Claire Huebolt

In rebuttal to the article by Claire Huebolt, I would like to say that I can not agree with her logic or better the lack of it. The points she tried to make were very lame in foundation and filled with her personal feelings of persecution. My friends and I would like to address the arguments she made in her article in the order in which she made them.

First I'd like to agree with Claire's insight that there are more people "happily giggling" than there are "pissed off" about the stop AIDS sign. Thats all I would agree with though. To start with, this has nothing to do with "left wing", "right wing", liberals or conservatism. That is your personal opinion showing through, and you shouldn't try to include your disgusting habits into those categories (maybe try the "human trash" category).

As far as irresponsibility goes which is worse ? A)A picture showing two fucking faggots boning one another up the "wazoo", and trying to warn people about AIDS. OR B)fags & lezbos going around spreading AIDS, and ultimately infecting innocent people with their disease. The picture might have been a insult to gays everywhere, but gays are an insult to society everywhere.

I'm sure you (Claire Huebolt) and your lover were enraged, so much so I'll bet you went straight to the bedroom and licked each other's oozing yeast infected cunts to calm yourselves.

The thing that bothers us the most is what gives you the right to compare yourself to Blacks, Hispanics, American Indians, International students, or the human race for that mater? My friends, some helping with and all agreeing with this paper, are in those groups you pointed out. All of those friends are offended you even use their nationalities or races in your attempt to justify your perversions. A person doesn't have to be a genius to figure out how the reproductive organs are meant to function, and those who misuse them shouldn't be surprised when they start contracting fatal diseases. I'll tell you something, when a guy walks around with shit all over his dick from sticking it up other guys asses hes going to catch something and its not going to be chicken pokes. Another thing, if it wasn't for the normal people who contracted AIDS I'd say "let the cure for AIDS be DEATH".

Next, don't try to invoke patriotism into people to support your point of view, because your viewpoint isn't red, white, and blue its different shades of brown (if you know what I mean). As far as forefathers and foremothers go I don't think they had your kind of America in mind. I wonder what your mother & father think of your habits not to mention you foreparents ?

If your so interested in stopping AIDS (a disease which fags & dikes started), why don't you write an article to tell the fucking faggots to stop taking trips up & down the Hershey highway

About your rumors, I don't suppose you have any proof to your statement abuot your paranoia created "conservatives" spreading false rumors about misappropriated funds do you ? I doubt it, and I also doubt you and your journalism (and I use that term lightly) is going to go very far if the shit you wrote is a example.

After reading your closing paragraph ~~and~~ what it really sounded like was you being afraid that someone would write an opposing argument, and trying to say that the opposing article supports your views. Well here is the argument and its got a lot of harsh language in it (but nothing anyone hasn't heard before ) which isn't needed to make its point (being that your a disgusting lying dike), but I felt like putting it in there anyway just as you feel like sucking tits and licking snatch now and then. And this article doesn't strengthen your veiwpont at all, it just points out how the America of the real world thinks.

We'll close with a thought for you to ponder. Maybe if your kind does what they feel like they have to do in PRIVATE, and quit sticking it in everyones faces you would have a lot less to worry about...
