A-P, Would have been nice to have a short description, but with a loupe I can make out the diagnostic characteristics.

A-P, The faint hint of a pale supercilliary line above the eye and a dark line through the eye would be much more obvious in better light. Bill is Whimbrel-size, not Long-billed Curlew size. A description of the call or underwing color would have been very helpful. How long are the odds on Bristle-thighed Curlew after the invasion this spring?
