Dear Vernon

While poring through some old American Birds I noted that you only had 6 sightings of Red-necked Grebe in your region for 1976. Thus you should be interested in the following. While traveling through Iowa we stopped to eat breakfast at a City Park in Le Mars (I don't remember the name). On a sizable pond in the park was a winter-plumaged Red-necked Grebe. The date was 21 Sept. 76.

My father Jim and I have plenty of experience with this bird as it is a regular winter resident in our area, but I can't provide any more details.

Good Birding
Dennis Rogers
