GOVERNMENT

RAYMOND ALLEN PEARSON, LL. D.

President

President Pearson is devoting a busy life to the interests of Iowa State College. His efforts have been and are continually being repaid by the phenomenal growth and prestige of our institution. Iowa State College now has an enrollment of four thousand students and is fast assuming leadership among mid-western schools.

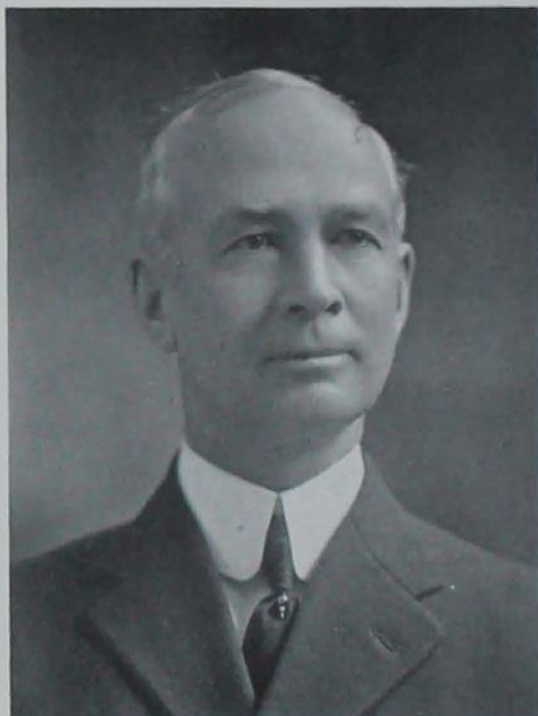

President Pearson is a member of Phi Kappa Phi, Alpha Zeta, Sigma Xi, Gamma Sigma Delta, and Gamma Alpha. During the early part of the war he served as assistant to the Secretary of Agriculture.

MARIA M. ROBERTS

Dean of the Junior College

Miss Roberts has succeeded Dr. Stanton as Dean of the Junior College. In addition to this capacity, she is the head of the Department of Mathematics. The organization and operation of the details of Freshman and Sophomore records is a painstaking occupation which Miss Roberts is accomplishing very successfully.

CHARLES F. CURTISS
Dean of Agriculture

Dean Curtiss holds a place of national importance in livestock and agricultural circles. He has held the position of Professor of Agriculture for eighteen years at Iowa State College and is responsible for the organization of what is recognized as the best agricultural course in the country. Ames is conceded priority in agricultural education.

Dean Curtiss is a member of Gamma Pi chapter of Delta Tau Delta, Alpha Zeta, Phi Kappa Phi, and occupies prominent positions on many of the agricultural and livestock associations of America.

ANSON MARSTON
Dean of Engineering

Dean Marston, with the exception of a year spent in the service, has occupied his present position since the organization of engineering as a separate division at Iowa State College. In the early part of the war Dean Marston enlisted in the Engineers and was soon commissioned Major. The Engineering Division of Iowa State College has developed at a far greater rate than any other division and today enjoys the highest of national reputations. Great credit is due Dean Marston for this condition.

Dean Marston is a member of Theta Xi, Tau Beta Pi, Phi Kappa Phi, Sigma Psi, and occupies positions of executive importance in many of the foremost national engineering and highway associations.

ROBERT E. BUCHANAN, PH. D.

Dean of Graduate Division

Dean Buchanan, prior to the year 1919, had occupied the position of Dean of Industrial Science. Doctor Buchanan's work in the Graduate College has been gratifying, many advanced degrees being conferred in the past year.

Dean Buchanan is President of the Society of American Bacteriologists and is a member of Delta Upsilon, Phi Kappa Phi, Phi Lambda Upsilon, Sigma Xi, Gamma Alpha, Gamma Sigma Delta, and Acacia.

SAMUEL W. BEYER, PH. D.

Dean of Industrial Science

Dean Beyer has held the position as Dean of Industrial Science for the past two years, prior to which he was Vice-Dean of the Division of Engineering. The Industrial Science Division embraces nearly all of the scientific courses required of freshman students both in the agricultural and engineering divisions, in addition to the major courses in its own division. The scope of the department is large but is admirably handled by Dean Beyer.

Dean Beyer is a member of Phi Beta Kappa, Phi Lambda Upsilon, Tau Beta Pi, Phi Kappa Phi, and is prominent among the foremost geological societies.

CHARLES H. STANGE, D. V. M.
Dean of Veterinary Medicine

To Dean Stange must go the credit of organizing a veterinary division that is now conceded to surpass any in this country. Dr. Stange has been Dean of his division since early after his graduation in 1908.

Dr. Stange is a front figure in American veterinary circles and is a member of Acacia and Phi Kappa Phi fraternities.

CATHERINE J. MACKAY
Dean of Home Economics

Miss MacKay has been Dean of the Division of Home Economics for the past three years. Her efforts have brought expansion and nation-wide recognition to this department. Miss MacKay, herself, enjoys a national reputation as a home economist and educator. Studying in the department today are ninety students, representing forty-six colleges in sixteen states. The present enrollment in the division is over six hundred.

Dean MacKay is a member of Omicron Nu, Phi Kappa Phi, and the American Home Economics Association.

HAZEL M. HARWOOD

Dean of Women

Dean Harwood occupies one of the most essential positions in the administrative department of Iowa State College, that of Dean of Women. Miss Harwood is vested in practically complete control over the social activities of the students and to one who realizes the significance of social regulations, this position suggests its importance.

The Phi Kappa Phi Honor Society is an organization of graduates and undergraduate members of the Senior Class of all departments of American colleges and universities. Its prime object is to emphasize scholarship in the thought of college students, to hold fast to the original purpose for which institutions of learning were founded, and to stimulate mental achievement by the prize of membership. The Society does not confine its membership to any particular kind of degree or course of study, but has as its aim the unity and democracy of learning. Membership in it is open to members of other honor societies.

Purpose of the Organization

- To lead students to faith in God through Jesus Christ;
  - To lead them into membership and service in the Christian church;
  - To promote their growth in Christian faith and character, especially through the study of the Bible;
  - To influence them to devote themselves in united efforts with all Christians to making the will of Christ effective in human society, and to extending the Kingdom of God throughout the world.
- This is our real statement of purpose; if a shorter statement is necessary, this might be used:
- To deepen the religious life of college girls, to broaden friendships, to develop Christian ideals through all college life, and to train girls for Christian service.

The Department of Ceramic Engineering was established in response to a growing demand for instruction in the silicate industries.

The term "Ceramic Engineering" has come to include within its scope the several phases of that branch of engineering which has to do with the investigation and development of all materials which enter into any of the silicate products, besides clay and cement working, glass making, sand lime, brick manufacture, and all mortar work into which natural silicates or silicate forming processes are properly embraced in the definition of the word.

DR. NORMAN C. PAINE

N. A. MERRIAM

DR. NORMAN C. PAINE, Football Coach, is a graduate of the University of Chicago, where he played three years under the tutelage of Alonzo A. Stagg, one of the greatest football mentors in the country. Paine played guard and quarterback while at Chicago, and was captain and center of the basket ball team in his last year at the Midway institution. After graduation he assisted Stagg with the Maroon team, going later to Baylor University at Waco, Texas, where he turned out strong teams. From Baylor University Dr. Paine went to University of Arkansas, where he developed a team that tied Oklahoma the first year and beat them the next.

Working with new men Dr. Paine turned out one of the strongest teams Iowa State ever had during his first year here, and he is expecting to make even a better record next fall.

"NED" MERRIAM, Iowa State's track and cross country coach, started his athletic career at Wayland Academy, where he gained recognition as a half and quarter miler. Merriam then went to the University of Chicago, where for two consecutive years he was individual point winner in the Big Ten Conference, and the greatest hurdler and quarter miler Chicago ever knew. In 1908 he played fullback on the Chicago football team that won the Conference championship. "Ned" then went to the London Olympic games.

Merriam coached football and track at Texas Agricultural for a year and a half before coming to Ames. He coached the Iowa State cross country team in 1910 and from that time on has been turning out winners in both track and cross country with great regularity.

M. A. KENT

H. OTOPALIK

M. A. "MAURY" KENT, basket ball and baseball coach, is well known in athletics in this state "Maury" played three years at quarterback on the University of Iowa football team, forward on the basket ball team, and pitcher on the baseball team. After graduation he went to the Brooklyn Nationals as a pitcher. He coached the Haskell Indians for a year and spent the next year at Carleton College, where his teams brought so much attention that he was brought back to his Alma Mater. After five years at Iowa, he transferred his services to Wisconsin, where he coached basket ball and baseball until this year, when Mayser secured him to coach at Iowa State.

"Maury" developed one of the best basket ball teams ever seen in the local gym this year, and ought to have a team next season that will make a strong bid for the Valley championship.

H. OTOPALIK, physical training instructor and assistant football and wrestling coach, is a graduate of the University of Nebraska. He played fullback on the Nebraska team for three consecutive years, during which time the team did not lose a game. Otopalik was one of the greatest college wrestlers in the country, winning the Missouri Valley championship for two years and the National Amateur championship at Gary in the light heavyweight class.

While in the service Otopalik had charge of athletic work in his unit in France, and on his return took up the same line of work at Nebraska. Last fall he was a great help in coaching the backfield and developed some likely looking wrestlers during the winter.

E. E. MYLIN

C. E. DAUBERT

E. E. "HOOK" MYLIN, a graduate of Franklin and Marshall, is in charge of all-freshman athletics at Ames. Mylin was rated as All-American quarterback while in school and took part in almost every branch of athletics.

Mylin has put intra-mural athletics on a sound basis at Iowa State and there is more interest being shown this year than ever before. He developed a freshman football team last fall that gave the varsity some hard battles and his freshman basket ball team was one of the best the school had in a long time.

C. E. DAUBERT, Swimming Instructor, came here from the Dubuque Y. M. C. A. He has been engaged in "Y" work for some time and has had much experience as a swimming instructor and coach. At one time he had charge of the Hygienic pool at Atlantic City, the largest outdoor pool in the country.

Daubert is developing a swimming team here that will be able to cope with the best in the country, and this sport is bound to become more popular in the future.

Review of the Season

Football for the season of 1920 began on September 15th, when about thirty-five old and new men returned to start practice for the hard schedule which was planned for them. All were anxious to get started under the supervision of the new coach, Dr. N. C. Paine.

From then on until the time school started many hours were put in, two daily practices being held. Due to the lack of old men in the line, it became necessary for the coach to fill these positions from a large squad. Keen competition resulted in filling these vacancies. This was done in time to get the team in fair working condition to meet Coe in the first game of the season on October second.

This game, which was held on State Field, started out with straight football, but soon changed into a forward passing game. Due to the looseness of the plays, and the lack of thrills and spectacular plays, the game was uninteresting to the fans. Captain Boyd was a great factor in both the offense and defense, his kicking meaning considerable to the Cyclones. "Polly" Wallace figured in nearly every play. Scores came to Coe after two drop kicks had been made from the twenty-five and thirty-yard lines. These were the only markings made, thus leaving Ames with the little end of a 6 to 0 score.

After seeing the men in action, Dr. Paine was able to get at the weak points, and practice the following week consisted in remedying these. The return of White, Currie, and Young, battle scarred "A" men, made the fans take an added interest. These men were immediately put into action, and with added practice the team was in far better condition to meet Grinnell the following Saturday.

Ames upset the dopesters' predictions to a big extent by coming home with the big end of a 28 to 0 score. The rearranging of the personnel of the Cyclone line-up and a thorough training gave the "Scarlet and Black" the hardest game she has had with Ames for some time. The ball was frequently fumbled by both sides, but the "Pioneers" were unable to take advantage of them. Captain Boyd and "Doc" Hibbs did good work throughout their time at quarter, while Vanderloo, playing his first Ames game in nearly two years as fullback, cinched a claim on that position by starring on several occasions. Polly Wallace made holes galore for Vanderloo and White, who made consistent gains.

The first goal was made in the first quarter, when, after a 45-yard punt over Grinnell's goal line by Ames, Grinnell fumbled the ball, Byers diving for it and making a touchdown. Boyd kicked the goal. Ames scored again in the first period on White's left end run. Boyd again kicked goal. Two more touchdowns were made the last quarter, Currie blocking a punt by Grinnell from the 18-yard line and carrying it over, and Hibbs intercepting a pass. A series of passes were used, the final one being caught by Scholtz over the line, for a goal. Hibbs added the twenty-eighth point.

A heavy grueling was given the Ames team by Dr. Paine, who worked them long after dusk, white footballs being used, new plays were introduced, and the forward passing game was brought to a greater degree of perfection along with the tackling, in order to increase the efficiency of the battling Cyclones.

In line with seven other state schools seen in action Saturday afternoon, Ames went down to defeat before the rangy Tigers. Their heavy, well-balanced line and penetrating backfield were more than a match for the lighter but shifty Cyclones, the latter playing a game of real ability nevertheless. The first marking of the 14 to 2 score came early in the first period when Hibbs kicked off to the Missourians and they began a slow and steady march down the field to the goal. Ames tightened the rest of the quarter and annexed the next two points when a Tiger, who was later downed by Birch and Wallace, intercepted a pass from Hibbs to White over the Missouri goal line. Byers shot a place kick just over the bars from the 35-yard line. The other goal was made in the third quarter by a sensational 65-yard run. Alsin received a dislocated shoulder, while Young and Boyd had pedal injuries.

Birch and Webb were strong on the Ames line for getting down under punts, the former recovering a loose ball twice for the Cyclones. Wallace recovered one muffed play of a Tiger, gaining over forty yards which were lost as the half ended. Many substitutions were made in order to reserve energy for the Kansas U. game at Lawrence the following Saturday.

Dr. Paine and his warriors journeyed to Kansas and there lost the hardest fought game ever played between the two schools, the board recording a 7 to 0 score. The crippled condition of several of the Iowa Staters made the final count much different than the game itself showed the teams to rank.

The seventy-five-yard run made by the fast Kansas halfback, Little, on the first play after the Jayhawkers got the ball, did the trick as far as any scoring in the game was concerned. From then on the story was different and there was not any question but that Kansas had made their only tally from Ames. The Cyclones twice worked the ball to within fifteen yards of the Jayhawkers' goal, but on both occasions the Kansas line held and the ball was punted out of danger. Wallace and Vanderloo played a hard game, keeping the Jayhawkers on edge the entire time. "Polly" featured consecutively in the defense of Ames' hardest knocks from the Jayhawkers, and several of the best Ames gains were made through center until Kansas could stop it up partly with beefier guards. The team returned in good condition to meet Washington in a week, Bennett being the only serious sufferer in the grueling.

As a reward for their long hours of practice, the Iowa Staters made the Victory Bell ring out, and sent the Pikers home with the little end of a 27 to 7 score. Three touchdowns, and a drop kick from the sure toe of Captain Boyd were responsible for the tallies against Washington, while the latter caught up a break, and what has been later shown to be an oversight in technicalities, fell on the ball from a punt for their seven points. Vanderloo pushed over the first score soon after the Cyclones had received the ball. A steady march down the field, a fumble, and loss to the Pikers who gave the Cyclones a second order to march, brought the ball steadily towards the Piker goal posts, and unable to stand a heavy prodding, the St. Louis lads succumbed to Vanderloo's final plunge. Boyd kicked the goal.

From then on forward passes were held at a premium, while end runs were more numerous. By a series of aerial trips, the ball was carried toward the Piker goal line late in the first period, Vanderloo smashing over the line in the first play of the second period. Boyd added the fourteenth counter.

The Pikers attempted to rally in the early part of the third period. Passes were thrown right and left when it was seen that bucking the Ames line availed little. A drop kick from Boyd came in the third quarter, the kick being made from the 26-yard line. In the final period Borby made a sensational run of fifty-one yards. He caught the ball on an attempted Washington pass and cut loose for a wide run before being downed. This run together with the gains made by Bodwell, substitute for Vanderloo in the last period, put the ball within striking distance of the Pikers' goal. Then on a long hard plunge by Bodwell, the ball was carried over, for the final counter.

Cyclone fans were well pleased with the improved showing of the team. The work of the line and offense showed a decided improvement. Gains through Wallace at center were safe to count upon when near the goal, while Birch and Young did splendid work. White gained more ground than any other back in the game.

On November sixth Dr. Paine took his gridders to Omaha and there they defeated the Creighton eleven on a muddy, straw-covered field, to the tune of 17 to 0. The first quarter ended without a score, the ball being worked back and forth across the field by straight football on the part of Ames and by long punts by Creighton. The second period was a repetition of the first. The wet field kept the Ames backs from getting off on plays that would have meant longer runs and probably earlier scoring. Of the few passes that were attempted, only one was completed for a gain of ten yards.

More aerial attacks were made in the third period and several good gains were made. The Creighton team, seeing they could not gain through the Ames line, resorted to open play. After the Ames men had worked the pigskin within striking distance of the Creighton goal, Boyd dropped back for a drop kick, missing the bars by several feet. A second attempt also failed, due to the lack of footing.

Ames' first score came at the beginning of the last quarter, when Boyd dropkicked from the 18-yard line. The remainder of the Cyclone scores came in the last few minutes of play, when Vanderloo blocked a Creighton punt on their 4-yard line, Schooley taking the ball over on the next play for the first touchdown. In the next few minutes of play Byers intercepted a pass and tore across the Catholic goal for the last tally.

The Cyclones outplayed the Creighton team in every department of the game. Ames' stone-wall line, featuring "Polly" Wallace and "Lafe" Young, was impregnable. In the backfield, "Stew" White did exceptionally good work, his off tackle gaining from three to ten yards without exception. Currie, White, and Boyd made good runs, while Vanderloo was one of Ames' outstanding stars, his absence being strongly felt when he was substituted for in the second half.

Iowa State again invaded Kansas on November thirteenth, defeating the Kansas Aggies 17 to 0. Kansas played a better game than Ames in the first period, but were outclassed by the Cyclones in every other period of the contest. Forward passes put Ames within striking distance of the Kansas goal line preceding both touchdowns. In each case the pass put the ball on the Kansas 20-yard line, and in each case straight football carried it over. The first touchdown came in the second period following a Vanderloo-to-Byers pass, and Currie got the marker by worming through right tackle for a touchdown after the pigskin had been advanced to the Kansas 3-yard line.

The second touchdown started with a Hibbs-to-Vanderloo pass in the fourth quarter. Vanderloo, Borby, and Schooley worked the ball to within a few yards of the goal line, and Hibbs carried it over. Boyd kicked the first goal and Vanderloo the second. The field goal was kicked by Captain Boyd from placement at the 25-yard line, and came in the second quarter. Little trouble was encountered by the Cyclones in whipping the Wild Cats. The latter were the means of raising the Iowa Staters' average.

The final game of the season was played on the "old stamping ground", November twentieth. When Ames and Iowa battled to a standstill in the classic dual of these old rivals, before a crowd of over thirteen thousand rooters, the final score being 14 to 10. Not for many years have the two teams been so nearly matched as they were at the last and perhaps the hardest fought game in the college career of Iowa State's moleskin athletes. Vanderloo, Boyd, Young, and Hibbs played every minute of the game with every muscle and ounce of energy in them. And for that matter, there was not a man used through the game who did not show up at his best in this twenty-third of the annual classics.

"Stew" White, all-Valley halfback last year and one of the best open field runners in the Cyclone backfield, was held in leash until late in the game, and after being inserted literally tore up the Hawkeye ground for Ames' only touchdown in the last minutes of play. The place kick by "Mac" Beyers in the first of the second period from Iowa's 35-yard line, made the three first Cyclone pointers, as well as the first scoring of the game.

Up until this time the two teams had battled back and forth in clean, fast ball, with both lines holding rigidly. Wallace, with Church, Morrison, Young, and Lingenfelter, formed a barrier none the less stronger than Iowa's. The Hawkeye scoring came on two touchdowns, one by Devine, and the other by Belding. Ames rested once on the Iowa one-yard line near the end of the last period. Iowa intercepted a pass from Hibbs on the next play. Devine's 35-yard punt put all of Ames' opportunities out of the way as the whistle ending the game and season.

The Coe eleven turned the tables by defeating the Cyclones by twice the score of the previous year.

BOYD

"Shorty" led the 1920 squad from his position at quarterback.
An exceptionally good field general and punter.

A mixup like this was not unusual during the victory over Grinnell 28-0. Vanderloo has just made first down.

WALLACE

"Polly", captain-elect for 1921, was mentioned on Eckersall's All-American Eleven. He had a remarkable ability for pulling down the opponent from his position at center.

This shows the Ames linemen going through to stop a delayed Coe play.

CHURCH

A husky guard who proved to be a stumbling block for the opponents' offense.

WHITE

An end with a lot of fight and ability.

Higgins, Ames' left end, has just pulled down a pass and is about to charge his waiting opponents.

YOUNG

"Lafe" has finished his third year on the Varsity. Mentioned on the All-Valley team.

HIGGINS

A powerful defensive man and gained many yards by his ability to receive passes.

Collins, the Coe halfback, cornered by the Ames linemen.

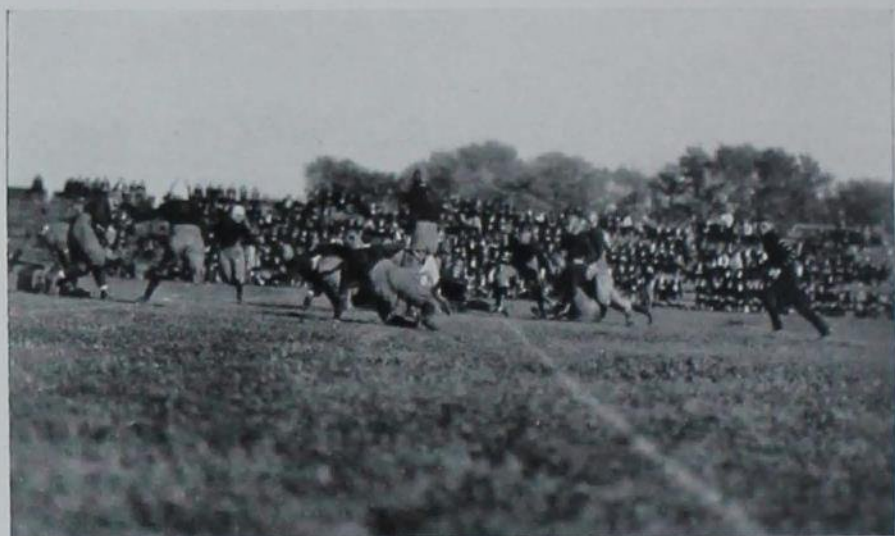

ALSIN

A guard handicapped throughout the season by injuries.

HIBBS

The Cyclone midget with lots of fight and an accurate pass.

The Cyclones needed their reserve defense many times to stop the attacks of Missouri's powerful backfield.

WHITE

A star in the backfield and a terror in running through a broken field. His work in the Iowa game was a feature of the season.

VANDERLOO

"Van" is the only man who has won four A's in football. His defensive work and line plunging gave him a place at fullback.

One of the tense moments of the season. An opponent has intercepted one of Ames' passes.

CURRIE

"Jack" played through the season as steady as clockwork. Besides being a reliable half he plays a superb brand of basket ball.

BIRCH

When the Washington men broke away and gloom was about to settle on State Feld, Birch came from somewhere and staved off the Piker attack.

Vanderloo plunged the Piker line for his second touchdown. Boyd added a point by kicking goal.

RIGGS

Could play either end or tackle when needed.

BYERS

"Mac" was at his best when carrying the ball through a broken field. He started the scoring in the Iowa game with his dropkick.

"Stew" White gained through center and was downed on the one-yard line.

MCTAGGART

A man with admirable pluck and a hard worker.

LAUGHLIN

Won his first A at end.

Here is once when Webb stopped Devine, the Iowa wonder, behind his own defense.

MORRISON

Another big man in the line whose fight makes his football record a thing to be remembered.

LINGENFELTER

"Red's" speed enabled him to stop many opposing plays.

In the Iowa game "Polly" Wallace seemed to be everywhere at once. Here he is seen pulling down G. Devine

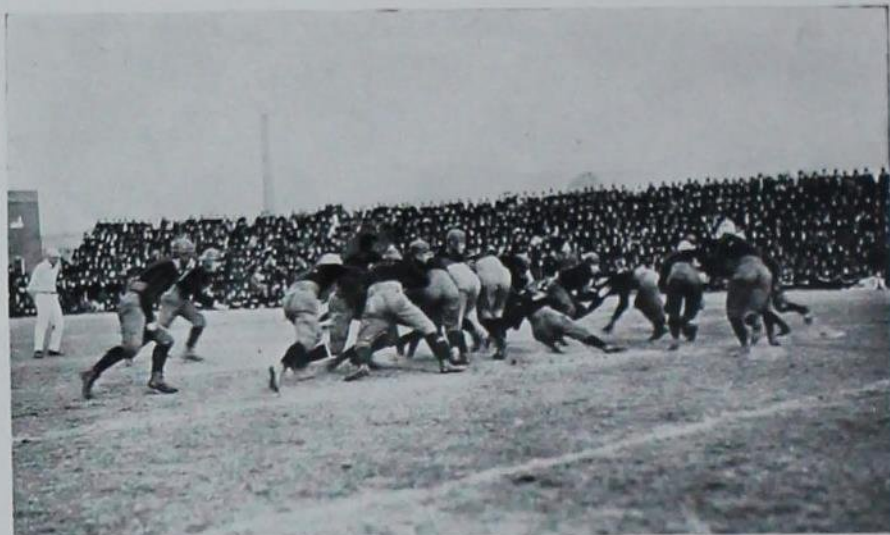

SCHOOLEY

Played a consistent game at halfback.

WEBB

On the hospital list the greater part of the season, but came back into the line for the last game.

Here we see the Ames line holding while Currie goes around right end for first down.

BORBY

Played well and gave a good account of himself when called upon.

EKINS

In the backfield is in the process of development. More will be heard from him.

"Ed" Plagge could be depended upon to make scores as well as pitch. Here we see him in one of his characteristic positions.

Review of the Season

When the 1920 baseball season opened, April 14, with Camp Dodge playing here, no one knew the strength of the team. With almost all of last year's letter men back, the team presented a very favorable appearance. Captain "Ed" Plagge was the only pitcher left from the previous season's squad that could be depended upon, but by the beginning of the Valley race Morrison, Watkins, and Handley came into good form. Though none of the three could rank with Plagge in hurling and experience, they showed signs of infallible pitching.

The season's opener with Camp Dodge was won with a score of 4 to 2. Captain Plagge struck out ten men in the five innings he pitched, and did not allow any safe hits. Morrison worked on the mound the sixth inning, but was not able to keep control of the ball, so Coach Mayser sent Watkins in to hurl the last three frames. A double play, Davis to Thayer and Thayer to Christie, spoiled the soldiers' chance to score more than two in the sixth inning.

The team opened the Missouri Valley season April 16 and 17 at St. Louis, playing two games with Washington University. The Cyclones won the first, 7 to 4, losing the second game to the Pikers with a 10 to 2 score. In the first game the Ames nine took advantage of Marquard's lack of control in the sixth inning and crossed the plate four times. Lyon took the mound for the Pikers in the seventh and did not let Ames count again until Plagge scored Schneider with a double in the ninth inning.

Saturday's game was a grand display of errors, Ames making seven and Washington three. Watkins, pitching for the Cyclones, held down the mound in good form, but the erring support he received did much toward undoing the locals. Berger and Marquard, of the Pikers, each clouted a home run. The Cyclone tallies came in the fourth and seventh innings.

Following the Washington games, Ames handed the Kansas U. nine two straight defeats on the home diamond, Friday afternoon and Saturday morning. Both games were evenly contested and not until the ninth inning of Friday's game and the tenth of Saturday's did the Cyclones obtain a clear title as winners with the final scores standing 4 to 3 and 3 to 2, respectively.

In the first game the Jayhawkers succeeded in nicking Plagge for some good hits in the first few innings, but once the pitching ace was warmed up, his opponents' batting averages went down fast. Both of the hurlers had difficulty in pitching good ball because of the cold weather. The ball was hit quite often, but safe hits were scarce. Saturday's game was just the opposite, both pitchers were hit for safe counters often, but they came at times when the chance to score was poor. Handley pitched good ball for the locals and was well supported. The six safe hits allowed came at wide intervals. The score was tied in the fourth inning of the first game and remained a deadlock until the first of the ninth. Watkins, who substituted for Janda in the sixth, went to first on a hit ball and stole second. An error by Kansas' second baseman advanced Watkins to the third sack. Christie, who was the next up for the Cyclones, made a beautiful infield hit near first, scoring Watkins with the winning run.

In Saturday's game the visitors came through with the first run in the second inning. The score was tied in the fourth, when Currie scored on Christie's single with two down. The home team took the lead in the sixth frame and held it until the first of the ninth, when Kansas tied the score. In the tenth inning, Kansas failed to cross the plate. Davis, the second man up for Ames, drew a walk and succeeded in stealing second. Plagge then hit the ball between third and second and Davis crossed the rubber with the necessary run.

The fourth Valley victory was won the next Wednesday, when the locals handed the Drake nine a decisive defeat in a 7 to 1 score. Plagge gave the visitors nine strikeouts and only one safe hit, the latter obtained by Niggermeyer in the third inning. The first four innings were fairly evenly matched, but Ames was credited with more hits than Drake. The locals scored one run in the fourth and two in each of the remaining frames except the last two. Drake scored in the fifth, which, with the third inning, were the only times that they were able to get past second base.

After handing Drake two decisive defeats, the Pikers from Washington University invaded the local camp, May 3, in an attempt to more than break even. They were, however, forced to split the two-game series with the Ames nine. These two games left the Kansas Aggies leading the Missouri Valley standing with Iowa State and Washington tied for second place. The Monday game went to the Cyclones by a score of 3 to 0, while the visitors copped the second one by a score of 5 to 0. With Captain Plagge on the mound for the Cyclones in the first game, the visitors were held helpless, only one hit being credited to the Pikers in the nine innings of battle. In the second game they clouted Handley for seven safe hits, but he was not given the support that Plagge had received the day before.

To Davidson goes the honor of making the first home run of the season for the locals, which incidentally, came just after he had made a clean single. Davidson started the game at first base, where Christie had been holding out, but who was forced to play the bench because of a bad ankle. Schneider, who had been on the hospital list for the last two weeks again went to his position at third, the first time since the games with the Pikers at St. Louis. Several brilliant catches were made in Tuesday's game that brought the bleachers to their feet. Thayer made a great sensational stop in the fifth inning and shortly before Wymans pulled off an exceptional catch in the right field. Only two of the Pikers reached third in the first game.

The second game was virtually handed to the visitors through the costly errors of the locals and the slow delivery of Handley. The game was called after the eighth inning to allow the Washington team to make train connections.

May 6, Coach Mayser's nine added another victory to the list when they won the first non-conference collegiate game of the season from Coe College by the score of 6 to 0. The game was not as hard to win as was expected, as Coe had held Iowa to a one-run game a few days previous. The locals had little trouble in hitting the visiting hurler, nicking him for seven hits besides a triple by Davis and a double by Janda. Handley came through in good shape for the Cyclones, and though he gave four free tickets, he was hit for only two safe counters.

Clouting the ball for a total of six runs in the fourth inning and profiting by the errors of the Cyclones, the University of Iowa team ran away with the game Saturday morning, May 15, by a score of 12 to 3. An agreement before the game was called to the effect that the pitchers be curtailed from using any freak deliveries, which eliminated the "spitball" on which Plagge relied upon to pull himself out of the pinches. Even with this loss facing Plagge the rest of the team took their turn at "booting" the ball until the most hardened pitcher would have lost heart and given up. McIlree pitched good ball for the Hawkeyes, serving only three hits to the Cyclone batters, while on the other hand the Hawkeyes touched Plagge for a succession of hits that would have done credit to "Babe" Ruth. Plagge secured eleven strikeouts to his credit, but allowed an equal number of hits.

Ames moved to the top of the Missouri Valley Conference standing by winning two games from the Missouri Tigers, May 21 and 22. Friday's game was a pitchers' battle between Plagge of Ames and McLane of Missouri, with Plagge having a slight edge all the way. The Tigers were unable to do anything with Plagge's spitter and were able to get only three well scattered hits. Ames made their first run of the 2 to 1 score in the fourth inning when Plagge walked and scored on Janda's two-base hit to the center field fence. The Tigers' one score came in the fifth inning. From the fifth on, the pitchers' battle was at its height until the last half of the ninth, when Davidson walked, stole second and was brought home by Plagge's line drive through the infield.

Saturday's game was loosely played throughout and was featured by the hitting of the Cyclones. Missouri used three pitchers in an effort to stop the onslaught, but were unsuccessful. Handley pitched superb ball, allowing only four hits and these all came after the fifth inning. The final score was 6 to 3.

Due to the inability of the Iowa University and the Iowa State College athletic officials to arrive at a satisfactory agreement on the "spitball" rule, the second game with Iowa City was called off and the Ames team did not make the trip to Iowa City.

By taking full advantage of the errors of the Morningside Methodist nine, Coach Mayser's men won the game with a 4 to 1 tally in a game featured with only two safe hits and four unearned runs for the winners. Wenig, pitching for Morningside, did not have any control and his wild passes helped to advance the Cyclone runners. Morrison hurled good ball for Ames, holding the visitors to five scattered hits, two of them being mere scratches. Schneider stole home in the seventh inning, a feat that is seldom performed.

Valley conference title. Washington University and the Kansas Aggies were tied for the lead, with a percentage of .750, while Ames would have made only .667 if she had beaten Drake the following Monday. In the first game, Plagge was hit hard, but was able to keep the hits well scattered. The score was 4 to 0, all the scores being earned by Kansas. The Ames nine were allowed only two hits by Uhrlaub's fine pitching. Lonbert of Kansas was the star hitter of the series, getting five safe hits in the two games.

The Cyclones had the second game won 4 to 0 until the last half of the eighth inning, when the Kansas batters hit Handley for five safe counters in succession, bringing in three runs. The slugging was continued in the ninth and the winning run was scored after two were down. Vanderloo had an injured hand in both games and as a result the Jayhawkers were able to steal almost at will. Ames received credit for five safe hits. Handley hurled good ball for the Cyclones, but was not able to stop the rush of the Jayhawkers in the last two innings.

Ames and Drake closed the 1920 Missouri Valley conference season in a game before the Semi-Centennial visitors, June 7, on the local diamond. The game was a well played pitchers' duel, each pitcher getting one bad inning, though. Plagge was hit hard in the eighth, when a single and two doubles were bunched with two infield clouts for three runs. The Cyclones counted their two runs in the sixth inning with two passes, a single, an infield out and another single.

The Drake game ended the season for the team and also ended Captain Plagge's career with the Iowa State College team. Plagge was one of the most dependable hitters that the team developed as well as a supreme hurler. His loss will be keenly felt when the 1921 team takes the diamond.

Davidson held down the first sack after the season had gotten under way.

Baseball letters were awarded to the following men: E. W. Plagge, J. M. Currie, C. C. Christie, E. R. Handley, V. B. Vanderloo, R. H. Watkins, A. G. Davidson, W. L. Davis, J. V. Finn, Edward Thayer, H. B. Schneider, L. T. Janda.

Track Season

By winning a decisive victory over Minnesota in the first meet of the year, the track team paved a start towards one of the most successful track seasons the college has known. By bringing home two firsts and three seconds in the five meets of the season, the tracksters proved themselves capable of upholding the Cyclone reputation. The capable and hard fighting competitors in the Iowa meet succeeded in nosing the team out of first place by a small margin of three and a half points in a meet which featured close placings throughout.

In the Missouri Valley contest, Missouri again was given a hard fight, which she finally won by a small margin of three and three-fourths points. The Valley track history received a decided jolt from this meet on the Ames stamping grounds, when the score and times were checked up and found that no less than six Valley records had been broken. In the Grinnell meet the team had no trouble in running up an overwhelming score against the Pioneers. Against Iowa they were not so fortunate, but succeeded in developing some material that will give Iowa a hard fight in the coming season.

The excellent form exhibited by the tracksters on February 28, in the Minnesota meet, proved to be one of the features of the season. By placing in ten out of the eleven events, and taking seven firsts with a clean sweep of points in six of these, the Cyclones made easy work of the Gophers. In the field events the Gophers were reputed to be exceptionally strong, but the Cyclones again upset the dope by taking all points in the jumps, second in the shot, and tied for second in the pole vault. When the visitors dropped out of the high jump, Paige, who had just come out of a basket ball game, and Dunnick, agreed to call the jump a tie at 5 feet

Tracy tied with Bailey of Iowa for first honors in the pole vault at the Iowa dual meet.

7¾ inches. Clearing 20 feet and 8 inches in the broad jump, Paige again won first. Higgins and Webb also recorded their names twice on the final tally, Higgins in the mile relay and mile run, and Webb in the mile relay and 440-yard dash. By placing second in the 440-yard dashes Captain Lodwick also entitled himself to a double entry on the books. The final score of 57½ to the opponent's 27½ proved the team's excellent start toward a successful season.

At the next meet, on May eighth, with Grinnell, the team not only upheld their previous record, but improved it by winning thirteen firsts out of the fifteen events, and tying for first in another. The feature of the meet appeared in the mile run when Stone snapped the tape for first place in four minutes twenty-eight and one-fifth seconds, which broke the state record. Stone was given the hardest race he has ever run by Sechrist of Grinnell, who led the contenders until the last thirty yards and lost to Stone only by the width of his body. Another Grinnell speedster was defeated in the finish of the 440-yard dash, when Minty, after leading the race to the finish, was nosed out by both Higgins and Wolters, who snapped the tape abreast for first and second place. Rathbun is again entitled to special credit for upsetting the dope in the two mile by finishing ahead of Cromer and Frevert in very creditable time. Captain Lodwick came in for individual points winner by taking first in the 100 and 220-yard dashes. Grinnell's only first came in the 220-yard low hurdles, when Evans won from Bartheld by a close margin, and after some discussion the judges awarded five points to the Pioneers.

One week after the meet with the Pioneers, the Hawkeyes met the Cyclones on State Field in a dual meet. This was a very hotly contested battle, the final outcome of the meet resting in the balance until the last race was run.

The half-mile relay was the deciding race of the day, with the Cyclones leading the Hawkeyes by two points the victory in this event would have spelled defeat for the visitors.

Two marks in the field events were set by Slater when he heaved the discus 134 feet ¾ inches, breaking the state record by five feet, and by Wagner when he broke the negro's record by putting the shot 40 feet and 10 inches.

Ames took first in the two-mile relay and in the mile relay, winning both by a wide margin.

The Missouri Valley meet for 1920 was the largest ever held in Ames. Missouri won premier honors, winning a total of 33 points against the Cyclones' 29 $\frac{1}{4}$  points. Six records were smashed. Johnson of Des Moines College started the contagion for breaking records when he clipped off the half mile in 1:55 3-5, which was two-fifths of a second better than the former record of 1.56, held by Bonnel of Stanford University. Webb, the star Cyclone trackster, was second only by a margin of three feet, which easily let him in on the honors of chopping the record in this event.

Scholz of Missouri, beat the former record in the 220-yard dash by one-fifth of a second. Watson, the one-armed wonder from the Kansas Aggies, broke the record in the two-mile by one-fifth of a second. The former record was held by Tiney of Des Moines College.

In the field events two more records were broken. Dale of Nebraska, heaved the shot for 43 feet 5 $\frac{1}{2}$  inches, and Kremer of Washington, placing the discus mark. The record in the former was held by Howe of Washington, at 42 feet 6 $\frac{1}{2}$  inches, and the latter by Bohann of the American School of Osteopathy, at 128 feet 6 $\frac{1}{2}$  inches.

Scholz of Missouri, was the individual point winner of the meet with a total of 11 $\frac{1}{4}$  points, with Watson of Kansas Aggies, taking second with 10 points, and Paige of Ames, third with 9 points.

To say that any certain race was the most exciting would be doing an injustice to the other events as the lead in the meet swung back and forth between Ames, Missouri, Kansas Aggies, and Nebraska, and not until the Tigers had won the half-mile relay did they nose the Cyclones out of first place.

Minty, Grinnell's stellar 440 man, sprinted into first place ahead of McMahon of Nebraska in the preliminaries.

After being nosed out by the Hawkeyes with the narrow margin of three and one-third points in their dual meet, the Cyclones went down to the State Meet at Des Moines with blood in their eye, determined to cop first honors in the Iowa track classic; however, a slow track and a stiff wind blowing up the straight away, coupled with misfortune in the events in which the Cyclone tracksters were rated the highest, proved too much for them and they were nosed out by their ancient rivals from the State University, and forced to content themselves with second place.

When Ames broke the tape for a first in the final race of the day and the scores were totalled, Iowa had  $61\frac{1}{4}$  points to Ames 39, while Grinnell and Morningside held third and fourth places respectively with 22 and  $12\frac{3}{4}$  points.

Unexpected reverses of the Cyclone runners in the events which were virtually conceded to them before the meet, and hard luck in the relays proved the undoing of the Ames runners.

Ervine Wenig of Morningside, was the individual star of the meet, with a total of  $10\frac{3}{4}$  points for his team. He was closely pressed for honors by Paula of Grinnell, and Slater of Iowa.

Losing out in the dashes for first honors the Cyclone runners came back strong in the longer events. In the quarter mile Ames scored four points when Wolters and Higgins placed second and fourth respectively.

The feature of the day was the half-mile race between Webb of Ames, and Johnson of Des Moines College. This was a classic battle from pistol shot to tape, where Johnson nosed out Webb by a small margin of a few feet.

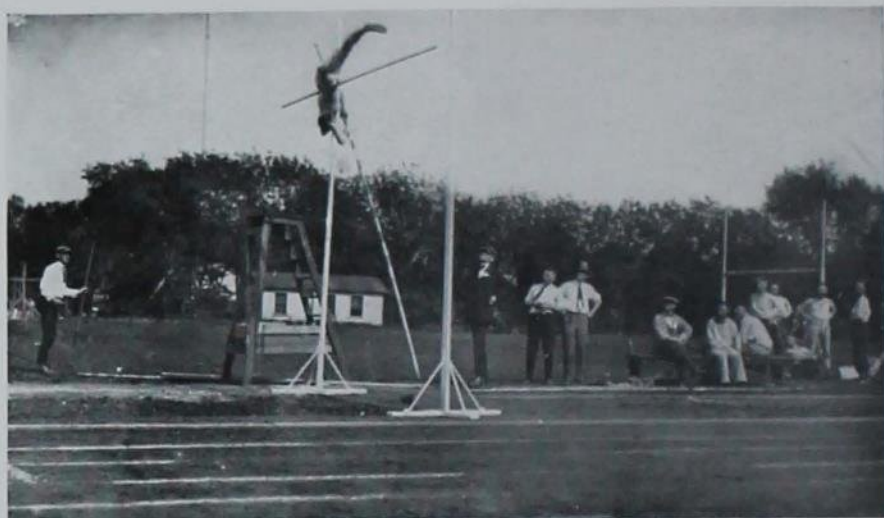

Walters broke the tape ahead of McMahon of Nebraska for first place in the finals of the 440 at the Missouri Valley Meet.

In the mile run Iowa State distance men came perilously near to scoring a clean sweep when Frevert, Stone, and Mitchell scored first, second, and fourth respectively.

In the hurdles Iowa State added to their total by two points when Reich came in third in the 220 low hurdles.

The field events proved Ames' undoing for although before the meet prognostications gave Iowa State many points they were unable to annex more than eight when Paige, 1921 track captain, took second in the broad jump, Tracy and Boyd second and fourth in the pole vault, and Wagner fourth in the shot put.

In the shot put, Slater, the Iowa City star, set two new records that bid fair to stand for some time. In the discus he whirled the oval for 143 feet and 4 inches, a distance of ten feet over the old record, and in the shot put he tossed the sphere a matter of 41 feet and 4 inches for a new record.

Relay Records

The Cyclones, on March sixth, invaded the territory of the Big Ten, at Urbana, Illinois, where the wonderful work of the Iowa mile relay team was one of the outstanding features of the relay carnival. The Cyclones' four-mile quartette won their race, establishing a new carnival record of 18 minutes 40 3-5 seconds.

Stanley Graham ran the first mile in the long relay run. He took the lead at once and held it until just at the last minute, the Wisconsin man came in to a tie with him. Wilmot Frevert ran a very pretty race and gave the baton to Cromer with a stride or two to spare. Stone ran the last mile of this race and it was he who pulled them off the fire and made possible the breaking of the old four-mile relay record by better than three seconds.

In the two-mile medley relay the Cyclones took third place. Captain Lodwick ran the first quarter in 51 4-5 seconds, finishing third; Higgins ran the second quarter for the Cyclones in a little slower time; Bert Webb then took up the responsibilities with his opponents leading by ten yards, and before anyone realized it he had passed Speer and Meehan, two of the best half-miles in college track circles. Webb ran his half mile in one minute and fifty-eight seconds, giving "Mutt" Frevert a lead of five yards, Frevert winning his second mile race that day, held the lead for two laps, but the other men being fresh passed him in the third lap; however, a wonderful sprint at the finish gave him third place. Georgetown won the race, 8:29; Illinois second.

At the Drake relays the Cyclone two-mile relay established an enviable record when they shattered the record at Drake by almost seven seconds, and came within one-fifth of tying the world's record of 7:53.

Wolters started the race for the Cyclones, handing the baton to Higgins with a ten-yard lead over the Illinois runner. Higgins neither gained nor lost and handed Stone the baton with practically the same lead. Stone, unfortunately, stumbled on the inside curve, which lost the lead for the Cyclones. Webb ran the last half mile for the Ames team in 1:57. He overtook and passed the Illinois runner, breaking the tape an easy ten yards in the lead.

Cross Country

Coach "Ned" Merriam in the last few years, has turned out some of the best distance men in the Middle West, and this year was no exception. For the 1920 cross country team proved themselves to be Cyclones in reality when they were put to a test.

Captain "Stan" Graham and twenty-five other men began the first of October to prepare for the Missouri Valley meet at Grinnell, November thirteenth. This is the first year that the meet has not been held at Ames, but this did not hinder the Cyclone runners. Even though the course was rough, which tended to slow up the time, the distance was run in 27:20 2-5 minutes by Captain Graham, L. H. Rathbun, and H. W. Frevert, who crossed the line abreast, winning for Ames the first three places. Bert Webb and W. E. Frevert followed at twenty seconds distance for fourth and fifth place, while John Mitchell followed later in the course.

By this spectacular finish of capturing the coveted first five places, the team brought home the championship of the Missouri Valley.

A week later, on November twentieth, this same record-breaking team departed for Urbana, Illinois, to compete against the hardier runners of the Big Ten. Bigger game seemed the only incentive necessary to bring about a repetition of the previous week, for the whole team finished within the first ten. Captain Graham and L. H. Rathbun finished third and fourth respectively, and H. W. Frevert, W. E. Frevert, and John Mitchell in the same order as they have all year. Thus capturing five places in the first ten to qualify, it was possible for the Ames team to turn in a low score of 32 points, and return for the second time in two years heralded victors of the Big Ten Cross Country Meet. The time required for the first man to cover the five miles was 26 minutes 30 3-5 seconds, accomplished by an Olympic star, C. C. Furnas of Purdue.

By its exceptional teamwork, this team has gained national recognition in cross country circles, and has placed itself in a class with Syracuse University, who are claimants of the Eastern title.

The Ames-Iowa game, played at Ames, March 11, brought to a close a successful basket ball season. The season can hardly be called a success when measured in games won and lost, but the development of the new style of play has been rapid and prospects for a winning team next season are very bright. The Cyclones started slowly and until the middle of the season they did not stand out very much, but toward the finish a brand of basket ball was being played that compared favorably with any in the country.

Coach "Maury" Kent deserves much credit for the way he brought the team to the front and taught them an entirely new system. Starting with several men who had played under a different system and teaching them an entirely different sort of a game took quite a bit of time and work before the rudiments of the new style were mastered. As soon as the team was able to execute the new plays, improvement came very fast, and at the end of the season the short pass game was moving like clockwork.

The season opened December 18, when Coe College invaded the local gym. Coach Kent gave practically every man on the squad a chance in this game, and after forty minutes of very ragged play, the Cyclones emerged winners by a score of 25 to 5. The Iowa State men held Coach Carrithers' aggregation to one field goal and the Coe men were able to throw only three free tosses. No man starred for Ames, but everyone that got into the contest did some good work.

The squad returned from Christmas vacation early and on January 1, journeyed to Fort Dodge where they met the fast Fort Dodge Y. M. C. A. team. The Fort Dodge outfit, composed of former college and high school stars, could not keep up to the pace set by Coach Kent's men, and were defeated by a score of 21 to 11. Currie, Shepard, and Greene did the best work for the Cyclones in this game and the team seemed much better than in the Coe game.

The next week the team went to Columbia, Missouri, and on January 7 and 8 met the last year's conference champions. The first game was won by the Tigers by a one-sided score of 30 to 11. In the next game the Cyclones got more field goals than the Missourians, but Williams' accurate free throwing turned defeat into victory, and the Cyclones got the short end of a 28 to 19 score. The Iowa State team looked like midgets beside the lanky Tigers and had to extend themselves to the utmost to keep from being smothered by the champions.

INNES
Center

Guard

On January 14 and 15 Coach "Phog" Allen and his Kansas University quintet came to the local gymnasium for two games. The Jayhawkers won both games after a hard battle and by superior work from the free throw line. In each game the Cyclones gathered more field goals than the Kansas five, but fell down when it came to putting the free tosses through the hoop. In the first game Woestermeyer and Captain Urlaub of the Jayhawkers, seemed to hit the basket at will and piled up a lead that Iowa State could not overcome. Shepard and Greene did most of the scoring for the Cyclones, but could not amass enough counters to pull the game out of the fire and the final count was 28 to 13.

In the second game the Cyclones also lost because of their inability to make free throws. Innes and Currie scored the most points for Ames, while Urlaub of Kansas, again won the game by his free throws. The final score as 17 to 15 with the Cyclones getting one more goal from field than the Jayhawkers.

Kansas State invaded the local court for a brace of contests January 21 and 22, and were able to get an even break. In the first game the Cyclones had the larger Aggie team at their mercy and won rather easily by a score of 27 to 17. The first half ended with Ames leading 10 to 9. In the second half the Cyclones completely bewildered the Aggies with their short pass game and threw in counters at will. The whole Ames team starred in this contest with Captain Shepard leading in the scoring.

In the second game of this series the Aggies seemed to wear down the smaller Cyclones, and after a hard fought battle, come out with the long end of a 25 to 21 score. Bunger of the Aggies, ran wild in this game and practically won the game single handed for the Kansans. Shepard led the Ames team in scoring.

The team next journeyed to St. Louis where on January 28 and 29 they met the Washington University aggregation. In these games the Cyclones completely outclassed their opponents and won both games. The St. Louis papers said after these games that the Iowa State team was the fastest ever seen on a St. Louis floor. The first game was a complete walkaway for Ames. The short pass worked perfectly and the final count stood 33 to 13 for the Cyclones. Currie, Innes, and Woodward starred for Ames and led in the scoring.

PAIGE
Forward

WHITE
Guard

The second game was won by a score of 25 to 21. Currie starred in this game, getting five field goals from his guard position. He broke through the Washington defense almost at will and his passing and dribbling kept the Pikers worried all through the game.

Coach Schissler brought his Nebraska University team here for two games February 9 and 10, and succeeded in getting an even break. The Cyclones won the first game from the Cornhuskers by a score of 38 to 30, and had the Nebraska men completely outclassed. Every man on the Ames team contributed at least four points to the total score, while the Ames guards held the Cornhusker forwards to a pair of baskets each.

The second game was hard fought throughout, but the larger and taller Cornhuskers seemed to wear down the Cyclones in the second half and won by a score of 32 to 23. The first half of this game ended 15 to 10 in favor of Ames, but in the second half the Nebraskans caged many long shots, while Captain Shepard could not hit the hoop in his free throws.

On February 15 the Cyclones went to Iowa City where they met Coach "Jimney" Ashmore's Hawkeyes in a state championship game. The Cyclones put up a great brand of basket ball and won from Iowa University for the first time on Iowa's floor. The final score was 20 to 16. The game was hard fought throughout and was a tie many times. Not until the last ten minutes of play, when Currie broke through the Hawkeye defense for two field goals, did the Ames team have the advantage. This game gave Ames the first leg in the race for the state championship. Woodward and Currie starred for the Cyclones in this game.

The following Tuesday, February 22, the Cyclones journeyed to Grinnell and defeated the Pioneers in a slow, listless game, by a score of 25 to 16. The Cyclones were never in danger and seemed to outclass the Pioneers in all departments. Shepard, Innes, and Woodward starred for Ames, while Evans did the best work for the Scarlet and Black.

On Saturday, February 26, Grinnell came to the local gym for the second game between the Cyclones and the Pioneers, and Ames again won. The Cyclones played miserable basket ball, missing many easy shots at the hoop and muffing many passes. Shepard led in the scoring for the locals and hit the hoop in the free throws with greater regularity than he had been doing for some time. The game in the second half was very rough with both teams making many personal fouls. Innes and Woodward did some good work in this game, as did Greene, but all of the team were playing far below form.

On March 4 and 5 the Cyclones met Nebraska at Lincoln in the last games of the conference schedule, and were defeated by one-sided scores. The team was still in the slump that it fell into after the Iowa game and was unable to do anything against the giant Cornhuskers. The first game went to Nebraska by a count of 33 to 16, and the Cornhuskers outclassed the men from Iowa State in all departments of the game. The second game was the same story with Ames getting the short end of a 37 to 11 score.

These games ended the Missouri Valley Conference race as far as the Cyclones were concerned, and the finish showed Ames in fifth place with 6 games won and 8 lost.

The crowning success of the season was on March 11, when the Cyclones won from Iowa on the local court, by a score of 26 to 18. This game gave Ames first claim to the state championship. The game was witnessed by the largest crowd that ever witnessed an athletic contest in the local gymnasium. The Cyclones completely outclassed the Hawkeyes and won the game in rather easy fashion. In the first half, which ended in a tie with each team having nine points, the Cyclones held the Iowa men to one field goal, their other seven points being made from the free throw line by Shimek. Shepard threw one free throw out of four attempts and caged one field goal in this half. Currie, Innes, and Woodward also each contributed a field goal apiece to the total in the first half.

The second half was a complete walkaway for Ames. Kaufmann and Shimek were able to get a field goal apiece in this half, and Shimek staged five free throws out of six attempts. Greene led the Ames team in scoring in the second half with five field goals and two more that were not allowed on account of technical fouls. Woodward, Innes, and Shepard caged one apiece and Shepard threw one free throw out of four attempts. The short pass game worked like clockwork, and the Cyclones had the Iowa team completely bewildered most of the second half. It would be hard to pick a star out of the Ames team for this game, as all of the team were going at top speed and all of the Ames plays worked with precision. Captain Kaufmann did the best work for the Hawkeyes and Shimek starred from the free throw line.

That the Iowa State team was the best in the state is the general opinion of all basket ball critics. Sec Taylor, Sporting Editor of the Des Moines Register, whose All-State teams are taken as official in the state, put Shepard, Innes, and Currie on the first All-State team, Greene on the second team, and gave Woodward honorable mention. Sam Smith, Sporting Editor of the Des Moines Capital, placed Innes, Currie, and Greene on his first team, and Shepard on the second team.

Shepard, Greene, and Currie were all mentioned on McBride's All-Missouri Valley teams and on the teams of several other sport writers in the Missouri Valley.

WRESTLING

1921 WRESTLING SQUAD

Brown, Wood, Sogard, Carithers, Brenizer, Shepard,
Dickerson, Bowen, Redman, Loucks, Fletcher,
Groth, Barker, Wallace, Birch, McKibben, Schilling.

THE 1921 WRESTLING SEASON

The wrestling season that was brought to a close with the Penn State Meet April 1 can be called a great success for Iowa State. Although we lost the Penn State Meet by a close margin the team went through the rest of the season with a clean record and were undisputed western intercollegiate champions.

Indiana who were winners of the Big Ten conference were easily defeated by the Cyclones as were several other Big Ten teams. Oklahoma A. & M., southwestern champions, were sent back by Ames with the small end of a 34 to 9 score and Nebraska, another strong team, was forced to bow in defeat to the Cyclones.

Coach Mayser developed a wonderful team here and was ably assisted by Assistant Coaches Otopalik and Firkins. These men worked hard with the material that was on hand and turned out a team that was without a doubt one of the strongest in the United States.

The team was well supported by the school and crowds of over 3000 were seen at every meet. The Penn State Meet was the high water mark in attendance when over 4500 people were present.

Of the present team Dickerson, Loucks, Bowen, Shepard, McKibben and Wallace will be back next year and several classy substitutes will also be out fighting for places on the varsity squad. One of the reserves, Sogard, a bantam weight, this year won the Big Ten championship in his class at Bloomington, Indiana. Coach Mayser sent Sogard to this meet to represent Ames and the Cyclone midget came through undefeated, winning first honors.

THE INDIANA MEET

The first meet of the season for the Cyclones was with Indiana University at Ames, January 21. Indiana was the only team to defeat Iowa State the year before and came here with intentions of again taking the Cyclones' scalp. When the smoke of the first battle cleared the final count stood 34 to 9 in favor of Ames.

Dickerson had little difficulty with Stanley of the Hoosiers and won two straight decisions. The Cyclone bantamweight was never in danger and was on the offensive through the entire time.

In the 125-pound class Loucks lost to Ratcliff of Indiana on decision after a hard fight. This was Loucks' first match and showed that he needed experience.

Bowen in the 135-pound class won two straight decisions from Wooten of Indiana and clearly outclassed the Hoosier. The 145-pound class was hotly contested and went into extra periods before Schilling was given a decision over Swain.

Groth and Lucas put up a great fight in the 158-pound class but the Cyclone got the best of the Hoosier in the third period and Groth was given the decision.

The feature bout of the match was in the 175-pound class in which Moore of Indiana and Barker of Ames wrestled to a draw. The heavyweight class was easily won by Wallace. "Polly" put Held's shoulders to the mat in the second period in 2:30 with a body chancery and won the first period by a decision. Sec Taylor of the Des Moines Register refereed the match.

THE WISCONSIN MEET

On January 29 the University of Wisconsin came to the local gym for their first match with the Cyclones in two years. Coach Mayser's grapplers had little trouble in downing the Badgers by a score of 46 to 8.

Dickerson put Posepny, the Wisconsin bantamweight, to the mat in 2:00 and 1:22, using a body chancery the first fall and a bar arm lock and head chancery for the second.

Loucks showed much improvement over the week before and pinned Livingston to the mat in 5:05 in the first period with a wristlock. The second period went to Loucks by a decision.

Bowen using his arm scissors to advantage won two straight decisions from Captain Culver of the Badgers in the lightweight class.

Klass of Wisconsin after a hard fight through two periods won a fall from Schilling in the third bout in 6:30 with a half nelson and arm lock. Schilling received a decision in the first period so extra bouts were required and in the second extra period Klass won a fall with an arm lock in 2:40.

Groth won two straight decisions from Pier in the 158-pound class and Barker won the 175-pound class by throwing Holmes in the first period in 4:53 with a body scissors and arm lock and by getting a decision in the third period. Holmes won a decision in the second period of this match.

Wallace won rather easily from McMurray, getting a fall in the first period in 2:45 with a body chancery and a fall in the second period in 6:59 with a head chancery. Sec Taylor refereed.

THE NEBRASKA MEET

Dr. Clapp brought his Nebraska University mat squad to Ames February 4 for the next meet on the local schedule. The Cornhuskers put up a great battle but were turned back by a score of 32 to 16.

Dickerson kept his record clear by winning two decisions from Bengston in rather easy fashion. Loucks and Howard staged a good fight in the 125-pound class but Loucks seemed to have the edge and was given the decision after two extra periods.

In the 135-pound class Bowen lost to Long of Nebraska after getting a decision in the first period only to be thrown in the third in 6:40 with a double body lock. Long also won in the extra periods and gave Nebraska 8 points in this class.

Brenizer lost to Reed of the Cornhuskers in the 145-pound class by a fall in the third period in 3:40. In the 158-pound class Groth won from Pickwell in two straight decisions with little difficulty.

Barker and Troutman put up a good fight in the light heavyweight class which the Cyclone won by decision in the extra periods.

Wallace won from Hoyt in the heavyweight class by getting a fall in the first period in 6:10 with a half nelson and body lock and a decision in the third period, the second period being a draw. E. G. Schroeder of Iowa refereed the match.

THE OKLAHOMA A. & M. MEET

The next match on the Cyclone schedule was on February 18, when Coach Gallegher brought his Oklahoma A. & M. team which for three years have been southwestern champions to the local gym. The Cyclones won four out of the seven bouts and obtained draws in the other three.

Dickerson started the evening with a fall in the first period in 3:36, putting Swain of Oklahoma to the mat with a head chancery and a body lock. "Dick" also obtained a decision in the second period.

Loucks won the 125-pound bout from McCullough by decision and Bowen got a decision in the extra periods over Frost in the 135-pound class.

The 145-pound class and the 158-pound class both went to extra periods and were finally called draws. Brenizer and Nash seemed very evenly matched in the 145-pound class but could do nothing with each other while in the 158-pound class Groth and Briscoe did some exceptional wrestling with no great advantage for either man.

Barker and Voyles put up the feature of the evening in the 175-pound class. Barker won in the second extra period by a fall in 2:08, using a head scissors. In the heavy-weight class Wallace and Captain Lookabaugh of the Oklahoma team wrestled to a draw. E. G. Schroeder of Iowa refereed the match.

THE MINNESOTA MEET

On February 26 Minnesota University came to Ames and were sent back without a point, the Cyclones shutting them out by a 52 to 0 score.

In the bantamweight class Dickerson won two straight decisions from Gaalaas of the Gophers; Minnesota forfeited the 125-pound class to Ames as they had no man entered in this class.

Bowen won in the 135-pound class from Paulisitch by two falls in 2:40 and 4:19, using a body chancery both times. In the 145-pound class Shepard wrestling for the first time for Ames won from Berg of Minnesota by a fall in the third period in 6:59 with a body scissors and arm lock.

Groth won two straight decisions in the 158-pound class from Bailey of the Gophers. In the 175-pound class Birch of Ames won from Cooper by decision in the extra periods. This was Captain Birch's first meet of the year.

Minnesota forfeited the heavyweight class to Ames but asked for a special 168-pound class and in this class McKibben won from Brown of the Gophers by decisions in the first and third periods, the second period being a draw. Dr. R. G. Clapp of Nebraska was the referee.

THE NORTHWESTERN MEET

On March 4 Coach "Jack" Sawtelle's Northwestern grapplers invaded the local gym and were defeated by the score of 42 to 6 by the Cyclones.

Dickerson obtained two quick falls in the 115-pound class from Jenness of Northwestern with body chanceries. The first fall went in 1:29 and the second in 4:12.

Loucks won two decisions from Meyers in the 125-pound class and Bowen obtained two straight falls in the 135-pound class from Knight by the arm scissors route in 4:25 and 2:09.

In the 145-pound class Shepard won a decision in the first period from Mathews and the Purple welterweight forfeited the match to the Cyclone.

Captain Hathaway, the Northwestern star, won a decision from Groth in the 158-pound class in the extra periods. Barker threw Wright in the first period of the 175-pound bout in 4:39 with a body chancery and got a fall in the second period in 3:52, using a head scissors and body chancery.

In the heavyweight class Captain Hathaway tried to stop Wallace but the task was too great and the Ames heavyweight won the match by decisions in the second and third periods.

Lovrien of Northwestern refereed this meet.

THE OKLAHOMA UNIVERSITY MEET

On March 18 the Cyclones journeyed to Des Moines where they met Oklahoma University on the mat at the Coliseum, the proceeds of the match going to charity for the Hoover fund for the starving children of Europe.

Ames took every class in this meet with the exception of the 125-pound class in which we got a draw. Most of the men had little difficulty with the Sooner grapplers and came out with falls or decisions in all but the one class.

The feature bout of the program was in the heavyweight class in which Wallace wrestled Ramsey, star heavyweight of the Texas A. & M. School, who substituted for the Oklahoma heavyweight. Wallace was outweighed a great deal in this match but was able to get the referee's decision.

Three of the Ames reserve grapplers met some of Drake University's mat artists and won two classes and got a draw in the third. Sec Taylor refereed the matches.

THE PENN STATE MEET

On April 1 Penn State, eastern intercollegiate champions, came to Ames and wrestled for the national championship. After one of the fastest matches ever seen in the local gym the easterners won four out of seven classes and got the long end of a 28 to 18 score.

In the 115-pound class Watson of Penn State won from Dickerson by decision in the extra periods. Watson was intercollegiate champion in his class and he and the Cyclone bantamweight put up one of the greatest matches ever seen in the local gym.

Garber, intercollegiate champion in the 125-pound class, won from Loucks by getting a decision in the third period, the first two periods being draws.

Bowen, the Ames lightweight, lost to Captain Detar of Penn State in the extra periods by a fall which Detar obtained in 36 seconds with a double arm lock and body chancery.

In the 145-pound class Shepard won from Romberger of Penn State by a decision in the first period, the second and third periods being draws.

Mowrer of Penn State won from Groth in the 158-pound class by getting a fall in the first extra period. The fall came in 1:54 and was obtained with a body chancery.

Barker in the 175-pound class won from Spangler of Penn State, eastern intercollegiate champion lighthweight, by getting a decision in the first period, the second and third periods being called draws.

In the heavyweight class "Polly" Wallace won from McMahan of Penn State by getting decisions in the second and third periods. McMahan weighed 240 pounds and was 6 feet 4 inches tall while Wallace went to the mat weighing 174. This was the feature bout of the day and was one of the best of this season. Sec Taylor of the Des Moines Register was the referee.

Tennis

Without a doubt there was more interest in tennis at Ames during the season of 1920 than there has been in the history of the school. Two men were awarded tennis A's this year for the first time, and that in itself will be a great encouragement to the sport.

According to custom, the tennis season was inaugurated with a school tournament. Due to a late winter and poor weather conditions later, it took longer than the scheduled time to reach the finals. A. Philbrook Smith, captain of the team for the second year, defeated L. O. Kittle for the school honors in the singles, and together they defeated C. I. Kuppinger and C. R. Kinney for the double honors.

Early in May the team, consisting of the four men mentioned above, went on a two days' trip to Grinnell and Cornell and lost at both schools by the score 4-2. At Grinnell Captain Smith defeated Captain Moorhead with the loss of only one game, while Smith and Kittle, after being behind at the end of the first set and 4-2 in the second, pulled out and won their doubles. At Cornell, Smith again won his match, defeating Rainse 6-1, 6-3, while Kittle, after losing the first set and standing 4-1 on the second, managed to pull out and win. Ames lost all other matches at both schools.

Ten days later Grinnell came to Ames for a return match, and this time the local players managed to tie at 3-3 when Kittle defeated Moorhead in a hard-fought three-set match. Smith again won his singles, this time from Gannaway, 6-3, 6-1. Smith and Kittle won their double match.

In two matches with the Golf and Tennis Club of Des Moines, the first at Des Moines and the second at Ames, the school team tied the first and lost the second 5-1. At Des Moines, Smith defeated Olin Sweet, the state champion, 6-3, 6-4, while Kittle defeated Van Grinkle 6-1, 6-3. In the doubles Smith and Kittle defeated Van Grinkle and Kamber, the state doubles champions. The other two Ames men, McCracken and Kuppinger, lost their three matches. In the return match Smith defeated Kamber of Des Moines, in a three-set match, 4-6, 6-1, 6-4, but with Kittle lost to Sweet and White in the doubles. Fenton and Kuppinger lost their matches to the Des Moines men.

The Collegiate season closed with the Missouri Valley tournament held at Ames in which Washington University made a clean sweep. Wray Brown and Walter Hasse of the St. Louis schools, both of national ranking, reached the finals in the singles and together won the doubles. Among the Ames men, Smith defeated Satterfield of Washington, and Wassena of Grinnell, before losing to Hasse in the semi-finals. In this last match each man won a set and Smith led at 5-3 before the Washington man staged a brilliant and successful rally and won. The other Ames entries succumbed in the first round. Smith and Kittle in the doubles defeated Seary and Wasseman of Grinnell and Snyder and Paulette of Missouri, before losing to the Washington pair in a four set final match.

WOMENS' ATHLETICS

Physical Education Instructors

MISS WINIFRED TILDEN is Professor of Physical Education and Director of Women's Athletics at Iowa State College. She is also a member of the Middle West Society of College Directors of Physical Education for Women, and a member of the National Committee on Women's Athletics. It is due to Miss Tilden's efforts that women's athletics has reached its present standard.

MISS MYRTLE BIHL has charge of all heavy apparatus and aesthetic dancing classes. Miss Bihl is Assistant Coach of Women's Athletics, Medical Advisor for the Red Cross Corps, a member of the Athletic Council, and of the "A" Fraternity.

MISS AGNES MURPHY is Swimming Instructor, Chairman of the Swimming Club and Official Examiner for the Red Cross Corps in this district.

MISS MAE KELLY is the new Instructor in Corrective Gymnastics and Physical Examiner for College Women. Miss Kelly received an A. B. degree at Oberlin College.

MISS MARIE HABERMANN, the Instructor in Playground and Elementary Gymnastics, holds an A. B. degree from Hope College, Holland, Michigan, and a B. P. E. degree from the American College of Physical Education, at Chicago.

BASKET BALL SQUAD FOR 1921

With the beginning of the winter quarter, the basket ball squad began practice. Teams will be picked from this squad for the class games which will be played before the end of the winter quarter. Last winter, the sophomore team was the winning team in the final games.

Hockey

Spectators at the Ames-Iowa game were given a demonstration of a girls' hockey game
The "A" Fraternity defeated the team picked from other hockey players

WINNING TEAM — SOPHOMORES

The Sophomore team won in the inter-class hockey games for the fall quarter of 1920

Swimming

New incentive for proficiency in swimming has come about through the granting of a Government Red Cross Charter for swimming. To secure the charter, it was necessary that ten women of the college pass a strict examination in life saving. Miss Agnes Murphy, director of swimming, is ex officio the district Red Cross examiner. The other charter members are as follows:

BAKER	CASS	KELLY	SCHONTZ
BEELS	EARLY	MISEWANGER	SEAGER
BEYER	JENKS	E. MOORE	STAEHLE
BIHL	HIGLEY	A. MURPHY	WILSON

The Women's Athletic Association holds a swimming meet each quarter, when girls may compete for medals. To obtain a medal, a girl must earn at least 25 points in form, 25 points in speed, 25 points in diving, and 25 points in life-saving.

MEDAL GIRLS

Spring, 1920		Fall 1920

Tennis

MARGARET SLOSS

Tennis tournaments are held every year with the preliminaries in the fall quarter and the finals in the spring quarter.

For the 1920 tournament, Margaret Sloss was the winner of singles. Naomi Fitch and Margaret Sloss were the winners of doubles.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION CLASS WORK

The Physical Education department awards loving cups to those girls excelling in playground, dancing, heavy apparatus, and Freshman gymnasium classes, and to the one showing the greatest physical development in the two years of physical training. These were respectively Juanita Beard, Edith Wallis, Myrtle Hall, Melissa Stevenson, and Bertha Fritzsche.

MILK FAIRY PAGEANT

A special feature of the Home and Farm Week of 1920, was the Milk Fairy Pageant, presented by the Physical Education department. The story, written by Jennie Van Hyson McCrillis, was costumed and staged by the Physical Education Playground class, under the direction of the department instructors.

The principal characters were college women and the fairies were chosen from a group of Ames children.

The object of the pageant, aside from the experience for the class, was to show the community the possibilities of educational pageants.

Hiking

Hiking was first offered as a sport in the spring of 1919. Although it is not a spectacular sport, it is important from the endurance standpoint. To secure a medal in hiking, a girl must go on ten scheduled hikes, consisting of three three-mile hikes, a four-mile, and so on up to the final ten-mile hike. The hikers are divided into small groups under captains, and follow specified routes. It is also necessary to pass a theory examination before winning a medal.

AMES

When you first set your eyes on the above obituary you will know that you are to get off. Beyond that, what you know could be written on the back of a one-cent stamp, and there would still be room for the roll of the wise guys in this college, which is considerably large. Your niche in the hall of fame will be about the size of a hole in a punch board. Cock your hat on one ear, light a cigarette, and above all things look important. You will be met at the station by various dignitaries and confidence men from the Phi Psi Hotel but let your conscience guide you. Hang on to your suitcase. Don't let the Dickerson-Morrison Transfer get their hands on it or you will have to walk clear out to the Phi Gam house to get it back. Don't fall for Runk's red bath-tub. He'll make you buy gas for it and try to pawn a Sigma Nu pledge button off on you. If you can get by "Kuppy" and his advance party of (Phi and Tri)—Delts you are lucky. They have a habit of pledging thirty or more and then allowing for the shrinkage. Hail a taxi (in Ames anything from a baby carriage to an ex-beer wagon). Drive to the Y. M. C. A. Ask for a job, and then go out and find one. Here you will obtain a complete list of eating houses, including description of sleeping quarters, menus, stills and pledge buttons. Before you choose your eating joint size up the Betas. They are always well supplied with uncured hams. If you are fond of prunes take a look at the Kappa Sig assortment. That "Hi" Ostrander is the prize specimen. The S. A. E.'s have the best eggs of the soft boiled variety, while the Pi Kaps maintain a corner on the hard ones. If you have that "back to the farm" instinct pack a lunch and hike over to the A. T. O.'s suburban home across from the sheep pastures. Be sure you take a lunch. You might want to eat. Stay away from the Acacia house. They have a variety of itch that not even Vannoy's line can exterminate. You may wish to register in the institution. Don't ask the students for information. They can't give you any. No one expects you to register until six weeks after the date scheduled. Get a general education. If you register in a degree course you will want to change next semester. Ask "Bill" Wood. He's going to quit this year unless new courses are started in the college. Don't worry about registration fees. Pass a worthless check and you will become intimately acquainted with the faculty and the mon-eyed men of Ames. Now that you have registered don't let any one talk you into buying a red cap or a record for the Silo. Be independent. Demand free speech and a choice of head-gear and the Sophomores will see that you get all that is coming to you. Don't be in a hurry to pledge a fraternity. It's never too late to be an A. G. R. If you have any dates at the Phi Sig house get an antidote for chloroform and sew up all the button holes on your coat lapels. Don't be disappointed if the Sig Chi's don't pledge you. It takes five votes to get you in, and besides Brother

Bodwell lost all the pins on the front lawn. Any green-looking prep that isn't wearing a tin placard might be a Theta Delt. They always run short of pledge pins. By all means take a course in Fussology. It is required before graduating so get it out of the way as soon as possible. If you are game you must look up the Tri Delta poultry farm. They have a wonderful collection of birds, guaranteed to be young, unsophisticated and uppish. If you want to get acquainted with a flock of Angels, queen the Gamma Phi's. If you want to spend a nice quiet evening drop in on the K. D.'s at any hour. The girls are so elderly and intellectual and their singing is so uplifting. The Pi Phi's have the class! (If you don't believe it ask them.) If you don't like sororities and want to get a start try the Alpha Delts. They'll vamp you and you will become a regular lounge lizard like Cass, Ingwersen, and Wallace. Be careful of the Alpha Gamma gang, they are rough little playmates. Wear your leather leggins and your batting average will be increased one hundred per cent at the Alpha Chi Beta house. You may seek other forms of amusement. Those men with religious tendencies will experience no difficulty. Be a "D. U. D." and join the Y. M. C. A. One dollar admits you to all the social functions and activities for one year. This includes poker games, faro, roulette, and pool. They are in good with the authorities and have not been raided for three years. You may wish to join an honor society. Every girl's highest ambition is to be a "Spider" and they are out of luck if they get in on the D. D.'s. You are expected to attend classes occasionally; studies have not, as yet, been entirely eliminated from college life. Go in for athletics. If you can't qualify for football enter the pre-drill contests in front of Central. Be a pride to your fraternity, especially if it is Delta Tau Delta. Almost anyone would be a pride to it. Some people should never go to college. Those like "Ziggy" Munsen and "Lily" Bodwell should be carrying the red flag on Bolsheviki, while those with promoters' ability of "Stew" Brown, "Buck" Henderson, and "Tommy" Frank should be running jitney dances. Others like "Hi" Boyles, "Dizz" Putnam, and "Spike" Reich would look better on marble pedestals. Girls such as Irene Bickle, LaVera McGoon, and Ione McCord should be political leaders, while "Fannie" Wilson, "Dusty" Rhodes, and "Nell" Whittemore should be in the "Follies". Some people require college training. "Packy" McFarland might learn something in three or four more years. Now a Freshman is always a Freshman unless he pledges D. U., then he is a victim. But in a few weeks you will become accustomed to the College long before the College returns the compliment. Don't neglect your social standing, but don't try to be a social lion. "Red" Dean tried it and couldn't get away with it. If you fuss a woman from the halls always send up enough rope to reach from her window to the ground. They don't care to get in at nine-thirty on Sunday nights. Smoking dulls the brain so if you can't take the edge off of yours, don't smoke. The T. K. E.'s must be commended for their foresight in recognizing this fault. Don't join the band. Join the R. O. T. C. and get a free uniform. Have your picture taken and send it to your town paper. Mother will hang out a service flag and that's nothing to be ashamed of. The Lambda Chi's have one for two of their former bus boys that joined the S. A. T. C. Don't ask questions because there is no one who can answer them. If there is anything in the world that you want to know and can't find in the encyclopedia ask the Pettigrew Twins or "Red" Orr, they know everything. With these parting words of advice we bid you drive on.

HOW TO BE A CAVEMAN
(In Ten Lessons)

When she asks you for money, do as the old cavemen did. Try to grab her by the hair, for the purpose of swinging her around your head and throwing her off the cliff. After you are discharged from the hospital, send us a description of your sensations.

After you have stayed out all night and she asks you next day where you were, tell her it is none of her business—and see whether it is or not.

If you do not believe in gambling tell her you will not allow her to go to the bridge club. Write and tell us how long you had to sit in the automobile in the cold outside the club waiting for her.

Positively forbid her to buy any new clothes for the next six months and then tell us how you raised the money to pay for the four Fifth Avenue creations she went out and bought that very afternoon.

Tell her that you will positively not go to a drama with her and that she must go to a girl show or stay at home. Call us up next day and tell us how you enjoyed the drama.

Put your foot down and tell her defiantly that the old automobile will have to last another season and that you will chuck the whole marriage game rather than buy a new one. Let us know by all means how you like your new Simplex.

Announce that you are tired and that you want to rest up and positively will not go to church. We will gladly print your criticism of the pastor's sermon.

Flatly refuse to have a new sun parlor built on the house and then tell us what sort of new furniture you bought for it.

Be your own boss. Telephone her you will not be home for dinner. Write and tell us next day how you enjoyed the filet mignon she had for you when you got there and what you thought of the lecture on "Psychology" at the community house afterward.

10

When she asks you who the blonde was you were with in a taxi last night tell her you don't know any blonde—and then tell us how many names of your blonde friends she spilled off to you.—Tatler.

Twenty Years After

By DUBIOUS

One evening a short time ago I felt myself obsessed by a strange sleepiness. Strange I say, because it was only twelve o'clock, and I had had a good four hours sleep the night before.

Sleepy though I was, I decided to go to bed, for I have a strong will—in fact, my grandfather left me one. Although this will provided that I get nothing unless I gave up chewing tobacco, it has always struck me odd that I cannot use tobacco when I chews.

But be this as it may, I went to bed and it was not until I woke up that I found myself awake. I think I must have slept about eight to eight hours and five minutes for I watched the clock constantly during my sleep. I dressed hurriedly, not forgetting to wash myself, and dashed down to a breakfast of beefsteak with a few omelettes to egg on my appetite. I only mention these things for they seem to add complexity to what is to follow and have nothing if anything to do with the matter.

Well, I hurried along toward by morning class and I was surprised to notice how surprising everything looked. Central looked older and seemed closer as I approached it. All this was extraneously foreign to the scheme of orientation with which I am accustomed to be familiar.

I had not been drinking. I remember lamenting the fact—so I pinched several persons to see if I was awake.

All of a sudden a man pointed to he and said, "Give me that cigarette, you."

"I have another similar to it in my pocket, if you care—" I started, when he interrupted me. "Don't get funny," he said.

"I am endowed with the ordinary mental accouterments," I retorted, "whose function it is to discern humor, but I do not strike myself as flaunting facetiousness."

"It is a wonder one of the deans hasn't seen you," continued this galloping ass.

"You talk like there were twenty of them," said I, determined to answer his according to his folly lest I be like him (or whatever it is that the Bible advances).

"There are at present just two hundred deans," blurted this demented lunatic.

"You lie," I said, "there are Curtis and Coover—"

"They have been retired twenty years," he went on. "Why in 1925—"

"Stick to 1920," I suggested. "Does not rent day come around often enough for you without you have to mess up your A. D.s? Now tell me that 'Wee' Page, the child wonder, is forty-five and has just been elected president by the Socialist party."

"This is 1945," he continued smoothly, "and the deans have prohibited smoking for the last fifteen years."

"Prohibited smoking?" I asked.

"Yes, the year we did away with football," he answered.

I began to see. I had been the victim of a Rip Van Winklihoovian sleep or a Connecticut Yankee knight errant. Here was the university gone to gehenna after twenty-five years of the down grade begun in 1920 when Tea Dancing, the Order of the Barbs, the Deans' Iteh, and other epidermal blights universities are heir to. I had hoped for a general delousing, but apparently none had come. So here I was in 1945. I felt for silver threads amongst the mauve in my imperial.

"So they did away with football?" I asked. "I suppose they play conference pingpong now?"

"No," said he, "we really have football, but the teams do not actually scrimmage. In fact, the games are decided by vote. We beat Iowa last Sunday before church 10,000 to 400. Quite overwhelming, not?"

"Anyway," I ventured, "I suppose a man can dance. They can't have made Tea Dancing any worse even in twenty-five years?"

"Well, no," he answered. "We have the quadrille and the sextagonal, but the fussing bureau is quite distressing."

"Fussing bureau?" I gasped.

"Yes," he sighed. "Only this morning I called up and asked them what they could give me in a Gamma Phi. They said not much of anything. You see the Pan-Hellenic boys have taken away their privileges for coming to breakfast in high heels."

"The sororities and fraternities are still left, then?" I asked.

He admitted that they were. "But they have changed. Everybody belongs now whether he wants to or not. You sign up for a fraternity when you register. There is no rushing; the pledging is done with a roulette wheel. All Agrics must be A. G. R.s, for example. The Tau Deltis pledged 3,999 men this fall. They played the blues and the wheel came around pat. Oh, it is all very simple and democratic."

I asked him who won the rush that year.

He told me: "The Frosh should have won it; their singing was the best—you see it is all a question of harmony now. There is no tussling, nothing resembling boisterousness—but some rowdy Freshman threw a caramel, and of course that is unconstitutional—"

As he spoke four men in white coats sprang from five directions, all different, and pinned him to the ground which was not far off.

"Calm down, Napoleon. We're going for a nice boat ride across the lake," said one of the men. Then turning to me—"Sorry he bothered you, sir; Pete broke out last night. He thinks he is Napoleon, the sweet little corporal."

"Oh, that's all right," I said. I felt like fining the city for building the sidewalks too near to me.

Now I eskew was not that a disturbing affair?

INFRA "RED"

There has been some talk as to whether "Red" Orr was the toughest guy in Ames. Spike Molone, one of his pards from the St. Louis suburb, tells us that "Red" is tougher and rougher than the Roughtown riot expert. He states that "Red's" first toys were a ball and chain and a pet rattlesnake. The family jewels were an edition of brass knuckles. "Red" had an aunt who thought that cactus was a salad. When they needed firewood, the old man would toddle forth and pull up an oak tree, roots and all. Then he would bite off chunks for the stove. His grandmother was fined by the town Committee of Safety for allowing her canary bird to rattle about the streets unmuzzled. His grandfather died at an early age from hardening of the knuckles.

At the age of eight "Red" was sent away to a den of wolves to get educated in the finer things of life. He had all the advantages of early life that counterfeit money could buy.

It was due to the element of the town that "Red" became so hard. Down there the citizens thought, out in this suburb of culture and fine art, that a cyclone was used only to cool hot soup. If they wanted to cook anything they would wait for a prairie fire. When a bride got married they would give her a police whistle for a wedding present. The mayor was defeated for a second term because he got a broken nose in the next town and the board of trade impeached him for violating home industries. Volunteer Fire Company No. 6 was laid off a month without pay for using water instead of gasoline on the orphan asylum fire. Jesse James' birthday was a legal holiday. The babies were so tough they had to put bars on their cradles and handcuff 'em in order to teach them the alphabet.

"Red" says he is quitting these side-door pullman trips 'cause they are becoming too effeminate. Well, "Red," we will have to admit that if you ain't tough then the world war for democracy was fought in vain.

THE RAVING

By CHARLES L. GOELLER

It was with a vague foreboding, notwithstanding conscience's goading
I alighted from a taxi, and went onward toward the door,
All upon a dark and somber, sultry night of last October
When the sky was clouded over, and the winds in passing bore
Messages of woe eternal wafted from the Stygian shore,
As a warning, nothing more.

Filled with direst apprehension, filled with fears I dare not mention,
I behold my partner standing, standing at the ball-room door;
And I couldn't keep from staring at the costume she was wearing,
All the earth's supply of daring from that costume seemed to pour,
Merely airy films and gauzes, some behind and some before,
Only this, and nothing more.

Then the mystic, weird contortions of the dancers' upper portions
Drove the pros into a frenzy such as never seen before,
Till one of the foremost teachers cried with wrath upon his features,
"O thou wild and willful creatures, cease this, cease this, I implore.
If you do not cease this you will be compelled to leave the floor,
And be seen here nevermore."

Tired, at last my spirit wandered, and my inner being pondered,
Nauseated at each couple as it skittered o'er the floor,
At the skipping and the sliding, at the pushing and the gliding,
At my partner's soft confiding, telling that her feet were sore,
Till I, with a sickly feeling sinking to my bosom's core,
Felt like dancing nevermore.

L'ENVOI

Now the function long has ended, but my social rank's descended,
Since the figure on my bank roll isn't what it was before;
And the mere idea of taking some young vampire in the making
To this brand of social faking, is a thought that I abhor.
All my social ambitions now lie dead upon the floor
To be lifted—nevermore.

BY THEIR DEEDS(?) YE SHALL KNOW THEM

If she is small, pretty and affectionate and has a sort of baby-talk sense of humor, she is cute.

If she is a person who talks three times as much as she says and on three times as many subjects as she knows anything about, she is gushy.

If she pulls fool tricks all the while and her faux pas are so close together that you can't see between them and is peculiar, she is dizzy.

If she wears her skirts trop haut and her dress neck trop bas, she is uppish.

If she is limpid and if, when you're dancing with her, you think you have a wet rag in your arms, she is a clinging vine.

If she is a stunning looker and can dance like a fool, and is popular with the men, she is a queen.

But, if she is vivacious and quiet, modest and clever, not homely nor pretty but beautiful and if she can talk sense if she wants to, she is a real woman.

Tri Delta: "Do you take advantage of every opportunity?"

H. Dickerson: "I suppose I have a lot to learn."

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE—REVISED

Time: Ask Dad, he knows.

Place: See the "V".

Dramatic Personae: Velvet Joe, Johnny Walker, Phoebe Snow.

ACT FIRST AND LAST

Velvet Joe: Hello, Johnny; how are you?

Johnny Walker: Born in 1836, still going strong.

Velvet Joe: Who's your tailor?

Johnny Walker: The fifty-seven varieties. (They enter saloon.)

Velvet Joe, hammering on bar: The beer that builds you up!

Johnny Walker: Served like champagne wherever good drinks are appreciated. (They go to a street corner where they stand.)

Velvet Joe: Have you a little fairy in your home?

Johnny Walker, shaking head: There's a reason. (Phoebe Snow passes and Velvet Joe points her out to Johnny Walker.)

Velvet Joe, nudging him: Eventually, why not now?

Johnny Walker, pulling out the watch that made the dollar famous: Time to retire.

Velvet Joe, persuasively: Best in the long run.

Johnny Walker, giving in: Taxi! Taxi! (To chauffeur) A shilling in London, a quarter here?

Chauffeur, haggling: The most beautiful car in America.

Johnny Walker, impatiently: His master's voice! (He enters car and drives to where Phoebe Snow walks along.)

Johnny Walker, calling: I'se in town, Honey.

Phoebe Snow, displaying finger nail: It hasn't scratched yet. (She enters car; Walker proposes; girl does not answer.)

Johnny Walker, questioningly: His only rival?

Phoebe Snow, sweetly: No metal can touch you.

Johnny Walker, slapping himself on the chest: The standard of the world.

Phoebe Snow, with a touch of pride: 99.44% pure.

Johnny Walker (chases dirt) piteously: The skin you love to touch.

Phoebe Snow, with hand on heart: It's all in the shreds.

Johnny Walker, embracing her and taking a kiss or two: They're mild yet they satisfy. (Kisses her again, sighingly.) The flavor lasts. (To girl, pleadingly.)

At your service for fifty years?

Phoebe Snow, snuggling closer: Mm-mm-m.

Final Chorus: "It's all in the curve."

Curtain

IT'S ABOUT TIME BARKER THREW A LINE LIKE THIS

I used to call on Jane every evening. I shall never do it again. I used to trot up the steps of the K. D. house with flowers, and candy, and dance invitations, and movie tickets, and whatever remnants there were of my blasted bankroll. No more. Never again shall I hasten home—even as I did yesterday—and spend hours in shaving myself, and in worrying about the necktie I should wear, and rooting myself before the mirror with my brush and comb, and sighing, and wondering,—just because I was going to meet her. No more shall I stroll with her in the evening and murmur nonsensical nothings in the moonlight. No more shall I sift the thesaurus and lubricate my pen with lyrics to her. No more shall I flay the postman because he brings me no tidings from her. I'm off that for life! What's that you said? "Why did I throw her over?" Why, you fool, what are you talking about? I married her this afternoon.

HE DRINKS HAIR TONIC EVIDENTLY

He asked me if I'd kiss him,
I kissed him once or twice,
I know I hadn't ought to,
But, oh, girls, he smelled so nice!

THE FABLE OF CHARLES, THE SMALL TOWN GAMBLER

While yet a sophomore in High School he stumbled upon a nickel Crap Game surrounded by a gang of Sophisticated Seniors. He marvelled at the Dashing Play of Coin. Sometimes as much as his whole week's Allowance would change hands in the space of an Hour. Hanging around during his off hours became a Habit and he soon scrapped his Cubes for a package with a picture of a real Turkish Lady on the outside. The daring Gamesters marked his good taste in Rolled Ware and accepted him as a Brother. He usually carried two packages with the Lady's picture as he hated to be found unprepared.

Proceeding about the educational orbit in his Home Town he became a Senior and often shot a Dollar around the first of the week. He was even late for a Date with the One Best Bet because he couldn't find the little green Gallopers that he reserved for wear with his Date Clothes. His girl understood when he explained, at the first opportunity, that he didn't feel Dressed without 'em.

Charles came to college and chose a choice circle of Intimates. Casino, he discovered, was but a minor complaint with a set of Pasteboards. Poker hopped from the Pages of his favorite Wild West yarn onto the center of his Study Table almost Overnight. Being of a meditative turn of Mind he took to it like a Co-ed takes to the Library.

Small Stakes kept Charles from starting a Bank or dropping out of School but he began to hear rumors of greater fields. When none of the Christian Girls were climbing the steps into the balcony of the Favorite soft drink Hell the Boys would get their Heads together, whisper, so the girls could hear, about the seventeen Passes made the night before. This interested Charles and proved to the Girls that the Boys were Hot Sports. No limit Stud was often referred to without the Batting of an Eye Lash. Dollar limit lost its charm when there were Fortunes changing hands Every Night. So Charles began to ditch the Gang after dinner on Sunday. The Gang threw the Fives under the Table with the Twos, Threes and Fours on the first Sunday but found a Fifth man within a week.

Hints dropped Here and There finally got Charles an engagement with the Heavy Hitters. They shoved him a Stack of Chips and he Guessed they were Some Green when they told him the Whites were One Berry. Later he found an Iron Man to be the Minimum instead of the Maximum and wondered if he hadn't better go home. He lacked the Moral Courage to back out So Late in the Game and shivered for his Bank Roll.

At the end of the Session Charles found himself possessed of a Majority of the Common Stock. He had Drawn Out twice on the Boy who admitted himself to be Clever with Percentages. The Newcomer had Trimmed the Tree.

When it came to paying Off the old check books were Whipped out and no one Crabbed. Charles remarked about their sportsmanship.

Next day the Banks labeled his Commercial I. O. U.'s Lumber.

The Gang has put the Fours and Fives back in the Deck and are Playing a Six Handed game. Concerning the Huge Stakes, Charles says they look good but Don't Mean Anything.

Moral: A Dollar in the Pocket is worth Three on a Check.

Last night I saw the planets roll
And cycle through the firmament.
All the myriad stars shone out;
And 'cross the Milky Way there bent
A streaming comet strewing dust
Of glitt'ring gold; the heaven blazed
And roared, and cracked, and flashed apart,
And fell, while I watched on amazed.
These things, and more, my eyes could see . . .
". . . Ten! You're out!" cried the referee.

RED I

The night was raw,
The party raver;
I wish that I
Had never sawer.

We were both stewed,
She was the stewder;
I wisht to 'ell
I'd never knew'der.

Someone must lose—
I was the loser.
She craved more hooch.
Could I refuser?

The town was dry
And she was dryer;
White-mule was all
That I could buyer.

We found a still,
Approached the stiller
And bought a quart
Of Red "Blues Killer".

Now she was sick,
But I was sicker,
So I laid off
This bootleg liquor.

They called it "Splint",
(Stirred with a splinter),
And now she rests
Where they don't have winter

"Just one, darling," he plead, as he stood in the doorway.
"Just one what?"
"Just one rose from your corsage."

FUSSING, BETTING, QUEENING OR LIBE DATES

Listen, my children, and I will tell you how your father met your mother. We were both students at Iowa State College in the days of the great storm, when Grandma Harwood reigned. No, she wasn't a grandma, but the children call her that now for want of better names.

We had a hard time getting acquainted. Mother had to live in the old maids' paradise, the dorms. Pa lived for the most of the time on the street cars. One night he was in the library. Didn't have anything else to do so he was there looking over the prospects. In came the queen of the corn belt. She, also, was out on parole for an hour, supposedly looking up in the "Social Error" books the right way to carry gloves so that they would not snap when carried and remind one of the innocent preps of the Paris product.

Our eyes met. After that we met every night in the libe. She looked up to me for references and I furnished them. You see it all happened in the library, where the references are kept.

Then we went to an all-college dance. I was a wild boy and despite the rules we toddled and tried to shimmy till her feet were so sore and bruised that I had to carry your mother home. It was the first time I ever held her in my arms.

Then ensued a long courtship. I took her to Olsan's and we were not caught. We sat in the windows of Ag. hall and listened to the striking of the campanile. When it came to sneaking around we were a prize pair. Newt., the night watchman, caught us twice but he never told. Surely it was a real romance.

We even pulled blanket parties in the North woods and once in a while out on Onion Creek. Dr. Martin nearly caught us one afternoon out in the woods but we saw him in time to travel farther up the creek. That was the one trouble we had, the woods were not big enough for all the parties that were going on and one had to go early to get a nice quiet place.

Yes, children, it was a hard row but we managed to sneak away several times to Des Moines where we were nearly caught but we courted just the same. It was a rough era in Ames those days and I have often wondered why I wasn't a crook instead of a famous man when I think of how I had to combat the directors of youth in order to carry off your mother. Well, she finally decided to marry me, so I bought a jeweled pin from Balfour and sent a box of candy to the sisters at the house. It was worth the five pounds too. It was a close shave though for she had taken some of Dr. Wilson's courses and she knew how hard it was to educate herself into the right lines. But we succeeded and here we are.

ANN ACCIDENTAL ENCOUNTER

Ann usually drove her own car—a beautifully built, slender-lined racer. (The car, you understand.) She always aimed to be careful. Yet, one day on Lincoln Highway, she ran into a truck and her car was badly scratched.

Ann was angry. She made quite a fuss and demanded that damages be paid her for the injury done to the car.

"It was not my fault," she said. "There was no traffic policeman to signal me. And the driver of the truck was not watching his business."

Her tear-stained face so appealed to the judge that he granted her demands.

Ann, as she left the courtroom, wondered if she would ever see again the handsome youth who winked at her just before the accident occurred.

An optimist is a man who hears the rustle of a newspaper in the street and straightway thinks a silk petticoat is coming around the corner.

RUM, THE PRESERVER

"All this talk about prohibition is all bunk," declaimed the old laborer. "'Twas whiskey saved me life oncet."

"Snake bite?"

"Snake bite, nothin'. I was diggin' a well an' come up fer a drink an' while I was gettin' it th' well caved in."

KAPPA DELTA DATE DOTERS

It's nice to love, but oh! how bitter,
To love K. D. and then not gitter!

THE GOOF

This is a goof. We can't label him because there are too many eligibles and someone might feel slighted. He belongs to a fraternity. He got in on a dark night when no one was looking. The brothers wish he would leave the same way. He never brings a man to the house during open season for pledging and never hands them a line when someone else brings them around. He's always the last man to fall in when the house is to be cleaned. If the piano is to be moved he makes a run for the stool. When there are windows to be washed or work to be done before a dance he always has a full day at school. He always drags the biggest fish on the campus to the house dance. When there are guests for dinner he is sure to pass his plate for the last piece of meat. He is always borrowing money and forgetting to pay it back. He is worthless. He is a goof.

Bill Collector: "But why do you let your wife spend all your money?"

Mr. Henpeck: "Because I'd rather argue with you than with her."

THE TRI DELT SOCCER TEAM

Tri Delta was busily inhaling its boiled beans and soggy biscuits at 12:17 P. X. in the Dining Hall of the Gorgeously Unpainted Mansion, labeled by the unappreciative world as 302 Ash, when the High Mogul presiding over the brood authoritatively tapped her five-cent—inch thick—glass mug with a nickel-plated spoon and waited for silence to replace chaos. But alas!—the chatter continued—Carolyn was holding the Sestern enthralled by a description of "Dutch's" moist condition at the last Theta Xi dance. Ye Chief in desperation seized a solid silver Phi Gam knife she was eating her beans with and struck twice on the measuring cup—milk pitcher. Therewith at this emphasized signal, Opal terminated her conversation at that ever critical point, "Bruce says", and Fanny interrupted the latest Denison news to give her attention.

"Girls, an Inter-society Soccer game is to be one of the features of Hec day. Ten of us will report at the Women's Gym at four o'clock tonight to play our preliminary game with the Kappa Deltas. Who wants to go?"

Not a sound was heard or a pulse throb evident in that innocent appearing audience after the announcement. So all-absorbed were they in their beans that Bruce never "said" and the outcome of Denison was never revealed. Each girl seemed interested in eating as many beans as her knife would hold in as short a period of time and with as deep quietness as was physically possible.

One moment elapsed. Mary Helen's voice rang out through that fatal silence, "Well, I'll go, if I have to be the whole team. What will people think of us! We are in few enough activities as it is. Let's not let the other Sororities walk away with everything except men and clothes."

More intense eating. A spoonful of water was heard trickling down Jo Plattenburg's throat. Deepissima attention of all on plates. Girls seemed determined to make one o'clocks on time, at the expense of sacrificing Fletcherism.

Evelyn was stern now, and a red spot burned in each cheek as she started down the line in a "do or die" manner. (Comfort to the reader in suspense. She did neither.)

"Ione, will you report for this soccer game at four o'clock today?"

"I can't, Evelyn; I have to do something I forgot to do yesterday."

"Audrey, will you go?"

"There's a meeting of the Dramatic Club at that time. Sorry."

"Clariss?"

"Madison Prom!"

"Helen H.?"

"I don't approve of the idea. Men would laugh at it."

Above examples repeated at each instance with slight variation of excuses. Helen H.'s especially popular.

"Will anybody save our reputation?"

"No!" in chorus.

In exasperation the Worthy President and the Solitary Volunteer sank back in their mahogany-veneered chairs and passed out.

P. S. The team was confined to her bed with an infected foot during Hec week end, thus causing the Tri Deltas to lose the tournament by default.

Naughty Age

to fight them off. Our girls made a fine bunch of crocks this fall working in ceramics, but the boys don't seem to appreciate the pottery.

Alpha Gamma Delta is located for once in the same house we started out in last fall. We had a hard time keeping help, but just before the province inspector came around all the girls turned in and cleaned out the house. If we are to prosper we must move up nearer a fraternity as the Mohawks are too slow for us. We tried to vamp them by leaving the shades up, but they won't date up. We are a peppy bunch all right. Last fall we had one real rough house when we took Bess Schultz' clothes and tied them in knots because she rooted for another team. Those were about all the knots tied last year, but we pledged a bunch of innocent preps and look for better results soon.

Gamma Phi Beta is coming along pretty well, and we want to tell you all how we run the sophomore council. We can get the fair sex, but we can't snag the men. Even after we advertised our "Engaged Room" at the Hec vaudeville not one tried to get in it. We were without a chaperone for several weeks, but couldn't even get a start then. We would welcome suggestions as to how we can get some men to call now and then. We played soccer in hopes of interest, but it boomeranged and the fellows all went to the movies with the girls who weren't playing. We have not had a new pin in the house for so long that we are about to advertise in all the matrimonial magazines and papers we can find.

We are the girls of Delta Phi—at least that is what we try to be, but maybe you remember us as Arcades. Well, that's us, we were and we would have been yet, but every one took us for some kind of a cigar store or bazaar, and altho we have a lot of Indians and curiosities we can't help it—so we changed the name and we will be Greek or know why. Well, we specialize in schoolmarms, crocks, and watts left to us, we hope to get some place and if we have good luck we might but you know how hard it is to keep up when there's nothing left. We were all right till it got out on us that some Adelante took one of our girls to Des Moines on their annual spree, which included a trip to the Historical Building and a climb in the capitol dome and then came home after spending $11.47 on the girl, and it was half past eight when they came up on the porch and—Well the girl lit the porch light and since then our rep has been poor as fussers.

Pi Beta Phi? Well! we have the class of the campus, as we politiced and have the typical Ames girl. It was hard to get tho, as we had to eat breakfast with the Tau Delts one Sunday to get their votes. Last fall we were up against it when rushing came off, due to Helen's not returning. Helen Curtis is still in the chapter, but she doesn't bring us as much publicity as she used to. It must be that Jean Kelly has cut in on her popularity with the Ag's. Prospects looked fine for a good season when the Register printed all those pictures of Helen in rotogravure. It was a hard job to keep her on that artillery horse while the man took her picture, but we managed to get the arrow in a prominent place. The girls have all sworn off smoking now, even tho we can roll a mean — — — dizzy. We bet the Tri Delt house will be the next one to burn, cause they won't let is put anything over on the Phi Delts. The Cats!!!

Omega Delta of Delta Delta Delta is progressing famously since we got our new receipt for "non-explosive" home brew. Several of the girls had to send home for mother's fur coat to keep up the traditions started last year, only the college don't know about it. We pulled a good one in rushing last year and the preps sure fell. Just as we were in the midst of a rushing party the box of candy we had ordered was delivered at the crucial moment. We had it marked "From the Tri Delt Boosters", and it sure made a killing. We are having fire drill regularly now and have the art of feinting down to perfection. The Pi Phi's sure got away strong, and if our Phi Delts start going over there we will sure give them an exhibition such as Ames has never seen.

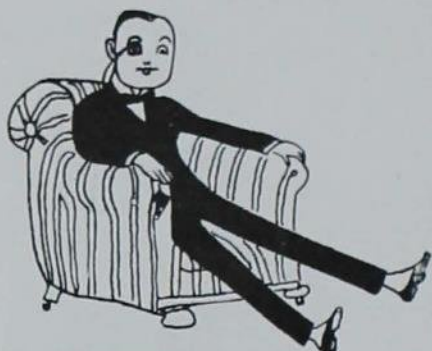

Dear Sisters:—Alpha Delta Pi is as usual struggling hard to maintain a reputation, altho at times we fear we have not succeeded. Being located out in the country as we are, tends to draw the rural population out this way. People tell us to step out more, but we don't get any kick out of running around by ourselves all the time. We have plenty of brains in the house, but don't seem to be able to make them function. We firmly stand for cheap amusements, as the girls can't afford to spend so much money on themselves as they did last year and the years before.

Alpha Chi Beta sounds like Chiname!, but really we don't use it. We're all right; it's the world that's crazy. We admit we're off, it's just those that don't admit it that they send to asylums. We're looking for a national charter and we'll take a chapter in the mythology or in the W. C. T. U. if they will hook a Greek name on it. We're a local and we don't care who finds out that we want to be in the big swim and win beauty contests and hockey matches along with the Pi Phis and Tri Delts and be like the Alpha Gams think they are.

Leisurely, loafing, lusty, lounge lizards; coy, captivating, crusty, couch cooties,—that's us, Phi Delta Theta. We have the rep for being the ultimate ambition of the leading ladies of this cow college, and with our clubby looking house we get away with it. When it comes to languidity we are all home, but work finds us all out for the evening. Our members are all taken up as porch and parlor ornaments at the leading sororities. Delta Phi and Gamma Phi have applications in, but they have not been acted upon.

We've had a hard time living down that rep that our order was founded in Germany, that we put over in all the annuals a few years ago. Also our formal in February was rather poor, as the boys were so interested in loading themselves that they forgot the punch, but we managed to borrow enough dress suits for the affair. We also have had a hard time living down that dance we pulled in Des Moines last year, when we left the co-eds of Ames at home. Take a tip from us and cut the importing game.

S. A. E. (Sleep and Eat), Lafe Young's hang-out, the Shanty with the flag, or Al Slater's barn, they all mean Sigma Alpha Epsilon, the home of the crouching lion. You see we are a big bunch least we hope to get that place on the scholarship list.

We put one over on Ma Harwood. Held a dance and had a Jap tea room. Had to go over to the Alpha Gams in an awful hurry to borrow enough tea to feed the chaperones.

The girls sure liked the moonshine, but several said they liked moonlight dances the best. If it hadn't been so cloudy Lafe wouldn't have lost his head and hung his pin on the key.

Golf! or slang for Phi Gamma Delta. We're a pretty classy bunch, anyway, and when the girls seen us with those outfits on they decided we were what the doctor ordered. Hence we all have dates and, believe me! it made up for a lot of things. But we want the alumni to send us in some old clubs so that we can carry the bluff out. It's going to be the thing this spring standing over in front of The Lodges when the girls are home and yell "Fore". Maybe we can get that many at one shot. If we can get those clubs before the Pi Phis have to move back home from their fire quarters maybe we can impress them.

Yes, those two big guys, "Polly" and "Dick", are both Phi Psis. We had a good dog, too, but he got into our dozen eggs and darn near spoiled our dinner dance. The dog disappeared, but we had sausage for a week. The chapter was doing fine in a business way till Tracy started poppin' corn for Polly. Since he started poppin' the preps won't buy the corn cause he makes eyes at their girls. If you want to know anything about fire drills or pajama parades, ask "Sis" Hultz or the Lambda Chis. Our modesty won't permit us to tell.

A. T. O., which, when put into idomatic English, means the Moon Shines On us. We sure can get a few jags out of the concoctions of Sister Flick, who tells us how to get the gels. We set the styles and the Sigma Nus and some of the rest of the infallibles have to follow us up. We are going to run Flick for head of the chemistry department next. Our Orr is supposed to be a journalist. Sure, he belongs to Sigma Delta Chi, but hasn't written anything except home, since. Our emblem is the maltese cross, and not the maltese cat, as recently suggested.

Did you say Vanderloo? Well, then, you know what that means. He's the guy what keeps us all tucked into the Phi Sig silo apartment. Yes, we live down town in that roost which looks like a barn. We didn't want people to know where it was, so that's why we kept the address out of the herd book. The women fall hard for us. If you believe that, then refer to Dick Stover. We maintain we've broken more hearts than any gang on the campus. We have to go get 'em, but we maintain that we always retain our original girlish laughter.

Sigma Nu wishes to introduce to you Vernon Wrassle's rightful successor, who is none other than our own "Red". Maybe you've noticed those letters of ours on our billboard, well we managed to pledge a roadster on the strength of that, but you gotta hand it to us when it comes to classy, artistic shoulder shaking and other dashing stuff. Incidentally, we had an awful time getting "Red" to wear those Bell bottom trou's, but he decided that it was for the good of the order, so he did it and we sure have made good.

DEAR EDITOR:

We certainly were D— Unfortunate this Christmas when our house burned. We wanted the whole thing to go up in smoke so we could get the insurance and throw a swell dance at the hotel, but somehow our plans went wrong and we did not have the luck we expected. If Ed Church had not been in such a hurry to call the fire department, and had given Tommie Frank time enough to pour the gasoline on the front stairs, we would have had a real fire. Ed said he was awfully sorry and the next time he would walk down to the Tau Delt house and turn in the alarm from there. We sure miss Jess Willard, tho, for he was the biggest thing we had around the place.

DELTA U.

When it comes to class, we's th' gang what's got it. We moves to town a year ago and are now one of the "Four". There ain't a man in the house but what could fill any job in the school, but we don't aim to be high-brow'n the bunch out in the country, so we let them fight over who is what. The one thing tho that gets our nanny is when the Phi Psis chase Putnam up on our roof in his pajamas and tear the house down tryin' to get him. They got a nasty habit of beatin' us to the street car in the morning, too, but we got it doped out for a way to beat that, we will show our independence and all walk out to school.

LAMBDA CHI ALPHA

Heartbroken brethren, come to us. We heal the wound and keep you from further molestation. If you want references on nix on dates, see Brother Leinbaugh, from Iowa City; he's a frater and came to us. Delta Tau Delta is a winter hotel. If you don't think so, come over and see how we pack 'em in. We entertained the Cedar Rapids wrestling team and they threw us all out of bed. They had 33 in the crew. While we are in the business, maybe we'd better throw in a few lines for John Mudge's Melody Mixers, those boys with the moaning, musty music which makes the shoulders quiver and the crooked spines crook some more. That's the bunch, John's Boys. We're a quiet bunch and that racket at meal time is not us, but comes from the Alpha Gamma Rho house. They use self feeders.

DEAR MAMMA:

I thought I would write to you and tell you about the good society that I belong to. I slept over here in the Sig Ep house one night and found a pledge pin on my pajamas in the morning, so I guess that I belong here. I know this is a good society cause "Fweddie" Bock told me so (and he is the dumb major of the band) and he knows all the dope cause Eckey told me so. We are nõt rough like the other fraternity boys, and don't smoke or chew in the house, but just the same we are a regular Greek letter society. Dr. Ressler is one of our brothers and that helps us out a great deal. Green is one of our big men; he didn't go out for athletics this year cause he had a chance to be Colonel and he thought the girls would like him better

Your son,

ZIEGGE

Since we became national we have a new publication to put before the public, entitled "Up from the Depths". Drennan did not have anything to do one afternoon, so he wrote about our rise at Ames. When it comes to being situated in the one and good location on the campus, we have it. We are just thirty seconds from the Tri Delt, twenty-one from the Pi Phi, and seventeen from the K. D.'s if we take the back door. We know this to be a fact for we ask all the guests that come to the house and they tell us all about the same. We have not tried it ourselves, but have an idea that the twenty-one to the Pi Phi is all wrong, for several of the boys made it in nothing flat the day of the fire.

Very truly,

THETA DELTA CHI

Extracts from T. K. E. Minutes: (After a half-hour search, Brother Belman rescued the ritual from the cook. The still was brought up from the basement and the skull taken off the fireplace.) Meeting called to order by Brother Hoak. Brother Harris (custodian of the still) passed the sacred liquid. Moved and seconded that Brother Goodale be tubbed. Motion out of order. Tub too small. Moved and seconded that Brother Hass be tubbed. Motion carried and additional penalty for breaking week-end dates imposed on Brother Swanson. Moved and seconded that the "House Beautiful" committee be instructed to bail the water out of the basement and plug up the cracks in the house. Brother Cure appointed chairman of committee to clean the cellar of empty bottles. Moved and passed that freshmen be compelled to take a bath once a week. Moved that the meeting be adjourned to the Ames theatre. Motion carried by unanimous vote. Adjournment.

Yes, we are the Pi Kappa Alpha crew. We're hard, and if you haven't guessed it, guess again. We're so hard we can't even get grass to grow on our lawn. Last spring we dug it up, but the grass refused to come. We had our dear old father Stevie over for father's day and that settled it. He told us what to do and look at the results. But it wasn't his fault.

Well, we worked it so that we got some publicity out of having the Red Ball delivery van stop alongside of our house, but we are trying to figure up some new stuff to put over in the Pan-Hellenic. What we want is ideas. Welcome home something original!

Beta Theta Pi wishes to announce before every one that our slate is clean this year. No hogs were stolen, no ice cream taken from the South Side, no nothing. The only thing that mars our perfect year is the remembrance of the Ford auction in the fall. We hated to do this, but we were in need of a new card table and a new set of chips for the Alpha Sigs borrowed them when they were going National and never returned them. When it comes to notoriety, we are still on the top of the list at Ames, and if any incoming freshmen care to join us, just send a self addressed envelope and we will send you a pretty little pin to wear around school so none of the other fellows will bother you.

Brother "Lily" Bodwell on the throne opens the meeting with a short talk on "Girls Who Have Fallen for Me". Brothers Page and Armour reprimanded for showing disinterest. Brother Wallace reprimanded for being late, but upon explaining that he had been detained by the Fire Chief of West Hall, is excused by a majority vote.

Report by Brother "Ziggie" Munson, chairman of the popularity committee, with a schedule of sorority dates for each member, with an itemized report of each member's batting average. Brother Bovee holds weekly inspection of pins and reports several ready to hang. Meeting adjourned by appropriate hymn, with brothers in chorus, "Thank God I'm a Sigma Chi".

Meeting called to order later than usual, due to the fact that our ritual could not be found, so we had to borrow the D. U.'s. Brother Crowley reports the "Hounds" are doing well and looks for a good spring business at Olsen's ("The Devil's Pass Key to Hell"). Brother Cormany reports to the "Petting Committee" on three new town women and the dates of the fireman's dances. Expresses desire for brothers' cooperation in keeping up their stand at the Tri Delt house. Moved and seconded that the steward be instructed to flatten out the beans before serving at the table. Lengthy discussion on the fourth dimension by Brother Liggett. Motion carried. Moved and seconded that a committee be appointed to purchase a new needle for the phonograph. Carried. Motion for adjournment. Carried by two-thirds majority; other third A. W. O. L.—(From Theta Xi House Journal, Apr. 4.)

It is not generally known, but Schide used his influence as next year's business manager, to get that picture of our formal in the society section, so you might see us as we really are. It is a hard life, too, that we have here in this institution for the women won't let us alone. We do get away pretty good, however, since we decided that when dancing with another fellow's girl it was proper to let him see light between you. We can give no advice about free love, for we always thought love very expensive; however, never hesitate in telling a girl that you love her, for we find that it increases her self-respect. For further reference see us on page seventy-eight.

We have petitioned to have the A. G. R. changed to G. A. R., for we feel that the stand we now have here in Ames necessitates some executive head. We will admit that we run most everything in school but the Junior Dean's office and a few engineering activities, but one cannot expect us to be so selfish as to want to run everything. Our chief activity now is a debate on the question of love being blind. Schroeder says it may be but the neighbors are not. We all see to it that the shades are pulled down at nights. Race gives us the idea that love is near-sighted, but admits that they all look good when they are far away. The farther the better.

SHOWING MA

"Why did you call your mother when I kissed you?"

"She said you didn't have the nerve."

An ankle slim,
A calf divine,
This is no bull—
She's a cow of mine.

"Bob is quite an interior decorator."

"Yes, he decorates all the parlors."

"How can one tell the difference between light and heavy opera?"

"By the weight of the costumes."

OVER THE PHONE

"Hello! Is this the man that wanted a lady to wash tomorrow?"

"No, Dink, if a man prof marries a lady prof, you would not call their children prophets."

POLITICS

Politics is a wonderful thing. It makes Typical Ames Girls out of common croaks. It gives the sororities a chance to get their name in the papers when some girl is picked as a beauty, and it sure gets dates for the rest of the sisters.

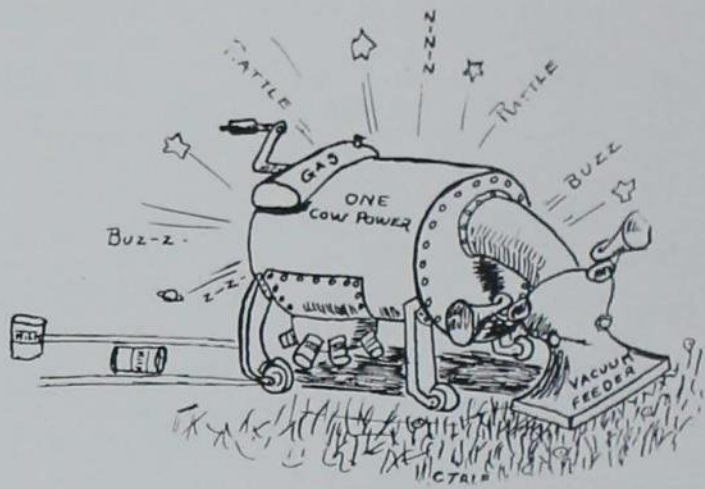

All you have to do is to go into politics and you get a job on some publication, a date, or get stuck for a subscription to some joke book to help some sweet young thing become famous.

Politics makes the grass grow green and the A. G. R.'s green with envy when any other fraternity gets a man on the stock judging team. The Iowa Agriculturist is their political organ, and they rag it to death.

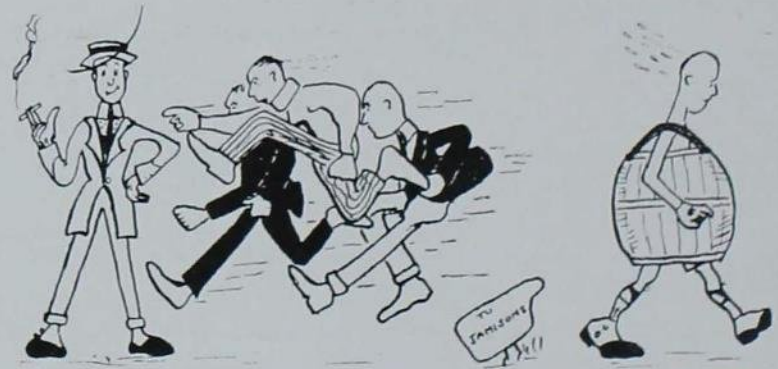

If it wasn't for politics the Pi Phis wouldn't have to roll their own, I mean socks, not those vile little smoke sticks so popular at Iowa State College, according to the Y. M. C. A. handbook.

If the politics were taken away from Ames the sororities would all have to enlarge their cellars to accommodate the gang now famous on the class councils.

Politics gives T. N. E. a chance to kid the public into thinking that their members are a noble set of the youth of the nation, when, as a matter of fact, they are still in first place as members of the Zero Club as consumers of poor moonshine. But we must have politics. Otherwise the college would not have anything to worry about and the Profs who are always going to quit unless their pay is raised would have nothing to worry over and Prexy couldn't go to Des Moines to talk to the legislature. Long live Politics!

SPEED

They were introduced at 7:15.

By 8:10 they were talking cozily in a movie.

At 9:30 they were regarding each other intimately over the remains of a couple of sundaes.

At 9:44 they stood wistfully near on the front porch.

Promptly at 9:45 he kissed her.

By 9:50 she kissed him.

At 10:00, as the Silo chimed, they parted with a touch of sadness.

He walked down the steps dejectedly, but upon hearing the door close, he snapped out and walked briskly home and cut another notch in his military brushes.

"How they fall", he murmured; "probably I am a handsome devil."

She, sitting before her dressing table, yawned.

"How they fall", she sighed; "perhaps I am a sweet and delightful girl."

And she put his name in a thick little book she had been keeping since she was sixteen!

MR. P. M. SHARPLES

MR. P. M. SHARPLES, president and founder of the Sharples Separator Company, West Chester, Pennsylvania, invented and manufactured the first American cream separator almost forty years ago. For more than a third of a century Mr. Sharples has been very closely associated with the dairy industry and is known today as one of the leaders of this industry in America.

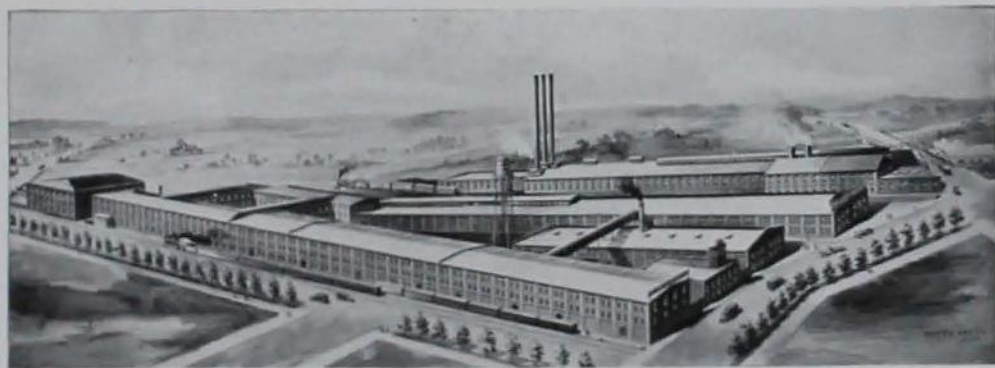

Within the past several years Mr. Sharples has built up one of the foremost dairy herds in the East and is a noted breeder of Jersey cattle.

In 1882 there was established in West Chester a small factory for the purpose of manufacturing cream separators. This small factory has grown so that to-day there stands in West Chester the world's largest factories devoted to the manufacture of cream separators. The dairy machines made in these factories have long been the standard of the dairymen of this country. Sharples is proud of its 100% Americanism.

At the present time the lines manufactured by the Sharples Separator Company are Sharples Suction-feed Cream Separators, Sharples Super-Clarifiers, Factory Milk Separators, Factory Whey Separators and Sharples Emulsifiers.

DOES IT PAY? WELL!

As I walked in the green-house one morning picking flowers, I found in the heart on a rose, a little brown bee. My first impulse was to shake him out of his honeyed abode, but as I looked at his velvety body and the sunlit rainbow wings, a foolish tenderness surged over me. Perhaps there were baby bees at home that would starve if papa bee did not bring back honey; and how useful this little creature was, carrying the pollen from flower to flower—so I thought on, leaving him unmolested. But even as I turned away thinking these pure, sweet thoughts, the darn thing stung me.

I wanted the dope and I got it,
I worked and I lied like a slave,
The most of it here, ywell, I stole it,
And threw my rep in the grave.

I wanted the dope and I got it,
To make this edition this spring,
Yet, somehow, there's many escaped it,
But most of them felt my sting.

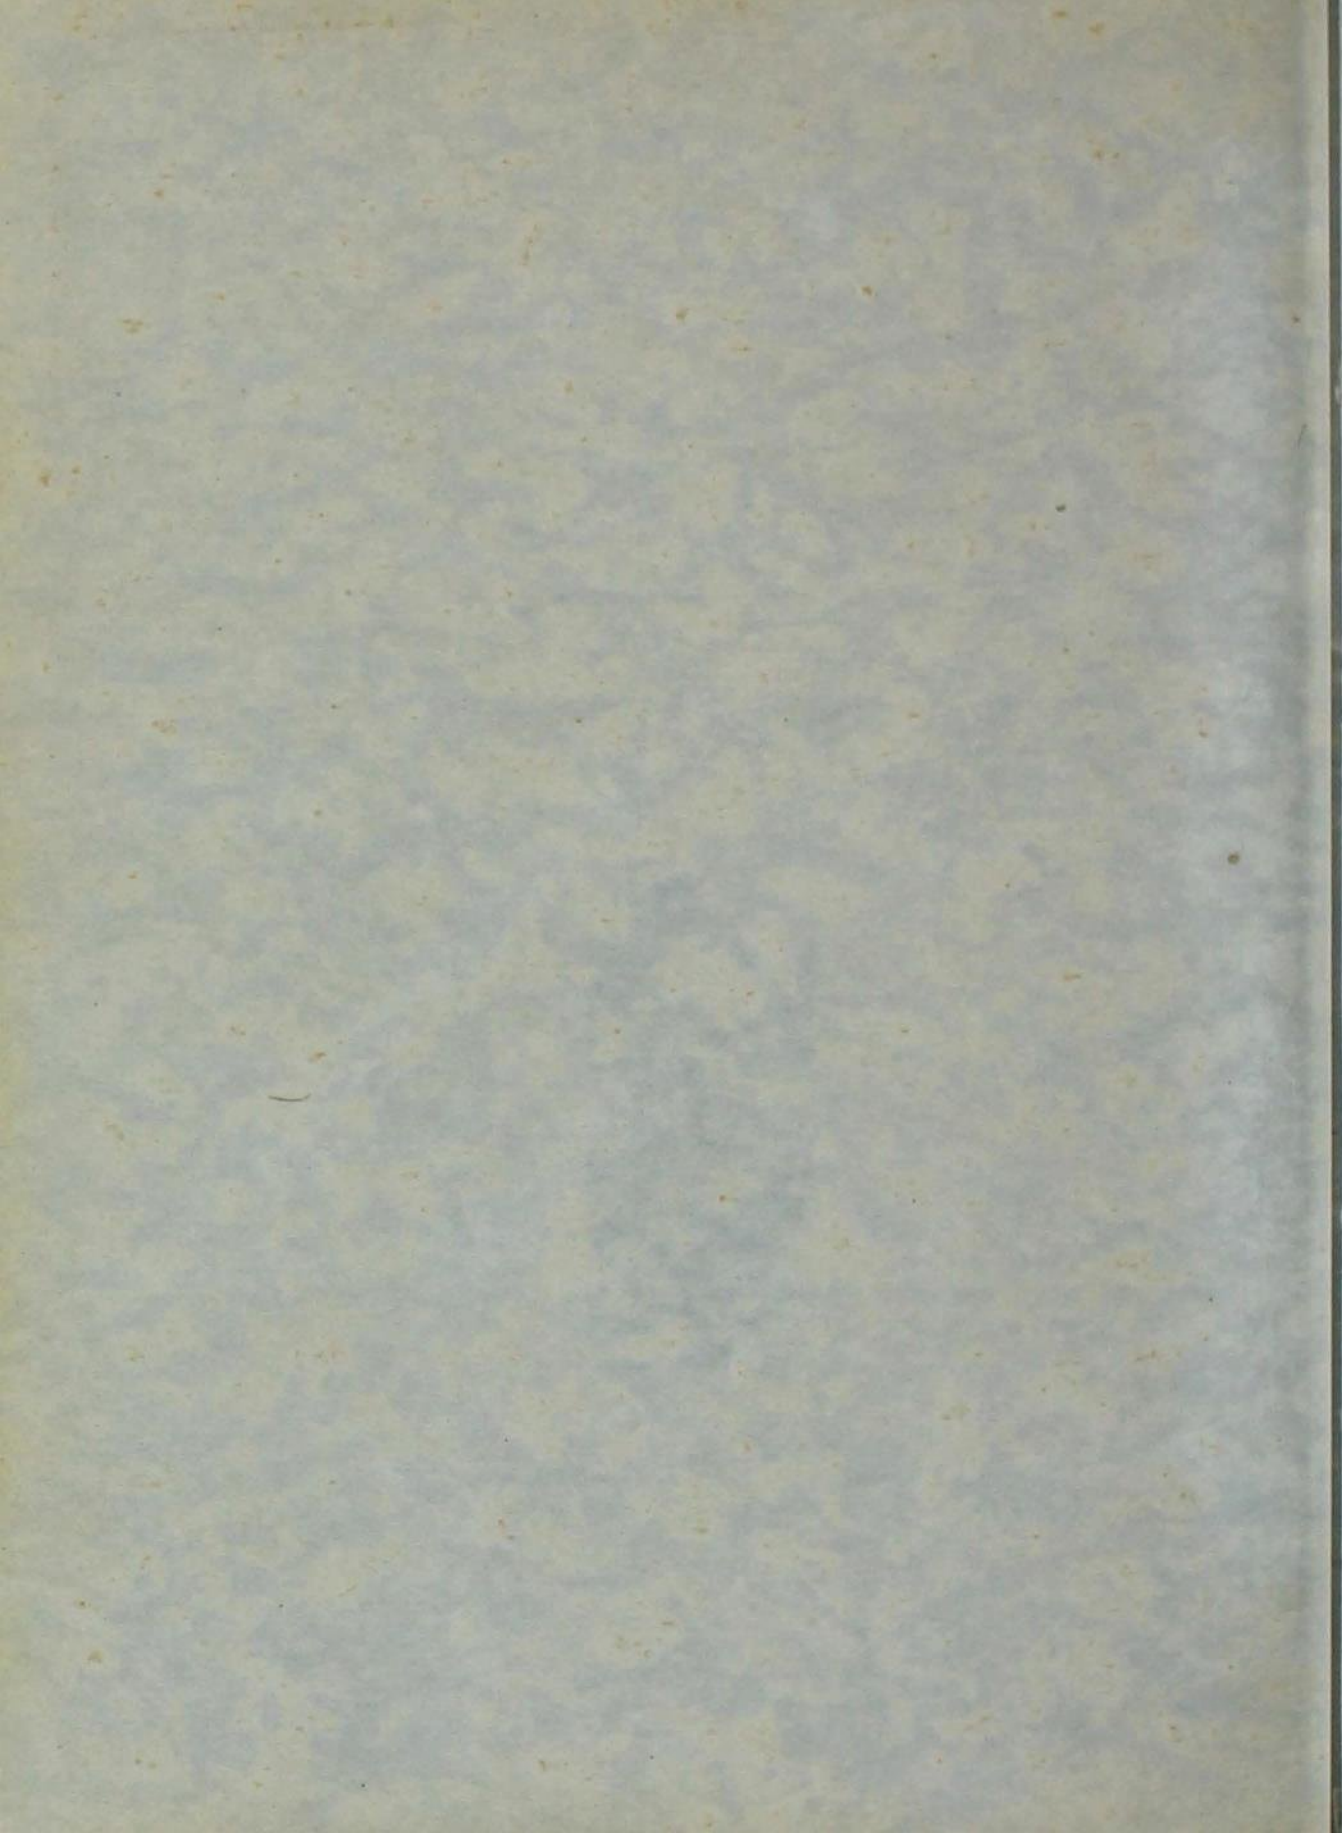

My time on this earth has diminished,
I'm sick of the taste of the weed,
The editor has begged me to finish,
And they've crabbed me for lack of speed.

I've worked by the dim candle light,
Till I've heard the old clock strike three,
This job is nō cinch, by a damn sight,—
Just see what it did to me!

In conclusion, lest I forget you,
And many other people get sore,
I promise you from whom I have stolen,
To do it again,—nevermore.
