

NOTE TO AMES AUDUBON MEMBERS:

Monday night, February 14, is the last Audubon Wildlife Film for the 1971 - 1972 season. The enclosed program has all the information. Ticket prices at the door are 1.50 for adults and 1.00 for children under 12. If you are tired of the type of film that is represented as a "Wildlife Film" and turns out to be nothing more or less than another very poorly done hunting film, then round up some neighbors and bring them to our film tonight. We deliver what we promise; wholesome, educational entertainment for the whole family. A film of the type mentioned above is playing the Ames theaters now and the television advertisements urge us to "Come see the world's largest bear." What they should have said is "Come see us shoot the world's largest bear and a few assorted sheep also."

The National Audubon Society has no quarrel with hunters but the sort of wildlife film fraud perpetrated by an increasing number of irresponsible individuals in recent years cannot help but hurt the Audubon Wildlife Film series and the message it conveys. Fill a couple of cars with friends and neighbors and bring them to see OUR film tonight. They won't be disappointed.
