Iowa State University

Campus Life

Since it opened in 1869 as Iowa's land-grant university, Iowa State University has worked to bring educational, economic, social and cultural progress to our state, nation and world.

Today, Iowa State is a broad-based university of international stature, whose more than 25,000 students come from all 50 states and more than 120 other nations, and include more National Merit Scholars than all but five other public universities in the nation. Students can choose from among more than 200 programs of study leading to baccalaureate degrees in the colleges of Agriculture, Business, Design, Education, Engineering, Family and Consumer Sciences and Liberal Arts and Sciences, including many ranked among the top 10 nationally. The College of Veterinary Medicine offers the Doctor of Veterinary Medicine degree and graduate students can choose from among 200 fields of study leading to master's, doctor of philosophy and specialist degrees.

With more than 10,000 computer workstations, Iowa State has one of the most extensive campus computing systems in the nation and is one of Yahoo!Internet Life magazine's top 100 "Wired Universities." In addition, Iowa State is significantly expanding the number of opportunities students have to study and live abroad as part of their academic programs.

Students who come to Iowa State also discover a university community that is both supportive and filled with opportunities, so much so that Iowa State was one of 14 colleges and universities included in a recent national study of factors contributing to a high quality of student life.

The Greek system is nationally recognized, as is the residence hall system, which is organized into a series of individual-named, self-governing "houses," providing students with a more autonomous and personalized living setting. The lectures program has won national awards, and Iowa State offers nearly 500 clubs and organizations for students to pursue interests and develop leadership skills. An extensive intramural program boasts one of the highest participation rates in the nation, offering all popular sports and such unique activities as innertube water basketball, broomball and mud volleyball.

Student facilities are among the best at any university. The three-level, 220,000 square foot Lied Recreation Facility includes 20 basketball courts, nine racquetball courts, a 300-meter ground-level track, an elevated jogging track, and extensive weight and aerobics facilities. In 1997, Iowa State opened a new Student Health Center to provide improved and expanded medical and rehabilitation services, nutrition and wellness programs, and health education for its students. Construction is underway on a new indoor ice arena, a cooperative effort between the city of Ames and Iowa State University to support the rapid growth of recreational and competitive ice skating.

Iowa State's park-like central campus is recognized as one of the most beautiful in the nation. It includes nearly 125 major buildings and structures, from beautifully restored historic landmarks to striking examples of modern architecture; hundreds of interior and exterior art works, including the largest Grant Wood murals and the nation's largest public collection of Christian Petersen sculptures; and the recently renovated Lake LaVerne, with its resident trumpeter swans.

Iowa State's South Campus, where much of the university's recent expansion has occurred, includes the College of Veterinary Medicine, Jack Trice Stadium, the Reiman Gardens, the ISU Research Park, and the Iowa State Center, a four-building entertainment and continuing education complex that attracts some of the top names in popular and classical music, national theater productions, and international art exhibitions.

Cyclones vs. Tigers

Today's contest between Iowa State and Missouri will be deja vu of sorts. The Cyclones last beat Missouri in 1996 — in a Homecoming matchup. In fact, ISU has beat the Tigers the last two times (34-13 in 1981 and 45-31 in 1996) they have played here on Homecoming. The Cyclones are 4-1-2 when appearing in Mizzou's Homecoming game — the only opponent with a series advantage over MU on Homecoming.

Missouri has won four of the last five games against ISU, but lost, 45-31, in its previous trip to Jack Trice Stadium, as Troy Davis rushed for 378 yards on 41 carries.

Oddly, the victor of the ISU-MU matchup the last three years has scored 45 points. Missouri won 45-31 in Columbia in 1995, while the Cyclones claimed a 45-31 triumph in Ames in 1996. Mizzou won 45-21 last season.

Cyclone quarterback Todd Bandhauer threw five touchdown passes vs. Texas last week, setting an ISU game record and passing David Archer's 33 career mark for touchdown passes. Bandhauer also set school records for most passing attempts (62), completions (30) and passing yards (437). "Bandy" ranks second in the Big 12 Conference and 20th nationally in total offense. The senior from Crystal River, Fla., averages 246.0 yards of offense per game. ISU's passing offense is second in the league and 21st nationally with 254.8 passing yards per game.

MU quarterback Corby Jones set Missouri career records last week with 34 rushing touchdowns and 54 touchdowns produced (34 rushing, 20 passing). Mizzou's passing offense ranks last in the conference and 107th nationally, averaging 102.8 yards per game.

ISU wide receivers Damien Groce and J.J. Moses both tallied over 100 yards receiving against Texas, becoming the first Cyclone duo to accomplish the feat since Tracy Henderson and Jason Jacobs did it in 1983. Groce caught 10 passes for 137 yards and two touchdowns vs. Texas, while Moses added five catches for 101 yards. Against the Longhorns, Groce became the first Cyclone receiver to record consecutive 100-yard receiving games since 1983. The transfer from San Bernardino Community College is second in the Big 12 and 31st nationally in receptions per game (12.8).

MU's Kent Layman is 10th in the league in receiving yards per game. Layman has seven catches for 202 yards, an average of 28.9 yards per grab.

Mizzou's rushing offense is first in the Big 12 and third nationally. The Tigers are averaging 298.0 rushing yards per game.

Devin West became the eight MU player to surpass 2,000 career rushing yards last week against Northwestern State. West is tied with MU signalcaller Corby Jones for fourth in the Big 12 in scoring. Both Tigers have seven touchdowns, an average of 10.5 points per game. West is third in the league with 722 all-purpose yards (180.5 ypg).

Cyclone tailback Darren Davis is fourth in the conference with 837 all-purpose yards (167.4 ypg).

Mizzou's Wade Perkins and Harold Piersey are tied with two Oklahoma State players for first in the Big 12 with 0.5 interceptions per game.

ISU's Carl Gomez is sixth in the conference and 44th nationally in punting. The sophomore has punted 25 times and is averaging 41.6 yards per punt. ISU is fourth in the conference and 23rd nationally in net punting, averaging 38.8 yards per contest.

Cyclone Kevin Wilson ranks eighth in the Big 12 in kickoff returns. The senior has 10 returns for 211 yards, an average of 21.1 yards per return.

MU's total defense is tied for fifth in the league and 20th nationally. The Tigers have allowed their opponents only 299.5 yards of offense per game. Mizzou's pass efficiency defense is fifth in the Big 12 and 39th nationally. They have limited opponents to 629 total passing yards.

Two members of the Tigers' secondary lead the team in tackles. Piersey, a free safety, has 29 tackles, including three tackles for loss. Strong safety Caldrinoff Easter has registered 25 total tackles, including a team-high 20 solo efforts.

Jesse Beckom leads the Cyclones with 43 tackles per game, including 32 solo stops. Iowa State has sacked its opponent 18 times, while the Cyclones have yet to be sacked in four games this season.

Wide receiver Damien Groce has made an immediate impact this season. The transfer from San Bernardino Community College last week became the first ISU receiver to record consecutive 100-yard receiving games since 1983. He grabbed 10 passes for 137 yards and two touchdowns vs. Texas.

Dr. Martin C. Jischke

Iowa State President

"(We) have a president who communicates publicly, who communicates internally with faculty and staff that intercollegiate athletics is an important part of the mission of Iowa State University. Dr. Jischke has been supportive of every single move we have made. He has been a leader in the formation of the Big 12 Conference. You have to have your leader back you up and that is why it is so important to have him here."

-Gene Smith,
Iowa State
Athletic Director

Now in his eighth year as President of Iowa State University, Dr. Martin Jischke is leading Iowa State on a bold and ambitious quest to become the nation's best land-grant university. Under his leadership, Iowa State has made significant progress in improving its undergraduate programs; in expanding its research programs, particularly in agriculture, engineering, science and technology; and in meeting the needs of the people through outreach, continuing education, technology transfer and economic development programs.

Iowa State continues to break new ground in fulfilling its land-grant mission to the people of Iowa and in redefining the land-grant mission for the 21st century. For example:

- In 1993, Iowa State was designated a "Research I" university by the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching, the top designation for a research and graduate education university in the nation.

- Established in 1995, the Hixson Opportunity Awards Program, funded entirely by private gifts, has made it possible for 100 Iowa young people each year to attend Iowa State. These are young people who otherwise would not be able to attend any college or university because of financial or personal difficulty.

- In 1997, Iowa State's freshman class included 110 National Merit Scholars, more than all but five other public universities in the nation.

Iowa State also continues to set new records in other areas. In 1996-97, sponsored funding totaled $90 million, and thanks to the five-year, $300 million "Campaign Destiny: To Become the Best," contributions from Iowa State's alumni and friends topped $100 million for the first time ever. Also in 1996-97, Iowa State researchers received three R&D 100 Awards, presented annually to the top 100 technology applications in the nation. That was more than any other university in the nation that year, and brings Iowa State's total of these awards to 18, which is more than all but one other university in the nation. In 1996, Iowa State ranked third among all universities in the nation in licenses and options on its intellectual property and fifth in the number of patents issued.

Jischke, 55, came to ISU from the University of Missouri, Rolla, where he had served as chancellor for five years. He spent 17 years as a faculty member and administrator at the University of Oklahoma, serving as director of the School of Aerospace, Mechanical and Nuclear Engineering; Dean of the College of Engineering; and, in 1985, interim president.

A native of Chicago, Jischke earned the B.S. in physics, with honors, in 1963 from the Illinois Institute of Technology, an M.S. in 1964 and his Ph.D. in 1968 in aeronautics and astronautics from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. He is trained as a fluid dynamicist and has expertise in heat transfer, fluid mechanics, aerodynamics, and problems related to high-speed aircraft and spacecraft.

He has served research fellowships with NASA and the Donald W. Douglas Laboratory and has received research grants from the National Science Foundation, the U.S. Air Force, NASA, the National Institutes of Health, National Severe Storms Laboratory and the Nuclear Regulatory Commission. During 1975-76, he served as White House Fellow and Special Assistant to the Secretary of Transportation.

Jischke is the current chair of the National Association of State Universities and Land-Grant Colleges, the nation's oldest higher education association, and he is one of 24 university presidents serving on the Kellogg Commission on the future of State and Land-Grant Universities. In addition, he is a member of the board of directors of the American Council on Education and the National Merit Scholarship Corp., and a fellow of the American Institute of Astronautics and Aeronautics and the American Association for the Advancement of Science. He was the first president of the Council of Big 12 Conference Chief Executive Officers, and in 1993, he received the Centennial Medallion from the American Society of Engineering Education.

Athletic Director

Promising to make Iowa State "one of the premier athletic programs in the nation," Gene Smith began his tenure as Iowa State's 12th athletic director on July 1, 1993. In his fifth year at ISU, he has already made good on that commitment. The past president of the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics (NACDA) has left an indelible mark at Iowa State, engineering unprecedented financial and competitive performance that prepared the Cyclone athletic department for entry into the Big 12 Conference and the 21st century.

Through his first five years at Iowa State, Smith has:

- Led a successful $12 million drive to finance construction of a new 60,000-square-foot, state-of-the-art athletic office and training facility, the largest capital fund-raising campaign ever undertaken by the Iowa State Athletic Department. An all-natural grass surface was in place for the Cyclones' 1996 season opener against Wyoming.

- Conceptualized the $6.1 million three-story press tower at Jack Trice Stadium with skybox suites. Funding for the press tower came from "Campaign Destiny: To Become the Best," a $300 million capital campaign that includes the construction of new football practice fields.

- Overseen a successful $900,000 project to construct new offices and meeting rooms at Hilton Coliseum for the ISU men's and women's basketball programs. Further capital improvement included the construction of a soccer field and new press boxes for the baseball and softball fields and a new cross country course.

- Increased academic student support that resulted in a higher 1997 six-year graduation rate for student-athletes than the general ISU student population. More than 175 student-athletes earned recognition on the 1996-97 Big 12 academic honor roll. The department produced four academic All-Americans in the last school year. Smith laid the foundation for a broad-based athletic program into the next century through a $5 million scholarship fund drive as part of the ISU Foundation's $26 million Presidential Scholarship Campaign.

- Hired two of the nation's top young basketball coaches, Tim Floyd and Bill Fennelly, who produced immediate results. Smith also hired the energetic Dan McCarney to take over the Iowa State football program, producing the largest attendance increase in the Big 12 Conference. Student season-ticket sales doubled. All-American running back Troy Davis was a Heisman Trophy finalist in McCarney's first season and the runner-up in 1996.

- Sparked a competitive environment that produced ISU NCAA Tournament team appearances in men's and women's basketball, volleyball, men's and women's cross country and men's and women's golf. The 1997 men's indoor track and wrestling teams finished third and fourth nationally, respectively. The 1997 men's golf squad placed third in the Big 12 Championship, earning a NCAA Regional berth. The gymnastics team broke the school's scoring record and advanced to NCAA postseason action and the women's basketball team hosted the first and second rounds of the 1998 NCAA Tournament.

The 1977 Notre Dame graduate was named president of the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics (NACDA). Smith also serves on the NCAA President's Commission Liaison Committee. A member of the NCAA Executive Committee, he was named to the NCAA's Management Council in May of 1996.

Prior to his arrival in Ames, Smith served as athletic director at Eastern Michigan University for seven years. Smith joined the EMU staff in 1983 as assistant athletic director for non-revenue sports.

A native of Cleveland, Ohio, Smith earned eight letters in football, basketball and track while attending Chanel High School and was the "Most Valuable Player" on the football squad as a senior. Smith, who was born Dec. 18, 1955, has three daughters: Nicole (18), Lindsey (14) and Summer (13). He was married to Sheila Strike Smith in September 1996. Smith serves on the board of the Ames Youth and Shelter Services, the Iowa Games and Norwest Bank.

"The planning and hard work to which we've dedicated ourselves is making a big difference. We want to have winning programs. We do it with integrity, with fiscal integrity and with a great deal of fire and desire."

Head Coach

Dan McCartney

Iowa State head coach Dan McCartney has made good on his pledge of bringing back excitement to ISU football in his first three seasons as the architect chosen to rebuild the Cyclone football program. His contagious intensity created new enthusiasm among ISU fans and players. McCartney's first three seasons at Iowa State are among the most exciting in school history. Before coming to Ames, the former defensive coordinator at Wisconsin played a major role in two of the most dramatic football turnarounds in Big Ten Conference history -- with the Badgers and at Iowa. In his three years as Iowa State's head coach, his Cyclones put themselves on the national football map:

- Playing exciting football while laying the foundation necessary to sustain a winning football program in the nation's premier gridiron conference. Now with state-of-the-art facilities, respect on campus for his team's academic performance and enthusiastic fan support girding the ISU community's commitment to his football program -- focus intensifies around on-the-field improvement. Under McCartney, the Cyclone football program is getting unprecedented exposure. The Cyclones were on television a record seven times last season.

- Despite playing a top-25 schedule that ranked 21st in toughness among 112 NCAA Division I-A schools last season. The Cyclone schedule ranked 12th in toughness the previous season. Iowa State was the Big 12 Conference's youngest team, employing a conference-high 16 freshmen in its two-deep last season.

- Breaking a slew of offensive school records as 1996 Heisman Trophy runner-up Troy Davis received unprecedented national attention. He was the first player to rush for more than 2,000 yards in more than one season. Davis led the nation in rushing and total yards both seasons. ISU averaged a school-record five yards per rush both years. In 1997, Iowa State again was an offensive force. Quarterback Todd Bandhauer put up the second-most prolific passing season in ISU history. The mid-season return of Troy's younger brother Darren resulted in several record-setting rushing performances as Darren became the ninth player in Iowa State history to rush for more than 1,000 yards in a single season.

- Fueling a record attendance surge as fans across Iowa jumped on the Cyclone bandwagon. ISU averaged 35,460 fans per game in the season prior to McCartney's arrival. McCartney's 1995 team played before an average of 37,455 fans per contest and 43,296 fans per home game saw his team play in 1996 -- a 22 percent increase in just two seasons. Season-ticket sales have increased in each of McCartney's three seasons. Student season ticket sales have more than doubled over the same period. The sellout of the Iowa at Iowa State game last season marked ISU's sixth capacity crowd in eight games.

- Since McCartney's arrival, the Cyclones have moved into their new home, the Richard O. Jacobson Athletic Building adjacent to Jack Trice Stadium. An all-natural grass field was laid in 1996. Jack Trice Stadium's new press box and individual suites opened last season, underscoring the Iowa State administration's commitment to McCartney's vision for making the ISU program a blueprint for success. New practice fields are set for dedication this season.

Anyone who has watched McCartney's rise in the coaching ranks would not be surprised by the effort of his national caliber coaching staff. A native of Iowa City, McCartney was instrumental in rebuilding efforts that produced Big Ten titles and Rose Bowl berths at both Iowa and Wisconsin, two schools that regularly finished near the bottom of the league before his arrival.

"Dan is respected by his players and his coaching peers, and he was highly recommended by everyone I talked to. Our success underscores our conviction that he was the perfect man for the job."

Iowa State University

The Iowa State soccer team is in the thick of the Big 12 season after jumping out to its best start in school history with a 4-1-1 non-conference mark.

ISU opened league play with three of its toughest conference opponents, falling to No. 17 Nebraska, 4-2, on Sept. 23 and suffering home losses last weekend to Texas, 4-0, and No. 12 Texas A&M, the defending Big 12 champions, 2-0.

The Cyclones claimed a pair of wins in Florida Sept. 19 and 20, defeating Nova Southeastern and Miami (Fla.). Freshman Erica Florez led the Cyclones in both wins, scoring one goal at Nova and two at Miami (Fla.), including the game-winning goal in both contests. Florez earned Big 12 Soccer Player of the Week honors Sept. 21, becoming the second Cyclone ever to receive the award.

Florez is Iowa State's scoring leader with 16 total points on seven goals and two assists. The Bakersfield, Calif., native, has started every ISU match and scored at least one goal in six of ISU's last seven scoring games. Freshman Janelle Beil is not far behind. A midfielder from Elm Grove, Wis., Beil has accumulated 15 points on seven goals and one assist.

Iowa State opened the season by taking home second-place honors in Vanderbilt's Diadora Classic Sept. 4-6. Beil, Florez, and sophomore Patti Reed were named to the all-tournament team. Beil scored the lone goal in a 4-1 loss to No. 23 Vanderbilt and netted two goals in a 3-0 victory over Mississippi State.

Leading the Cyclone defense are senior Ann Davy and freshman Lynley Hilligoss. Hilligoss is the Cyclones' top goalkeeper. The St. Charles, Ill., native, has started every game and currently owns a 1.93 goals against average. Davy is the squad's lone senior and has played with the team since its inaugural exhibition season in 1995. The St. Paul, Minn., native has started every game this season and will be playing her final matches at the ISU Soccer Complex Oct. 23 at 4 p.m and Oct. 25 at 1 p.m., as the Cyclones take on Oklahoma State and Oklahoma.

Coaching Staff

Nick Quartaro • Receivers/Special Teams

Assistant Head Coach

Quartaro was named as the head coach at Fordham in 1994. Fordham's third-place conference finish last season was the school's highest ever league standing. In 1993, Quartaro's final year at KSU, the Wildcats went 9-2-1, defeated Wyoming in the Copper Bowl and finished the season ranked 18th in the Associated Press poll.

Quartaro, who was a placekicker for Iowa, finished his career as the Hawkeyes' second all-time leading scorer. The 1977 Iowa graduate went on to coach the secondary, defensive line and special teams at Northwestern. He started Drake's NCAA Division III football program, coaching the Bulldogs from 1986-88.

Nick Quartaro, who rebuilt a formerly winless football program at Fordham and was Kansas State's associate head coach during the Wildcats' gridiron turnaround, joined Iowa State's coaching staff as assistant head coach in February. The 42-year-old Quartaro brings recognized expertise to his role as receivers and special teams coach, renewing a bond he forged with Cyclone head coach Dan McCarney when both played at Iowa.

Pete Hoener • Offensive Line

Offensive Coordinator

Hoener pupils at TCU included quarterback Max Knake and running back Andre Davis, who earned co-Southwest Conference player-of-the-year honors. Eight of Hoener's offensive line-men at TCU earned all-Southwest Conference honors. He also served as TCU's assistant head coach. Hoener coached three seasons at Purdue, where he served stints coaching the offensive and defensive lines and the Boilermaker special teams.

A native of Peoria, Ill., Hoener was the offensive line coach at Illinois from 1986 to 1988. The 1973 Bradley graduate was the tight ends coach for the NFL's St. Louis Cardinals from 1984-86. From 1978-84, Hoener served as offensive coordinator and offensive line coach at Indiana State.

Pete Hoener (pronounced HAY-nur), joined the Iowa State coaching staff in January after catching the eye of Cyclone head coach Dan McCarney when the two coached against each other during Hoener's coaching tenure at Illinois, Purdue and Texas Christian. Hoener's TCU offense led the Southwest Conference in 1994.

John Skladany • Linebackers

Defensive Coordinator

John Skladany, who played a key role on the Colorado State coaching staff that turned the Ram defense into a unit that led the Western Athletic Conference, joined Dan McCarney's staff as defensive coordinator in 1997. His fundamental, attacking style brought a new sense of mission to the Iowa State football program with McCarney's blessing. ISU made strides on the defensive side of the ball in 1997. Iowa State defenders made 21 sacks last season, the most by a Cyclone team in 10 years. Skladany came to Ames after successful tenures at every coaching level.

With Skladany coaching the defensive line, Colorado State won WAC team titles in 1994 and 1995. The Rams won 25 games over the last three seasons of Skladany's term at CSU.

Skladany played football at Central Connecticut State, earning a bachelor's degree in 1972. The Haverhill, Mass., native played in the defensive line for the New England Patriots (1972), the Washington Redskins (1973), the WFL's Birmingham Americans and the Ottawa Roughriders (1975) of the CFL. Before Colorado State, Skladany coached at Northern Arizona, Ohio University, Maine and the U.S. Merchant Marine Academy. He owns a master's degree from Ohio.

Tony Alford • Running Backs

Tony Alford, a former all-Western Athletic Conference running back who was a Doak Walker Award nominee, is in his second season at Iowa State after Dan McCarney hired him to coach the Cyclone running backs. That move paid immediate dividends at ISU, where the Cyclone backfield produced a 1,000-yard rusher for the third straight season. Hiring Alford, who earned all-WAC honors at Colorado State in 1989, was a priority for McCarney after former ISU running backs coach Kirby Wilson left for the New England Patriots of the NFL.

Alford earned honorable mention All-America honors at Colorado State on USA Today's 1989 All-America team and was named to the WAC first-team all-conference squad. The 1992 CSU graduate with a bachelor's degree in exercise and sports science set a conference single-game rushing record with 310 rushing yards against Utah and was nominated for the 1989 Doak Walker Award.

The running backs coach at Kent in 1996, Alford was the running backs coach at Mt. Union College in 1995. He helped the Raiders to a 12-1 record and the NCAA Division III semifinals. He has also served as an assistant coach at high schools in Lake Wales, Fla., and Fort Collins, Colo.

Bob Carskie

Director of Football Operations

Chicago native Bob Carskie, who was named Iowa State's director of football operations before 1998 spring practice, has coordinated ISU's first four recruiting efforts that have put the Cyclones on the recruiting map across the country.

In addition to his recruiting contributions, Carskie is responsible for scheduling, serving as the department liaison for the football program and handling a variety of administrative duties. Carskie, an original member of ISU head coach Dan McCarney's Iowa State coaching staff, had stints tutoring the Cyclone offensive linemen and wide receivers during his first three seasons in Ames.

Carskie worked with McCarney at Wisconsin for the 1990, 1991 and 1992 seasons, while earning a master's degree in educational administration in 1991. He moved to Louisville under Howard Schnellenberger in 1993. The 45-year-old Carskie earned a bachelor's degree from Missouri Valley College in 1975.

Matt McGettigan • Strength & Conditioning

Iowa State's football team has literally grown by leaps and bounds since Dan McCarney came to Ames. Most of the credit for those improvements must go to Cyclone strength coach Matt McGettigan. McGettigan came to Iowa State with head coach Dan McCarney after serving as assistant strength and conditioning coach at Notre Dame since 1990.

Prior to his work with the Fighting Irish, McGettigan served as the strength and conditioning coordinator for the University of Wisconsin-Platteville from 1987-90. McGettigan earned his master's degree in 1989 in exercise science.

McGettigan completed his undergraduate work in physical education at Luther College in Decorah, Iowa, in 1987. He is a member of the National Strength and Conditioning Association. In January, 1989, McGettigan received his certification as a Strength and Conditioning Specialist.

Grant was an academic all-Big Eight signal-caller on Nebraska teams that earned three Orange Bowl berths in addition to Fiesta and Citrus Bowl appearances during his playing career. The native of Tampa, Fla., earned a pair of bachelor's degrees from Nebraska and completed his master's degree in Mass Communication from Nebraska.

Grant was a graduate assistant coach working with the Husker tight ends and wide receivers from 1994-96. This experience includes being part of two Nebraska national championship teams. The 28-year-old Grant assisted the Nebraska recruiting coordinator in 1993.

Phil Meyer • Quarterbacks

Phil Meyer is in his fourth season at Iowa State and his first coaching the Cyclone quarterbacks. Meyer came to Iowa State after serving as offensive coordinator at Illinois State in 1994. Meyer helped coach a Cyclone offensive unit that has set several NCAA and school records. He is no stranger to the signal-calling position, having coached quarterbacks in the six seasons before his arrival in Ames. Meyer coached ISU's tight ends and special teams the past three seasons. Meyer previously coached five seasons at Southern Illinois, where he was offensive coordinator for four seasons and the Salukis' assistant head coach in 1993.

A Milwaukee, Wis., native, the 41-year-old Meyer began his collegiate playing career at Wisconsin-Milwaukee before transferring to Illinois State for his sophomore season. He earned his bachelor's degree (1979) and master's degree (1980) at Illinois State.

Mike Nelson • Defensive Line

Mike Nelson's impact on the Iowa State defense was immediate. Last season, his first at ISU, Nelson's defensive line figured prominently in racking up 21 sacks, the highest Cyclone single season total in 10 years. Nelson, who has been to bowl games at Wisconsin and Stanford, joined Dan McCarney's Iowa State staff in January 1997 as defensive line coach. Nelson's resume includes trips to a pair of bowl games under Dave McClain at Wisconsin. Under Minnesota Vikings head coach Dennis Green, Nelson went to the 1991 Aloha Bowl at Stanford.

Nelson has Big 12 experience, with coaching stints at Missouri (1985-86) and Kansas State (1989). Nelson started his coaching career at Southern Illinois and was defensive coordinator at Norfolk State (1972) before returning to his alma mater, Dayton, in 1973. He then moved to Virginia (1975-76) and later Ball State. Nelson was the defensive line coach at Rutgers (1993-95) for three seasons before going to Oregon State (1996). Nelson earned his bachelor's degree from Dayton in 1969. He earned his master's degree at Southern Illinois in 1970.

Paul Rhoads • Secondary

Ankeny native Paul Rhoads, formerly the co-defensive coordinator at Pacific, is in his fourth season at Iowa State under Dan McCarney. He will coach the secondary for the third season after one season as linebackers coach. Rhoads' Iowa State players include cornerback Dawan Anderson, who returned a school-record two interceptions for touchdowns in 1996 and Dustin Avey, who made two interceptions last season.

Rhoads coordinated Pacific's pass defense in 1994 and coached the Tiger defensive backs under former Drake head coach Chuck Shelton from 1992-94. In 1993, Pacific allowed just 152 yards passing per game, ranking 20th nationally.

The 31-year-old Rhoads went to Pacific from Ohio State in 1991, where he was a graduate assistant working with the secondary. Following graduation with a bachelor's degree in economics from Missouri Western in 1989, he was a graduate assistant at Utah State under Shelton. ## Mike Woodley • Tight Ends

Waterloo native Mike Woodley, the first coach hired by Iowa State head coach Dan McCarney when he became the Cyclones' head coach in November 1994, is in his fourth season as an assistant coach at ISU. Woodley coaches ISU's tight ends after three seasons coaching the Cyclone linebackers. The former head coach at West Des Moines Valley High School graduated from Northern Iowa in 1974 with a bachelor's degree in physical education. He worked for one season (1975) with McCarney as a graduate assistant on Bob Commings' Hawkeye football staff.

After a successful career in the Iowa prep ranks at Waterloo East, Osage and Fort Dodge, the 46-year-old Woodley moved on to St. Ambrose University in Davenport, serving as offensive coordinator for two seasons before taking over the head coaching reins in 1991. His final (1993) St. Ambrose team was 6-5. The campaign marked the Bees' first winning season in six years and included a stunning upset of NCAA Division I-AA opponent Western Illinois.

David Keen • Graduate Assistant

A 1997 graduate of St Ambrose, David Keen joined the Iowa State coaching staff in June 1998. Recruited to St. Ambrose out of Pattonville High School in St. Louis, Mo., by future ISU assistant Mike Woodley (then the Bees' head coach), Keen was a three-year starter in the offensive line. After earning a bachelor's degree in criminal justice, Keen assisted on the St. Ambrose staff as the offensive line and tight ends coach.

Charlie Partridge • Graduate Assistant

A two-time defensive player of the week, Partridge graded out above 80 percent in each of his last three seasons. # Cy's Favorite Alum

Since 1955, the Iowa State University Department of Intercollegiate Athletics has annually honored an individual whose accomplishments and loyalty have earned him or her special distinction.

The athletic department did not have to look far to find a recipient for this year's Cy's Favorite Alum award. Barb Houk gave 29 years of loyal service to the Iowa State athletic department, including 14 in the athletic director's office, before retiring last June. She was a cornerstone in the athletic department, which had six football coaches, six men's basketball coaches, six sports information directors and four athletic directors during her tenure.

Athletic director Gene Smith credits Houk's expertise and wisdom in helping guide the department through major changes since his arrival in 1993.

"Barb Houk was the glue that helped hold our department together through many trying times," Smith said. "Barb worked through an overwhelming transition, including massive changes in personnel and facilities, as well as working within some stringent financial constraints. If she didn't know the answer to a question, she knew where to find the answer. For that, I will be eternally grateful to her."

Houk managed the various functions of the athletic director's office, including the scheduling of building events, personnel issues and the coordination of the clerical staff. In 1994, Houk was promoted to administrative assistant to the athletic director. Houk also served as secretary to the Athletic Council for many years, organizing and recording the group's meetings.

Smith speaks for the entire Cyclone athletic family, past and present, in expressing appreciation to Houk for her devotion to the department.

Smith said Houk was very touched when she received word she would be honored as Cy's Favorite Alum.

"I was absolutely stunned and overwhelmed," Houk said. "I can't believe it. Everyone has been so wonderful."

An Ames native, Houk worked at the Iowa Department of Transportation for eight years before spending nine years at home with her children. She joined the Iowa State University Department of Athletics in 1969, handling men's sports and student services, which were housed in State Gym. Clay Stapleton was serving as ISU's athletic director when Houk was hired.

During Houk's tenure, she witnessed the growth of ISU athletics during the 1970s, including four football bowl berths, the construction of the original Cyclone Stadium and James H. Hilton Coliseum and the merging of men's and women's sports to form Iowa State's Intercollegiate Athletic Department.

Houk spent the first half of the 1980s working with Jim Overturf and Irv Christiansen in the athletic business office. In 1985, Houk began working for athletic director Max Urlick. The office was located in the old Olsen Building until the Jacobson Athletic Building was completed in 1996.

Retirement has given Barb an opportunity to spend more time with her husband, Bill, their two children, Dan and Kerry, and two grandchildren, Jeffrey (9) and Eric (6).

The Excitement Continues at Iowa State!

On the Football Field!

Returning quarterback Todd Bandhauer is one of several Cyclone football players who major in engineering. The College of Engineering is proud to support the Iowa State Cyclones! Excellence in the classroom and on the field goes hand-in-hand to create the exciting world in which we learn, work, and play. A competitive team with a winning attitude brings success on the field, in the classroom, and in the workplace.

In the Marching Band!

One out of three marching band members is an Iowa State engineering student, indicating once again that the talents and energy of engineering students are second to none. And they have a good time working together to improve our lives through technology or through music!

In Engineering

The Engineering Teaching and Research Complex is moving forward at a rapid pace. Stanley and Helen Howe Hall (Phase I of the complex) is well on its way to a 1999 completion and occupancy. Phase II will begin next year.

When fully completed, the $61 million complex will feature high-tech teaching classrooms, lecture halls, and auditoriums with multi-media and distance learning capabilities as well as various state-of-the-art instructional labs – all made possible through the generous support of engineering alumni and friends, industrial partners, and the State of Iowa.

The Big 12

The Big 12 Conference - Second to None

The formation of the Big 12 represents an undertaking by school chief executive officers to combine resources to achieve even higher levels of performance heading into the 21st century.

National Exposure

The Big 12 Conference has one of the most comprehensive regional and national TV contracts in America. On any given Saturday, three Big 12 games are being shown to national audiences.

- The Big 12 Conference is the ONLY league nationally to gain two Alliance Bowl berths in each of the last two seasons.
- ABC and Fox Sports Network combine to produce nearly 40 football games annually in syndicated regional, national and prime time windows. In all, the packages with ABC, Fox Sports Network and ESPN guarantee the Big 12 the finest intercollegiate coverage through the year 2000 (2003 with ABC for football television).

Competition

- Seven Big 12 schools were in The Associated Press top 25 poll at least once throughout the 1997 campaign.
- Big 12 schools have a composite bowl record of 10-7 over the past three seasons and have annually sent a minimum of five teams to post season play.
- Big 12 teams have accounted for more than 152 national collegiate team championships and 16 wire service football titles, while its student-athletes have claimed nearly 800 NCAA crowns entering the 1998-99 academic year.
- The Big 12 has been the ONLY conference with two teams participating in major Bowl Alliance games (Fiesta, Orange and Sugar) the last two seasons. The Big 12 also has four other bowl agreements with the Southwestern Bell Cotton Bowl Classic, Culligan Holiday Bowl, Builders Square Alamo Bowl and Insight.com Copper Bowl.

Cyclones vs. Tigers

THE SERIES: Missouri leads the series, 52-30-9, including a 26-15-3 mark in Ames. However, the last time Mizzou played in Jack Trice Stadium was a 45-31 loss in ISU's 1996 Homecoming game. Today is also ISU's Homecoming. MU last won in Ames in 1994, which was head coach Larry Smith's first year at the Tiger helm. Oddly, the winner of this matchup the last three years has scored 45 points. Missouri won 45-31 in Columbia in 1995, ISU triumphed 45-31 in Ames in 1996. MU claimed a victory last year in Columbia, 45-21.

OFFENSIVELY: Cyclone quarterback Todd Bandhauer threw five touchdown passes vs. Texas last week, setting an ISU game record and passing David Archer's 33 career TD mark. Bandhauer also set school records for most passing attempts (62), completions (30) and passing yards (437). ISU wide receivers Damien Groce and J.J. Moses last week gave the Cyclones' their first pair of single-game 100-yard receivers since 1983. Cyclone tailback Darren Davis is fourth in the conference with 837 all-purpose yards (167.4 ypg). MU quarterback Corby Jones set Missouri career records last week with 34 rushing touchdowns and 54 touchdowns produced (34 rushing, 20 passing). MU's Kent Layman is 10th in the league in receiving yards per game, averaging 28.9 yards per grab. Mizzou's rushing offense is first in the Big 12 and third nationally. The Tigers are averaging 298.0 rushing yards per game. Devin West is tied with MU signalcaller Corby Jones for fourth in the Big 12 in scoring.

DEFENSIVELY: MU's total defense is tied for fifth in the league and 20th nationally. The Tigers have allowed their opponents only 299.5 yards of offense per game. Mizzou's pass efficiency defense is fifth in the Big 12 and 39th nationally. They have limited their opponents to 629 total passing yards. The Cyclones are 10th in the conference and 72nd nationally in total defense. ISU is holding its opponents to 371.6 yards of total offense per game. Missouri have registered 15 sacks in their first four games, while Iowa State has yet to allow a sack this season.

SPECIAL TEAMS: ISU's Carl Gomez is sixth in the conference and 44th nationally in punting. The sophomore has punted 25 times and is averaging 41.6 yards per punt. ISU is fourth in the conference and 23rd nationally in net punting, averaging 38.8 yards per contest. Cyclone Kevin Wilson ranks eighth in the Big 12 in kickoff returns. The senior has 10 returns for 211 yards, an average of 21.10 yards per return. Veteran Missouri punter Vince Sebo is averaging 43.5 yards in 15 punts. Tiger placekicker Tim Geiger has made just one of his two field goal attempts this season. However, the junior has converted on 15-of-17 PATs.

THE COACHES: Tiger head coach Larry Smith 21-28-1 in his fifth season at Missouri. Smith is in his 22nd season as a head coach and has a career mark of 131-108-7. Cyclone head coach Dan McCarney is in his fourth year at the ISU helm. He has an 8-30 record as a head coach.
