Robert....

My only addition to the Field Report sent earlier is a single male Black and White Warbler seen at CUSF by myself and Jim Sandrock on May 31. Although this could have been a very late migrant, I prefer to think it was a summering bird. At least a pair summered in this area last year. Interestingly, this was the first B&W I've seen this year.

After I got to here, it occurred to me I should have put this on a Field Report form and put in an envelope. Hope this doesn't cause you any problems.
