

UNIVERSITY OF WISCONSIN
COLLEGE OF AGRICULTURE

DEPARTMENT OF WILDLIFE MANAGEMENT

November 20, 1945

424 UNIVERSITY FARM PLACE
MADISON 5, WISCONSIN

Dr. Paul Errington
Iowa State College
Ames, Iowa

Dear Paul:

Can you tell me off hand, without any looking up in libraries, the moulting season for adult horned owls? One of my students has been looking for it in the literature, but has not found it. It is doubtless to be found somewhere, but before doing additional work I thought I would ask you whether you knew.

Albert reports the shortest crop of quail ever. I now fear that the Prairie du Sac population is running out on us before the banding analysis can accumulate a sufficient volume of data.

With personal regards,

Aldo

Aldo Leopold

P. S. How many graduate students are enrolled at Iowa State today? (in wildlife)