

Some Appanoose County W P A Projects

Meeting the employment needs of 1355 men and women certified relief workers in Appanoose county created a serious problem for town and county officials and local business leaders. In cooperation with the works progress administration numerous projects were planned, sponsored and operations soon begun. As indicated on the map above, WPA opened and operated rock quarries, built and improved 90 miles of Farm-to-Market roads, surfaced city streets, repaired school buildings and improved the sewage disposal system at Centerville. Operating sewingrooms for the making of warm garments for destitute families this winter, park improvement work and providing student aid are among WPA employment activities which have proved helpful. Hundreds of people engaged on these projects have benefited and their work is of definite value to residents and visitors to Appanoose county.
