I'm sorry this is late. But I'm sending it anyway, as I wanted at least the Bewick's Wren nesting to be included.

6/8/99
Records: 5

ITEM	COMMON NAME	NUM	DATE	LOCATION	HABITAT
✓ 1	Spotted Sandpiper	1	4/20/99	Waterworks Park, Fairfield, IA	Short grass
	In the short grass beside Waterworks Park Reservoir in Fairfield. It was in breeding plumage.
✓ 2	Eastern Phoebe	1	4/18/99	Lacey Keosauqua, Van Buren Co., IA	Streamside cliff
	Sitting on eggs. Not singing.
✓ 3	Bewick's Wren	2	4/13/99	Fairfield, IA	Residential area
	Two Bewick's Wrens (white supercilium, long wagged tail with whitish outer corners) settled in our neighborhood. They nested in an unused dryer vent three feet above ground on the siding of a house. I believe young fledged on 6/2, which was the last day I heard them chirping in nest. On 6/4 I checked nest with my hand, and it was empty.
✓ 4	Northern Parula	2	4/18/99	Lacey Keosauqua, Van Buren Co., IA	Trees
	First. It was my first trip there this spring, so they could have been there a while.
✓ 5	Yellow-throated Warbler	6	4/18/99	Lacey Keosauqua, Van Buren Co., IA	Trees, Sycamore
	Easy to see in the barely-leaving trees and impossible not to hear! In the Ely Ford area of Lacey Keosauqua State Park. First. It was my first trip there this spring, so they could have been there a while.
