Dear Paul:

I am pleased that the St. Louis speech on research struck you as important. Bob will give it for me, and your letter will arm him with the requisite historical facts in the event of any discussion. I fully confirm the history which you have supplied him.

I appreciate your solicitude about my eye operation. I have now had the eye uncovered for several days and it seems to be doing well, so I think my worries are about over. I am abstaining from the St. Louis trip to play safe. I will miss the chance to continue our visit.

Cyril tells me that an extra-complete banding was accomplished at Prairie du Sac, but that losses were heavy during the prolonged cold spell. The job now is to find out before the snow melts how many of the bandings survived. Foxes are still high. Albert is in fairly good health. The percent of young birds is close to 80 as usual.

With personal regards, and love to Caroline.

Yours as ever,

Aldo
