Dear Paul:

Butler's letter, enclosed herewith, returns the paper and asks that it be revised. I am perfectly willing to lend a hand if you want me to, but we can hardly do it at a distance.

I hope you will not construe Butler's comments as reflecting on the quality of your writing. His point, as I get it, is that your presentation is not of the sort which would make this extremely difficult subject clear to one previously unfamiliar with it.

With best regards,

Yours sincerely,

Aldo
