Dear Paul:

There were only three duplications between my list and yours and I am glad you do not regard the matter as serious. I, too, will probably have some extras left over which, of course, will be at your call should you run out.

Albert Gastrow is home again, but not yet working. His family seem to be at least fairly encouraged about his improvement.

Give my love to Carolyn and Peter. I suppose you will have to forgo your trip to the ranch this summer.

Yours as ever,

Aldo
