

Aldo Leopold

CONSULTING FORESTER

Madison, Wisconsin

Soils Building
April 24.

Dear Paul:

Don't miss the review of your horned owl paper on p. 251 of the April AUK. It illustrates the almost complete absence of comprehension of the difference between the taxonomic and ecological approach.

The book is out but I only got half a dozen copies so I was unable to wangle you one personally. The closest I could get to it was a sample copy for the College which will be sent, or has been sent, to Guthrie as head of the Department.

If Dr. Stevens comments on Dr. Stone's review I would like, just out of curiosity, to know what he says. He has given me many a pleasant surprise at his own ability to distinguish something new when he sees it.

Best Regards

AL