My dear Prof. Pammel:

You may be able to boil these down and get out of them something that you need. I am writing this on the train to Washington, D. C., April 23rd, 1922.

I did not know that you had the slightest idea of filing the letter I sent you, in the archives of history. I fear that I did not do you anything like justice. If you will send a copy of it back to me, I am sure I can greatly improve upon it.

Very sincerely yours,

G. W. Carver
