Dear Sir:

It has been brought to our attention that we should report the fact that some common red-polls have been coming to feeders in West Spenced for some time - and were sighted to-day - Monday, May 2nd. According to information given us - the latest sighting of the red pollⁱⁿ was May 1st in 1978. We will keep in contact with the persons who have been watching them - and have already asked them to watch closely for them & report to us.

2. The same persons have had the red crossbills at their feeders for 7 weeks. It seems that the redpolls usually come in with the crossbills.

Does this require a documentation form, etc -
What would you suggest - we can let you know when they seem to have left permanently -

Thank you -
