. Joel Marmar introduced the fact that a word processing organization bid as high as $10,000 per year for these types of services. However, they do not have the experience of the two above-named organizations.

- F. It was the sense of the Committee that these proposals would be actively investigated and a report given to the Council by mail. This report will include a ballot so that Council can indicate their preference. Dr. Ewing will then initiate a contract with one of these two groups. Nevertheless, Miguel Ficher will be urged to work over the mailing list as his highest priority.

 Alternate - L. Johnson

Director 4:

R. Hammerstedt

3. Arnold Belker mentioned the fact that if new candidates or alternates were to be included, the decision should be in keeping with the specialty area or research area of the category of candidate.
4. The slate of candidates was accepted and approved by council.
5. A list of proposed chairpersons for ASA Committees was presented. These people will be contacted directly, and their approval will be sought out prior to public listing of their names.

Item 1

V. PUBLICATION COMMITTEE REPORT

A. Contract Negotiations.

1. Discussions are presently being held with Guilford Press, Alan R. Liss, and Lippincott.
2. A proposal was submitted by Guilford Press, however, after careful scrutiny, it was decided that the disadvantages of changing publishers outweighed the advantages. The Chairman, therefore, sent a letter to Guilford Press notifying them that we would continue with Lippincott and thanked them for their interest.
3. No proposal had been received from Alan R. Liss.
4. Preliminary draft of a new contract was being rewritten for Lippincott. A copy will be sent to them after discussions with Philip Troen and possibly an attorney. The negotiations with Lippincott will begin in earnest as soon as the company has an opportunity to digest the changes that ASA suggested.
 - a. The Editorial Committee, along with Dr. Troen and an attorney will work on many of the items discussed concerning the draft of the new contract. A final version will be presented to the Council at its next meeting.

B. Search for the new Editor-in-Chief.

1. Five persons had been nominated and contacted for this important position.
 - a. Three candidates have accepted consideration for this post.

Martin Dym
James Oyerstreet
William Bremner (still awaiting final decision)
 - b. Discussion was held concerning the format for reviewing the candidates. It was suggested that the candidates submit a proposal and make a personal appearance before the Editorial Committee. These matters will be discussed again at the next Council meeting.
 - c. A discussion followed which focused on the need to seek out an enthusiastic person for the post of Journal Editor. Furthermore, an attempt would be made either to rotate the post to a clinical person or else seek out associate editors to encourage authors to submit clinical papers.

Item 1

C. Other Comments.

- 1. Lippincott was notified of the Society's wish to buy an additional 32 pages for this year.
- 2. Page charges were increased $10 per page to cover costs associated with the increased pages.
- 3. Dr. Spyros Pavlou was appointed Associate Clinical Editor.
- 4. Royalties for this year increased 24%.

The report was approved and accepted.

VI. EDITOR'S REPORT

(Marie-Claire Orgebin-Crist)

A. Associate Editor Pavlou

- 1. Dr. Orgebin-Crist introduced the name of Dr. Pavlou as her new Associate Editor. He is presently in the Department of Medicine/Division of Endocrinology at Vanderbilt. He had prior training with Wayne Bardin at the Population Council. The Council welcomed Dr. Pavlou to his new post.

B. A discussion was opened by President Ewing concerning the Canadian Society of Andrology. Since they have no formal Journal and 140 members, it was proposed to open discussions with them to see if they would be willing to utilize the Journal of Andrology as their official journal.

- 1. President Ewing will contact the officers of the Canadian Society in order to develop some of these ideas. This approach was approved and accepted by the Council.

C. Dr. Orgebin-Crist submitted the following data for 1987.

- 1. 75 manuscripts were submitted; 20 were accepted, 20 were rejected, 16 revisions are pending, and 19 reviews are in progress.
- 2. Approximately 57 manuscripts will be published in 1987 for 432 manuscript pages, plus 48 pages for the program of the Annual Meeting (total pages 480). Although 32 additional pages were purchased for 1987, there is still a backlog of 6 manuscripts.

D. This report was accepted and approved, and the Council directed a vote of thanks and gratitude to Marie-Claire Orgebin-Crist for her excellent and devoted service to the Journal. It was indicated that this gesture be included in the Minutes.

- 3. Dr. Cunningham also proposed that Dr. Dhindsa speak about the grant process at NIH.
- 4. All of these workshops and symposia were well-received by the Council. However, it is now the task of Dr. Cunningham to see if he can fit all of this material into the program.

Item 1

2. Therefore, the Council will meet Friday afternoon and evening, March 25, 1988.

Item 1

C. 1990 and 1991 Meetings.

1. There was a discussion to possibly flip-flop these two meetings. In this way, the 1990 Meeting will be held in Charleston, South Carolina, and the 1991 Meeting will be held in Montreal in conjunction with the testis workshop.
 - a. The Council agreed to have the 1990 Meeting in Charleston during the month of March.

These will require further revision and discussion.

- a. Annual Meeting registration fees be lower for students who are members than for students who are not members. (Turned down.)
- b. A standard poster for advertising the American Society of Andrology be prepared. (This would require artwork on the part of the Committee which would have to be approved by Council. The Student Affairs Committee is encouraged to develop a standardized poster.)

(T. R. Brown)

A. Response to Questionnaires.

1. A questionnaire concerning the nominations procedures was mailed to all members of the Society.
 - a. The purpose was to poll the membership for thoughts and recommendations concerning the format for nominating candidates.
2. A total of 53 members responded. The overwhelming majority (40) were in favor of the present system of nominating two candidates for each office. Therefore, there was no need for any immediate By-Laws change regarding nomination of candidates.

B. Description of Awards.

1. President Ewing will instruct the By-Laws Committee to look at the language to see if there is any necessity for changes regarding the awards. This may be a joint effort of the Student Affairs Committee and the By-Laws Committee.

Dear David:

The Interim Board Meeting of the American Society of Andrology is scheduled for 10:00 AM - 5:00 PM in the Chicago O'Hare Hilton (312/686-8000), O'Hare International Airport, Chicago, IL on October 17, 1987. Please inquire at the desk for the number of the meeting room. Plan on a full day for the meeting.

Please remember that you are responsible for arranging for hotel accommodations should an overnight stay be necessary. Be advised that the airfare may be significantly cheaper if you stay over Saturday night. Also, please recall that ASA cannot reimburse you for expenses incurred for this trip.

Please prepare a report of the Publication's Committee. Two major issues should be: 1) Negotiations with Lippincott, and 2) recommendation for a new Editor-In-Chief of the Journal of Andrology. David, please send me your written report by October 1, 1987 so that I may xerox and send it to Board members. I look forward to our meeting.

Sincerely,

MEMORANDUM

TO: Drs. Wayne Bardin and Larry Ewing
FROM: David Hamilton
RE: American Journal of Andrology Contract

I have made additions and deletions to the agreement between the American Society of Andrology and the J.B. Lippincott Company and am sending this draft to both of you for further comment and/or changes (since one or both of you will have to sign it). I have left in the wording in the previous agreement, but have crossed it out in places where it is to be changed. New additions are in boldface.

I have comments that relate to the numbers in my handwriting on the left hand side of the pages.

(1) Should the name of the journal be changed to reflect more clearly that it is catering to both basic and clinical studies? Perhaps it could be something such as "The Journal of Basic and Clinical Andrology".

(2) I am in favor of removing this clause, although I would be happy with the changes that I have made. It seems to me that the previous contract in fact states that we really did not want advertisements in the journal, while lately we have been screaming at Lippincott because of the lack of advertisements. It is somewhat inconsistent.

(3) This clause is added and attempts to reflect the comments by Wayne that we need to come to an agreement on what we pay to the publisher. I would hope that Wayne could change this significantly to more accurately reflect his ideas. There is inconsistency between this clause and clause 7(b), and I doubt that Lippincott will agree to this under any circumstances.

(4) I don't see the reason for semi-annual subscriptions. It would be best from the bookkeeping point of view, I would think, to have them be annual subscriptions starting with the first issue following the subscription date.

(5) I have underlined the word libelous. It seems to me that this clause removes all responsibility from the publisher and puts all responsibility on the society (and, therefore, on the membership). Should something be added relating to liability insurance that is equally shared by the society and the publisher?

I have cleverly put off sending this until such time that you will get it for over the weekend work. Therefore, I will call you on Monday to get your responses. If need be, we will arrange a conference call. Subsequent to our conversations and your input, I will send a draft to Jay Lippincott for his comments. I think that by the time of the October meeting we should have a finalized draft ready to be considered by the Executive Committee.

MEMORANDUM

RECEIVED
JUL 05 1988

CELL BIOLOGY

To: Officers, Board Members
and Committee Chairpersons

Date: June 27, 1988

From: C. Wayne Bardin

Subject: Interim Council Meeting

Please note the following:

1. After two votes and a runoff, it would appear that Saturday, September 24th has won the nod for the date for the Interim Council Meeting. Material for that Council meeting will be mailed to you on September 6th from my office.

2. I will have to receive the information and reports for the agenda no later than Wednesday, August 31, to allow several days for duplication.

3. This material will be mailed to you on September 6th from my office.

4. The Interim Council meeting will be held at the Henry VIII Hotel, five minutes from the airport in St. Louis, Missouri. The hotel has a bus that will pick you up at the airport. For those of you who wish to stay over Saturday night to reduce the cost of air travel, we have obtained room rates of $45.00 (single) and $50.00 (double). The hotel has two restaurants, night clubs, two pools, jogging tracks, etc.

5. Please call the hotel to make reservations, (314) 731-3040; mention that you are with the American Society for Andrology to obtain the low rate.

6. Make plane reservations now to assure the lowest rate.

7. Confirm with my office in August whether you will attend.

8. One item for the agenda will be whether the Society should pay travel expenses for such meetings. It has been the custom that everyone paid their own way, when the Society was poor. We will discuss the merits of change.

American Society of Andrology

Publication Committee

OLD BUSINESS.

Contract Negotiations. The contract (attached), essentially as distributed at the last year, is in Lippincott's hands and we are awaiting their comments. Phil Troen, Larry Ewing and I met with Jay Lippincott at the beginning of March and there do not seem to be many points of contention.

The major new feature that we are negotiating is that we are asking for a profit-sharing rather than a royalty based return to the Society. As part of this we are asking for full coverage of costs associated with the editorial office (including money for liability insurance premium), and 50/50 sharing of profits or losses at the end of the year. If there are losses, the Society's share would be charged against future profits and not directly to the Society.

Editor in Chief. Jim Overstreet asked to withdraw his name from consideration late last year for very valid and understandable reasons. Since that time I have talked to almost every clinical andrologist in the country and have received uniform "no" responses, again for very valid reasons. Recently, however, Kevin Catt at NIH has agreed to assume the job and I am beginning to negotiate with him to see whether we can bring it to a closure. Please give me a reaction to Kevin's candidacy.

NEW BUSINESS.

At the Council meeting in Houston a number of issues were referred to the Publication Committee for advice and/or resolution. In turn, I will pass some of the issues to the Finance Committee, which now has the charge for long-term planning for the Society.

Ethical Considerations. Dr. Orgebin-Crist has asked that we consider whether or not a statement such as that used in Endocrinology (see attached) is appropriate or advisable for Journal of Andrology. The attached statement addresses ethical issues related to the conduct and presentation of data and responsibilities of the authors, but not ethical issues related to the type of research being reported. I would appreciate your comments as well as possible wording for a statement for the JoA if you agree that one should be written.

Waiver of Page Charges. The editorial office receives a few requests for waiver of page charges each year, usually from investigators in developing countries where research funds are very restricted. Sometimes, however, requests come from developed countries, where the major granting body has a policy of not paying page charges. The Council debated this issue for sometime and it was clear that there was little sympathy for government granting bodies calling the shots, but there was considerable sympathy for those without funds. As part of the contract negotiation with Lippincott we are asking for the ability to waive page charges on 4% of pages per volume (at the discretion of the editor) without penalty. We have been asked to develop a set of principles governing waiving of page charges. As a first step I would suggest the following:

1. Page charges may be waived on the basis of demonstrated need on the part of the author(s).
2. Page charges will not be waived on the basis of governmental policy not to pay page charges.

3. Page charges can be waived at the discretion of the Editor-in-Chief based on the above two principles.

Please let me know how you feel about this.

Addition of Statement to Journal. Dr. Orgebin-Crist has asked that she be allowed to add the following statement to Instructions to Authors:

The Society endorses the principles expressed in the Declaration of Helsinki and expects that clinical research reported in the Journal will have been conducted in accordance with those principles.

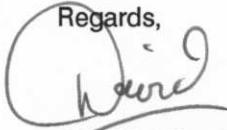

Please advise.

Form for Authors. Dr. Orgebin-Crist has requested that we develop a form for authors to sign stating that the research they have done conforms to the principles of animal care endorsed by the National Society for Medical Research and the NIH (and that institutional endorsement has been obtained), and that human experimentation has been conducted in accordance with the principles expressed in the Declaration of Helsinki (and that institutional endorsement has been obtained). My suggestion for this is attached.

Institutional Affiliation. One manuscript was received last year in which the author listed no institutional affiliation. It was returned on the basis that the JoA only publishes articles "... from accredited institutions where research is performed in accordance with accepted ethical norms." This issue was discussed at the Council meeting and clinical members were concerned because a policy such as this could exclude the practicing physician who wanted to publish a case report, etc. In part this can be resolved by the previous issue of signing a form stating that the research conforms to standards of humane animal care and human experimentation, but there may be issues buried here that I do not appreciate. Please think about this and give me your advice.

As you can see, I need responses from you. Hopefully, these issues can be resolved in the very near future!!

David W. Hamilton PhD

Item 5

ETHICAL CONSIDERATIONS

The foremost obligation of an author is to present a clear, honest, accurate, and complete account of the research performed. Each manuscript should describe a complete study or a completed phase of an extended study. Fragmentation of reports should be avoided. When some of the results are to appear in another journal, in publications of congresses, symposia, workshops, etc., details should be supplied to the editor, and a copy of the other paper(s) submitted.

The author also has an obligation to: 1) Describe the work in sufficient detail to allow others to repeat the work; 2) Include all relevant data, including those which may not support the hypothesis being tested; 3) Cite those publications which have a direct bearing on the novelty and interpretation of the results; 4) Make any clones, whether of cells or genes, published in this Journal available to other researchers on proper request.

Only individuals who made significant contributions to the intellectual and procedural aspects of the study should be listed as authors. An author should have participated in the conception and planning of the work, the interpretation of the results, and the writing of the paper. An acknowledgment accompanying the paper is appropriate recognition for others who contributed to a lesser extent. The signature of each author on the Affirmation of Originality and Copyright Release form which must be submitted with the manuscript indicates that the author approved the final version of the manuscript and is prepared to take public responsibility for the work.

I (We), the undersigned, confirm that the research reported in the article entitled:

has been conducted in conformity with the principles of humane animal care endorsed by the National Society of Medical Research and National Institutes of Health, and that animal assurance forms have been obtained from my (our) institution if experimental animals were used. Furthermore, if human subjects were used I (we) confirm that research was conducted accordance with the principles expressed in the Decalration of Helsinki, and that approval has been obtained from my (our) local human experimentation committee(s).

Dear Jay,

I was pleased to finally meet you and to begin the final negotiations for the contract to publish Journal of Andrology. I found our meeting helpful in clarifying a number of issues, and I hope that you did also.

I have included with this letter a draft contract that changes some of the wording in the original to more clearly reflect our current thinking. I believe that you agree with most of these. As I understand it, your lawyers and internal committees will have to approve the changes, which I hope will be done expeditiously.

Section 7, which deals with royalties, editorial office, etc., is the part that occupied most of our time at Pittsburgh. Phil, Larry and I came to a consensus and we would like that part of the contract handled somewhat as follows:

1. The Publisher shall pay an editorial expense allowance to the Society of $25,000 in 1988 to cover all accountable costs incurred and editorial expenses, including liability insurance. This amount will be adjusted annually to reflect increased inflation. The allowance will be paid to the Society in equal quarterly installments beginning January 1 of each year.
2. The Publisher shall provide to the Society quarterly certified statements of revenue and expense relating to publication of the Journal of Andrology, and shall provide access by the Society at any reasonable time, upon notice, to the books of account and other records of the Publisher pertaining to the Journal of Andrology.
3. Yearly net income (as determined by a year-end certified statement of revenue and expense) shall be divided equally by the Publisher and the Society. In the event that a net loss is incurred, this also will be divided equally and the Society's portion will be applied against the net income of subsequent years until the loss is reduced to zero. In no case will the Society's portion of a loss be charged directly to the Society.
4. The Publisher will not increase overhead (journal management, administrative and general) more than 4% over the previous year's publishing overhead cost.

5. The Society may waive page charges, at its discretion, not to exceed 4% published per volume. The Society shall reimburse the Publisher for all page charges waived in excess of this amount per year.
6. Other items such as cost for color separations, etc. can be dealt with as was done previously.

I believe that these items cover the concerns that we have. I am sure that you will have questions for clarification, so please do not hesitate to contact me. When you have had the opportunity to go over all this it may be wise for us to get back together again.

I look forward to hearing from you.

Yours Sincerely,

David W. Hamilton, PhD
Professor and Head
