● CYCLONE SCOUTING REPORT

Don't plan to watch a quiet defensive battle today. Neither Brigham Young nor Iowa State will fail to cross the goal line on more than one occasion during the afternoon.

Brigham Young might well have the most explosive attack to be seen on Clyde Williams Field this year. Coach Tommy Hudspeth runs the pro-type offense with lots of throwing. Marc Lyons, the Cougar quarterback and passer, holds the Brigham Young record for accuracy, hitting better than half his passes as a sophomore. Of equal importance, he has only had slightly more than four of each hundred tosses intercepted.

He will throw often but has two fine running backs—or set backs. Kip Jackson, tailback, and Ed Nichols, fullback, furnish the running power for the versatile attack built under Coach Hudspeth.

Jackson averaged 4.2 yards against the Cyclones last year. Lyons completed 16 of 33 passes for 189 yards in the 28-20 Iowa State victory.

Hudspeth flip-flops his line so there is no right or left designation for the players up front. He uses "strong" and "tight" designations, with the "strong" going to the placing of the flanker or wing back. Hudspeth also uses interchangeable players at split end and flanker back. That way fans, and often the players, never know just where men like Bill Glatch, Larry Heaps, Neil Bingham, and one or two others will line up.

The Pro-4-3 defense is favored by the Cougars. The front four, though, are often joined by the "mikes"—the BYU designation for middle guard to make it a 5-2.

Brigham Young has three excellent kickers. Dick Adams has the punting chores and does a great job. But it is the work of defensive end Joe Liljenquist that can be the most dangerous. Liljenquist kicked five field goals in the 22-20 opening victory over Colorado State last Saturday night. Cougar backers think Scott Lounsbury is just as good a kicker. It is not likely that BYU will give Jeff Allen much chance to run the ball back on kickoffs since either man booms the ball out of the end zone most of the time.

Brigham Young does not possess blinding speed over all but has enough individual "swift" to be dangerous every time Lyons puts the ball into play.

Traditional Parents Day

Parents of Iowa State University students will be honored at the traditional Parents Day weekend on the campus, Oct. 10-11.

Friday, Oct. 10, parents are especially invited to participate in the pep rally sponsored by the ISU pep council, after which Union board is sponsoring a "cokes and candles" event.

The main event of the weekend is the annual Parents Day football game which, this year, finds Iowa State entertaining the University of Colorado in a Big Eight conference contest.

The game is at 1:30 p.m.

Immediately after the game, President W. Robert Parks and Mrs. Parks will host a reception for all parents in the State Gym just north of the stadium. Members of the faculty also will be present.

After the game and reception, many of the residence halls and fraternity and sorority houses have receptions scheduled. Some of the Greek houses will have pre-game events for the visiting dads and moms.

Many parents will have their first opportunity on this weekend to attend a performance in the C. Y. Stephens Auditorium in the Iowa State Center.

Ferrante and Teicher, a popular comedy duo-pianist team, will present two concerts Oct. 25, at 7 and 9:15 p.m. in the Auditorium. Ferrante and Teicher were classical pianists before they teamed up. The recording artists play all types of music. Their Iowa State performance is among the first in the 125 concert season. They were a popular attraction on the campus two years ago.

Seats for the Ferrante and Teicher concerts may be obtained by writing the Hub Ticket Office at Iowa State. Prices are $4.00 - $3.50 - $2.50 - $2.00.

Rounding out the Parents Day weekend will be a dance in Memorial Union Saturday night.

PHIL CALLICUTT

Johnny Majors heads as fine a young football staff as there is in the nation today. He has blended youth and experience in perfect balance in his program that is destined to bring football excellence to Iowa State University.

Majors is one of the all-time Tennessee greats. He earned All-American honors in leading Tennessee to an unbeaten season in 1956. He was selected as the outstanding player in the nation that year. A great high school star, Majors was a winner then, in college, and as an assistant coach at Tennessee, Mississippi State, and Arkansas before coming to Iowa State following the 1967 season.

King Block was a great prep star in his native Idaho and a top fullback at the University of Idaho. His coaching talents have boosted football fortunes at Idaho, Arkansas State, Nebraska, and Washington State.

Jim Johnson was one of the finest nose guards ever to play for Arkansas following a great prep career in Port Arthur, Tex. He coached at Louisiana Tech, Arkansas, and Wichita State.

Joe Madden never played college football but has been a top assistant at Mississippi State and Arkansas before re-joining his old friend Johnny Majors.

Gordon Smith was no stranger to Iowa State, having played two years as an end for Missouri. He played for the Minnesota Vikings five years and was on the Arkansas Staff when Majors brought him to Iowa State.

Jackie Sherrill captained one of Alabama's national champions, later coached at his Alma Mater and then at Arkansas before moving north with Majors.

Ollie Keller was an outstanding player for Memphis State and then coached prep teams there until he joined Majors at Iowa State.

Joe Avezzano played for Florida State after a four-sport career in Miami. He coached both at the high school level and at Florida State.

Ray Greene, a triple threat star at Akron South, with the University of Akron captain as a senior. Coached all sports in high school and was on the University of Miami staff when he came to Iowa State.

Arch Steele doubles as one of Majors' assistants and as academic counselor for the athletic department. A great player at Bowling Green, Steele joined the Iowa State staff in 1954. He had a long career as a prep and college coach before becoming a Cyclone.

Phil Callicutt, the head trainer for the Cyclones, has been a top flight trainer for 11 years and is still only 25. He is an Iowa Stater who worked the football Cardinals, East Carolina State, Florida State and was head football trainer at West Virginia when he returned to Iowa State after the 1969 football season.

CAMPUS CHEST 1969

Campus Chest Week 1969 has arrived and with it have come nine days of exciting and entertaining activities for the people of Iowa State and Ames. New events this year are the Barbeque tomorrow night and the Ugly Man On Campus Contest (UMOC) the winner of which will be announced on October 4.

While Campus Chest Week is providing entertainment and enjoyment, it is also raising money for many worthwhile charities. This year's goal of $14,000 will be given to such charities as Promise, Inc., the Ames Community Chest, the Ames Day Care Center, YMCA, YWCA, The Martin Luther King Scholarship Fund, and many more.

During the pre-game show today the five Miss Legs Finalists will be presented. C. C. Ryder, Campus Chest's new symbol invites everyone to enjoy the activities of Campus Chest Week 1969.

Dangerous Foe Faces Cyclones

Danger is written all over the invading Brigham Young football team - from its booming kicks to its lethal aerial attack.

Iowa State came close to upsetting powerful Syracuse last Saturday but the pride in that near miss won't mean a thing today when Tommy Hudspeth unleashes his Cougars here on Clyde Williams Field. While the Cyclones were being edged in the east, the Cougars were kicking Colorado State right out of the football game in the west.

Five times in that 22-20 victory, Hudspeth called on defensive end Joe Liljenquist for his specialty — spinning the ball through the uprights for three points. All told the husky sophomore accounted for 16 of the 22 points scored by the Cougars.

Iowa State will have no illusions about this game. All too well do the Cyclones remember the heroics they needed last year to gain a 28-20 upset at Provo. They recall that beautiful 84 yard punt return just before the half ended when Tom Elliott got nine blocks from his teammates to rack up a six-pointer. They remember again that he deflected a 2-point pass that kept the Cougars from taking a 22-21 lead late in the fourth period. They remember, too, that they marched for an insurance score later to get win no. 2 for the year — a year that saw them upset three teams and scare six others before bowing.

Marc Lyons is the key man for the Cougars with his passing and fine execution of the option play. His top runners are Kip Jackson and Ed Nichols. On defense the leaders are end Jeff Slipp, a 230-pound defensive monster; Gerald Meyer, a real All-American candidate; and Paul Sutorius, top man in the secondary.

Iowa State looked like a promising club against powerful Syracuse last week. The defensive line was improved over 1968, the offensive line blocked well. But it was on the pass that the Cyclones had trouble. A few dropped aeriels and a couple overthrown robbed the Cyclones of the consistency they needed. On defense the secondary didn't always get in the way of the ball.

All-in-all the Cyclones gave promise of being a fine team this year.

Today, in the opening game, facing another tough foe, the Cyclones are ready to fire things up again. One thing is certain — there are going to be mightly few dull moments when the Cyclones play this fall!

Break your beard in right.

Right now your beard is in the formative stage.

You can shave it with a razor blade like your father does. And each time you do your beard will grow back a little more difficult. Until one day shaving's no longer a chore. It's an agony.

Look no further than your father's face for proof.

But fortunately, you're catching your beard at an early age. You can break it in to be just as shaveable 10 and 20 years from now as it is today.

With a REMINGTON® shaver.

And if you think the kind of shave we're selling won't be close enough for you, you're wrong.

Our new blades are sharper than anything that's been in an electric shaver before. And there's a dial that lets you adjust them for your skin and beard.

What's more, you can dial a REMINGTON electric shaver into a sideburn trimmer.

Admittedly, it costs more to buy our electric shaver than a razor and some blades.

But it's a good investment.

These next few years will determine how you and your beard will get along for the rest of your lives.† SPERRY RAND® ©1969 S. R.

Squaw Peak serves as a majestic background for Brigham Young University's Administration Building. This is one of more than 100 permanent buildings on the BYU campus. Enrollment is in excess of 23,000 students.

About Brigham Young University

In 1875, twenty years before Utah became a state, Brigham Young, the great Mormon colonizer of the West, signed a deed of trust to set up an academy of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints in Provo, Utah, and called Dr. Karl G. Maeser, an immigrant German schoolmaster to head the school. His charge was brief: "I want you to remember that you ought not to teach even the alphabet or the multiplication tables without the Spirit of God. That is all. God Bless you. Goodbye." Through the years Dr. Maeser followed the advice to become the great spiritual architect of the school, and later administrators have followed in his footsteps.

With more than 23,000 students Brigham Young University is the largest church-related university in the United States from the standpoint of full-time students. They come from every state in the nation and 60 foreign countries. Since 1950 enrollment has increased 400 percent. To accommodate this great influx, the campus and faculty have been enlarged. The faculty of 1,000 includes some of the world's most distinguished authorities in science and letters.

The campus includes more than 100 major, permanent, beautiful buildings covering 500 acres at the foot of the majestic Wasatch Mountains. More than 6000 students live in the comfortable new campus residence halls.

Membership in the Church is not required for admission to the University, although at present about 95 percent of the students are members of the Church. Some 30 other denominations also are represented. Everyone, including nonmembers, is required to observe the high standards of the University. Strong language, loose living, liquor and tobacco are not tolerated. More than 5,600 students are former missionaries who have served their Church in 78 missions throughout the world. The students are organized for Sunday church activity into 74 congregations.

BYU is organized into 84 subject areas of 13 colleges and offers the associate, bachelor's master's, and doctor's degrees. Incoming students score 20 percent higher than the national average, and BYU Honors Program students rank in the 99th percentile on national tests.

The BYU assembly program is likely unmatched anywhere in the world. The gigantic field-house is crowded with 5,000 to 11,000 students twice a week for devotional and forum assemblies, which present the world's top leaders in religion, arts, letters, science, education and government.

BYU is a member of the Western Athletic Conference and is consistently a powerful contender in both conference and national intercollegiate sports.

A WINNING COMBINATION

Hoogenakker holds the baton which was won three days in a row for pep and spirit. The three wins gave the Iowa Staters permanent possession. Miss Branson holds the plaque which was awarded to the winner of the over-all College Division. Miss Shoemaker holds a handful of blue ribbons for day-to-day first place in the various competitions. Over 200 contestants representing colleges and universities from all over the nation were competitors in the nine-day event.

WELCOME Football Fans!

Put King's Food Host U.S.A. on your program and you'll receive the same friendly welcome . . . the same popular Photo-Menu . . . the same consistently good food . . . the same fast service on a festive game day as on ALL days at King's.

Good food shared with family and friends in sociable surroundings is a big part of the fun of your football outing. In fact, it ranks right up there before and after the game itself. And that's a great time to come to King's. Before and right after the game! See you then, if not before.

KING'S Food Host U.S.A.

Miss Cyclone 1969

Sue Bishop, sophomore from Waukegan, Ill., is the first Miss Cyclone, the young lady who will be "queen" over all Iowa State athletic events during the year. Sue is a Textiles and Clothing major and a member of Alpha Chi Omega Sorority.

Billie and DeDe Pierce Bring New Orleans Jazz to ISU Tonight

The Preservation Hall Jazz Band, the last original jazz band from New Orleans, brings a new sound tonight to the C. Y. Stephens Auditorium. Their performance at 8 will be a radical departure from the music performed by the New York Philharmonic Orchestra at the Opening Festival of Concerts in the auditorium earlier this month.

Capacity crowds heard the Philharmonic in the five concerts that opened the $4.9-million Stephens Auditorium. What the Philharmonic is to symphonic music, the Preservation Hall group is to jazz.

The Preservation Hall musicians, all more than 60 years old, are among the few living talented jazzmen who originated in the New Orleans style. The band derives its name from Preservation Hall in the New Orleans French Quarter. There, in a building more than 200 years old, musicians perform nightly for jazz lovers, many of whom are seated on benches and kitchen chairs.

Headliners in the company of five are DeDe Pierce, 65, blind trumpeter, and his wife, Billie, 62, pianist and blues singer. Other members are Willie Humphrey, 68, clarinet; Jim Robinson, 79, trombone; and Cy Frazier, 65, drums.

The ticket office at the Stephens Auditorium will be open after 4 p.m. today, as it is on the days of all performances. Prices for tonight's concert range from $1.50 to $3.00.

The first of four buildings at the Iowa State Center, the Stephens Auditorium has received widespread acclaim for its acoustical qualities, distinctive architecture and its comfort. The Auditorium promises to be a major center of theater entertainment for the whole state.

Football fans will find an evening in the Stephens Auditorium an excellent finale to autumn Saturdays in Ames.

THE CYCLONE CENTURY CLUB

The Iowa State University Department of Intercollegiate Athletics salutes the members of the CYCLONE CENTURY CLUB . . . a growing group of significant contributors to Iowa State Athletics. These individuals and firms have contributed $100 or more annually to help us in our efforts to reach a goal of athletic excellence for Iowa State University.

SCHOLARSHIP PROGRAM

Hundreds of student-athletes have had their education at Iowa State University financed through contributions of Cyclone Club members. More and more, the success of major college athletic programs is dependent upon the financial support of alumni and friends. The Iowa

State University Department of Intercollegiate Athletics is proud to honor the individuals and firms on these pages who have contributed one or more $1,000 GOLD Full Scholarships or $500 for a CARDINAL Half Scholarship.

Iowa State Courtesy Car Program

Twelve automobile dealers in Iowa are helping the Iowa State athletic program through the loan of courtesy cars. Like other programs which are a part of the Cyclone Club, this project enables Iowa State to make greater use of its funds. These sports-minded dealers around the state have earned a great debt of gratitude from the Iowa State University Department of Intercollegiate Athletics. They are a most important part of the "team", a team that includes players, coaches, administration, faculty, staff, students, alumni, and the men behind the courtesy car program.

The Iowa State University Athletic Department Honors Beef and Pork Producers
