

Recd. Apr. 25th
Ans. " 30th/60.

P.S. I don't know as you can read this for the ink is good for nothing. S.

Princeton

Dear sister Ann,

I will try to write you a few lines this week, & when you stop "spinning street garn" long enough, you may read it. "Lieb" a stringer as you are I, never saw. I wonder where you have been now, (I mean since you wrote me) As for me, here. I stay the most of the time. Agnes is here yet, but will go home Sat. I expect.
Tell John she says she has "fell" in love with him. She is 17 years old.
Horace says she looks & acts so much like Abby Armstrong <sup>that</sup> ~~that~~ was that he can't help thinking of her when talking with Agnes. I think she looks home like Abby.
Last Sunday Lucinda & Rhoda came home with Horace from church, & after dinner Lucinda & I went over

Don't stop
for me
if time & papers
be good fly call for this time.
Tell
Mac & Co
take care of herself.
As ever
yours,
Ladie,
M

To see Mrs. Graves' twins. They are a little over four weeks old. They are very small, one of them weighed only 3  $\frac{3}{4}$  lbs. They are both boys. Lucinda & Nellie were up here yesterday & spent the day. Lucinda said she wished you had a cell where you could keep her from running out doors, for she is as black as a little derby (almost).
She is a real cunning little jade.
Last Friday Agnes, Minnie & I went to Mrs. Bragans & spent the afternoon.
Minnie wore her new beads. She looks very fast in them. Every one who has seen them says they are very pretty.
I will send a piece of each of my dresses that Agnes has been making. The calico was 12  $\frac{1}{2}$  cts per yd. & the gingham 16  $\frac{1}{2}$  cts.
I will send a piece of Minnie's new dress, pink calico 10 cts per yd. She can scream & laugh like a witch. I wish you could see her. Horace says "How say you all?"