

Steve Dinsmore

Steve Dinsmore 2½

SPECIES : Red-necked Grebe

NUMBER : 2

DATE : 1 May 1986

LOCATION : Little Wall L.

DETAILS : The birds were 1 1/2 times larger than a nearby American Coot. The back, back of neck, and crown were dark. The throat and cheek were white. Neck and breast were a deep rufous red color. The bill was almost as long as the head, thick, and yellowish in color. The long neck and overall stocky appearance identified the birds as grebes.
