Dear Paul:

The set-up at the Research Session proved to be such that no papers of absentees were read. In fact, we had to stay in session until six o'clock to finish the papers of those present, and the only simple rule we could make to trim down the time was to omit the absentees altogether. Accordingly I was not able to present either Bennett's paper or yours.

I handed in Bennett's paper as being in final form, but since you had not personally revised your own paper, I did not hand it in. My understanding is that the period of grace is approximately three weeks. I am sending you the shortened version herewith. Will you instruct Seth Gordon as to when you will be able to send him the revised version?

Yours sincerely,

Aldo Leopold
