My dear Dr. Pammel -

Your letter of July 26 has just reached me. I have been away from Madison for some weeks, and doubt not that Dr. Hayden's manuscript is at my office.

As I remember the situation, the American Journal is about filled for the remainder of this year, and there would be a possibility of getting this paper in the January or February number. From your letter I gather that it is longer than the maximum length of 24 pages which the Journal can accept unless the author is willing to pay the cost of the additional pages. The Journal has never published a paper in parts. The nearest it has come to this I think is the series of articles by Dr. Arthur on the Uredineae of Guatemala, now running, and it required considerable correspondence to secure an agreement among the editorial committee even on this. When I see the manuscript I can speak more intelligently. I expect to return to Madison in about two weeks.

Sincerely yours,

C E Allen
