Mr. Philip A. DuMont,
Lake Malheur Migratory Waterfowl Refuge,
Burns, Oregon,

Dear Mr. DuMont;-

In answer to your letter of October 10 I am enclosing with this Miss Sandmeyer's abstract of all the sets in my collection taken by Walter Savage in Iowa. You will see there were a good many sets. He was an energetic collector. Perhaps the most interesting set is ~~one~~ of red eggs of the Red-headed Woodpecker. This set was recorded by him in "The Oologist", I believe, soon after he collected it, I think it is unique.

I am very glad to learn that Malheur Lake has been made a Game Refuge, and trust the Lower Lake has also. Stanley Jewett must be a fine man to work for and with.

Darling seems to really have the good of the waterfowl at heart, and is the right man for his place.

Though I have thought from the first that President Roosevelt was the most dangerous demagogue in the history of our country, and never hated and despised a man as I do him, I do think the C.C.C. has done much good, and that his appointment of Darling as head of the Biological Survey was capital.

But I must not get into a political discussion, as I feel the entire future of our Country is at stake.

I am glad you are doing the sort of work you must like, and will look for your article in the Wilson Bulletin, when I have time to open any of my ornithological magazines.

Very truly yours,

Louis B. Bishop
