Dear Paul:

I have made no headway on the Prairie du Sac manuscript, partly for the reason that I have been on a long field trip, first to Canada and then for the Soil Conservation Service. I don't know when I can get to it.

I am writing Gastrow to start his usual work November 1 and I am asking Hammy to undertake occasional supervision. I hope to be able to look in upon him myself several times during the winter.

I am writing Walter Scott to make sure that the Pittman-Robertson machinery is prepared to handle Gastrow's pay check.

Yours as ever,

Aldo
