

August 31, 1945

Dr. S. W. Bromley
Bartlett Tree Research Laboratories
Stamford, Connecticut

Dear Dr. Bromley:

My friend, Paul Errington of Iowa State College, has loaned me a reprint of your article "An Indian Relict Area" in the Scientific Monthly.

If you have any reprints left I would greatly appreciate receiving one. Your historical evidence has a very close parallel in southern Wisconsin. Much of the Wisconsin evidence is in scattered parcels which I have never brought together, but a sample of it is included in the following: "Land Use and Plant Succession in Coon Valley, Wisconsin" by John B. Marks. (Ecological Monographs, 12:2:113-133, April, 1942). I do not have a copy of this, but you could easily look it up in a library.

I am sending you one of my historical compilations, but this does not attempt to assemble evidence along the lines we have been discussing.

Sincerely,

Aldo Leopold

P.S. The reprint which Errington sent me does not indicate the issue of the Scientific Monthly in which your article appeared. Can you supply this information so that I can card it for my library?

✓ c Errington