

Fall 1993 Bird Report

name	# of birds	date	location
✓ Turkey Vulture	10	09-09-93	Colfax
✓ Sora	1	08-14-93	Mingo, IA
✓ Red-breasted Nuthatch	1 firsts	09-06, 09-11	Lamb's Grove
✓ Tennessee Warbler	10	09-06-93	Lamb's Grove
✓ Nashville Warbler	5	09-06-93	Lamb's Grove
✓ Chestnut-sided Warbler	1, immature	09-06-93	Lamb's Grove
✓ Blackburnian Warbler	1	09-06, 09-11	Lamb's Grove
✓ Bay-breasted Warbler	6	09-06-93	Lamb's Grove
✓ Blackpoll Warbler	5	09-06-93	Lamb's Grove
✓ Black-and-white Warbler	2	09-06, 09-11	Lamb's Grove
✓ Am. Redstart	2	09-11	Lamb's Grove

After a wet summer the fall season was quite dry. The warbler migration was quite good. The Grammer Grove outing presented a remarkable diversity of warblers. I presume these will be reported by others and therefore I'll not report them. Some general observations:

The number of Red-breasted Nuthatches in Lamb's Grove is definitely up from previous years. In fact, I have been having more Red-breasted Nuthatches at my feeder than White-breasted Nuthatches!

Though I have had House finches at my feeder, the numbers so far are down from last year.

Also many Black-throated Green Warblers migrated through this ifall.

Gordon James Brand