Dear Sam:

I am told that Ralph King's ruffed grouse project is about out of funds, and that you and Errington have been exerting yourselves in an effort to keep it going.

Sometimes an outsider can do the talking for this sort of thing to better advantage than an insider. Is there any way in which you can use me to keep the ball rolling? Could you, for example, get me a hearing before the Commission, or before some group of well-to-do sportsmen? I can come up almost any time except in January, when I have a daily teaching schedule. I could possibly arrange to get away for not to exceed two days even in January.

Yours sincerely,

ALDO LEOPOLD
